(c) Notwithstanding the foregoing, the Assurer shall not be liable for any claims hereunder where the various liabilities resulting from such collision, or any of them, have been compromised, settled or adjusted without the written consent of the Assurer.

(4) Liability for loss of or damage to any other vessel or craft, or to property on board such other vessel or craft, caused otherwise than by collision.

(a) Where there would be a valid claim hereunder but for the fact that the damaged property belongs to the Assured, the Assurers shall be liable as if such damaged property belonged to another, but only for the excess over any amount recoverable under any other insurance applicable on the property.

(5) Liability for damage to any dock, pier, jetty, bridge, harbor, breakwater, structure, beacon, buoy, lighthouse, cable or to any fixed or movable object or property whatsoever, except another vessel or craft or property on another vessel or craft or on the insured vessel unless elsewhere covered herein.

(a) Where there would be a valid claim hereunder but for the fact that the damaged property belongs to the Assured, the Assurers shall be liable as if such damaged property belong to another, but only for the excess over any amount recoverable under any other insurance applicable on the property.

(b) Insurance hereunder shall cover all liabilities for said damages that the insured vessel or her owners would have if she were privately owned by an American citizen and irrespective of the ownership of any property the vessel may damage: Provided, however, That the rights of the Assurer shall be the same as though the vessel were privately owned.

(6) Liability for costs or expenses of or incidental to the removal of the wreck of the insured vessel if legally liable therefore: Provided, however, That:

(a) From such costs and expenses shall be deducted the value of any salvage from or which might have been recovered from the wreck inuring, or which might have inured, to the benefit of the Assured;

(b) The Assurer shall not be liable for any costs or expenses which would be covered by full insurance under the American Institute Hull form of policy, 7/1/41 issued by the American Marine Hull Insurance Syndicate;

(c) The Assurer shall not be liable for any costs or expenses for which a private American vessel owner would not be legally liable, or for any costs or expenses from which a private American vessel owner could relieve himself by abandonment of the wreck to the United States Government or by other appropriate action.

(7) Liability for loss of or damage to or in connection with cargo or other property (except mail or parcels post), including baggage and personal effects of persons other than members of the crew, and not exceeding $100. per person, to be carried, carried or which has been carried on board the insured vessel: Provided, however, That no liability shall exist hereunder for:

(a) Loss, damage or expense incurred in connection with the custody, carriage or delivery of specie, bullion, precious metals, precious stones, jewelry, silks, furs, bank-notes, bonds or other negotiable documents, or similar valuable property.

(b) Loss, damage or expense arising out of or in connection with the care, custody, carriage or delivery of cargo requiring refrigeration, unless the spaces, apparatus, and means used for the care, custody and carriage thereof have been surveyed by a classification or other competent disinterested surveyor under working conditions before the commencement of each round voyage and found in all respects fit, and unless the Assurer has approved in writing the form of contract under which such cargo is accepted for transportation;

(c) Loss, damage or expense arising from any deviation or proposed deviation, not authorized by the contract of affreightment, known to the Assured in time to insure specifically the liability therefore, unless notice thereof is given to the Assurer and the Assurer agrees, in writing, that such insurance is unnecessary. Knowledge of the United States Governmental Departments or Agencies, other than the War Shipping Administration, its General or Time Charter Agents or Berth Agents in the continental United States, shall not be considered as knowledge of the Assured in respect to deviation or proposed deviation; furthermore, the Assured shall not be prejudiced in respect to insurance hereunder in event of delay in reporting any deviation to the Assurer due to laws or governmental regulations or practices due to military reasons.

(d) Loss, damage or expense arising with respect to under deck cargo stowed on deck or with respect to cargo stowed in spaces not suitable for its carriage, unless the Assured shall show that every reasonable precaution has been taken by him to prevent such improper stowage;

(e) Loss, damage, or expense arising out of or as a result of the issuance of bills of lading which, to the knowledge of the Assured, improperly described the goods or their containers as to condition or quantity;

(f) Loss, damage or expense arising from issuance of clean bills of lading for goods known to be missing, unsound or damaged;

(g) Loss, damage or expense arising from the intentional issuance of bills of lading prior to receipt of the goods described therein, or covering goods not received at all;

(h) Loss, damage or expense arising from delivery of cargo without surrender of order bills of lading;

(i) Freight on cargo short-delivered; whether or not prepaid or whether or not included in the claim and paid by the Assured; And provided further, That:

(j) Liability hereunder shall in no event exceed that which would be imposed by law in the absence of contract;

(k) Liability hereunder shall be limited to such as would exist if the charter party, bill of lading, or contract of affreightment contained (i) a negligence general average clause in the form hereinafter specified under paragraph (12); (ii) a clause providing that any provision of the charter party, bill of lading, or contract of affreightment to the contrary notwithstanding, the Assured and the insured vessel shall have the benefit of all limitations of and exemptions from liability accorded to the owner or chartered owner of vessels by any statute or rule of law for the time being in force; (iii) such clauses, if any, as are required by law to be stated therein; (iv) and such other protective clauses as are generally in use in the particular trade;

(l) When cargo carried by the insured vessel is under a bill of lading or similar document of title subject or made subject to the Carriage of Goods by Sea Act of the United States or a law of any other country of similar import, liability hereunder shall be limited to such as is imposed by said Act or law, and if the Assured or the insured vessel assumes any greater liability or obligation, either in respect of the valuation of the cargo or in any other respect, then the minimum liabilities and obligations imposed by said Act or law, such greater liability or obligation shall not be covered hereunder;

(m) When cargo carried by the insured vessel is under a charter party, bill of lading, or contract of affreightment not subject or made subject to the Carriage of Goods by Sea Act of the United States or a law of any other country or similar import, liability hereunder shall be limited to such as would exist if said charter party, bill of lading, or contract of affreightment contained a clause exempting the Assured and the insured vessel from liability for losses arising from unseaworthiness provided that due diligence shall have been exercised to make the vessel seaworthy and properly manned, equipped and supplied, and a clause limiting the Assured's liability for total loss or damage to goods shipped to $500 per package, or in case of goods not shipped in packages, per customary freight unit, and providing for pro rata adjustment on such basis for partial loss or damage. The provisions of clauses (k), (l) and (m) herein may, however, be waived or altered by the Assurer on terms agreed, in writing.

(n) In the event cargo is carried under an arrangement not reduced to writing, such cargo shall be deemed to be carried under a charter party, bill of lading, or contract of affreightment incorporating the terms and conditions of the War Shipping Administration uniform bill of lading in the present form as published in Vol. 7, No. 134, p. 5246–5251 of the FEDERAL REGISTER or as modified by the War Shipping Administration;

(o) Where cargo on board the insured vessel is the property of the Assured, such cargo shall be deemed to be carried under a contract containing the protective clauses described in clauses (k), (l) and (m) herein; and such cargo shall be deemed to be fully insured under the usual form of cargo policy, and in case of los sof or damage to such cargo the Assured shall be insured hereunder in respect of such loss or damage only to the extent that he would have been if the cargo had belonged to another, but only in the event and to the extent that the loss or damage would not be recoverable from marine insurers under a cargo policy as above specified;

(p) No liability shall exist hereunder for any loss, damage or expense in respect of cargo being transported on land or on another vessel;

(q) No liability shall exist hereunder for any loss, damage or expense in respect of cargo before loading on or after discharge from the insured vessel caused by flood, tide, windstorm, earthquake, fire, explosion, heat, cold, deterioration, collapse of wharf, leaky shed, theft or pilferage unless such loss, damage or expense is caused directly by the insured vessel, her master, officers or crew;

(8) Liability for fines and penalties for the violation of any laws of the United States, or of any state thereof, or of any foreign country, Provided, however, That the Assurer shall not be liable to indemnify the Assured against any such fines or penalties resulting directly or indirectly from the failure, neglect or fault of the Assured or its managing officers to exercise the highest degree of diligence to prevent a violation of any such laws.

(9) Liability for expenses incurred in resisting any unfounded claim by the master or crew or other persons employed on board the insured vessel, or in prosecuting such person or persons in case of mutiny or other misconduct; not including, however, costs which would not reasonably be incurred by a private American vessel owner under similar circumstances, nor costs of successfully defending claims elsewhere protected in this policy.

(10) Liability for extraordinary expenses, incurred in consequence of the outbreak of plague or other disease on the insured vessel, for disinfection of the vessel or of persons on board, or for quarantine expenses, not being the ordinary expenses of loading or discharging, nor the wages or provisions of crew or passengers: Provided, however, That no liability shall exist hereunder if the vessel be ordered to proceed to a port where it is known that she will be subjected to quarantine;

(11) Liability for port charges incurred solely for the purpose of putting in to land an injured or sick seaman, and the net loss to the Assured in respect of bunkers, insurance stores and provisions as the result of the deviation.

(12) Liability for Cargo's proportion of General Average, including special charges, so far as the Assured cannot recover the same from any other source: Provided, however, That if the charter party, bill of lading or contract of affreightment does not contain the negligence general average clause quoted below, the Assurer's liability hereunder shall be limited to such as would exist if such clause were contained therein, viz.:

"In the event of accident, danger, damage or disaster, before or after commencement of the voyage resulting from any cause whatsoever, whether due to negligence or not, for which or for the consequence of which, the Carrier is not responsible, by statute, contract, or otherwise, the goods, the shipper and the consignee, jointly and severally, shall contribute with the Carrier in general average to the payment of any sacrifices, losses, or expenses of a general average nature that may be made or incurred, and shall pay salvage and special charges incurred in respect of the goods. If a salving ship is owned or operated by the Carrier, salvage shall be paid for as fully and in the same manner as if such salving ship or ships belonged to strangers."

(13) Liability for costs, charges and expenses reasonably incurred and paid by the Assured in connection with any liability insured under this policy, provided that the Assured shall not be entitled to indemnity for the cost or expense of prosecuting or defending any claim or suit unless the same shall have been incurred with the approval in writing of the Assurer, or the Assurer shall be satisfied that such approval could not have been obtained under the circumstances without unreasonable delay, or that the expenses were reasonably and properly incurred. The cost and expense of prosecuting any claim in which the Assurer shall have an interest by subrogation or otherwise, shall be divided between the Assured and the Assurer, in proportion to the amounts which they would have been entitled to receive respectively, if the suit should be successful.

(14) If the master of the insured vessel shall be sued by reason of any event which imposes on the Assured a liability against which the Assured is indemnified under this policy, the Assurer will pay the costs and expenses of the defense of such suit subject to the provisions of paragraph (13), and will indemnify the master of such vessel to the same extent as though he were an assured under this policy, provided, however, that the Assurer shall not be liable to indemnify the master in excess of the amount (a) for which the owner of said vessel would have been liable, or to which such owner could have limited liability, if such owner has been sued instead of the master, or (b) for which the Assurer would be liable under this policy had the suit been brought against the owner of the vessel.

(15) Expenses which the Assured may incur under authorization of the Assurer in the interest of the Assurer.

GENERAL CONDITIONS AND LIMITATIONS

(16) In the event of any happening which may result in loss, damage or expense for which the Assurer may become liable, prompt notice thereof, on being known to the Assured, shall be given by the Assured to the Assurer, but failure to give such prompt notice because of wartime emergency conditions shall not prejudice this insurance.

The assurer shall not be liable for any claim not presented to the Assurer with proper proofs of loss within twelve (12) months after payment by the Assured.

(17) In no event shall suit on any claim be maintainable against the Assurer unless commenced within eighteen (18) months after the loss, damage or expenses resulting from liabilities, risks, events, occurrences and expenditures specified under this policy shall have been paid by the Assured.

(18) The Assured shall not make any admission of liability, either before or after any occurrence which may result in a claim for which the Assurer may be liable. The Assured shall not interfere in any negotiations of the Assurer for settlement of any legal proceedings in respect of any occurrences for which the Assurer is liable under this policy; provided, however, that in respect of any occurrence likely to give rise to a claim under this Policy, the Assured is obligated to and shall take such steps to protect his and the Assurer's interests as would reasonably be taken in the absence of this or similar insurance. If the Assured shall fail or refuse to settle any claim as authorised by Assurer, the liability of the Assurer to the Assured shall be limited to the amount for which settlement could have been made.

(19) Whenever required by the Assurer, the Assured shall aid in securing information and evidence, subject to any governmental limitations as to the confidential character of such information or evidence, and in obtaining witnesses and shall cooperate with the Assurer in the defense of any claim or suit or in the appeal from any judgment, in respect of any occurrence as hereinbefore provided.

(20) Unless otherwise agreed by endorsement hereon, the Assurer's liability shall in no event exceed that which would be imposed on the Assured by law in the absence of contract: Provided, however, That the acceptance by the Assured of towage contract or agreement limiting the liability of towboats or their owners shall not affect the Assured's right of indemnity from the Assurer for any liability, loss, damage or expense covered under this policy.

(21) No claim or demand against the Assurer shall be assigned or transferred, and no person, other than a receiver of the property or the estate of the Assured, shall acquire any right against the Assurer without the express consent of the Assurer: Provided, however, That this shall not affect the rights of any assignee under an assignment made by virtue of any governmental order or decree, in which event such assignee shall have and possess all of the rights of its predecessor in assignment.

(22) The Assurer shall be subrogated to all the rights which the Assured may have against any other person or entity, in respect of any payment made under this policy, to the extent of such payment, and the Assured shall, upon the request of the Assurer, execute all documents necessary to secure to the Assurer such rights.

(23) The Assurer shall not be liable for any loss or damage against which, but for the insurance hereunder, the Assured is or would be insured under existing insurance excepting as provided in Paragraph (1) (a) hereof.

(24) If and when the Assured under this policy has any interest other than as an owner or bare boat charterer of the insured vessel, in no event shall the Assurer be liable hereunder to any greater extent than if such Assured were the owner or bare boat charterer and were entitled to all the rights of limitation to which a shipowner is entitled.

(25) Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained in this policy, the Assurer shall not be liable for any loss, damage, or expense sustained, directly or indirectly, by reason of:

(a) Loss, damage or expense to hull, machinery, equipment or fittings of the insured vessel, including refrigerating apparatus and wireless equipment, whether or not owned by the Assured;

(b) Cancelment or breach of any charter or contract, detention of the vessel, bad debts, insolvency, fraud of agents, loss of freight, passage money, hire, demurrage, or any other loss of revenue;

(c) Any loss, damage, sacrifice, or expense which would be payable under the terms of the American Institute Hull form of policy, 7/1/44 issued by the America Marine Hull Insurance Syndicate on hull, machinery, etc., whether or not the insured vessel is fully covered by insurance sufficient in amount to pay such loss, damage, sacrifice or expense;

(d) Capture, seizure, arrest, restraint or detainment, or the consequences thereof, or of any attempt thereat, or the consequences of hostilities or war-like operations, whether before or after the declaration of war;

(e) The insured vessel towing any other vessel or craft, unless such towage was to assist such other vessel or craft in distress to a port or place of safety: Provided, however, That this exception shall not apply to claims covered under paragraph (1) of this policy.

(f) For any claim for loss of life, personal injury or illness in relation to the handling of cargo where such claim arises under a contract of indemnity between the Assured and his sub-contractor.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the War Shipping Administration has caused this policy to be signed by the Administrator, but it shall not be valid unless countersigned by or on behalf of the Director of Wartime Insurance.

PART 302—CONTRACTS WITH VESSEL OWNERS AND RATES OF COMPENSATION RELATING THERETO

TIME CHARTERS FOR TANK VESSELS

Sections 302.55 and 302.56 (General Order 11, Supplements 1, 1A, and 1B) are merged into one section, § 302.55, and revised to read:

§ 302.55 Amended time charter for tank vessels "Warshipoiltime (Rev.)". The Administrator, War Shipping Administration, adopts the following standard form of addendum for time charters for tank vessels heretofore entered into by the United States of America, acting by and through the Administrator, to be known as "Warshipoiltime (Rev.)":

Contract No. _____

Warshipoiltime (Rev.)

WAR SHIPPING ADMINISTRATION

AMENDED TIME CHARTER FOR TANK VESSELS

WHEREAS, the Owner and the Charterer have heretofore entered into a charter agreement dated as of _____, 1942, providing for the charter of the Vessel upon the terms and conditions therein set forth, and

WHEREAS, the Owner and Charterer have heretofore agreed by addendum to such charter that the rate of hire and insurance valuation, if any, may be subject to readjustment, to the extent therein provided, such readjustment to be effective as of December 1, 1943, with respect to the rate of hire, and

WHEREAS, the Charterer has tendered to the Owner a statement of the rate of hire which in the judgment of the Administrator will be just compensation for the use of the Vessel and the services required under the terms of the Charter for the period commencing from December 1, 1943, and terminating upon the effective date of this Addendum and proposes in this Addendum to tender a similarly determined rate of hire for the period commencing with the effective date of this Addendum and extending for the balance of the term of this Charter and likewise desires in the same manner to tender a valuation for the Vessel which in the opinion of the Administrator will constitute just compensation for the loss of or damage to the Vessel occurring after the effective date of this Addendum, and

WHEREAS, the Charterer has found that in order to facilitate the prosecution of the war and otherwise to benefit the interests of the United States, it is necessary and desirable that the Charter be further amended to the extent provided for by this Addendum,

Now, THEREFORE, the Charterer and the Owner do mutually agree to amend the Charter effective upon the date hereinafter set forth so that such Charter will be as follows:

Amended Time Charter (hereinafter sometimes referred to as the Charter), dated as of _____, 19__, between _____ Address _____ Owner of the SS/MS _____ (herein called the "Vessel"), and United States of America, acting by and through the Administrator, War Shipping Administration, Charterer, the terms of the Charter being as follows:

(Part I—Revised)

The Vessel's particulars on which the rate of hire and valuation have been based in part by the Administrator are as follows:

Deadweight capacity, as defined in Clause 5, Part II _____
Classed _____
Bale capacity or refrigerated cargo space, as represented by the Owner, exclusive of ship's stores and space installed by or at the expense of Charterer _____ cubic feet _____
Year built _____

CLAUSE A. Period of charter. From the time of delivery to the time of expiration of the voyage current at the end of the emergency proclaimed by the President of the United States on May 27, 1941: Provided, however, That either party may sooner terminate this Charter upon not less than thirty (30) days' written or telegraphic notice to the other. In either case, the Vessel shall be redelivered as hereinafter provided.

CLAUSE B. Trading limits. As and where the Charterer may from time to time determine, subject to normal trading limits for a Vessel of her size, type and description.

CLAUSE C. Hire. The Owner is hereby given an election either (I) to accept the rate of hire hereinafter set forth in Option I, which states the rate which in the Administrator's judgment will be just compensation for the use of the Vessel and the services required under the terms of this Charter; or (II) to decline to accept such rate of hire and to have the amount of just compensation judicially determined. If the Owner elects Option I, hire at the rate therein stated shall be paid by the Charterer to the Owner in the manner provided in Part II. If the Owner executes this amended Charter but does not accept the rate of hire set forth in Option I, the right of the Owner to pursue whatever legal remedy it may have to recover just compensation under the laws and Constitution of the United States shall not be impaired or prejudiced either by the execution and delivery of this Amended Charter, or by the acceptance of 75 per centum of the rate of hire set forth in Option I, and this Charter, in any such event, shall then be deemed an agreement governing only the relations between the Owner and the Charterer in respect to matters other than the amount of just compensation for the use of the Vessel and the services required under the terms of this Charter. Where Option II applies the Charterer reserves all rights which it may have to readjust or redetermine the rate of hire at any time.

Option I. The hire shall be $_____ per calendar month or pro rata for any portion thereof, of which the sum of $_____ per calendar month shall be compensation to the Owner for the use of the Vessel (herein sometimes referred to as the use rate) and the balance shall be compensation to the Owner for services required under the terms of this Charter (herein sometimes referred to as the service rate).

Option II. The Charterer shall pay to the Owner just compensation, to be judicially determined, for the use of the Vessel and the services required under the terms of this Charter, and, subject to the Charterer's reservations as to readjustment or redetermination of the rate of hire the Charterer shall pay on account of just compensation a sum equal to 75 per centum of the hire otherwise payable under the terms of this Charter as the same may from time to time be due under the terms of this Charter, and the Owner shall be entitled to sue the United States to recover such further sum as added to such 75 per centum will make up such amount as will be just compensation. The term "just compensation" as used in this Clause C and elsewhere in this Charter shall be deemed to include interest, if any, to which the Owner would be entitled if it had not executed and delivered this Charter.

Time of election between options. The Owner shall elect between Option I and Option II at the time the Owner signs this Charter, unless a rate has not then been inserted in Option I. In the latter case, such election shall be made by the Owner in writing within thirty (30) days after receipt of written notice from the Charterer of the rate to be so inserted. In the event of the Owner's failure to elect Option I at the time of signing, or within such 30-day period, as the case may be, Option II shall apply: Provided, however, That at any time after election has been made of either Option I or Option II, but before redelivery and before commencement of suit for just compensation, the Owner, subject to the approval of the Charterer, may, if it has elected Option I herein, change such election to Option II, effective as of the date of such change and notice thereof to the Charterer, or if it has elected Option II herein, change such election to Option I, effective as of the time of delivery under this Charter or such other mutually agreeable date as the Charterer may fix. Whenever Option II is applicable, it shall be deemed to have been elected for the purpose of this proviso.

Rate revision (Option I only). At any time after July 1, 1944, but not more often than once every 120 days thereafter, either party may request a redetermination of the rate of charter hire upon thirty (30) days' written or telegraphic notice to the other, but no rate redetermination prior to July 1, 1945 shall involve a change in the use rate factor of the charter hire. If a revised rate is determined and agreed upon within such 30-day period, it shall become effective as of the date specified in the determination and shall continue for the balance of the period of this Charter, subject to further redetermination in accordance with the provisions of this paragraph. If a revised rate is not determined and agreed upon within any such 30-day period, then the rate of hire in effect at the time of such notice shall apply only until noon (EWT) of the day after the end of such 30-day period, and the a clause limiting the Assured's liability for total loss or damage to goods shipped to $500 per package, or in case of goods not shipped in packages, per customary freight unit, and providing for pro rata adjustment on such basis for partial loss or damage. The provisions of clauses (k), (l) and (m) herein may, however, be waived or altered by the Assurer on terms agreed, in writing.

(n) In the event cargo is carried under an arrangement not reduced to writing, such cargo shall be deemed to be carried under a charter party, bill of lading, or contract of affreightment incorporating the terms and conditions of the War Shipping Administration uniform bill of lading in the present form as published in Vol. 7, No. 134, p. 5246–5251 of the FEDERAL REGISTER or as modified by the War Shipping Administration;

(o) Where cargo on board the insured vessel is the property of the Assured, such cargo shall be deemed to be carried under a contract containing the protective clauses described in clauses (k), (l) and (m) herein; and such cargo shall be deemed to be fully insured under the usual form of cargo policy, and in case of loss of or damage to such cargo the Assured shall be insured hereunder in respect of such loss or damage only to the extent that he would have been if the cargo had belonged to another, but only in the event and to the extent that the loss or damage would not be recoverable from marine insurers under a cargo policy as above specified;

(p) No liability shall exist hereunder for any loss, damage or expense in respect of cargo being transported on land or on another vessel;

(q) No liability shall exist hereunder for any loss, damage or expense in respect of cargo before loading on or after discharge from the insured vessel caused by flood, tide, windstorm, earthquake, fire, explosion, heat, cold, deterioration, collapse of wharf, leaky shed, theft or pilferage unless such loss, damage or expense is caused directly by the insured vessel, her master, officers or crew;

(8) Liability for fines and penalties for the violation of any laws of the United States, or of any state thereof, or of any foreign country, Provided, however, That the Assurer shall not be liable to indemnify the Assured against any such fines or penalties resulting directly or indirectly from the failure, neglect or fault of the Assured or its managing officers to exercise the highest degree of diligence to prevent a violation of any such laws.

(9) Liability for expenses incurred in resisting any unfounded claim by the master or crew or other persons employed on board the insured vessel, or in prosecuting such person or persons in case of mutiny or other misconduct; not including, however, costs which would not reasonably be incurred by a private American vessel owner under similar circumstances, nor costs of successfully defending claims elsewhere protected in this same from any other source: Provided, however, That if the charter party, bill of lading or contract of affreightment does not contain the negligence general average clause quoted below, the Assurer's liability hereunder shall be limited to such as would exist if such clause were contained therein, viz.:

"In the event of accident, danger, damage or disaster, before or after commencement of the voyage resulting from any cause whatsoever, whether due to negligence or not, for which or for the consequence of which, the Carrier is not responsible, by statute, contract, or otherwise, the goods, the shipper and the consignee, jointly and severally, shall contribute with the Carrier in general average to the payment of any sacrifices, losses, or expenses of a general average nature that may be made or incurred, and shall pay salvage and special charges incurred in respect of the goods. If a salving ship is owned or operated by the Carrier, salvage shall be paid for as fully and in the same manner as if such salving ship or ships belonged to strangers."

(13) Liability for costs, charges and expenses reasonably incurred and paid by the Assured in connection with any liability insured under this policy, provided that the Assured shall not be entitled to indemnity for the cost or expense of prosecuting or defending any claim or suit unless the same shall have been incurred with the approval in writing of the Assurer, or the Assurer shall be satisfied that such approval could not have been obtained under the circumstances without unreasonable delay, or that the expenses were reasonably and properly incurred. The cost and expense of prosecuting any claim in which the Assurer shall have an interest by subrogation or otherwise, shall be divided between the Assured and the Assurer, in proportion to the amounts which they would have been entitled to receive respectively, if the suit should be successful.

(14) If the master of the insured vessel shall be sued by reason of any event which imposes on the Assured a liability against which the Assured is indemnified under this policy, the Assurer will pay the costs and expenses of the defense of such suit subject to the provisions of paragraph (13), and will indemnify the master of such vessel to the same extent as though he were an assured under this policy, provided, however, that the Assurer shall not be liable to indemnify the master in excess of the amount (a) for which the owner of said vessel would have been liable, or to which such owner could have limited liability, if such owner has been sued instead of the master, or (b) for which the Assurer would be liable under this policy had the suit been brought against the owner of the vessel.

(15) Expenses which the Assured may incur under authorization of the Assurer in the interest of the Assurer.

GENERAL CONDITIONS AND LIMITATIONS

which the Assurer may be liable. The Assured shall not interfere in any negotiations of the Assurer for settlement of any legal proceedings in respect of any occurrences for which the Assurer is liable under this policy; provided, however, that in respect of any occurrence likely to give rise to a claim under this Policy, the Assured is obligated to and shall take such steps to protect his and the Assurer's interests as would reasonably be taken in the absence of this or similar insurance. If the Assured shall fail or refuse to settle any claim as authorized by Assurer, the liability of the Assurer to the Assured shall be limited to the amount for which settlement could have been made.

(20) Unless otherwise agreed by endorsement hereon, the Assurer's liability shall in no event exceed that which would be imposed on the Assured by law in the absence of contract: Provided, however, That the acceptance by the Assured of towage contract or agreement limiting the liability of towboats or their owners shall not affect the Assured's right of indemnity from the Assurer for any liability, loss, damage or expense covered under this policy.

(21) No claim or demand against the Assurer shall be assigned or transferred, and no person, other than a receiver of the property or the estate of the Assured, shall acquire any right against the Assurer without the express consent of the Assurer: Provided, however, That this shall not affect the rights of any assignee under an assignment made by virtue of any governmental order or decree, in which event such assignee shall have and possess all of the rights of its predecessor in assignment.

(22) The Assurer shall be subrogated to all the rights which the Assured may have against any other person or entity, in respect of any payment made under this policy, to the extent of such payment, and the Assured shall, upon the request of the Assurer, execute all documents necessary to secure to the Assurer such rights.

(23) The Assurer shall not be liable for any loss or damage against which, but for the insurance hereunder, the Assured is or would be insured under existing insurance excepting as provided in Paragraph (1) (a) hereof.

(24) If and when the Assured under this policy has any interest other than as an owner or bare boat charterer of the insured vessel, in no event shall the Assurer be liable hereunder to any greater extent than if such Assured were the owner or bare boat charterer and were entitled to all the rights of limita-

Charterer shall make a redetermination of the rate of hire, as to which the provisions of Option II of this Clause C shall apply for the balance of the period of this Charter. A change in the rate of charter hire under this paragraph shall not terminate the period of or otherwise modify the provisions of this Charter, and any such change shall be without prejudice to the rights of either party to terminate this Charter as provided in Clause A, Part I.

CLAUSE D. Valuation. The Owner shall elect between the following options, unless this is a Vessel subject to the provisions of Section 902 of the Merchant Marine Act 1936, as amended, in which event the Owner shall not have the right to elect Option I, and Option II shall apply.

Option I. In the event of loss or damage to the Vessel due to the operation of a risk assumed by the Charterer under the terms of this Charter, the Charterer shall pay to the Owner just compensation, to be judicially determined, for such loss or damage, to the extent the person entitled thereto is not reimbursed therefor through policies of insurance against such loss or damage. In such event the amount of just compensation shall be determined and tendered by the Charterer as soon as practicable after the loss or damage, but if the amount of just compensation so determined is unsatisfactory to the person entitled thereto, the Charterer shall pay to such person 75 per centum of the amount so determined, and such person shall be entitled to sue the United States to recover such further sum as, added to said 75 per centum, will make up such amount as will be just compensation for such loss or damage.

Option II. For the period ending noon, E. W. T., April 20, 1945, the agreed valuation of the Vessel for the purposes of this Charter and the insurance provided by the Charterer, is the sum of $_____. For each subsequent twelve (12) month period the valuation, unless otherwise agreed, shall be reduced by _____, but any Owner who shall be dissatisfied with such reduction shall have the option, to be exercised on or before April 1, 1945 or on or before April 1st of any year thereafter, to elect Option I for the period commencing at noon, E. W. T., of the following April 20th, and effective for the balance of the term of this Charter. In event of such election, the provisions of Option I shall control for all purposes from such effective date.

The foregoing provisions of this Option II shall not be applicable to a Vessel subject to the provisions of Section 902 of the Merchant Marine Act, 1936, as amended. For the purposes of this Charter and any insurance undertaken by the Charterer, any such Vessel shall be valued as of the date of loss at the actual depreciated construction cost of the Vessel (together with the actual depreciated cost of capital improvements thereon, but excluding the cost of national-defense features), less than depreciated amount of construction-differential subsidy theretofore paid incident to the construction or reconditioning of such Vessel, or the fair and reasonable scrap value of such Vessel as determined by the Charterer, whichever is greater. In computing the depreciated value of the Vessel, depreciation shall be computed on the Vessel on the schedule adopted by the Bureau of Internal Revenue for income-tax purposes.

By mutual agreement the valuation provisions of this Option II may be superseded as of the date of loss or any other mutually agreeable date in the event that the Charterer shall adopt any plan with respect to replacement of vessels which is applicable to this Vessel.

Time of election between options. Except as otherwise provided in valuation Option II above, the Owner shall elect between Option I and Option II at the time the Owner signs this Charter, unless a valuation has not then been inserted in Option II. In the latter case, such election shall be made by the Owner in writing within thirty (30) days after receipt of written notice from the Charterer of the valuation to be so inserted. In the event of the Owner's failure to elect Option II at the time of signing or within such 30-day period, as the case may be, Option I shall apply.

CLAUSE E. Port of delivery.

CLAUSE F. Time and date of delivery.

CLAUSE G. Port of redelivery. Port of delivery, unless otherwise agreed: Provided, however, That at Owner's option, redelivery shall be made at the U. S. continental port where the Owner maintains its principal operating headquarters.

CLAUSE H. Notice of redelivery. The Charterer shall give not less than thirty (30) days' written or telegraphic notice.

CLAUSE I. Uniform terms. This Charter consists of this Part I and Part II, conforming to the Amended Time Charter for Tank Vessels, published in the FEDERAL REGISTER of April 8, 1944. The provisions of Part II shall be incorporated by reference in and need not be attached to Part I of this Charter, and unless in this Part I otherwise expressly provided, all of the provisions of Part II shall be part of this Charter as though fully set forth in this Part I.

CLAUSE J. Effective date of this amended charter. Unless otherwise agreed this Amended Charter (Addendum) shall be effective upon completion of discharge of the Vessel in a port in the Continental United States, excluding Alaska, on the voyage current on May 15 1944, or if the Vessel be in a port in the Continental United States, excluding Alaska, on May 5, 1944, then effective May 15, 1944, or if the Vessel has not returned to a port in the Continental United States, excluding Alaska, prior to July 15, 1944 then effective July 15, 1944, if the Vessel be in any port at that date, otherwise effective upon the Vessel's safe arrival at the Vessel's next port of call.

CLAUSE K. Reservation as to just compensation. Whenever the Owner hereunder is entitled to just compensation as provided under Option II Clause C or Option I Clause D or Plan I Schedule A hereof, the rights of such Owner as to the determination and payment of just compensation under the laws and Constitution of the United States shall not be prejudiced by reason of the execution and delivery of this Charter by such Owner, and the rights of such Owner to just compensation shall be the same as though he had not executed and delivered this Charter, provided, however, that all terms and conditions other than those relating to the determination and payment of just compensation shall not be impaired or affected by this reservation.

UNIFORM TIME CHARTER TERMS AND CONDITIONS FOR TANK VESSELS

(Part II—Revised)

CLAUSE 1. The Vessel shall be placed at the disposal of the Charterer at the port of delivery at such safe already dock, wharf, or place as the Charterer may direct. Any time lost by the Vessel awaiting the availability of such dock, wharf, or place shall count as time on hire. The Vessel on her delivery, as far as due diligence can make her so, shall be ready to receive cargo with pipe lines and pumps in good working condition, and tight, staunch, strong, and in every way fitted for normal service for a Vessel of her size, type and description, with a Master, and a sufficient complement of officers and crew (hereinafter referred to collectively as the crew) for a Vessel of her tonnage, and due diligence shall be exercised by the Owner to maintain her in such state during the currency of this Charter.

The Vessel shall be employed in carrying petroleum or its products in bulk, in lawful trades between safe ports or places, as the Charterer or its agents may direct.

The Vessel may be employed to tow or may be towed, but the Charterer shall indemnify the Owner for any loss, damage, claims or expenses, resulting from any such use of the Vessel.

For the purpose of this Charter the Owner shall be entitled to the benefits of all waivers in the navigation and inspection laws granted by an authorized officer or by law or regulation.

If radio or other equipment is required to enable the Vessel to comply with this Clause and such equipment is leased by the Owner, it shall pay the rental and maintenance charges therefor or, if such charges are paid by the Charterer, such charges may be deducted from the hire.

CLAUSE 2. The whole reach and burthen of the Vessel's holds, decks, and usual places of carriage (but not more than she can reasonably stow and carry), shall be at the Charterer's disposal reserving only space proper and sufficient in the opinion of the Master for Vessel's crew, Master's cabin, tackle, apparel, furniture, provisions, fresh water, stores, and fuel. The Charterer shall have the option of shipping lawful merchandise in cases, can or other packages in the Vessel's forehold, 'tween decks or other suitable space available, subject, however, to the Master's approval as to kind, character, amount and stowage, and to the extent that the Owner is not required thereby to obtain a certificate of convenience and necessity therefor under the Transportation Act of 1940. All expenses for dunnage, loading, stowing and discharging so incurred shall be paid by the Charterer, but the Owner is not to provide any equipment not already on board for handling such cargo, and such merchandise shall be shipped at the Charterer's risk and peril.

CLAUSE 3. A. Commencing with the time this Amended Charter becomes effective, the Charterer shall (except as otherwise expressly provided in this Charter) pay hire for the use of the Vessel and for the services required under the terms of this Charter at the rate provided in Option I of Clause C, of Part I of this Amended Charter, or, if the Owner has not elected said Option I, make payments on account of just compensation as provided in Option II of Clause C, Part I of this Amended Charter, and in either case such hire or payments on account shall continue until the time of the redelivery of the vessel to the Owner as in this Charter provided, unless the parties hereto otherwise agreed: Provided, however, That if the Vessel shall be an actual total loss, such hire or payments on account shall continue until the time of her loss, if known, or if the date of loss cannot be ascertained, or if the Vessel is unreported, such hire or payments shall continue for one-half the calculated time necessary for the Vessel to proceed from her last known position to the next port of call, but not exceeding 14 days. If the Vessel is a constructive total loss under the terms of any insurance thereon or is declared a constructive total loss by the Charterer under the provisions of Schedule A, such hire or payments shall continue until Noon (EWT) of the day of the last casualty resulting in or causing or contributing to her loss, except as otherwise provided in Clause 30 of this Charter. Nothing in this Clause shall prohibit the Owner from instituting proceedings at any time after the effective date of this Amended Charter to recover just compensation when Option II of Clause C, Part I, is applicable.

CLAUSE 3. B. If at the time of redelivery under this Charter, the Vessel shall require repairs of any damage arising from risks insured against or assumed by the Charterer or for which the Charterer is otherwise liable, hire or payments on account herein provided shall continue until completion by the Charterer of such repairs and of any work required of the Charterer by Clause 11, Part II; subject to the provisions of Clause 11 D hereof.

CLAUSE 3. C. On the first day of each calendar month, the hire or payments on account of just compensation provided for in this Amended Charter, and all other monies accruing during the preceding month in favor of the Owner, shall be due and payable.

CLAUSE 3. D. The Charterer or its agents may advance currency or perform any services, or furnish any supplies or equipment, which are required by the Owner and are for the Owner's account under this Charter, and the Owner, upon being furnished evidence thereof, shall reimburse or secure the Charterer for the fair and reasonable dollar value of any currency so advanced, services so performed, or supplies and equipment so furnished, or at the Charterer's election the equivalent thereof may be deducted from the hire. It is understood that any such advances made or services performed or supplies and equipment furnished by the government of any country as aid to or for the account of the United States shall be deemed currency advanced, services performed, or supplies and equipment furnished by the Charterer.

CLAUSE 3. E. If, pursuant to any applicable laws of the United States or any agreements entered into pursuant thereto, the Owner is required because of the operation of the Vessel under this Charter to make any payment to the United States by way of reimbursement for construction differential subsidy, then the Charterer shall pay to the Owner as additional charter hire, a sum equal to any amount so paid.

CLAUSE 4. In the event that the Vessel is detained because of the happening of any event caused or contributed to by another vessel, person, corporation, or others, for which detention such third parties are or may be liable (the period of such detention to include the time necessary to proceed to, survey, and effect repairs unaccomplished upon the date of redelivery of the Vessel under this Charter), then for such period of detention the Charterer's obligation to the Owner for hire and for other sums otherwise accruing hereunder shall cease: Provided, however, That the Charterer shall indemnity and save the Owner harmless from any loss whatsoever by reason of the cessation of such obligations, and notwithstanding said cessation shall pay to the Owner a sum not less than the amount which would otherwise be payable to the Owner for such obligations in the same manner and to the same extent as if such cessation had not occurred, but on performance of this indemnity the Charterer shall immediately become subrogated, to the extent of such indemnity, to all rights whatsoever of the Owner to recover for such detention from or against such vessel, person, corporation, or others, and the Charterer shall be entitled to bring and maintain suit or suits thereon in its own name or in the name of the Owner as the Charterer may see fit: Provided, however, That on the written request of the Charterer, the Owner shall in each instance, assert and prosecute such claims in the name of the Owner, but for and on behalf of the Charterer and at the Charterer's expense, such claims to be in a sum not less than the amount of the indemnity paid by the Charterer.

CLAUSE 5. A. Insofar as it is a factor in the Vessel's rate and valuation, deadweight capacity is to be established in accordance with normal Summer Freeboard as assigned pursuant to the International Load Line Convention, 1930, and shall be her capacity (in tons of 2240 lbs.) for cargo, fuel, fresh water, spare parts and stores but exclusive of permanent ballast. Deadweight shall be calculated without deduction for weight lost by reason of cargo refrigeration installation heretofore made, if any, and weight added by installation of refrigerated cargo capacity (including offsetting permanent ballast required thereby), arming, degaussing, demagnetizing, or the installation of splinter-protection equipment or because of ice-strengthening, or other extraordinary wartime installation or equipment, including permanent ballast, heretofore or hereafter made or required by the Charterer, or any other agency of the United States.

CLAUSE 5. B. In the event that the Vessel's deadweight or bale cubic refrigerated capacity, when finally determined as herein provided, shall not be in accord with the description contained in Part I hereof, the hire and valuation (if any) shall be equitably adjusted to be appropriate for the Vessel's deadweight and bale cubic refrigerated capacity. Certificates of deadweights or bale cubic refrigerated capacity, in satisfactory form, heretofore or hereafter furnished by the American Bureau of Shipping shall be accepted as final proof of deadweight capacity and bale cubic refrigerated capacity.

CLAUSE 6. Except as otherwise provided in this Charter:

(a) The Owner shall provide and pay for
(1) Wages of Master and crew;
(2) Subsistence;
(3) Galley, cabin, deck and engine room stores, supplies and equipment (except all water and fuel for any purpose);
(4) Maintenance and repair of Vessel and equipment to the extent required of the Owner under this Charter;
(5) Sales or other taxes based on the foregoing items; and
(6) Owner's overhead expenses.

(b) The Charterer shall provide and pay for all other charges and expenses whatsoever reasonably and properly incurred in the use, operation or employment of the Vessel hereunder.

For the purposes of this Charter:

(1) The term "wages" as used herein shall include all basic and emergency wages, bonuses for seniority or length of service, overtime and vacation allowances, life, health, retirement or other insurance benefits which are not required to be provided or paid for by the Charterer hereunder.

(2) The term "subsistence" shall include the cost, including delivery, loading and inspection charges thereon, of all edibles for consumption by Master and crew, and other persons covered by clause 7 C hereof, and shall also include board and room allowances to Master and crew in lieu of subsistence and lodging aboard the Vessel.

(3) The term "galley, cabin, desk, and engine room stores, supplies and equipment" shall mean those items referred to under the heading of "(15)" and "(24) Stores, Supplies and Equipment", page 8, of the General Financial Statement of the U. S. Maritime Commission, approved by the Budget Bureau No. 62–RO, 10–42.

(4) The term "maintenance and repair of Vessel and equipment" shall mean the items referred to under the headings "(25) Other Maintenance Expense" and "(40)" and "(49) Repairs", page 8 of said General Financial Statement.

(5) The term "overhead expense" shall include administrative and general expenses as presently itemized in General Order No. 22 of the U. S. Maritime Commission, Owner's advertising expenses, Owner's taxes (except sales and similar taxes, taxes assessed or based upon freight earned, and other taxes of any kind determined by the Charterer to be properly classifiable as voyage expenses), and the cost of employing agents or branch houses to perform any of the services required of the Owner under this Charter.

CLAUSE 7. A. The Charterer shall reimburse the Owner for actual out-of-pocket expenses, including all taxes paid by the Owner with respect to such expenses, for:

(1) All war bonuses (war risk compensation) paid to the master and crew (which term as used in this Clause 7 shall refer to the actual crew on board even though in excess of normal complement), in the manner and to the extent provided for in applicable decisions or advices of the Maritime War Emergency Board, as amended or modified from time to time, or in judicial decisions relating thereto.

(2) All extra compensation, including overtime, paid to the crew for services performed by the crew (a) in connection with cargo, at sea or in port, (b) in connection with shifting of Vessel in port for Charterer's purposes, or (c) preparatory to loading or discharging or sailing in convoy. If the Vessel operates in the Alaska trade, the Charterer shall also pay the extra crew costs exceeding costs that would have been incurred in similar operations in other ocean-going trades.

(3) All wages and overtime paid to any extra crew members beyond the normal complement of the Vessel, or to other persons carried, who are required to be employed by the Owner because of (a) the Vessel's service under this Charter, (b) the loading or discharging of cargo, or (c) to care for any persons covered by Clause 7 C hereof. Extra wages or overtime paid to the normal complement of the Vessel in lieu of employing extra crew members or other persons for the purposes above set forth shall also be reimbursed to the Owner.

The term "normal complement" as used in this Charter shall refer to the normal peacetime complement for off shore foreign trading for the average vessel of the same size, type and description as the Vessel chartered hereunder, as determined by the Administrator.

(4) All wages and overtime paid to security watchmen, provided in compliance with any security requirements of any United States or other Government agency, and all overtime or additional wages paid to the crew by reason of compliance with such requirements.

(5) All extra clothing or effects for the Master and crew necessitated by the Vessel's service under this Charter (Charterer to have title to such extra clothing and effects).

CLAUSE 7. B. The Charterer shall, to the extent the Owner is not reimbursed under the provisions of Schedule A attached hereto, reimburse the Owner for out-of-pocket expenses or disbursements made on behalf of the Master or crew, or payments made to the Master or crew, for repatriation transportation (including return to port of shipment), and for wages and subsistence while awaiting and during such transportation, where such expenses, disbursements, or payments are assumed by the terms of the Ship's Articles, the Owner's collective bargaining agreements or found by the Owner to be reasonably necessary or desirable. The Owner shall also be reimbursed for the cost reasonably incurred in furnishing men to replace members of the crew whose employment has terminated at ports in Alaska or outside the Continental United States where suitable replacements are not readily available.

CLAUSE 7. C. The Charterer shall pay the Owner at the rate of $1.50 per day per person (not in excess of fifty (50) persons) for providing subsistence aboard the Vessel for any person carried at the request of the Charterer or any agency of the United States or the military authorities of any Allied Government, or any extra crew members beyond the Vessel's normal complement required because of the Vessel's service under this Charter, and $1.50 per day per person for providing subsistence aboard the Vessel for any extra complement thereby required. If a total of more than 50 extra persons referred to in this Clause 7 C are carried on the Vessel at any one time, the Owner shall be reimbursed for his actual costs for subsistence of the number in excess of 50, unless subsistence rates or schedules applicable to such excess number have been agreed upon between the Owner and the Charterer, in which event such rates or schedules shall govern. The term "subsistence" as used in this subsection shall include victualling, supplying with linens, bedding, laundry, and similar services, but the Owner shall not be obliged to furnish linens and bedding for such extra persons in excess of 50, unless otherwise agreed.

CLAUSE 8. A. The Charterer may disallow in whole or in part, as may be appropriate, and deny reimbursement for any expenses for which it is required to reimburse the Owner which are in contravention of the terms of this Charter, or are otherwise improvident or excessive.

CLAUSE 8. B. The Charterer shall reimburse the Owner for any additional extraordinary costs incurred which the Charterer, in its discretion, may allow upon finding that such costs are not intended to be covered in the allowance for services hereunder. In the event the Vessel is assigned by the Charterer for service between foreign ports, the Charterer shall make such adjustment, if any, as it deems appropriate to allow for increased cost of operation.

CLAUSE 8. C. In the event the Vessel is physically incapable of working for a period in excess of twenty (20) days while in a Continental United States port (excluding Alaska) or for a period of thirty (30) days while in Alaska or outside the Continental United States, the charter hire otherwise payable hereunder shall be reduced for the excess period by an amount equal to twenty (20) per cent of the service rate, plus eighty (80) per cent of the actual savings in wages for Master and crew during the entire period of lay-up. The Owner shall furnish reports of wage savings as soon as practicable after the termination of each month of such lay-up.

CLAUSE 9. The Charterer shall provide necessary dunnage and shifting boards, also any extra fittings and materials requisite for a special trade or for the carriage of livestock or other unusual cargo, but the Owner shall allow the Charterer the use of any dunnage and shifting boards and fittings and materials already aboard the Vessel. The Charterer shall have the privilege of using shifting boards for dunnage. Upon redelivery of the Vessel, the Charterer shall make good any damage to or shortage of shifting boards, fittings or materials which are on board at delivery.

CLAUSE 10. The Charterer shall pay for all fuel on board upon delivery, and the Owner shall pay for all fuel on board on redelivery not in excess of Owner's normal requirements, at market prices current at the ports and times of delivery and redelivery, respectively.

CLAUSE 11. A. The Charterer or any agency of the United States may, at the expense of the Charterer or such agency and on the Charterer's time, install any equipment, gear or armament, and may make any alterations or additions to the Vessel. Such equipment, gear or armament so installed are to be considered Charterer's property and are to be maintained at Charterer's expense. Such work shall be done so as not to affect the seaworthiness of the Vessel or the safety of the crew, and as not to be in contravention of any applicable law of the United States or regulation made pursuant thereto. The Charterer shall, before redelivery and at its expense and on its time, remove any equipment, gear and armament installed by or at the request of the Charterer or any agency of the United States and restore the Vessel to her condition prior to any such installations, alterations, additions or changes, whether such installations, alterations, additions or changes were made under this Charter or prior to delivery under this Charter, except as may be otherwise provided herein.

CLAUSE 11. B. Commencing with the time this Amended Charter becomes effective, the Charterer shall pay the full actual cost of providing and maintaining all equipment and installations on the Vessel, beyond normal peace-time standards, then or thereafter required by sub-chapter O of Chapter II of the Regulations of the United States Coast Guard (Title 46, U. S. C. R.), or by other wartime regulations of any agency of the United States, except that if and so long as the Vessel remains under time charter, the Owner shall provide and pay for renewals, replacements and repairs to lifeboat equipment and for minor repairs to lifeboats not belonging to the Owner, unless any such renewals, replacements or repairs are caused by subsequent increases and changes in wartime Governmental requirements. Provided, however, That if the Owner has not entered into a form of addendum to the original time charter covering this Vessel designated as "Uniform Addendum To Time Charter Covering Adjustments of Certain Disputed Questions" and has not entered into a special agreement as and if contemplated in Paragraph Fourth of said addendum, then the obligations of the Charterer under the Clause 11-B shall be limited to items hereafter required and shall not cover items heretofore required as aforesaid. All such equipment and installations installed in or relating to lifeboats belonging to the Owner shall be the property of the Owner and all other equipment or installations shall belong to the Charterer and shall be considered as equipment installed or as alterations or additions made by the Charterer pursuant to Clause 11A of the Charter.

CLAUSE 11. C. Any equipment, furniture, furnishings or appliances belonging to the Vessel and not required by the Charterer may be removed by the Charterer, at the Charterer's expense, and, upon termination of the Charter, unless the Vessel has been lost or requisitioned for title, any such removals are to be replaced on board the Vessel or made good by the Charterer at its expense. Storage charges arising from such removal shall be paid for by the Charterer.

CLAUSE 11. D. If, at the time of redelivery under this Charter, the Vessel shall require any work or repairs of any damage arising from risks insured against or assumed by the Charterer, or for which the Charterer is otherwise liable under this Clause, Clause 11A or any other Clause hereunder, the Charterer may, at its option, discharge such obligations by payment to the Owner in advance, of an amount for reconditioning sufficient to provide for such work or repairs, which amount shall also include compensation at the rate of hire that would otherwise have been payable under this Charter, for the time reasonably required under then existing conditions to complete such work or repairs and compensation for other expenses incident to such work or repairs. If the Owner and Charterer agree such obligations may be discharged by a mutually satisfactory agreement.

CLAUSE 12. The Owner agrees at its expense to drydock the Vessel for the purpose of cleaning and painting her bottom, when necessary, but not less than once in every nine (9) months unless the Charterer otherwise agrees, and, when drydocking is due, the Charterer agrees to send the Vessel to a port where she can so drydock, clean and paint. The Owner undertakes to put the Vessel in drydock for cleaning and painting the bottom as soon thereafter as the Vessel is at the Owner's disposal, clear of oil and gas, at the port having suitable accommodations for the purpose. The Owner is always and solely responsible for clearing the Vessel of oil and gas but the expense and time thereof shall be for Charterer's account. The expenses incidental to sending the Vessel to drydock for painting her bottom and all port charges incurred therein shall be for the Owner's account.

Except as otherwise provided herein the expense of clearing the Vessel of oil and gas as well as all other expenses incidental to sending the Vessel to drydock or repair yard and all port charges incurred therein shall be:

(1) For Owner's account when required primarily for Owner's repairs, or

(2) For Charterer's account when required primarily for Charterer's repairs, or

(3) For account of both Owner and Charterer when repairs under (1) and (2) above are carried out concurrently and such expense shall be apportioned in accordance with normal commercial practice.

CLAUSE 13. The Charterer shall furnish the Master from time to time with all requisite instructions and sailing directions, in writing, and the Master, to the extent permitted by governmental orders or directions, shall keep a full and correct log of the voyage or voyages, which shall be patent to the Charterer or its agents, and furnish the Charterer or its agents, when required and to the extent permitted by governmental orders or directions, with a true copy of port and daily logs, showing the course of the Vessel, the distance run and the consumption of fuel.

CLAUSE 14. Subject always to the directions of the Charterer the Master shall prosecute his voyage with the utmost dispatch and shall render all customary assistance with Ship's crew and boats; and shall use due diligence in caring for the cargo. The Master (although employed by the Owner) shall be under the orders and directions of the Charterer as regards employment, agency and prosecution of the voyages. Bills of lading are, if requested by the Charterer, to be signed by the Master in the form and at any rate of freight that Charterer or its agents may direct, without prejudice to this Charter. The Charterer hereby agrees to indemnify the Owner against all consequences or liabilities that may arise from the Charterer or its agents (including the Master) signing bills of lading or other documents inconsistent with this Charter, or from any irregularities in papers supplied by the Charterer or its agents.

CLAUSE 15. Cargo may be laden or discharged in any dock or at any wharf or place that the Charterer or its Agents may direct, provided that the Vessel can proceed thereto, lie at, and depart therefrom always safely afloat.

CLAUSE 16. Neither the Owner nor the Vessel shall be responsible for any admixture, if more than one quality of oil is shipped nor for leakage, contamination or deterioration in quality of the cargo. No injurious cargoes, including acids that are injurious to the Vessel, are to be shipped, it being understood that gasoline, Ethyl gasoline, benzol, creosote, molasses, and the various vegetable oils, customarily carried in tank vessels, are not to be considered as injurious. Charterer undertakes in case it employs the Vessel to carry any other cargo than petroleum and its products in bulk to indemnify the Owner against any damage that may arise to such cargo owing to the Vessel having previously loaded oil, or to oil after having loaded other cargo. If the Vessel's tanks at the time of delivery are gas free and clean and fit for the transportation of clean products, such as refined petroleum or naphtha, the Vessel is to be redelivered in the same condition as on delivery. Similarly, if her tanks are soiled at the time of delivery the Vessel may be redelivered with tanks in like condition.

CLAUSE 17. No petroleum product shall be shipped which fails to meet one or the other of the two following requirements: (1) The vapor pressure at one-hundred degrees Fahrenheit (100° F.) shall not exceed thirteen pounds (13 lbs.) as determined by the A. S. T. M. Method (Reid Method) identified as D-323 current at the time shipment is made. (2) The distillation loss shall not exceed four per cent (4%) and the sum of the distillation loss and the distillate collected in the receiving graduate shall not exceed ten per cent (10%) when the thermometer reads one-hundred twenty-two degrees Fahrenheit (122° F.) Note—The distillation test shall be made by A. S. T. M. Method identified as D-86 current at the time shipment is made. When products other than naphtha or gasoline are tested, the distillation loss may be determined by distilling not less than twenty-five per cent (25%) and deducting from one-hundred per cent (100%) the sum of the volumes of the distillate and the residue in the flask (cooled to a temperature of sixty degrees Fahrenheit (60° F.)).

CLAUSE 18. All bills of lading issued hereunder shall contain, directly or by reference, substantially the following clauses:

(i) Clause paramount. "This bill of lading shall have effect subject to the provisions of the Carriage of Goods by Sea Act of United States, approved April 16, 1936, which shall be deemed to be incorporated herein, and nothing herein contained shall be deemed a surrender by the Carrier of any of its rights or immunities or an increase of any of its responsibilities or liabilities under said Act. If any term of this bill of lading be repugnant to said Act to any extent, such term shall be void to that extent but no further."

(ii) Both-to-blame collision clause. "If the ship comes into collision with another ship as a result of the negligence of the other ship and any act, neglect or default of the master, mariner, pilot or the servants of the carrier in the navigation or in the management of the ship, the owners of the goods carried hereunder will indemnify the carrier against all loss or liability to the other or noncarrying ship or her owners in so far as such loss or liability represents loss of, or damage to, or any claim whatsoever of the owners of said goods, paid or payable by the other or noncarrying ship or her owners to the owners of said goods and set-off, recouped or recovered by the other or noncarrying ship or her owners as part of their claim against the carrying ship or carrier. The foregoing provisions shall also apply where the owners, operators or those in charge of any ship or ships or objects other than, or in addition to, the colliding ships or objects are at fault in respect of a collision or contact."

(iii) General average clause. "General average shall be adjusted, stated, and settled, according to Rules 1 to 15, inclusive, 17 to 22, inclusive, and Rule F of York-Antwerp Rules 1924, at such port or place in the United States as may be selected by the carrier, and as to matters not provided for by these Rules, according to the laws and usages at the port of New York. In such adjustment, disbursements in foreign currencies shall be exchanged into United States money at the rate prevailing on the dates made and allowances for damage to cargo claimed in foreign currency shall be converted at the rate prevailing on the last day of discharge at the port or place of final discharge of such damaged cargo from the ship. Average agreement or bond and such additional security, as may be required by the carrier, must be furnished before delivery of the goods. Such cash deposit as the carrier or his agents may deem sufficient as additional security for the contribution of the goods and for any salvage and special charges thereon, shall, if required, be made by the goods, shippers, consignees, or owners of the goods to the carrier before delivery. Such deposit shall, at the option of the carrier, be payable in United States money, and be remitted to the adjuster. When so remitted the deposit shall be held in a special account at the place of adjustment in the name of the adjuster pending settlement of the general average and refunds or credit balances, if any, shall be paid in United States money."

(iv) Amended "Jason" clause. "In the event of accident, danger, damage, or disaster before or after commencement of the voyage resulting from any cause whatsoever, whether due to negligence or not, for which or for the consequence of which the carrier is not responsible by statute, contract, or otherwise, the goods, shippers, consignees, or owners of the goods shall contribute with the carrier in general average to the payment of any sacrifices, losses or expenses of a general average nature that may be made or incurred, and shall pay salvage and special charges incurred in respect of the goods. If a salving ship is owned or operated by the carrier, salvage shall be paid for as fully as if the salving ship or ships belong to strangers."

(v) Liberties clauses. "In any situation whatsoever and wheresoever occurring and whether existing or anticipated before commencement of or during the voyage, which in the judgment of the carrier or master is likely to give rise to risk of capture, seizure, detention, damages, delay or disadvantage to or loss of the ship or any part of her cargo, or to make it unsafe, imprudent, or unlawful for any reason to commence or proceed on or continue the voyage or to enter or discharge the goods at the port of discharge, or to give rise to delay or difficulty in arriving, discharging at or leaving the port of discharge or the usual place of discharge in such port, the carrier may before loading or before the commencement of the voyage, require the shipper or other person entitled thereto to take delivery of the goods at port of shipment and upon their failure to do so, may warehouse the goods at the risk and expense of the goods; or the carrier or master, whether or not proceeding toward or entering or attempting to enter the port of discharge or reaching or attempting to reach the usual place of discharge therein or attempting to discharge the goods there, may discharge the goods into depot, lazaretto, craft or other place; or the ship may proceed or return, directly or indirectly, to or stop at any such port or place whatsoever as the master or the carrier may consider safe or advisable under the circumstances, and discharge the goods, or any part thereof, at any such port or place; or the carrier or the master may retain the cargo on board until the return trip or until such time as the carrier or the master thinks advisable and discharge the goods at any place whatsoever as herein provided; or the carrier or the master may discharge and forward the goods by any means at the risk and expense of the goods. The carrier or the master is not required to give notice of discharge of the goods or the forwarding thereof as herein provided. When the goods are discharged from the ship, as herein provided, they shall be at their own risk and expense; such discharge shall constitute complete delivery and performance under this contract and the carrier shall be freed from any further responsibility. For any service rendered to the goods as herein provided the carrier shall be entitled to a reasonable extra compensation.

"The carrier, master and ship shall have liberty to comply with any orders or directions as to loading, departure, arrival, routes, ports or call, stoppages, discharge, destination, delivery or otherwise howsoever given by the government of any nation or department thereof or any person acting or purporting to act with the authority of such government or of any department thereof, or by any committee or person having, under the terms of the war risk insurance on the ship, the right to give such orders or directions. Delivery or other disposition of the goods in accordance with such orders or directions shall be a fulfillment of the contract voyage. The ship may carry contraband, explosives, munitions, warlike stores, hazardous cargo, and may sail armed or unarmed and with or without convoy.

"In addition to all other liberties herein the carrier shall have the right to withhold delivery of, reship to, deposit or discharge the goods at any place whatsoever, surrender or dispose of the goods in accordance with any direction, condition or agreement imposed upon or exacted from the carrier by any government or department thereof or any person purporting to act with the authority of either of them. In any of the above circumstances the goods shall be solely at their risk and expense and all expenses and charges so incurred shall be payable by the owner or consignee thereof and shall be a lien on the goods."

This Charter shall also be subject to the provisions of (ii) (iii) and (iv) of this Clause 18.

CLAUSE 19. The Vessel, her Master and Owner shall not, unless otherwise in this Charter expressly provided, be responsible for any loss or damage or delay or failure in performing under this Charter, arising or resulting from: Any act, neglect, default or barratry of the Master, pilots, mariners or other servants of the Owner, in the navigation or management of the Vessel; fire, unless caused by the personal design or neglect of the Owner; collision, stranding, or peril, danger or accident of the sea or other navigable waters; saving or attempting to save life or property; wastage in weight or bulk, or any other loss or damage arising from inherent defect, quality or vice of the cargo; any act or omission of the Charterer, the owner, shipper or consignee of the cargo, their agents or representatives; insufficiency of packing; insufficiency or inadequacy of marks; explosions, bursting of boilers, breakage of shafts, or any latent defects in hull, equipment or machinery; unseaworthiness of the Vessel unless caused by want of due diligence on the part of the Owner to make the Vessel seaworthy or to have her properly manned, equipped and supplied; or from any other cause of whatsoever kind arising without the actual fault of privity of the Owner. And neither the Vessel, her Master or Owner, nor the Charterer shall, unless otherwise in this Charter expressly provided, be responsible for any loss or damage or delay or failure in performing under this Charter arising or resulting from: Act of God; act of war; act of public enemies, pirates, or assailing thieves; arrest or restraint of princes, rulers of people, or seizure under legal process; strike or lockout or stoppage or restraint of labor from whatever cause, either partial or general; or riot or civil commotion. The Vessel shall have liberty to sail with or without pilots, to tow or to be towed, to go to the assistance of vessels in distress and to deviate for the purpose of saving life or property or of landing any ill or injured person on board. No exemption afforded to the Charterer under this Clause shall diminish its obligations for hire under the other provisions of this Charter.

CLAUSE 20. The Insurance, Indemnity and Waiver program set forth in Schedule A annexed is hereby incorporated by reference in and made a part of this Charter as though fully set forth in this Clause.

CLAUSE 21. All salvage moneys earned by the Vessel shall be divided equally between the Owner and the Charterer, after deducting the Master and crew's shares, legal expenses, hire of the Vessel during time lost, value of fuel consumed, repairs of damage, if any, and any other extraordinary loss or expense sustained as a result of the service, which shall always be a first charge on such moneys: Provided, however, That to the extent necessary to effectuate the purposes of the Insurance, Indemnity and Waiver program (Schedule A), claims for salvage on behalf of the Owner shall be made solely at the discretion of the Charterer.

CLAUSE 22. If the Charterer shall notify the Owner that the employment or the continued employment of the Master or any member of the crew or any agent of the Owner is prejudicial to the interests of the United States in the prosecuting of the war, the Owner shall make any changes necessary in the appointment.

If the Charterer shall have reason to be dissatisfied with the conduct of any member of the crew, the Owner shall, on receiving particulars of the complaint, investigate and make any changes practicable in the appointments or practices aboard the Vessel with respect to the maintenance of proper discipline, necessary to eliminate the reasons for such dissatisfaction by the Charterer.

CLAUSE 23. Any provisions of this Charter to the contrary notwithstanding, the Owner shall have the benefit of all limitations of, and exemptions from, liability accorded to the Owner of vessels by any statute or rule of law for the time being in force. Nothing herein shall be deemed to affect the Charterer's right of limitation or exemption from liability accorded under the provisions of Section 4 of Public Law 17, 78th Congress.

CLAUSE 24. Nothing herein stated is to be construed as a demise of the Vessel to the Charterer.

CLAUSE 25. Liability for nonperformance of this Charter shall be proved damages.

CLAUSE 26. The Charterer shall have the option of subletting or assigning this Charter, but the Charterer shall always remain responsible for the due fulfillment of this Charter in all its terms and conditions.

CLAUSE 27. The Charterer shall have a lien on the Vessel for all moneys paid in advance and not earned.

CLAUSE 28. The Master and the Vessel shall have liberty to comply with any orders or directions as to loading, departure, arrival, routes, ports of call, stoppages, discharge, destination, delivery or otherwise howsoever given by the government of any nation or department thereof or any person acting or purporting to act with the authority of such government or of any department thereof, and if by reason of or in compliance with any such orders or directions anything is done or is not done, such shall not be deemed a deviation or breach of orders or neglect of duty by the Master of the Vessel: Provided, however, That whenever any such orders or directions given otherwise than by the Government of the United States or its representative are contrary to sailing directions or other orders of the Charterer as to the employment of the Vessel, the Master shall, if practicable, apply to the Charterer or its agents or to a representative of the United States for consent or advice and shall not comply with such orders or directions unless such consent or advice to comply is first obtained: Provided further, however, That if it is impracticable in any case to act in accordance with the foregoing proviso, the Master's decision as to compliance with any such orders or directions shall be made with due regard to the interests of all concerned, including the Charterer, the Owner, and the Vessel, her crew and cargo.

CLAUSE 29. If after redelivery the Vessel is arrested or attached upon any cause of action arising or alleged to have arisen from previous possessions or operation of the Vessel by the Charterer, or any subcharterer, or for which the Charterer is liable, the Charterer undertakes to use its best efforts to cause the release of the Vessel under the Suits in Admiralty Act or any other special remedy available to the Charterer, subject to the approval of the Attorney General of the United States.

CLAUSE 30. The Charterer shall reimburse the Owner for all expenses for bonuses and subsistence of the Master and crew and other out-of-pocket costs incurred by the Owner subsequent to the date of and arising from an actual or constructive total loss of the Vessel to the extent not recovered or reimbursed under any insurance on the Vessel, or under this Charter or otherwise. If the extent of the damage or injury is not sufficient to entitle the Owner to collect for an actual or constructive total loss under the provisions of any insurance on the Vessel in the absence of a declaration by the Charterer, then in addition to reimbursement of expenses as aforesaid, the Owner shall be entitled: (a) to charter hire at the rate of 3½ percent per annum on the then current valuation of the Vessel under valuation Option II, commencing with the date when charter hire would otherwise terminate and ending four months thereafter or on the date of such declaration, whichever date is earlier; and (b) if the Vessel is declared a constructive total loss more than four months after the date charter hire would otherwise terminate, then to charter hire in an amount equal to the use rate payable under Part I from the end of such four months until the date of such declaration.

CLAUSE 31. The Administrator (Charterer), acting pursuant to delegation of authority by the War Contracts Price Adjustment Board to the Administrator by instrument dated February 26, 1944, having found that this Agreement is in the nature of a lease contract and that the profits of the use rate and agreed valuation (if any) hereunder can now be determined with reasonable certainty, that such use rate and agreed valuation (if any) are not in excess of just compensation to which the Owner is or may be entitled, and that the provisions of this Charter with respect thereto adequately prevent excessive profits, the said use rate and agreed valuation (if any) are hereby exempted from the provisions of the Renegotiation Act, pursuant to subsection (i) (4) of the said Act. Nothing in this Clause 31 shall be construed as an admission by the Owners that the items exempted from renegotiation as aforesaid would be subject to the Renegotiation Act in the absence of the foregoing provisions. The service rate under this Charter shall be subject to renegotiation in accordance with the provisions of said Act, and with respect thereto this Charter shall be deemed to contain all the provisions required by subsection (b) of said Act, with the expressed understanding and agreement that the aggregate of the amount received or accrued to the Owner on account of the service rate under this and all other WARSHIPTIME or WARSHIPOPLTIME Charters containing similar renegotiation provisions shall be treated as a unit for the purpose of such renegotiation. There shall be inserted in each subcontract, subject to the Renegotiation Act and involving an estimated amount of more than $100,000, a clause reciting in substance that such subcontract shall be deemed to contain all the provisions required by the Renegotiation Act. This Clause 31 shall be applicable only from the effective date of this Amended Charter. Nothing in this Clause 31 shall be construed as an admission or agreement by the Owner as to the applicability of the Renegotiation Act to this Charter for the period prior to the effective date of this Amended Charter or to any charter hire or other sums accruing prior to the effective date of this Amended Charter: Provided, however, That all rights, if any, which the Administrator may have to renegotiate any charter hire or other sums accruing prior to the effective date of this Amended Charter are hereby reserved by the Administrator.

CLAUSE 32. A. No member of or delegate to Congress or Resident Commissioner is or shall be admitted to any share or part of this Charter or to any benefit that may arise therefrom, except to the extent allowed by Title 18 U. S. Code, Section 206. The Owner agrees not to employ any member of or delegate to Congress or Resident Commissioner, either with or without compensation, as an attorney, agent, officer or director.

CLAUSE 32. B. The Owner shall not employ any person who advocates, or who is a member of an organization that advocates, the overthrow of the government of the United States by force or violence, to perform any work under this Charter. As a condition to the employment of any person for the performance of such work, the Owner shall, if the Charterer so directs, require each person to execute and file an affidavit in such form as to satisfy the requirements of Public Law No. 678, 77th Congress, or Public Law No. 23, 77th Congress, but the execution and filing of such affidavit shall be without prejudice to the right of the Charterer to require such further evidence in the premises as may be in the possession of the Owner as the Charterer may deem desirable.

CLAUSE 32. C. The Owner agrees that in performing the work required of it by this Charter, it will not discriminate against any worker because of race, creed, color, or national origin.

CLAUSE 32. D. The Owner shall not employ any person undergoing sentence of imprisonment at hard labor.

CLAUSE 32. E. The Owner warrants that it has not employed any person to solicit or secure this Charter upon any agreement for a commission, percentage, brokerage, or contingent fee. Breach of this warranty shall give the Charterer the right to annul this Charter or, in its discretion, to deduct from any sums payable under this Charter the amount of such commission, percentage, brokerage, or contingent fees. This warranty shall not apply to commissions payable by the Owner upon agreements or sales secured or made through bona fide established commercial or selling agencies maintained by the Owner for the purpose of securing business.

CLAUSE 33. Failure of the Master or Owner to protest against any act or omission of the Charterer, or any other agency of the United States, including any act, omission or order which in the opinion of the Master may affect the Vessel's seaworthiness or may be in contravention of the laws or regulations of the United States shall not prejudice the rights of the Owner under this Charter.

CLAUSE 34. Unless otherwise provided in this Charter or mutually agreed upon, all payments, notices and communications from the Charterer to the Owner, pursuant to the terms of or in connection with this Charter, shall be made or addressed to the Owner at the address provided in Part I, and all payments, notices and communications from the Owner to the Charterer, pursuant to the terms of or in connection with this Charter, shall be made or addressed to the Charterer at its offices in Washington, District of Columbia.

CLAUSE 35. A. In the event that this form of time charter is modified by the Charterer at any time prior to July 1, 1944, the Owner shall, at its option, have the benefit of any such modifications, subject to the assumption by the Owner, at the request of the Charterer, of any obligations imposed in conjunction with such modifications. Said option shall be exercised within such reasonable time as the Charterer may prescribe, and, upon such exercise, the modifications shall become effective as of the date of this Charter. In the event of non-exercise by the Owner of said option, this Charter shall remain in full force and effect in accordance with its original terms.

CLAUSE 35. B. This Charter may be amended, modified or terminated at any time by mutual agreement between the parties hereto.

CLAUSE 36. This Charter consists of this Part II and of Part I which incorporates this Part II therein by reference. In the event of conflict between the provisions of this Part II and those of Part I, the provisions of Part I shall govern to the extent of such conflict.

At and from .....
to the day and hour of redelivery of the Vessel under, or to the termination of, the Charter referred to above, whichever shall first occur.

SPECIAL CONDITIONS

A. The following conditions shall apply to all vessels insured herennder.

1. (a) This policy shall respond for payments of general average, salvage, and collision liabilities incurred by the vessel, if covered hereby, even though the amount of such charges or liabilities may exceed the sum insured hereby or the contributory value or limitation of liability value may be greater than the value named herein; provided, however, except as provided in subparagraph (b) hereof, the total amount payable hereunder in respect of all claims arising out of any one occurrence or disaster, for liabilities under the Collision Clause and liabilities for salvage and general average shall not exceed, in the aggregate, double the amount insured on the vessel, plus any expenses of litigation incurred with the written consent of the War Shipping Administration; but (in addition to the foregoing limitation on the aggregate amount payable) in the case of vessels built in 1934 or thereafter neither (a) the amount recoverable in respect of liabilities under the Collision Clause nor (b) the aggregate amount recoverable in respect of salvage and general average shall (in respect of any one occurrence or disaster), exceed 110% of the amount insured, plus the amount of any such expenses of litigation.

(b) It is further agreed that the limits of liability as stated above and sue and labor charges recoverable under this policy shall be increased by the amount, if any, by which the market value of the vessel in sound condition at the time of such collision, casualty or occurrence, plus the vessel's then pending freight, exceeds the insured value hereunder for total loss purposes; it being understood that the amount of such additional coverage shall be applicable separately to (a) sue and labor charges, (b) general average and salvage, and (c) collision liabilities, with the full amount open for each.

(c) Nothing contained in this Clause 1 shall be construed as increasing the amount recoverable in respect of claims for physical loss of or damage to the insured vessel.

2. This insurance shall not be prejudiced by the participation of the Assured in any agreement as to the Waiver of claims entered into by the United States on behalf of vessels owned by or under charter to it.

3. With respect to the risks and perils insured against hereunder, it is warranted that no insurance in excess of the value hereinafter provided for, whether for hull, machinery, disbursements, or other similar interests however described, exists or will be placed during the currency of this insurance except as permission to place additional insurance is granted by the Administrator, and then only in accordance with the terms of such permission. Provided always that a breach of this warranty shall not afford the assurers any defense to a claim by mortgagees or other third parties who may have accepted this Policy without notice of such breach of warranty, nor shall it restrict the right of the Assured and/or their managers to insure in addition General Average and/or Salvage Disbursements whilst at risk, or general average, salvage or collision liabilities.

4. This insurance shall be subject to the following clauses: (a) With leave to sail or navigate with or without pilots, to go on trial trips and to assist or tow vessels or craft whether customary or in distress or not, and whether under a pre-arranged contract or not, or be towed, all at no additional premium.

(b) This insurance shall not be subject to any Trading Warranties.

(c) Any notice required by the terms of this policy shall be transmitted by the Assured to the Director of Wartime Insurance as soon as may be reasonably practicable. In transmitting such notice the Assured shall comply with all relevant Security Orders of the War Shipping Administration.

(d) Radio apparatus and equipment and other apparatus or equipment used for the purposes of communication or as aids to navigation or safety devices shall be covered by this insurance and included within the amount insured on the vessel as hereinbefore set forth, even when not owned by the vessel owner, provided the vessel owner has prior to date of loss assumed liability therefor; but the liability of underwriters (either as to amount or as to the risks covered) shall not exceed the vessel owner's liability or the liability to which underwriters would be subject if the property were fully owned by the vessel owner, whichever shall be the lesser.

5. In the event of claims arising from collision between the insured vessel and a sister-ship, or in the event of claims for salvage services rendered to the insured vessel by a sister-ship the sister-ship salvage clause and the sister-ship collision clause contained in the attached form of policy shall be deemed deleted therefrom in any case where the assured by any charter, or other agreement entered into by the War Shipping Administration and binding upon the Assured, would be bound to waive such claims if the vessels were not sister-ships.

6. This policy is issued pursuant to the obligation assumed by the War Shipping Administration in Clause I of Schedule A of the Charter Party referred to herein, and shall not be deemed to govern the relationship between the War Shipping Administration and the owner except as to such obligation nor to override any other provisions of the Charter Party.

7. It is agreed that liability for damage to cargo arising under any agreement to which the War Shipping Administration is a party or is bound, for the waiver or adjustment of collision claims, shall be among the liabilities covered by the Collision Clause herein, subject, however, to the same limitations and conditions which apply to other liabilities covered by the same clause. It is further agreed that where, under any such agreement, cargo's liability for General Average is waived, the cargo's proportion of any General Average sacrifices and expenses incurred by the vessel shall be payable under this policy as part of the hull's proportion of General Average, to the extent provided in Special Condition No. 1 hereinabove.

8. As between this Policy and any other policy covering the same or similar risks on the insured Vessel, such other policy shall be deemed primary and this insurance secondary. It is agreed, nevertheless, that any losses which would be payable hereunder in the absence of such other insurance shall be advanced under this Policy if the Assured is unable to collect them under such other policy within 60 days after filing the usual proofs of loss and interest. Thereafter the Assured shall, at the expense and under the direction of the Administrator, take whatever steps the Administrator may deem necessary or advisable for the collection of such loss under such other policy; and the net recovery under such other policy shall be applied, so far as necessary to the reimbursement of the amount advanced by the Administrator.

9. Where, under the terms of the Charter Party, the Administrator has a right to declare and does declare the vessel a constructive total loss as between himself and the Assured, the Assurer shall not be liable for unrepaired damage.

B. The following condition shall be effective only with respect to vessels to which Insurance Plan II of the Charter Party applies, but with respect to such vessels it shall be paramount and shall override any other provision of this policy which may be in conflict therewith.

1. During the time that Insurance Plan II of the Charter Party is effective, this insurance covers only those risks which would be covered by this policy (including the Collision Clause) in the absence of the F. C. & S. Warranty contained herein but which are excluded by that warranty (such insurance being subject to the warranties and additional clauses contained in the War Risk Clauses).

C. The following condition shall be effective only with respect to vessels to which insurance plan I of the charter party applies but with respect to such vessels it shall be paramount and shall override any other provision of this policy which may be in conflict therewith.

1. This policy shall respond to claims for partial losses covered hereby and repaired by the Owner with the approval of the War Shipping Administration (subject to the franchise warranty) even though the cost of such repairs may exceed the sum insured hereby.

D. Said Vessel, for so much as concerns the Assured, by agreement between the Assured and Underwriters in this policy, is and shall be valued at the amount in accordance with the provisions of the Charter Party, referred to above, or, if no such amount is set forth in said Charter Party, in the amount of just compensation arrived at pursuant to the provisions of said Charter Party.

Unless deleted or superseded by the Underwriters the following warranty shall be paramount, and shall supersede and nullify any contrary provision of the policy:

F. C. & S. CLAUSE

(1) Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained in the Policy, this insurance is warranted free from any claim for loss, damage, or expense caused by or resulting from capture, seizure, arrest, restraint, or detainment, or the consequences thereof or of any attempt thereat, or any taking of the vessel, by requisition or otherwise, whether in time of peace or war and whether lawful or otherwise; also from all consequences of hostilities or warlike operations (whether there be a declaration of war or not), piracy, civil war, revolution, rebellion, or insurrection, or civil strife arising therefrom.

(2) For the purpose of this warranty the term "consequences of hostilities or warlike operations" shall be deemed to include the following:

(a) Collision caused by failure, in compliance with wartime regulations, of the insured vessel or any vessel with which she is in collision to show the usual full peacetime navigation or anchorage lights.

(b) Stranding caused by the absence of lights, buoys, or similar peacetime aids to navigation consequent upon wartime regulations.

(c) Stranding caused by the failure of the insured vessel to employ a pilot in waters where a pilot would ordinarily be employed in peacetime but in which the employment of a pilot is dispensed with in compliance with military, naval or other Governmental orders, or with a view to avoiding imminent enemy attack.

For the purposes of this Paragraph (2) any such failure to show lights, or absence of lights, buoys, or similar peacetime aids to navigation, or failure to employ a pilot, shall be presumed to be the cause of the collision or stranding unless the contrary be proved, and stranding shall include sinking consequent upon stranding or contact with any part of the land.

(d) Collision with another vessel in the same convoy or collision with any military or naval vessel, that is to say, a vessel manned by and under the control of military or naval personnel and designed to be employed primarily in armed combat service.

(e) Stranding, collision or contact with any external substances other than water (ice included) as a result of deliberately placing the vessel in jeopardy in compliance with military, naval or other Governmental orders in order to avoid imminent enemy attack, or as an act or measure of war taken in actual process of embarking or disembarking troops or material of war.

(3) The fact that the insured vessel or any vessel with which she is in collision is carrying troops or military or other supplies, or is proceeding to or from a war base, or is manned or operated by military or naval personnel, shall not alone be sufficient to exclude from this policy any claim which is not excluded under the terms of Paragraph (2) above.

(4) Where by reason of any of the foregoing provisions damage sustained by the insured vessel in collision would not be payable under this policy, it is understood and agreed that liability of the assured for damage caused in such collision shall not be covered by the Collision Clause in the Policy.

(5) It is agreed for the purposes of subdivision (2) (d) above all vessels manned and operated by the Department of the Navy of the United States of America shall be treated as though designed to be employed primarily in armed combat service.

This Policy is made and accepted subject to the foregoing stipulations and conditions and to the printed conditions on the following pages which are specially referred to and made part of this policy, it being understood and agreed in the case of any conflict or inconsistency the foregoing shall prevail over those which follow.

In no case shall the insurance herein provided for cover loss or damage incurred prior to the attachment of this insurance.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the War Shipping Administration has caused this Policy to be signed by the Administrator, but it shall not be valid unless countersigned by or on behalf of the Director of Wartime Insurance.

Administrator.

Countersigned at Washington, D. C. this ------ day of ----------, 19------

Beginning the adventure upon the said Vessel, as above, and so shall continue and endure during the period aforesaid, as employment may offer, in port and at sea, in docks and graving docks, and on ways, gridirons and pontoons, at all times, in all places, and on all occasions, services, and trades whatsoever and wheresoever, under steam, motor power, or sail; with leave to sail or navigate with or without pilots, to go on trial trips and to assist and tow vessels or craft in distress, but if without the approval of Assurers the Vessel be towed, except as is customary or when in need of assistance, or undertakes towage or salvage services under a prearranged contract made by Owners and/or Charterers, the Assured shall pay an additional premium if required by the Assurers, but no such premium shall be required for customary towage by the Vessel in connection with loading and discharging. With liberty to discharge, exchange and take on board goods, specie, passengers, and stores, wherever the Vessel may call at or proceed to, and with liberty to carry goods, live cattle, etc., on deck or otherwise. Including all risks of docking, undocking, changing docks, or moving in harbor and going on or off gridiron or graving dock as often as may be done during the currency of this Policy.

In the event of accident whereby loss or damage may result in a claim under this Policy, notice shall be given in writing to the Assurers, where practicable, prior to survey, so that they may appoint their own surveyor if they so desire. All repairs shall be subject to the approval of the Assurer as to the extent, time and place of repairs and without limiting the foregoing the Assurers shall be entitled to decide the port to which a damaged Vessel shall proceed for docking or repairing (the actual additional expense of the voyage arising from compliance with Assurers' requirements being refunded to the Assured) and Assurers shall also have a right of veto in connection with the place of repair or repairing firm proposed and whenever the extent of the damage is ascertainable the majority (in amount) of the Assurers may take or may require to be taken tenders for the repair of such damage.

Touching the Adventures and Perils which the Assurers are content to bear and take upon themselves, they are of the Seas, Men-of-War, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, Rovers, Thieves, Jettisons, Letters of Mart and Counter-Mart, Surprisals, Takings at Sea, Arrests, Restraints, and Detainments of all Kings, Princes, and Peoples, of what nation, condition, of quality soever, Barratry of the Master and Mariners and of all other like Perils, Losses, and Misfortunes that have or shall come to the Hurt, Detriment, or Damage of the said Ship, etc., or any part thereof; excepting however, such of the foregoing perils as may be excluded by provisions elsewhere in the policy or by endorsement. And in case of any Loss or Misfortune, it shall be lawful for the Assured, their Factors, Servants, and Assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in, and about the Defense, safeguard, and Recovery of the said Vessel, etc., or any part thereof, without prejudice to this Insurance, to the Charges whereof the Assurers will contribute their proportion as provided below. And it is expressly declared and agreed that no acts of the Assurers or Assured in recovering, saving, or preserving the property insured shall be considered as a waiver or acceptance of abandonment.

This insurance also specially to cover (subject to the Average Warranty) loss of or damage to hull or machinery directly caused by the following: Accidents in loading, discharging or handling cargo, or in bunkering or in taking in fuel; Explosions on Shipboard or elsewhere; Bursting of boilers, breakage of shafts or any latent defect in the machinery or hull (excluding, however, the cost and expense of repairing or renewing the defective part); Contact with Aircraft; Negligence of Master, Charterers, Mariners, Engineers, or Pilots; Provided such loss or damage has not resulted from want of due diligence by the Owners of the Vessel, or any of them, or by the Managers, Masters, Mates, Engineers, Pilots, or Crew not to be considered as part owners within the meaning of this clause should they hold shares in the vessel.

And it is further agreed that in the event of salvage, towage or other assistance being rendered to the Vessel hereby insured by any vessel belonging in part or in whole to the same Owners or Charterers, the value of such services (without regard to the common ownership or control of the Vessels) shall be ascertained by arbitration in the manner below provided for under the Collision Clause, and the amount so awarded so far as applicable to the interest hereby insured shall constitute a charge under this Policy.

General Average, Salvage, and Special Charges payable as provided in the contract of affreightment, or failing such provision, or there be no contract of affreightment, payable in accordance with the law and Usages of the Port of New York: Provided always, That when an adjustment according to the laws and usages of the port of destination is properly demanded by the owners of the cargo, General Average shall be paid in accordance with same.

When the contributory value of the Vessel is greater than the valuation herein, the liability of the Assurers for General Average contribution (except in respect to amount made good to the vessel) or Salvage shall not exceed that proportion of the total contribution due from the Vessel that the amount insured hereunder bears to the contributory value; and if because of damage for which the Assurers are liable as Particular Average the value of the Vessel has been reduced for the purpose of contribution, the amount of the Particular Average claim under this policy shall be deducted from the amount insured hereunder and the Assurers shall be liable only for the proportion which such net amount bears to the contributory value.

In the event of expenditure for Salvage, Salvage Charges, or under the Sue and Labor Clause, this Policy shall only be liable for its share of such proportion of the amount chargeable to the property hereby insured as the insured value, less loss and/or damage, if any, for which the Assurers are liable, bears to the value of the salved property; Provided, That where there are no proceeds or there are expenses in excess of the proceeds, the expenses, or the excess of the expenses, as the case may be, shall be apportioned upon the basis of the sound value of the property at the time of the accident and this policy without any deduction for loss and/or damage shall bear its pro rata share of such expenses or excess of expenses accordingly.

Notwithstanding anything herein contained to the contrary, this Policy is warranted free from Particular Average under 3 percent, or unless amounting to $4,850; but nevertheless when the Vessel shall have been stranded, sunk, on fire, or in collision with any other Ship or Vessel, the Assurers shall pay the damage occasioned thereby, and the expense of sighting the bottom after stranding shall be paid, if reasonably incurred, even if no damage be found.

Grounding in the Panama Canal, Suez Canal, or in the Manchester Ship Canal or its connections, or in the River Mersey above Rock Ferry Slip, or in the River Plate (above a line drawn from the North Basin, Buenos Aires, to the Mouth of the San Pedro River) or its tributaries, or in the Danube or Demerara Rivers, or on the Yenikale Bar, shall not be deemed to be a stranding.

Average payable on each valuation separately on or the whole, without deduction of thirds, new for old, whether the Average be Particular or General.

No claim shall in any case be allowed in respect of scraping or painting the Vessel's bottom.

The Warranty and conditions as to Average under 3 percent to be applicable to each voyage as if separately insured, and a voyage shall be deemed to commence at one of the following periods to be selected by the Assured when making up the claim, viz: at any time at which the Vessel (1) begins to load cargo or (2) sails in ballast to a loading port. Such voyage shall be deemed to continue during the ensuing period until either she has made one outward and one homeward passage (including an intermediate ballast passage, if made) or has carried and discharged two cargoes, whichever may first happen, and further in either case, until she begins to load a subsequent cargo or sails in ballast for a loading port. When the Vessel sails in ballast to effect damage repair such sailing shall not be deemed to be sailing for a loading port although she loads at the repairing port. In calculating the 3 percent above referred to, Particular Average occurring outside the period covered by this Policy may be added to Particular Average occurring within such period provided it occur upon the same voyage (as above defined), but only that portion of the claim arising within such period shall be recoverable hereon. The commencement of a voyage shall not be so fixed as to overlap another voyage on which a claim is made on this or the preceding policy.

No recovery for a Constructive Total Loss shall be had hereunder unless the expense of recovering and repairing the Vessel shall exceed the insured value.

In ascertaining whether the Vessel is a Constructive Total Loss, the insured value shall be taken as the repaired value, and nothing in respect of the damaged or break-up value of the Vessel or wreck shall be taken into account.

In the event of Total or Constructive Total Loss, no claim to be made by the Assurers for freight, whether notice of abandonment has been given or not.

In no case shall the Assurers be liable for unrepaired damage in addition to a subsequent Total Loss sustained during the term covered by this Policy.

And it is further agreed that if the Vessel hereby insured shall come into collision with any other ship or vessel and the Owners or Charterers in consequence thereof or the Surety for either or both of them in consequence of their undertaking shall become liable to pay and shall pay by way of damages to any other person or persons any sum or sums in respect of such collision, the Assurers will pay the Owners or Charterers such proportion of such sum or sums so paid as the Assurer's subscription hereto bears to the value of the Vessel hereby insured. Provided always, That their liability in respect of any one such collision shall not exceed their proportionate part of the value of the Vessel hereby insured. And in cases where the liability of the Vessel has been contested, or proceedings have been taken to limit liability, with the consent in writing of a majority (in amount) of the Underwriters on the hull and/or machinery, the Assurers will also pay a like proportion of the costs which the Owners or Charterers shall thereby incur, or be compelled to pay; but when both vessels are to blame, then unless the liability of the Owners or Charterers of one or both of such vessels becomes limited by law, claims under the Collision Clause shall be settled on the principle of Cross-Liabilities as if the Owners or Charterers of each Vessel had been compelled to pay to the Owners or Charterers of the other of such Vessels such one-half or other proportion of the latter's damages as may have been properly allowed in ascertaining the balance or sum payable by or to the Owners or Charterers in consequence of such collision; and it is further agreed that the principles involved in this clause shall apply to the case where both Vessels are the property in part or in whole, of the same Owners or Charterers, all questions of responsibility and amount of liability as between the two Vessels being left to the decision of a single Arbitrator, if the parties can agree upon a single Arbitrator, or failing such agreement, to the decision of Arbitrators, one to be appointed by the Managing Owners or Charterers of both Vessels, and one to be appointed by the majority (in amount) of Hull Underwriters interested; the two Arbitrators chosen to choose a third Arbitrator before entering upon the reference, and the decision of such single, or of any two of such three Arbitrators, appointed as above, to be final and binding: Provided always, That this clause shall in no case extend to any sum which the Owners or Charterers may become liable to pay or shall pay for removal of obstructions under statutory powers for injury to harbors, wharves, piers, stages and similar structures, consequent on such collision, or in respect of the cargo or engagements of the Insured Vessel, or for loss of life, or personal injury; And provided also, That in the event of any claim being made by the Charterers under this clause they shall not be entitled to recover in respect of any liability to which the Owners of the Vessel, if interested in this Policy at the time of the Collision in question, would not be subject, nor to a greater extent than the Shipowners would be entitled in such event to recover.

WAR RISK CLAUSES

It is agreed that this insurance also covers those risks which would be covered by the attached policy (including the Collision Clause) in the absence of the F. C. & S. Warranty contained therein but which are excluded by that warranty.

This insurance, insofar as it relates to war risks, is also subject to the following warranties and additional clauses:

The Adventures and Perils Clause shall be construed as including the risks of piracy, civil war, revolution, rebellion or insurrection, or civil strife arising therefrom, floating and/or stationary mines and/or torpedoes whether derelict or not, and/or military or naval aircraft and/or other engines of war including missiles from the land, and warlike operations and the enforcement of sanctions by members of the League of Nations, whether before or after declaration of war and whether by a belligerent or otherwise; but excluding arrest, restraint, or detainment under customs or quarantine regulations, and similar arrests, restraints, or detainments not arising from actual or impending hostilities or sanctions.

If the vessels be insured under marine policies which include the risks of pirates, claims arising from piracy shall nevertheless be paid under this policy and the underwriters hereof shall have no right to contribution from the underwriters of such marine policies it being understood that as between the two sets of policies losses due to piracy are payable under marine policies only to the extent that such losses are not collectible under the war risk policies.

The Franchise warranty in the attached policy is waived and average shall be payable irrespective of percentage and without deduction of new for old. The provisions of the attached policy with respect to constructive total loss shall apply only to claims arising from physical damage to the insured vessel.

Warranted free of any claim for delay or demurrage and warranted not to abandon in case of capture, seizure, or detention, until after condemnation of the property insured. Also warranted not to abandon in case of blockade and free from any claims for loss or expense in consequence of blockade or of any attempt to evade blockade; but in the event of blockade to be at liberty to proceed to an open port and there end the voyage.

Warranted free of any claim based upon loss of or frustration of the insured voyage or adventure caused by arrests, restraints, or detainments, of kings, princes or peoples.

Warranted free from any claim arising from capture, seizure, arrests, restraints, detainment, condemnation, preemption, or confiscation by the Government of the United States of America or any State or political subdivision thereof or any government which is or may become party signatory of the "United Nations Pact", promulgated on or about January 2, 1943.

This insurance also covers damage to or destruction of the property insured directly caused by strikers, locked out workmen, or persons taking part in labor disturbances or riots or civil commotions including damage caused by persons acting maliciously, but this paragraph shall not be construed to include or cover any loss, damage, or expense caused by or resulting from (a) civil war, revolution, rebellion, or insurrection, or civil strife arising therefrom, or (b) delay, detention, or loss of use.

clare and does declare the vessel a constructive total loss as between himself and the Assured, the Assurer shall not be liable for unrepaired damage.

B. The following condition shall be effective only with respect to vessels to which Insurance Plan II of the Charter Party applies, but with respect to such vessels it shall be paramount and shall override any other provision of this policy which may be in conflict therewith.

1. During the time that Insurance Plan II of the Charter Party is effective, this insurance covers only those risks which would be covered by this policy (including the Collision Clause) in the absence of the F. C. & S. Warranty contained herein but which are excluded by that warranty (such insurance being subject to the warranties and additional clauses contained in the War Risk Clauses).

C. The following condition shall be effective only with respect to vessels to which insurance plan I of the charter party applies but with respect to such vessels it shall be paramount and shall override any other provision of this policy which may be in conflict therewith.

1. This policy shall respond to claims for partial losses covered hereby and repaired by the Owner with the approval of the War Shipping Administration (subject to the franchise warranty) even though the cost of such repairs may exceed the sum insured hereby.

D. Said Vessel, for so much as concerns the Assured, by agreement between the Assured and Underwriters in this policy, is and shall be valued at the amount in accordance with the provisions of the Charter Party, referred to above, or, if no such amount is set forth in said Charter Party, in the amount of just compensation arrived at pursuant to the provisions of said Charter Party.

Unless deleted or superseded by the Underwriters the following warranty shall be paramount, and shall supersede and nullify any contrary provision of the policy:

F. C. & S. CLAUSE

(1) Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained in the Policy, this insurance is warranted free from any claim for loss, damage, or expense caused by or resulting from capture, seizure, arrest, restraint, or detainment, or the consequences thereof or of any attempt thereat, or any taking of the vessel, by requisition or otherwise, whether in time of peace or war and whether lawful or otherwise; also from all consequences of hostilities or warlike operations (whether there be a declaration of war or not), piracy, civil war, revolution, rebellion, or insurrection, or civil strife arising therefrom.

(2) For the purpose of this warranty the term "consequences of hostilities or warlike operations" shall be deemed to include the following:

(a) Collision caused by failure, in compliance with wartime regulations, of the insured vessel or any vessel with which she is in collision to show the usual full peacetime navigation or anchorage lights.

(b) Stranding caused by the absence of lights, buoys, or similar peacetime aids to navigation consequent upon wartime regulations.

(c) Stranding caused by the failure of the insured vessel to employ a pilot in waters where a pilot would ordinarily be employed in peacetime but in which the employment of a pilot is dispensed with in compliance with military, naval or other Governmental orders, or with a view to avoiding imminent enemy attack.

For the purposes of this Paragraph (2) any such failure to show lights, or absence of lights, buoys, or similar peacetime aids to navigation, or failure to employ a pilot, shall be presumed to be the cause of the collision or stranding unless the contrary be proved, and stranding shall include sinking consequent upon stranding or contact with any part of the land.

(d) Collision with another vessel in the same convoy or collision with any military or naval vessel, that is to say, a vessel manned by and under the control of military or naval personnel and designed to be employed primarily in armed combat service.

(e) Stranding, collision or contact with any external substances other than water (ice included) as a result of deliberately placing the vessel in jeopardy in compliance with military, naval or other Governmental orders in order to avoid imminent enemy attack, or as an act or measure of war taken in actual process of embarking or disembarking troops or material of war.

(3) The fact that the insured vessel or any vessel with which she is in collision is carrying troops or military or other supplies, or is proceeding to or from a war base, or is manned or operated by military or naval personnel, shall not alone be sufficient to exclude from this policy any claim which is not excluded under the terms of Paragraph (2) above.

(4) Where by reason of any of the foregoing provisions damage sustained by the insured vessel in collision would not be payable under this policy, it is understood and agreed that liability of the assured for damage caused in such collision shall not be covered by the Collision Clause in the Policy.

(5) It is agreed for the purposes of subdivision (2) (d) above all vessels manned and operated by the Department of the Navy of the United States of America shall be treated as though designed to be employed primarily in armed combat service.

This Policy is made and accepted subject to the foregoing stipulations and conditions and to the printed conditions on the following pages which are specially referred to and made part of this policy, it being understood and agreed in the case of any conflict or inconsistency the foregoing shall prevail over those which follow.

In no case shall the insurance herein provided for cover loss or damage incurred prior to the attachment of this insurance.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the War Shipping Administration has caused this Policy to be signed by the Administrator, but it shall not be valid unless countersigned by or on behalf of the Director of Wartime Insurance.

Administrator.

Countersigned at Washington, D. C. this ------ day of ----------, 19-----.

Beginning the adventure upon the said Vessel, as above, and so shall continue and endure during the period aforesaid, as employment may offer, in port and at sea, in docks and graving docks, and on ways, gridirons and pontoons, at all times, in all places, and on all occasions, services, and trades whatsoever and wheresoever, under steam, motor power, or sail; with leave to sail or navigate with or without pilots, to go on trial trips and to assist and tow vessels or craft in distress, but if without the approval of Assurers the Vessel be towed, except as is customary or when in need of assistance, or undertakes towage or salvage services under a prearranged contract made by Owners and/or Charterers, the Assured shall pay an additional premium if required by the Assurers, but no such premium shall be required for customary towage by the Vessel in connection with loading and discharging. With liberty to discharge, exchange and take on board goods, specie, passengers, and stores, wherever the Vessel may call at or proceed to, and with liberty to carry goods, live cattle, etc., on deck or otherwise. Including all risks of docking, undocking, changing docks, or moving in harbor and going on or off gridiron or graving dock as often as may be done during the currency of this Policy.

In the event of accident whereby loss or damage may result in a claim under this Policy, notice shall be given in writing to the Assurers, where practicable, prior to survey, so that they may appoint their own surveyor if they so desire. All repairs shall be subject to the approval of the Assurer as to the extent, time and place of repairs and without limiting the foregoing the Assurers shall be entitled to decide the port to which a damaged Vessel shall proceed for docking or repairing (the actual additional expense of the voyage arising from compliance with Assurers' requirements being refunded to the Assured) and Assurers shall also have a right of veto in connection with the place of repair or repairing firm proposed and whenever the extent of the damage is ascertainable the majority (in amount) of the Assurers may take or may require to be taken tenders for the repair of such damage.

Touching the Adventures and Perils which the Assurers are content to bear and take upon themselves, they are of the Seas, Men-of-War, Fire, Enemies, Pirates, Rovers, Thieves, Jettisons, Letters of Mart and Counter-Mart, Surprisals, Takings at Sea, Arrests, Restraints, and Detainments of all Kings, Princes, and Peoples, of what nation, condition, of quality soever, Barratry of the Master and Mariners and of all other like Perils, Losses, and Misfortunes that have or shall come to the Hurt, Detriment, or Damage of the said Ship, etc., or any part thereof; excepting however, such of the foregoing perils as may be excluded by provisions elsewhere in the policy or by endorsement. And in case of any Loss or Misfortune, it shall be lawful for the Assured, their Factors, Servants, and Assigns, to sue, labor, and travel for, in, and about the Defense, safeguard, and Recovery of the said Vessel, etc., or any part thereof, without prejudice to this insurance, to the Charges whereof the Assurers will contribute their proportion as provided below. And it is expressly declared and agreed that no acts of the Assurers or Assured in recovering, saving, or preserving the property insured shall be considered as a waiver or acceptance of abandonment.

This insurance also specially to cover (subject to the Average Warranty) loss of or damage to hull or machinery directly caused by the following: Accidents in loading, discharging or handling cargo, or in bunkering or in taking in fuel; Explosions on Shipboard or elsewhere; Bursting of boilers, breakage of shafts or any latent defect in the machinery or hull (excluding, however, the cost and expense of repairing or renewing the defective part); Contact with Aircraft; Negligence of Master, Charterers, Mariners, Engineers, or Pilots; Provided such loss or damage has not resulted from want of due diligence by the Owners of the Vessel, or any of them, or by the Managers, Masters, Mates, Engineers, Pilots, or Crew not to be considered as part owners within the meaning of this clause should they hold shares in the vessel.

And it is further agreed that in the event of salvage, towage or other assistance being rendered to the Vessel hereby insured by any vessel belonging in part or in whole to the same Owners or Charterers, the value of such services (without regard to the common ownership or control of the Vessels) shall be ascertained by arbitration in the manner below provided for under the Collision Clause, and the amount so awarded so far as applicable to the interest hereby insured shall constitute a charge under this Policy.

General Average, Salvage, and Special Charges payable as provided in the contract of affreightment, or failing such provision, or there be no contract of affreightment, payable in accordance with the law and Usages of the Port of New York: Provided always, That when an adjustment according to the

Where, as a result of a risk or peril hereby insured against, damage sustained by the insured vessel in collision would be payable under the provisions of this policy, liability of the Assured for damage caused by such collision shall be deemed to be covered hereunder subject to the terms and provisions of the Collision Clause of this policy.

SCHEDULE A—INSURANCE INDEMNITY AND WAIVER PROGRAM

I. INSURANCE

(A) Unless otherwise mutually arranged at all times during the currency of this Charter the Charterer shall provide and pay for or assume as insurer:

(1) Insurance on the Vessel on the terms stated either in Plan I or Plan II below.

PLAN I: In the event the Owner has elected valuation Option I (just compensation):

Insurance on the Vessel under the terms and conditions of the full form of policy of War Shipping Administration (designated as Warshipreq, a copy of which is attached hereto) covering both marine and war risks. In the event of total or constructive total loss of the Vessel due to the operation of a risk insured against by said policy, the Charterer, as insurer, shall pay to the person entitled thereto just compensation for such loss to the extent that the person entitled thereto is not otherwise reimbursed through policies of insurance. The amount of just compensation shall be determined by the Administrator as soon as practicable after the loss, and if the amount of just compensation so determined is unsatisfactory to the person entitled thereto, the Charterer shall pay to such person 75 per centum of the amount so determined, and such person shall be entitled to sue the United States to recover such further sum, as added to said 75 percentum, will make up such amount as will be just compensation for the Vessel; or the Owner may sue the Charterer, as insurer, under the policy for an amount equivalent to that which the Owner would be entitled to as just compensation under the laws and Constitution of the United States for the loss of the Vessel, in excess of 75 per centum of the amount determined by the Charterer to be just compensation, as hereinbefore provided, which 75 per centum, forthwith on the commencement of such suit, shall be paid the Owner by the Charterer on account of liability under said policy. The Charterer shall not, however, by reason of the operation of this Clause, be liable for any damage incurred prior to the attachment of this insurance.

PLAN II: In the event the Owner has elected valuation Option II (agreed value):

Insurance on the Vessel under the terms and conditions of the full form of standard hull war risk policy of the War Shipping Administration, (designated as Warshipreq, a copy of which is attached hereto) in the amount of the agreed value under this Charter, but subject to the limitations of that policy relating to this Plan II, and covering only war risks (including malicious damage, sabotage, strikes, riots, and civil commotion.) It is specially agreed, however:

(a) That the Owner, at its own expense, except as provided in subparagraph (b) below will insure the Vessel with the American Marine Hull Insurance Syndicate in an amount to be determined by the Owner, and under the conditions of American Hull Form Revised (Requisitioned Vessels 1943) which insurance shall include the interest of War Shipping Administration as Charterer.

(b) That the Charterer will reimburse the Owner for premiums paid on insurance taken out by the Owner with the American Marine Hull Insurance Syndicate pursuant to subparagraph (a) above: Provided, however, such reimbursement shall not exceed the amount of premiums payable on the value set forth in the Charter on the attachment of said insurance and at the time any further annual premium is due and payable. In consideration of such reimbursement, any recapture of profits from said Syndicate shall accrue to the sole benefit of the Charterer, and any return of premiums under the insurance procured by the Owner shall, to the extent that they represent premiums originally reimbursed by the Charterer, be repayable to the Charterer.

(c) That the Owner (at its option and expense) may procure excess insurance, including liability insurance (without benefit of salvage, subrogation or right of contribution) above the limits of the insurance so procured, but such insurance shall not be on terms inconsistent with the provisions of this Charter or with the provisions of the insurance provided for above.

(d) That the insurance procured by the Owner pursuant to subparagraph (a) hereof as well as any additional insurance procured by the Owner pursuant to subparagraph (c) hereof, and any amount of self-insurance carried by the Owner in excess of the limits of the insurance procured pursuant to subparagraph (a) hereof, shall be subject to the provisions of Clause II of this Schedule A. In consideration of the foregoing, the Charterer hereby insures the Owner against any claim by the United States for damage to property or vessels of the United States or for loss of freight, demurrage or other claims covered by the collision clause in the American Hull Form Revised (Requisitioned Vessels 1943) policy, arising out of collision with the Vessel.

(e) That in the event of cancellation or termination of the insurance referred to in subparagraph (a) above (except for non-payment of premium), or upon thirty (30) days written notice from Charterer to the Owner, the Vessel shall thereafter be insured for marine risks by the Charterer under the terms and conditions of the full form of standard hull policy of the War Shipping Administration (designated as Warshipreq) for the amount set forth in valuation Option II.

(f) The Charterer hereby insures the Owner for payments of (a) sue and labor charges, (b) general average and salvage, and (c) collision liabilities, not recoverable under the insurance on the vessel taken out by the Owner with the American Marine Hull Insurance Syndicate pursuant to sub-paragraph (a) above solely by reason of the insured valuation of said policies being insufficient to provide complete indemnity to the vessel Owner in respect of the liabilities specifically referred to in this sub-paragraph (f), and not recoverable under insurance arranged pursuant to sub-paragraph (c) above. Provided, however, That the liability of the Charterer under this subparagraph (f), in respect of any one such class of liabilities, shall be limited for any one collision, casualty or occurrence to the amount, if any, by which the market value of the Vessel in sound condition at the date of such collision, casualty or occurrence, plus the Vessel's then pending freight, exceeds the insured value of the Vessel for total loss purposes under the insurance taken out by the Owner pursuant to subparagraph (a) above; it being understood that the amount of the Charterer's liability hereunder, if any, shall be applicable separately to each of the foregoing three classes of liabilities, with the full amount open for each.

(g) Without limiting the liability of the Charterer as insurer under this Charter, all repairs to the Vessel coming within the terms of the insurance assumed by the Charterer or procured by the Owner pursuant to this Schedule A shall be subject to the approval of the Charterer as to the extent, time and place of repairs. All repairs shall be carried out under the supervision of the Owner.

(h) In the event the Vessel is covered by a mortgage or lien held by any department or instrumentality of the United States, then any sum or sums payable by virtue of the provisions of this Clause I of Schedule A shall be payable for distribution to such department or instrumentality and/or the persons entitled thereto as their interests may appear.

(2) All insurance which the Owner may be obligated to provide, covering the crew with respect to loss of life, disability (including dismemberment and loss of function), detention, repatriation and similar situations, and loss of or damage to personal effects. Unless otherwise directed by the Charterer, the Owner shall agree with the crew to provide the war risk insurance covering such items afforded by the Decisions of the Maritime War Emergency Board (as amended or modified from time to time) and the marine risk insurance covering such items afforded by the Second Seamen's War Risk Policy (published in the FEDERAL REGISTER of March 20, 1943, as Decision 1A of the Maritime War Emergency Board), as amended from time to time, and such Decisions and Policy shall be the measure and limit of the Charterer's liability under this Clause. The Owner shall give effect to the foregoing by inserting the following language, or such other language as the Charterer may from time to time direct, in the form of a rider or otherwise, in the Ship's Articles or other contract of employment on all voyages of the Vessel under this Charter:

"It is agreed that the Master, Officers, and Members of the Crew shall be furnished the war risk insurance protection covering loss of life, disability (including dismemberment and loss of function), detention, repatriation and similar situations and loss of or damage to personal effects, required by the Decisions of the Maritime War Emergency Board, as amended or modified from time to time, and the marine risk insurance afforded by the Second Seamen's War Risk Policy, as amended from time to time."

(3) War risk protection and indemnity insurance under the terms and conditions of the standard War Risk Protection and Indemnity policy prescribed by the War Shipping Administration, a copy of which is attached hereto, for the benefit of the Owner and the Charterer, as their interests may appear.

It is specially agreed, however,

(a) That the Owner, unless otherwise agreed, shall procure marine protection and indemnity insurance under the terms and conditions of the Wartimepandi Policy (Requisitioned Vessels 1943) from an American Protection and Indemnity Underwriter approved by the Charterer which issues said form of policy, which insurance shall include the interests of the Charterer and its Time Charter Agents under Service Agreements, Berth Agents and Sub-Agents acting on their behalf. The Charterer shall reimburse the Owner for all premiums paid on such insurance in consideration of which any readjustment of premiums and any return premium shall be for account of the Charterer.

(b) That to the extent that cargo claims are recoverable under said insurance or are reimbursable to the Owner under the terms of this Charter, the Charterer, and its duly authorized Agents are authorized by the Owner to attend to the adjustment and settlement of or otherwise dispose of cargo claims in such manner (not inconsistent with the terms of said Protection and Indemnity Insurance) as may be determined by the Charterer.

(c) That in the event of cancellation (except for non-payment of premium) of the insurance referred to in subparagraph (a) above by the Protection and Indemnity Underwriters, or upon thirty days' written notice from the Charterer to the Owner of its intention to terminate such insurance, the Charterer will then provide and pay for or assume as insurer, identical marine protection and indemnity insurance for the benefit of the Owner and the Charterer and the Charterer's Agents as their interests may appear.

(d) That the Charterer assumes as insurer any liability of the Owner or the Charterer on account of loss, damage or expense in respect of lend lease cargo or cargo owned by the United States or any agency or department thereof, including but not limited to the War Department, Navy Department, Metal Reserves Company, Rubber Reserves Company, Defense Supplies Corporation, Reconstruction Finance Corporation or Foreign Economic Administration, which would be recoverable under the Wartimepandi Policy (Requisitioned Vessels 1943) in the absence of the specific exclusion relating thereto, therein.

(e) That the Charterer hereby insures the Owner for excess protection and indemnity liabilities on said Vessel on terms and conditions identical to that provided by Wartimepandi Policy (Requisitioned Vessels 1943) to the extent that said Wartimepandi Policy (by reason of the insured amounts in said policy) does not provide the Owner with complete protection and indemnity. Provided, however, That the liability of the Charterer under this subparagraph (e) in respect of any one accident or occurrence shall be limited to the amount, if any, by which the market value of the vessel in sound condition at the date of such accident or occurrence plus the vessel's then pending freight exceeds the insured amounts in said Wartimepandi Policy.

(f) That the Owner (at its option and expense), may procure additional insurance in excess of the limits of the insurance procured or provided pursuant to subparagraphs (a) and (e) hereof, but such insurance shall not be on terms inconsistent with the provisions of this Charter.

(g) That the Charterer shall reimburse the Owner for all claims paid by the Owner and not recoverable pursuant to the provisions of the standard War Risk Protection and Indemnity Policy, and Wartimepandi Policy (Requisitioned Vessels 1943) referred to above, solely by reason of deductible average, franchise or other similar deductions appearing in such policies.

(h) That the Charterer hereby insures the Owner for marine and war risk insurance against all carrier's liabilities with respect to cargo to be carried, carried, or which has been carried on board the Vessel directly incurred in consequence of the operation of the Vessel and not covered by the standard protection and indemnity insurance provided or procured pursuant to this paragraph (3), including, but not limited to, liability for deviation or overcarriage, liability for drydocking with cargo on board the Vessel, liability under ad valorem Bills of Lading, and liability for carrying on deck, cargo covered by under deck Bills of Lading.

(4) Marine and war risk insurance covering the Owner's actual loss (or in the case of slop chests, the actual loss of the owner thereof) as determined by the Charterer, for (i) slop chests, (ii) cash carried on board the Vessel but not in excess of $5000 unless otherwise agreed, and (iii) consumable stores. "Consumable Stores" within the meaning of this paragraph (4) shall mean all consumable and subsistence stores (but not radio supplies, spares, expendable equipment, scrap and junk) listed in United States Maritime Commission Voyage Stores Reports, Forms 7915A, 7916A, 7918A and 7919A (Revised Forms 1939).

(B) (a) If the Charterer elects to insure with commercial underwriters any of the risks assumed or insured against by it pursuant to this Schedule A, the Owner agrees, if so instructed by the Charterer, to file with such underwriters, on behalf of the Charterer, reports, declarations, claims and the customary insurance documents, it being understood that except to the extent of any payment to the Owner by the underwriters such action on the part of the Owner shall in no way affect the Charterer's direct liability to the Owner with respect to risks assumed or insured against by the Charterer under this Charter.

(b) As soon as practicable after attachment of this insurance, the Owner shall furnish to the Charterer a statement of all unrepaired damage known to the Owner existing at the time of attachment of this insurance, together with a report of all casualties known to the Owner which may have given rise to damage subsequent to the last drydocking in a U. S. Continental Port. Upon the request of the Charterer, the Owner shall also furnish to the Charterer copies of, or at Charterer's option permit it to inspect, all deck and engine room logs, if available, and all surveys made at or subsequent to the last drydocking of the Vessel in a U. S. Continental Port.

(c) In no case shall the insurance herein provided for cover loss or damage incurred prior to the attachment of this insurance.

(d) Insurance heretofore provided by the Charterer under this Charter shall terminate upon the attachment of this insurance: Provided, however, That claims for unrepaired damage under said prior insurance shall not be due and payable until the repairs are effected or if not so effected, until the termination of this insurance, but in no case shall the Charterer, as Charterer or insurer, be liable for such unrepaired damage in addition to a subsequent total or constructive total loss under this insurance or Charter.

(e) General average adjusters shall be appointed by the Owner, from a list of adjusters satisfactory to the Charterer, and shall attend to the settlement and collection of the general average, subject to customary charges. If the Vessel should put into a port of distress or be under average, she is to be consigned to the Charterer's agents who shall be entitled to receive the usual charges and commissions.

II. WAIVERS

(a) The Owner shall and does hereby waive all claims for general average, salvage, collision or demurrage against any vessel (1) owned by the United States, or (2) under charter to the United States on terms which would make the United States liable as Charterer, insurer, or otherwise for such claims or (3) under charter to the United States and insured under the terms of the American Hull Form Revised (Requisitioned Vessels 1943).

(b) The Owner shall and does hereby waive all claims for general average, salvage, collision or demurrage against any other vessel owned by or under charter to any Government, and against any cargo carried on any such vessel or on any vessel described in subparagraph (a) above, to the extent such waiver may be required by the Charterer in any specific case or cases in order to give effect to any agreement for mutual or reciprocal waiver of claims entered into by the United States on behalf of vessels owned by or under charter to it.

(c) The waivers provided in this Clause II of Schedule A shall be effective only as to claims relating to the Vessel and arising out of her use or operation under this Charter, and such waivers shall not relieve the Charterer of any liability it may have to the Owner under the terms of this Charter.

(d) The Owner shall and does hereby waive any claim against any ship repairer, based on negligence or otherwise, arising out of repair or custody of the Vessel during the period of this Charter, to the extent that such claim, if not waived, would ultimately be borne by the United States under contract or insurance arrangement between the United States and the repairer: Provided, however, That such waiver shall not preclude recovery by the Owner against the repairer for amounts less than the customary contractual limit of $300,000 on the repairer's liability, nor for any claim by the Owner for proper replacement of defective workmanship or material in connection with any repairs which are for the Owner's account under the terms of this Charter.

(e) The Owner shall and does hereby waive any claim for loss of or damage to the vessel against any stevedore to the extent that such claim, if not waived, would ultimately be borne by the United States under contract or insurance arrangement between the United States and the stevedore, except with respect to claims which the Owner cannot recover under the provisions of Clause I, (A), (1) (a) of this Schedule A, by reason of the franchise in the insurance provided pursuant to said Clause.

III. INDEMNITY AND INSURANCE

(a) The Charterer shall insure the Owner for and against any loss or damage suffered, or liabilities incurred, by the Owner for which claim is waived under the provisions of Clause II of this Schedule A (except claims for salvage in excess of actual costs in connection therewith), and which is not recovered by the Owner under any other provision of this Charter: Provided, however, That if a valuation of the Vessel has been agreed to this indemnity shall not entitle the Owner to recover for loss or damage to the Vessel in an aggregate sum in excess of the agreed valuation, or if no valuation of the Vessel has been agreed to, in excess of the amount of compensation payable in the event of loss of the Vessel; and Provided further, That this indemnity shall not entitle the Owner to recover for any period of detention or loss of use of the Vessel an aggregate sum in excess of the amount which would be payable to the Owner under the other terms of this Charter for such period.

(b) The Charterer shall reimburse, indemnify, and hold harmless the Owner, the Master and the Vessel for or from all consequences, losses and liabilities whatsoever directly resulting from compliance with or efforts to comply with any orders or directions of the Charterer, its agents, representatives or employees, or any other agency of the United States or of any allied government, or orders or directions given as provided in Clause 28 of this Charter, unless properly chargeable to the Owners under this Charter or Schedule, or recoverable under (or within the franchise of) any of the insurance procured pursuant to the terms of this Schedule A. The Owner shall, as far as may be practicable, keep the Charterer currently informed in writing as to any oral orders (involving substantial delay, expense or risk to the Vessel or her cargo) not promptly confirmed in writing by the person giving such orders.

(c) The Charterer hereby assumes and indemnifies the Owner for any loss or liability, if not covered by the terms and conditions of any of the insurances provided for in this Schedule A, arising out of performance of services under any towage or pilotage contract customarily in use in the trades in which the Charterer uses the Vessel or which is specially agreed to by the Owner upon request or instructions of the Charterer.

IV. CONSTRUCTIVE TOTAL LOSS DECLARATION BY CHARTERER

If the Charterer finds, in case of casualty or serious damage or injury to the Vessel during the period of this Charter, not constituting an actual or constructive total loss under the insurance provided in this Schedule A, that the continuation of the Charter is inadvisable because of the probable high cost of repairs or indefinite loss of use of the Vessel then the Charterer nonetheless shall have the option of declaring her a constructive total loss by so notifying the Owner in writing as soon as practicable after the occurrence causing such damage or injury. In the event of such a declaration by the Charterer, the Charterer as insurer, shall forthwith pay or cause to be paid to the Owner an amount to be determined in accordance with the valuation provisions of this Charter as though the Vessel were an actual total loss: Provided, however, If insurance Plan II is applicable and the Vessel is in fact a constructive total loss within the terms of the insurance provided by the Owner pursuant to Plan II of said Clause I of this Schedule A, no such payment shall be made by or on behalf of the Charterer, or if the Owner shall have elected to recover for the estimated cost of repairing the damage to the Vessel under the terms and conditions of American Hull Form Revised (Requisitioned Vessels 1943) the amount payable by the Charterer to the Owner shall be reduced by the amount payable under such insurance. If the Owner does not so elect or shall not have so elected within ninety (90) days of declaration of a constructive total loss by the Charterer then the Charterer shall be subrogated to all of the rights of the Owner under such insurance. Against any such payments received by the Owner from the Charterer or the Owner's assurer, as the case may be, the Owner will, if the Charterer elects to take title, give such releases and instruments granting the Vessel or the property of her remaining to the Charterer as the Charterer may require and that are not inconsistent with the terms and conditions of the American Hull Form Revised (Requisitioned Vessels 1943).

V. ATTACHMENT OF INSURANCE

This Schedule shall be effective simultaneously with the effective date of this Amended Charter (Addendum) to which it is affixed, and the insurance to be provided by the Charterer hereunder, shall attach as of Noon, (EWT) of such effective date.

If an Owner who has elected Valuation Option II thereafter elects Valuation Option I in accordance with the terms of the Amended Charter (Addendum), then the insurance provided by the Charterer under Insurance Plan II shall terminate as of the effective date and hour that Valuation Option I becomes effective and the insurance provided by the Charterer under Insurance Plan I shall attach simultaneously therewith.

Pending an election by the Owner of Valuation Option I or II, as the case may be, as provided in Clause D of Part I of this Amended Charter (Addendum), Insurance Plan I of this Schedule shall be effective unless and until the Owner shall thereafter, in accordance with the provisions of said Clause D, elect Valuation Option II and shall notify the Charterer of his election and of the placing of marine hull insurance with the Syndicate as provided in subparagraph (a) of Clause 1A of this schedule, in which event Insurance Plan II shall be effective retroactively to Noon (EWT) of the effective date of this Amended Charter (Addendum), notwithstanding that prior to the date of said election the Vessel or its Owner may have sustained loss, damage, or expense covered by the insurance provided by the Charterer under said Insurance Plan I.

In consideration of the stipulations herein agreed and the terms of the charter referred to above, does insure in accordance with applicable provisions of law_____ Hereinafter called the Assured, in respect to the vessel called _____, in the maximum amount of $175 per gross registered ton, if the insured vessel is a dry cargo or tank vessel completed prior to January 1, 1938; or in the maximum amount of $250 per gross registered ton if the vessel does not come within the foregoing description or if it is a fully refrigerated vessel or seatrain: Provided, however, That the maximum amount of insurance hereunder with respect to any one accident or occurrence shall be the sound market value of the insured vessel on the date of the accident or occurrence plus her then pending freight, if such sound market value plus pending freight shall exceed $175 per gross registered ton, or $250 per gross registered ton, whichever figure is applicable to the insured vessel at and from _____ to the day and hour of redelivery of the vessel under, or to the termination of, the charter referred to above, whichever shall first occur, subject to the terms and conditions hereinafter set forth against liabilities as hereinafter described, _____ Loss if any payable to _____.

WAR RISK ONLY CLAUSES

The following War Risk only Clauses (Clauses A, B and C) shall be deemed to over-ride P. & I. Clauses (Articles 1 to 25 inclusive) wherever they may be in conflict.

CLAUSE A. This insurance covers only those liabilities which would be covered by this Policy under Articles 1 to 25 inclusive in the absence of the F. C. & S. Clause (Article 25 (d)), but which are excluded by that Clause. The Assurer agrees to indemnify the Assured against loss, damage or expense as aforesaid which the Assured shall become liable to pay and shall pay by reason of the fact that the Assured is the owner, or charterer, or the general or time charter agent or agent or berth-agent or sub-agent of the owner or charterer (mortgagee, trustee, or receiver thereof as the case may be) of the insured vessel.

CLAUSE B. The Assurer shall also indemnify the Assured against losses arising as a result of the Assured's contractual liability, or against costs incurred by the Assured at the direction or in conformity with the wishes of the War Shipping Administration or any other Governmental agency, for repatriation of the crew to a United States port, as required, resulting from capture, seizure, arrest, restraint or detainment, or the consequences thereof or of any attempt thereat, or the consequences of hostilities or warlike operations, whether before or after declaration of war.

CLAUSE C. This Policy is warranted free from any claim arising from capture, seizure, arrests, restraints, detainment, condemnation, preemption, requisition or confiscation by the Government of the United States of America, or any state or political sub-division thereunder, or any Government which is, or may become a party signatory of the "United Nations Pact" promulgated on or about January 2nd, 1942.

"P. AND I. CLAUSES"

(1) Liability for life salvage, loss of life of, or personal injury to, or illness of, any person, not including, however, unless otherwise agreed by endorsement hereon, liability to an employee (other than a seaman) of the assured, or in case of his death to his beneficiaries, under any compensation act. Liability hereunder shall also include burial expenses not exceeding $200., where reasonably incurred by the assured for the burial of any seaman. The term Person as aforesaid shall include any person or Persons carried on the insured vessel.

(a) Insurance hereunder, shall cover the liability of the assured for claims under any compensation act (other than hereafter excepted) in respect of employees (i) who are members of the crew of the insured vessel, or (ii) who are placed on board the insured vessel with the intention of becoming a member of her crew, or (iii) who, in the event of the vessel being laid up and out of commission, or engaged in the upkeep, maintenance or watching of the insured vessel, or (iv) who are engaged by the insured vessel or its Master to perform stevedoring work in connection with the vessel's cargo at ports in Alaska and ports outside the Continental United States where contract stevedores are not readily available. This insurance, however, shall not be considered as a qualification under any Compensation Act, but, without diminishing in any way the liability of the Assurer under this policy, the Assured may have in effect policies covering such liabilities. All claims under such Compensation Acts for which the Assurer is liable under the terms of this policy are to be paid without regard to such other policies.

(b) Insurance hereunder shall not cover any liability under the provisions of the Act of Congress approved September 7th, 1916 and as amended, Public Act #267, Sixty Fourth Congress, known as the U. S. Employees Compensation Act.

(c) Insurance hereunder in connection with the handling of cargo for the insured vessel shall commence from the time of receipt by the Assured of the cargo on dock or wharf, or on craft alongside for loading, and shall continue until due delivery thereof from dock or wharf of discharge or until discharge from the insured vessel on to a craft alongside.

(d) Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained in Paragraph (20) liability hereunder shall be extended to cover claims of seamen under any Workmen's Compensation Act whether the liability of the Assured for such claims arises under contract or otherwise.

(2) Liability for expenses reasonably incurred in necessarily repatriating any member of the crew or any other person employed on board the insured vessel; provided, however, that the Assurer's liability for repatriation expenses shall be no greater than if the vessel were privately owned by an American Citizen or than if the employer were a private American Shipowner, and that the Assured shall not be entitled to recover any such expenses incurred by reason of the expiration of the shipping agreement, other than by sea perils, or by reason of the voluntary termination of the agreement. Wages shall be included in such expenses when payable under statutory obligation during unemployment due to the wreck or loss of the insured vessel.

(3) Liability for loss or damage arising from collision of the insured vessel with another ship or vessel insofar as such liability is excluded from the liabilities insured under the Four-fourths Collision Clause in the American Institute Hull Form of policy: "And it is further agreed that if the vessel hereby insured shall come into collision with any other ship or vessel and the Assured or the Charterers in consequence thereof or the Surety for either or both of them in consequence of their undertaking shall become liable to pay and shall pay by way of damages to any other person or persons any sum or sums in respect of such collision, we, the Underwriters, will pay the Assured or Charterers such proportion of such sum or sums so paid as our respective subscriptions hereto bear to the value of the vessel hereby insured, provided always that our liability in respect of any one such collision shall not exceed our proportionate part of the value of the vessel hereby insured. Any in cases where the liability of the vessel has been contested, or proceedings have been taken to limit liability, with the consent in writing of a majority (in amount) of the Underwriters on the hull and/or machinery, we will also pay a like proportion of the costs which the Assured or Charterers shall thereby incur, or be compelled to pay; but when both vessels are to blame, then, unless the liability of the Owners or Charterers of one or both of such vessels becomes limited by law, claims under the Collision Clause shall be settled on the principal of Cross-Liabilities as if the Owners or Charterers of each vessel had been compelled to pay to the Owners or Charterers of the other of such vessels such one-half or other proportion of the latter's damages as may have been properly allowed in ascertaining the balance or sum payable by or to the Assured or Charterers in consequence of such collision; and it is further agreed that the principles involved in this clause shall apply to the case where both vessels are the property, in part or in whole, of the same Owners or Charterers, all questions of responsibility and amount of liability as between the two vessels being left to the decision of a single Arbitrator, if the parties can agree upon a single Arbitrator, or failing such agreement, to the decision of arbitrators, one to be appointed by the Managing Owners or Charterers of both vessels, and one to be appointed by the majority (in amount) of Hull Underwriters interested; the two Arbitrators chosen to choose a third Arbitrator before entering upon the reference, and the decision of such single, or of any two of such three Arbitrators, appointed as above, to be final and binding. Provided always that this clause shall in no case extend to any sum which the Assured or Charterers may become liable to pay or shall pay for removal of obstructions under statutory powers, for injury to harbors, wharves, piers, stages and similar structures, consequent on such collision, or in respect of the cargo or engagement of the insured vessel, or for loss of life, or personal injury."

Provided, however, That insurance hereunder shall not extend to any liability, whether direct or indirect, in respect of the engagements of or the detention or loss of time of the insured vessel.

(a) Claims hereunder shall be settled on the principles of Cross-Liabilities to the same extent only as provided in the four-fourths Collision Clause above mentioned.

(b) Claims hereunder shall be separated among the several classes enumerated in this policy and each class shall be subject to the special conditions applicable in respect to such class.

(c) Notwithstanding the foregoing, the Assurer shall not be liable for any claims hereunder where the various liabilities resulting from such collision, or any of them, have been compromised, settled or adjusted without the written consent of the Assurer.

(4) Liability for loss of or damage to any other vessel or craft, or to property on board such other vessel or craft, caused otherwise than by collision.

(a) Where there would be a valid claim hereunder but for the fact that the damaged property belongs to the Assured, the Assurers shall be liable as if such damaged property belonged to another, but only for the excess over any amount recoverable under any other insurance applicable on the property.

(5) Liability for damage to any dock, pier, jetty, bridge, harbor, breakwater, structure, beacon, buoy, lighthouse, cable or to any fixed or movable object or property whatsoever, except another vessel or craft or property on another vessel or craft or on the insured vessel unless elsewhere covered herein.

(a) Where there would be a valid claim hereunder but for the fact that the damaged property belongs to the Assured, the Assurers shall be liable as if such damaged property belonged to another, but only for the excess over any amount recoverable under any other insurance applicable on the property.

(b) Insurance hereunder shall cover all liabilities for said damages that the insured vessel or her owners would have if she were privately owned by an American citizen and irrespective of the ownership of any property the vessel may damage: Provided, however, That the rights of the Assurer shall be the same as though the vessel were privately owned.

(6) Liability for costs or expenses of or incidental to the removal of the wreck of the insured vessel if legally liable therefor: Provided, however, That:

(a) From such costs and expenses shall be deducted the value of any salvage from or which might have been recovered from the wreck inuring, or which might have inured, to the benefit of the Assured;

(b) The Assurer shall not be liable for any costs or expenses which would be covered by full insurance under the American Institute Hull form of policy, 7/1/41 issued by the American Marine Hull Insurance Syndicate;

(c) The Assurer shall not be liable for any costs or expenses for which a private American vessel owner would not be legally liable, or for any costs or expenses from which a private American vessel owner could relieve himself by abandonment of the wreck to the United States Government or by other appropriate action.

(7) Liability for loss of or damage to or in connection with cargo or other property (except mail or parcels post), including baggage and personal effects of persons other than members of the crew, and not exceeding $100. per person, to be carried, carried or which has been carried on board the insured vessel: Provided, however, That no liability shall exist hereunder for:

(a) Loss, damage or expense incurred in connection with the custody, carriage or delivery of specie, bullion, precious metals, precious stones, jewelry, silks, furs, banknotes, bonds or other negotiable documents, or similar valuable property.

(b) Loss, damage or expense arising out of or in connection with the care, custody, carriage or delivery of cargo requiring refrigeration, unless the spaces, apparatus, and means used for the care, custody and carriage thereof have been surveyed by a classification or other competent disinterested surveyor under working conditions before the commencement of each round voyage and found in all respects fit, and unless the Assurer has approved in writing the form of contract under which such cargo is accepted for transportation;

(c) Loss, damage or expense arising from any deviation or proposed deviation, not authorized by the contract of affreightment, known to the Assured in time to insure specifically the liability therefore, unless notice thereof is given to the Assurer and the Assurer agrees, in writing, that such insurance is unnecessary. Knowledge of the United States Governmental Departments or Agencies, other than the War Shipping Administration, its General or Time Charter Agents or Berth Agents in the continental United States, shall not be considered as knowledge of the Assured in respect to deviation or proposed deviation; furthermore, the Assured shall not be prejudiced in respect to insurance hereunder in event of delay in reporting any deviation to the Assurer due to laws or governmental regulations or practices due to military reasons.

(d) Loss, damage or expense arising with respect to under deck cargo stowed on deck or with respect to cargo stowed in spaces not suitable for its carriage, unless the Assured shall show that every reasonable precaution has been taken by him to prevent such improper stowage;

(e) Loss, damage, or expense arising out of or as a result of the issuance of bills of lading which, to the knowledge of the Assured, improperly described the goods or their containers as to condition or quantity;

(f) Loss, damage or expense arising from issuance of clean bills of lading for goods known to be missing, unsound or damaged;

(g) Loss, damage or expense arising from the intentional issuance of bills of lading prior to receipt of the goods described therein, or covering goods not received at all;

(h) Loss, damage or expense arising from delivery of cargo without surrender of order bills of lading;

(i) Freight on cargo short-delivered, whether or not prepaid or whether or not included in the claim and paid by the Assured: And provided further, That:

(j) Liability hereunder shall in no event exceed that which would be imposed by law in the absence of contract;

(k) Liability hereunder shall be limited to such as would exist if the charter party, bill of lading, or contract of affreightment contained (i) a negligence general average clause in the form hereinafter specified under paragraph (12); (ii) a clause providing that any provision of the charter party, bill of lading, or contract of affreightment to the contrary notwithstanding, the Assured and the insured vessel shall have the benefit of all limitations of and exemptions from liability accorded to the owner or chartered owner of vessels by any statute or rule of law for the time being in force; (iii) such clauses, if any, as are required by law to be stated therein; (iv) and such other protective clauses as are generally in use in the particular trade;

(l) When cargo carried by the insured vessel is under a bill of lading or similar document of title subject or made subject to the Carriage of Goods by Sea Act of the United States or a law of any other country of similar import, liability hereunder shall be limited to such as is imposed by said Act or law, and if the Assured or the insured vessel assumes any greater liability or obligation, either in respect of the valuation of the cargo or in any other respect, then the minimum liabilities and obligations imposed by said Act or law, such greater liability or obligation shall not be covered hereunder;

(m) When cargo carried by the insured vessel is under a charter party, bill of lading, or contract of affreightment not subject or made subject to the Carriage of Goods by Sea Act of the United States or a law of any other country of similar import, liability hereunder shall be limited to such as would exist if said charter party, bill of lading, or contract of affreightment contained a clause exempting the Assured and the insured vessel from liability for losses arising from unseaworthiness provided that due diligence shall have been exercised to make the vessel seaworthy and properly manned, equipped and supplied, and a clause limiting the Assured's liability for total loss or damage to goods shipped to $500. per package, or in case of goods not shipped in packages, per customary freight unit, and providing for pro rata adjustment on such basis for partial loss or damage. The provisions of clauses (k), (l) and (m) herein may, however, be waived or altered by the Assurer on terms agreed, in writing.

(n) In the event cargo is carried under an arrangement not reduced to writing, such cargo shall be deemed to be carried under a charter party, bill of lading, or contract of affreightment incorporating the terms and conditions of the War Shipping Administration uniform bill of lading in the present form as published in Vol. 7, No. 134, p. 5246–5251 of the FEDERAL REGISTER or as modified by the War Shipping Administration;

(o) Where cargo on board the insured vessel is the property of the Assured, such cargo shall be deemed to be carried under a contract containing the protective clauses described in clauses (k), (l) and (m) herein; and such cargo shall be deemed to be fully insured under the usual form of cargo policy, and in case of loss of or damage to such cargo the Assured shall be insured hereunder in respect of such loss or damage only to the extent that he would have been if the cargo had belonged to another, but only in the event and to the extent that the loss or damage would not be recoverable from marine insurers under a cargo policy as above specified;

(p) No liability shall exist hereunder for any loss, damage or expense in respect of cargo being transported on land or on another vessel;

(q) No liability shall exist hereunder for any loss, damage or expense in respect of cargo before loading on or after discharge from the insured vessel caused by flood, tide, windstorm, earthquake, fire, explosion, heat, cold, deterioration, collapse of wharf, leaky shed, theft or pilferage unless such loss, damage or expense is caused directly by the insured vessel, her master, officers or crew;

(8) Liability for fines and penalties for the violation of any laws of the United States, or of any state thereof, or of any foreign country, Provided, however, That the Assurer shall not be liable to indemnify the Assured against any such fines or penalties resulting directly or indirectly from the failure, neglect or fault of the Assured or its managing officers to exercise the highest degree of diligence to prevent a violation of any such laws.

(9) Liability for expenses incurred in resisting any unfounded claim by the master or crew or other persons employed on board the insured vessel, or in prosecuting such person or persons in case of mutiny or other misconduct; not including, however, costs which would not reasonably be incurred by a private American vessel owner under similar circumstances, nor costs of successfully defending claims elsewhere protected in this policy.

(10) Liability for extraordinary expenses, incurred in consequence of the outbreak of plague or other disease on the insured vessel, for disinfection of the vessel or of persons on board, or for quarantine expenses, not being the ordinary expenses of loading or discharging, nor the wages or provisions of crew or passengers; Provided, however, That no liability shall exist hereunder if the vessel be ordered to proceed to a port where it is known that she will be subjected to quarantine;

(11) Liability for port charges incurred solely for the purpose of putting in to land an injured or sick seaman, and the net loss to the Assured in respect of bunkers, insurance stores and provisions as the result of the deviation.

(12) Liability for Cargo's proportion of General Average, including special charges, so far as the Assured cannot recover the same from any other source; Provided, however That if the charter party, bill of lading or contract of affreightment does not contain the negligence general average clause quoted below, the Assurer's liability hereunder shall be limited to such as would exist if such clause were contained therein, viz:

"In the event of accident, danger, damage or disaster, before or after commencement of the voyage resulting from any cause whatsoever, whether due to negligence or not, for which, or for the consequence of which, the Carrier is not responsible, by statute, contract, or otherwise, the goods, the shipper and the consignee, jointly and severally, shall contribute with the Carrier in general average to the payment of any sacrifices, losses, or expenses of a general average nature that may be made or incurred, and shall pay salvage and special charges incurred in respect of the goods. If a salving ship is owned or operated by the Carrier, salvage shall be paid for as fully and in the same manner as if such salving ship or ships belonged to strangers."

(13) Liability for costs, charges and expenses reasonably incurred and paid by the Assured in connection with any liability insured under this policy, Provided That the Assured shall not be entitled to indemnity for the cost or expense of prosecuting or defending any claim or suit unless the same shall have been incurred with the approval in writing of the Assurer, or the Assurer shall be satisfied that such approval could not have been obtained under the circumstances without unreasonable delay, or that the expenses were reasonably and properly incurred. The cost and expense of prosecuting any claim in which the Assurer shall have an interest by subrogation or otherwise, shall be divided between the Assured and the Assurer, in proportion to the amounts which they would have been entitled to receive respectively, if the suit should be successful.

(14) If the master of the insured vessel shall be sued by reason of any event which imposes on the Assured a liability against which the Assured is indemnified under this policy, the Assurer will pay the costs and expenses of the defense of such suit subject to the provisions of paragraph (13), and will indemnify the master of such vessel to the same extent as though he were an assured under this policy; Provided, however, That the Assurer shall not be liable to indemnify the master in excess of the amount (a) for which the owner of said vessel would have been liable, or to which such owner could have limited liability, if such owner has been sued instead of the master, or (b) for which the Assurer would be liable under this policy had the suit been brought against the owner of the vessel.

(15) Expenses which the Assured may incur under authorization of the Assurer in the interest of the Assurer.

GENERAL CONDITIONS AND LIMITATIONS

(16) In the event of any happening which may result in loss, damage or expense for which the Assurer may become liable, prompt notice thereof, on being known to the Assured, shall be given by the Assured to the Assurer, but failure to give such prompt notice because of wartime emergency conditions shall not prejudice this insurance.

The Assurer shall not be liable for any claim not presented to the Assurer with proper proofs of loss within twelve (12) months after payment by the Assured.

(17) In no event shall suit on any claim be maintainable against the Assurer unless commenced within eighteen (18) months after the loss, damage or expenses resulting from liabilities, risks, events, occurrences and expenditures specified under this policy shall have been paid by the Assured.

(18) The Assured shall not make any admission of liability, either before or after any occurrence which may result in a claim for which the Assurer may be liable. The Assured shall not interfere in any negotiations of the Assurer for settlement of any legal proceedings in respect of any occurrences for which the Assurer is liable under this policy; Provided, however, That in respect of any occurrence likely to give rise to a claim under this Policy, the Assured is obligated to and shall take such steps to protect his and the Assurer's interests as would reasonably be taken in the absence of this or similar insurance. If the Assured shall fail or refuse to settle any claim as authorized by Assurer, the liability of the Assurer to the Assured shall be limited to the amount for which settlement could have been made.

(19) Whenever required by the Assurer, the Assured shall aid in securing information and evidence, subject to any governmental limitations as to the confidential character of such information or evidence, and in obtaining witnesses and shall cooperate with the Assurer in the defense of any claim or suit or in the appeal from any judgment, in respect of any occurrence as hereinbefore provided.

(20) Unless otherwise agreed by endorsement hereon, the Assurer's liability shall in no event exceed that which would be imposed on the Assured by law in the absence of contract: Provided, however, That the acceptance by the Assured of towage contract or agreement limiting the liability of towboats or their owners shall not affect the Assured's right of indemnity from the Assurer for any liability, loss, damage or expense covered under this policy.

(21) No claim or demand against the Assurer shall be assigned or transferred, and no person, other than a receiver of the property or the estate of the Assured, shall acquire any right against the Assurer without the express consent of the Assurer: Provided, however, That this shall not affect the rights of any assignee under an assignment made by virtue of any governmental order or decree, in which event such assignee shall have and possess all of the rights of its predecessor in assignment.

(22) The Assurer shall be subrogated to all the rights which the Assured may have against any other person or entity, in respect of any payment made under this policy, to the extent of such payment, and the Assured shall, upon the request of the Assurer, execute all documents necessary to secure to the Assurer such rights.

(23) The Assurer shall not be liable for any loss or damage against which, but for the insurance hereunder, the Assured is or would be insured under existing insurance excepting as provided in Paragraph (1) (a) hereof.

(24) If and when the Assured under this policy has any interest other than as an owner or bare boat charterer of the insured vessel, in no event shall the Assurer be liable hereunder to any greater extent than if such Assured were the owner or bareboat charterer and were entitled to all the rights of limitation to which a shipowner is entitled.

(25) Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained in this policy, the Assurer shall not be liable for any loss, damage, or expense sustained, directly or indirectly, by reason of:

(a) Loss, damage or expense to hull, machinery, equipment or fittings of the insured vessel, including refrigerating apparatus and wireless equipment, whether or not owned by the Assured;

(b) Cancelment or breach of any charter or contract, detention of the vessel, bad debts, insolvency, fraud of agents, loss of freight, passage money, hire, demurrage, or any other loss of revenue;

(c) Any loss, damage, sacrifice, or expense which would be payable under the terms of the American Institute Hull form of policy, 7/1/44 issued by the American Marine Hull Insurance Syndicate on hull, machinery, etc., whether or not the insured vessel is fully covered by insurance sufficient in amount to pay such loss, damage, sacrifice or expense.

(d) Capture, seizure, arrest, restraint or detainment, or the consequences thereof, or of any attempt thereat, or the consequences of hostilities or war-like operations, whether before or after the declaration of war;

(e) The insured vessel towing any other vessel or craft, unless such towage was to assist such other vessel or craft in distress to a port or place of safety; Provided, however, That this exception shall not apply to claims covered under paragraph (1) of this policy.

(f) For any claim for loss of life, personal injury or illness in relation to the handling of cargo where such claim arises under a contract of indemnity between the Assured and his sub-contractor.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the War Shipping Administration has caused this policy to be signed by the Administrator, but it shall not be valid unless countersigned by or on behalf of the Director of Wartime Insurance.

PART 302—CONTRACTS WITH VESSEL OWNERS AND RATES OF COMPENSATION RELATING THERETO

[G. O. 13, Supp. 1]

REQUISITION BAREBOAT CHARTER FOR DRY CARGO AND TANK VESSELS

Sections 302.61 and 302.62 (General Order 13) are merged into one section, § 302.61, and revised to read:

§ 302.61 Requisition bareboat charter for dry cargo and tank vessels "Warshipdemise (Rev.)". The Adminstrator, War Shipping Administration, adopts the following standard form of bareboat charter for dry cargo and tank vessels chartered by the United States of America, acting by and through the Administrator, to be known as "WARSHIPDEMISE (Rev.)":

Form No. 103 (Rev.) 4/4/44 Contract No.... Warshipdemise (Rev.)

REQUISITION BAREBOAT CHARTER FOR DRY CARGO AND TANK VESSELS

Whereas, pursuant to Section 902 of the Merchant Marine Act, 1936 as amended, and the President's Executive Order No. 9054, as amended, the Administrator, War Shipping Administration, has requisitioned the use of the Vessel:

Now, therefore, pursuant to said Section 902, the Administrator, War Shipping Administration, hereby transmits to the Owner this Charter, consisting of Part I and Part II, setting forth the terms which, in the Administrator's judgment, should govern the relations between the Charterer and the Owner and a statement of the rate of hire which, in the Administrator's judgment, will be just compensation for the use of the Vessel under the terms of this Charter:

Requisition bareboat charter, dated as of ----------, 194--, between----------

Address----------

Owner of the SS/MS ----------

(herein called the "Vessel"), and United States of America, acting by and through the Administrator, War Shipping Administration, Charterer, the terms of the Charter being as follows:

PART I

The Vessel's particulars on which the rate of hire and valuation have been based, in part, by the Administrator are as follows:

Deadweight capacity, as defined in Clause 18, Part II. Classed----------

Bale capacity of refrigerated cargo space, as represented by the Owner, exclusive of ship's stores and space installed by or at the expense of Charterer----------

Year built----------

CLAUSE A. Period of charter. From the time of delivery to the time of expiration of the voyage current at the end of the emergency proclaimed by the President of the United States on May 27, 1941; Provided, however, That either party may sooner terminate this Charter upon not less than thirty (30) days' written or telegraphic notice to the other. In either case the Vessel shall be redelivered as hereinafter provided.

CLAUSE B. Hire. The Owner is hereby given an election either (I) to accept the rate of hire hereinafter set forth in Option I, which states the rate which in the Administrator's judgment will be just compensation for the use of the Vessel under the terms of this Charter; or (II) to decline to accept such rate of hire and to have the amount of just compensation judicially determined. If the Owner elects Option I, hire at the rate therein stated shall be paid by the Charterer to the Owner in the manner provided in Part II. If the Owner does not accept the rate of hire set forth in Option I, the right of the owner to pursue whatever legal remedy it may have to recover just compensation under the laws and Constitution of the United States shall not be impaired or prejudiced either by the execution and delivery of this Charter, or by the acceptance of 75 per centum of the rate of hire set forth in Option I, and this Charter, in any such event, shall then be deemed an agreement governing only the relations between the Owner and the Charterer in respect to matters other than the amount of just compensation for the use of the Vessel under the terms of this Charter. Where Option II applies the Charterer reserves all rights which it may have to readjust or redetermine the rate of hire at any time after July 1, 1945. The right to modify or change the terms of the Charter is reserved where the Charter has not been executed by the Owner and delivered to the Charterer.

OPTION I. The hire shall be $----------per calendar month or pro rata for any portion thereof.

OPTION II. The Charterer shall pay to the Owner just compensation, to be judicially determined, for the use of the Vessel under the terms of this Charter, and, subject to the Charterer's reservations as to readjustment or redetermination of the rate of hire, the Charterer shall pay on account of just compensation a sum equal to 75 per centum of the hire otherwise payable under the terms of this Charter, as the same may from time to time be due under the terms of this Charter, and the Owner shall be entitled to sue the United States to recover such further sum as added to such 75 per centum will make up such amount as will be just compensation. The term "just compensation" as used in this Clause B and elsewhere in this Charter shall be deemed to include interest, if any, to which the Owner would be entitled if it had not executed and delivered this Charter.

Time of election between options. The Owner shall elect between Option I and Option II at the time the Owner signs this Charter, unless a rate has not then been inserted in Option I. In the latter case, such election shall be made by the Owner in writing within thirty (30) days after receipt of written notice from the Charterer of the rate to be so inserted. In the event of the Owner's failure to elect Option I at the time of signing, or within such 30-day period, as the case may be, Option II shall apply. Provided, however, That at any time after election has been made of either Option I or Option II, but before redelivery and before commencement of suit for just compensation, the Owner, subject to the approval of the Charterer, may, if it has elected Option I herein, change such election to Option II, effective as of the date of such change and notice thereof to the Charterer, or if it has elected Option II herein, change such election to Option I, effective as of the time of delivery under this Charter or such other mutually agreeable date as the Charterer may fix. Whenever Option II is applicable, it shall be deemed to have been elected for the purpose of this proviso.

Rate revision (Option I only). At any time after July 1, 1945 but not more often than once every 12 months thereafter, either party may request a redetermination of the rate of charter hire upon ninety (90) days' written or telegraphic notice to the other. If a revised rate is determined and agreed upon within such 90-day period, it shall become effective as of the date specified in the determination and shall continue for the balance of the period of this Charter, subject to further redetermination in accordance with the provisions of this paragraph. If a revised rate is not determined and agreed upon within any such 90-day period, then the rate of hire in effect at the time of such notice shall apply only until noon (EWT) of the day after the end of such 90-day period, and the Charterer shall make a redetermination of the rate of hire, as to which the provisions of Option II of this Clause B shall apply for the balance of the period of this Charter. A change in the rate of charter hire under this paragraph shall not terminate the period of or otherwise modify the provisions of this Charter, and any such change shall be without prejudice to the rights of either party to terminate this Charter as provided in Clause A, Part I.

CLAUSE C. Valuation. The Owner shall elect between the following options, unless this is a Vessel subject to the provisions of Section 802 of the Merchant Marine Act 1936, as amended, in which event the Owner shall not have the right to elect Option I, and Option II shall apply.

OPTION I. In the event of loss or damage to the Vessel due to the operation of a risk assumed by the Charterer under the terms of this Charter, the Charterer shall pay to the Owner just compensation, to be judicially determined, for such loss or damage, to the extent the person entitled thereto is not reimbursed therefor through policies of insurance against such loss or damage. In such event the amount of just compensation shall be determined and tendered by the Charterer as soon as practicable after the loss or damage, but if the amount of just compensation so determined is unsatisfactory to the person entitled thereto, the Charterer shall pay to such person 75 per centum of the amount so determined, and such person shall be entitled to sue the United States to recover such further sum as, added to said 75 per centum, will make up such amount as will be just compensation for the loss of or damage to the Vessel.

OPTION II. For the period commencing with the delivery of the Vessel under this Charter and ending noon, (EWT) April 20, 1945, the agreed valuation of the Vessel for the purposes of this Charter and any insurance undertaken by the Charterer is the sum of $. For each subsequent twelve (12) month period the valuation, unless otherwise agreed, shall be reduced by , but any Owner who shall be dissatisfied with such reduction shall have the option, to be exercised on or before April 1st of any year commencing April 1st, 1945, to elect Option I for the period commencing at noon (EWT) of the following April 20th, and effective for the balance of the term of this Charter. In event of such election, the provisions of Option I shall control for all purposes from such effective date.

The foregoing provisions of this Option II shall not be applicable to a Vessel subject to the provisions of Section 902 of the Merchant Marine Act, 1936, as amended. For the purposes of this Charter and any insurance undertaken by the Charterer, any such Vessel shall be valued as of the date of loss at the actual depreciated construction cost of the Vessel (together with the actual depreciated cost of capital improvements thereon, but excluding the cost of national-defense features), less the depreciated amount of construction-differential subsidy theretofore paid incident to the construction or reconditioning of such Vessel, or the fair and reasonable scrap value of such Vessel as determined by the Charterer, whichever is greater. In computing the depreciated value of the Vessel, depreciation shall be computed on the Vessel on the schedule adopted by the Bureau of Internal Revenue for income-tax purposes.

By mutual agreement the valuation provisions of this Option II may be superseded as of the date of loss or any other mutually agreeable date in the event that the Charterer shall adopt any plan with respect to replacement of vessels which is applicable to this Vessel.

Time of election between options. Except as otherwise provided in Valuation Option II above, the Owner shall elect between Option I and Option II at the time the Owner signs this Charter, unless a valuation has not then been inserted in Option II. In the latter case, such election shall be made by the Owner in writing within thirty (30) days after receipt of written notice from the Charterer of the valuation to be so inserted. In the event of the Owner's failure to elect Option II at the time of signing or within such 30-day period, as the case may be, Option I shall apply.

CLAUSE D. Port of delivery.

CLAUSE E. Time and date of delivery.

CLAUSE F. Port of redelivery. Port of delivery, unless otherwise agreed: Provided however, That at Owner's option, redelivery shall be made at the U. S. continental port where the Owner maintains its principal operating headquarters.

CLAUSE G. Notice of redelivery. The Charterer shall give not less than thirty (30) days' written or telegraphic notice.

CLAUSE H. Uniform terms. This Charter consists of this Part I and Part II, conforming to the Requisition Bareboat Charter for Dry Cargo and Tank Vessels, published in the FEDERAL REGISTER of April —, 1944. The provisions of Part II shall be incorporated by reference in and need not be attached to Part I of this Charter, and unless in this Part I otherwise expressly provided, all of the provisions of Part II shall be part of this Charter as though fully set forth in this Part I.

CLAUSE I. Prior charter or requisition. Execution and delivery of this Charter by the Owner shall not impair any rights or obligations of either the Charterer or the Owner existing at the time of delivery of the Vessel under this Charter and arising out of any prior Charter or out of any requisition of the Vessel other than the requisition pursuant to which this Charter is tendered, but with respect to any rights or obligations arising after delivery of the Vessel under this Charter, the terms of this Charter shall govern. The execution and delivery of this Charter shall be without prejudice to any rights which the Charterer may have to requisition the Vessel for title at any time or to requisition the Vessel for use upon termination of this Charter by the Owner. Whenever the Owner hereunder is entitled to just compensation as provided under Option II Clause B or Option I Clause C, or Clause 11 A, Part II, the rights of such Owner as to the determination and payment of just compensation under the laws and Constitution of the United States shall not be prejudiced by reason of the execution and delivery of this Charter by such Owner, and the rights of such Owner to just compensation shall be the same as though he had not executed and delivered this Charter: Provided, however, That all terms and conditions of this Charter other than those relating to the determination and payment of just compensation shall not be impaired or affected by the reservation contained in this sentence.

CLAUSE J. Special provisions.

PART II

CLAUSE 1. A. Unless otherwise stated in Part I, the Vessel on her delivery shall be in Class A–1 American Bureau of Shipping or equivalent, tight, staunch and strong and in every respect seaworthy, serviceable and fitted for normal commercial service for a Vessel of her size, type and description. If the surveyor or surveyors, on the survey provided for in this Clause 1, recommend in the survey report that the performance of any repairs or work is necessary to place the Vessel on the date of delivery in the condition and class required in this paragraph, which recommendations shall include all deferred items of repairs or work, (as distinguished from postponed annual or periodical surveys), required by outstanding classification or steamboat inspection requirements for such normal service, the Owner shall, at its expense, make all repairs and do all work so recommended, except repairs or work waived by the Charterer or for which the Charterer is responsible under this or any prior Charter or requisition of the Vessel. The repairs or work for which the Owner is responsible, as above provided, shall be made before delivery unless deferred by the Charterer, but if, after reasonable opportunity, either before or after delivery, the Owner shall fail or if it shall become impracticable for the Owner to make such repairs or to do such work, the Charterer may have such repairs or work done at the expense of the Owner and may deduct the reasonable cost thereof from amounts due or owing under this or any other Charter. Except for the Owner's obligation to make repairs or do work for which the Owner is responsible as above provided, or to pay the cost thereof, the delivery of the Vessel by the Owner and the taking of the Vessel by the Charterer shall constitute a full performance by the Owner of all of the Owner's obligations under this Clause 1, and thereafter the Charterer shall not be entitled to make or assert any claim against the Owner on account of any agreements, representations or warranties, expressed or implied, with respect to the condition of the Vessel.

For the purpose of this Charter a Vessel shall be deemed to be in class, whether or not any requirements or recommendations of the Classification Society are outstanding at the time of delivery or redelivery, as the case may be, unless the time limit for the accomplishment of any such requirements or recommendations, including any extension or period of grace allowed, shall have expired.

If radio or other equipment is required to enable the Vessel to comply with this Clause 1 A and such equipment is leased by the Owner, it shall pay the rental charges therefor or, if such charges are paid by the Charterer, such charges may be deducted from the hire: Provided, however, That the Charterer shall be responsible for the maintenance of such equipment including any maintenance charges therefor.

CLAUSE 1. B. Before delivery under this Charter, the Vessel shall be surveyed jointly by representatives of the Charterer and the Owner, or by a surveyor satisfactory to both the Charterer and the Owner, to determine and state the condition of the Vessel and, if the Vessel is not in the condition and class required in Clause 1 A, to make recommendations as therein contemplated. Such survey shall include drydocking to determine the condition of the underwater parts, which survey and drydocking shall be the expense and on the time of the Charterer, except to the extent that such expense would be recoverable under the standard American hull form of marine insurance policy by reason of an occurrence prior to delivery of the Vessel to Charterer under this Charter. The joint findings and recommendations of the representatives of the Charterer and the Owner or the findings and recommendations of a surveyor satisfactory to both parties shall be conclusive except for items which the survey report notes or states have not been examined, and as to such items the provisions of Clause 1 D shall apply. In the event of dispute between the surveyors, such dispute shall be finally determined by a surveyor appointed by the American Bureau of Shipping.

CLAUSE 1. C. At or before the survey or, if not then made available, as soon as practicable, the Owner shall furnish to the Charterer a statement of all unrepaired damage known to the Owner existing at the time of delivery, together with a report of all casualties known to the Owner which may have given rise to damage subsequent to the last drydocking in a U. S. continental port. Upon the request of the Charterer, the Owner shall also furnish to the Charterer copies of, or, at Charterer's option, permit it to inspect such of the following documents as are available and have been made within or cover the period of one year immediately preceding delivery of the Vessel under this Charter: (a) all deck and engine room logs; (b) all survey reports; and (c) all casualty reports or repair requisitions made by the deck or engine room departments of the Vessel.

CLAUSE 1. D. The survey provided for in Clause 1 B may be postponed by the Charterer in whole or in part and in that event the survey shall be completed as soon as practicable thereafter. Repairs or classification or other work found to be necessary on such postponed survey shall be for the account of the Charterer under this Charter, unless upon the postponed survey the surveyors agree, or a surveyor satisfactory to both the Charterer and the Owner shall find, upon due consideration of any information furnished or made available to the surveyors or surveyor pursuant to Paragraph C of this Clause 1 or of other substantial evidence, that the necessity for the repairs or work arose before delivery of the Vessel under this Charter, and in such case the cost of such repairs or work shall be borne by the Owner or the Charterer accordingly as their respective obligations may have been at the time when the damage occurred. Where no survey was held prior to the delivery of the Vessel and the execution of this Charter, the survey shall be deemed to have been postponed pursuant to this Clause.

CLAUSE 1. E. If the survey required by Clause 1 B has been held prior to May 1, 1944, the Owner and the Charterer or their respective surveyors shall, as soon as possible, examine the survey report and determine jointly whether such report shows the Vessel to have been in the condition required in Clause 1 A as of the date of delivery, or, if not, what repairs or work should have been recommended to place the Vessel in such condition. In making such determination due consideration shall be given to the survey reports and any information furnished or made available pursuant to Clause 1 C or to other substantial evidence. In the event of dispute between the Owner and Charterer or their surveyors, such dispute shall be finally determined by a surveyor appointed by the American Bureau of Shipping, who, in view of the impracticability of making such retroactive determinations, shall resolve doubts in favor of the Owner. The recommendations, if any, so determined shall have the same effect as though the recommendations had been made upon an original survey pursuant to Clause 1 B hereof except that the repairs or work so recommended shall be deemed to have been deferred by the Charterer as provided in Clause 1 F. The procedure set forth in this Clause 1 E may be accomplished before this Charter is executed.

CLAUSE 1. F. If any repairs or work for the Owner's account are deferred by the Charterer, the extent and cost thereof shall be determined by the surveyors or surveyor as of the time of delivery, and any increase in the extent and cost thereof solely by reason of such deferment shall be for the Charterer's account.

CLAUSE 1. G. Fees charged by any surveyor appointed by the American Bureau of Shipping for services in connection with the settlement of any dispute referred to him under this or any other Clause of this Charter shall be borne equally by the Owner and the Charterer.

CLAUSE 2. The Charterer or any other agency of the United States may, at the expense of the Charterer or such agency and on the Charterer's time, install any equipment, gear or armament (including demagnetization by installed equipment or other process e. g. degaussing, wiping or deperming) and may make any alterations or additions to the Vessel. Such equipment, gear or armament so installed are to be considered Charterer's property. The Charterer shall, before redelivery and at its expense and on its time, remove any equipment, gear and armament installed by or on the order or request of the Charterer or any other agency of the United States and restore the Vessel to her condition prior to any installations, alterations, additions or changes made by or on the order or request of the Charterer or any other agency of the United States, whether such installations, alterations, additions or changes were made under this Charter or at any time prior to delivery under this Charter.

CLAUSE 3. A. If the Owner elects hire Option I, the Charterer shall pay hire for the use of the Vessel at the rate provided in Option I of Clause B, Part I, per calendar month or pro rata for any portion thereof, and if the Owner elects hire Option II or such Option II becomes otherwise applicable, the Charterer shall similarly make payments to the Owner per month or pro rata for any portion thereof on account of just compensation in accordance with Option II, in either case for the period beginning with the time of the Vessel's delivery under this Charter and continuing until the time of her redelivery under this Charter to the Owner at the port of redelivery; or if the Vessel shall be lost as an actual total loss, hire shall continue until the time of her loss, if known, or if the date of loss cannot be ascertained or if the Vessel is unreported, hire shall continue for one-half the calculated time necessary for the Vessel to proceed from her last known position to the next port of call, but not exceeding 14 days; or if the Vessel is a constructive total loss under the terms of any insurance thereon or pursuant to the provisions of Clause 16, Part II, hire shall continue until noon (EWT) of the day of the last casualty resulting in or causing or contributing to her loss, except as otherwise provided in said Clause 16. Nothing in this Clause shall prohibit the Owner from instituting proceedings at any time after the execution of this Charter by the Charterer to recover just compensation when Option II of Clause B, Part 1, is applicable.

CLAUSE 3. B. Unless otherwise provided in this Charter, the hire and all monies accruing during the preceding month in favor of the Owner including payments on account of just compensation shall be due and payable on the first day of each calendar month; Provided, however, That no such hire or other monies shall accrue or become due and payable before execution of this Charter by the Charterer, except payments on account made before such execution.

CLAUSE 4. If, pursuant to any applicable laws of the United States or any agreements entered into pursuant thereto, the Owner is required because of the operation of the Vessel under this Charter to make any payment to the United States by way of reimbursement for construction differential subsidy, then the Charterer shall pay to the Owner as additional charter hire a sum equal to any amount so paid.

CLAUSE 5. A. The Charterer at its own expense shall, if practicable, drydock the Vessel and clean and paint her underwater parts when necessary and not less than once in every nine (9) months. The Charterer shall, if practicable, give the Owner notice of the time and place of drydocking fifteen (15) days in advance thereof and afford the Owner an opportunity to inspect the Vessel while drydocked.

CLAUSE 5. B. In so far as practicable, the Charterer shall at its expense maintain the Vessel during the period of the Charter in the same condition as when delivered, ordinary wear and tear excepted. Nothing in this Clause 5 B shall impose any obligation on the Owner or Charterer to correct ordinary wear and tear. If the Charterer, while not recognizing any obligation to do such work, corrects any ordinary wear and tear during the period of use, the Owner shall not be liable for the cost of repairs or work done in connection therewith. Nothing in this Clause 5 B shall diminish nor enlarge the Charterer's obligations under Clause 6 hereof.

CLAUSE 6. A. Immediately before redelivery, the Charterer, at its own expense and on its time, shall restore the Vessel to at least as good condition and class as upon delivery to the Charterer under this Charter, ordinary wear and tear excepted, and shall perform all work required by Clause 2, Part II. "Ordinary wear and tear" as used in this Charter shall mean ordinary wear and tear which would occur in normal commercial trading notwithstanding good commercial maintenance practices. If the surveyor or surveyors, on the redelivery survey provided for in Clause 6 B, recommend that the performance of any repairs or work is necessary to place the Vessel on the date of redelivery in the condition and class required in this paragraph, which recommendations shall include all repairs or work, (as distinguished from postponed annual or periodical survey), required by outstanding classification or steamboat inspection requirements to place her in such condition, the Charterer shall, at its expense, make all such repairs and do all such work so recommended, or shall pay to the Owner in advance an amount for reconditioning sufficient to place the Vessel in such condition and class and to provide for the foregoing work and repairs, which amount shall also include compensation at the rate of hire payable under this Charter for the time reasonably required under then existing conditions to complete such work or repairs and compensation for other expenses incident to such work or repairs. The Charterer shall not be required to make any repairs or to satisfy any classification or steamboat inspection requirements which were for Owner's account under Clause 1 A but if such repairs were made or such requirements were satisfied after delivery under this Charter and paid for by the Owner they shall be considered as having been made at the time of delivery for the purpose of determining the Charterer's obligations under this Clause 6. The Charterer shall make any repairs which were for the Charterer's account under any prior Charter or requisition but were still uncompleted on delivery under this Charter. If the Charterer and the Owner agree, the Charterer's obligation under this Clause 6 and under Clause 2, Part II, may be discharged by a lump sum payment to the Owner or other mutually satisfactory agreement at the time of r delivery of the Vessel to the Owner.

CLAUSE 6. B. For the purpose of establishing the Charterer's obligation under this Clause 6, the Vessel shall, before redelivery, be surveyed jointly by representatives of the Charterer and the Owner or by a surveyor satisfactory to both the Charterer and the Owner to determine the condition of the Vessel and to make the recommendations contemplated in Clause 6 A. Such survey shall include drydocking to determine the condition of the underwater parts, which drydocking shall be at the expense and on the time of the Charterer if drydocking for cleaning and painting bottom is due, or if underwater damage is found, or if there is evidence that since the last drydocking the Vessel has been involved in a grounding or underwater contact or a collision; otherwise such expense shall be paid by the Owner.

The joint findings and recommendations of the representatives of the Charterer and the Owner or the findings and recommendations of the surveyor satisfactory to both shall be conclusive except for items which the survey report notes or states have not been examined on such survey and the obligations of the Charterer as aforesaid with respect to such items shall be discharged by complying with such recommendations. In the event of a dispute between the surveyors, such dispute shall be finally determined by a surveyor appointed by the American Bureau of Shipping.

CLAUSE 7. At the time of delivery a complete inventory of the Vessel's entire outfit, equipment, furniture, furnishings, appliances, spare and replacement parts and of all unbroached consumable stores and fuel on board shall be jointly taken by representatives of the Charterer and the Owner, and mutually agreed upon by them as to items and as to price with respect to all unbroached consumable stores and fuel, but if it is impracticable to make such inventory, then the Charterer will accept the Owner's inventory or reasonable estimates as to items and as to reasonable prices where pricing is required, and a similar inventory shall be so jointly taken and mutually agreed upon at the time of redelivery.

CLAUSE 8. The Charterer shall accept and pay for all unbroached consumable stores and fuel on board at the time of delivery, and the Owner shall accept and pay for all unbroached consumable stores and fuel on board at the time of redelivery, at the market prices current at the ports and times of delivery and of redelivery, respectively; Provided, however, That the Owner shall not be required to accept and pay for such unbroached consumable stores and fuel in excess of the Vessel's normal peacetime requirements. "Consumable stores" within the meaning of this Clause shall mean all consumable and subsistence stores (but not radio supplies, expendable equipment, scrap and junk) listed in United States Maritime Commission Voyage Stores Reports, Forms 7915A, 7916A, 7918A, and 7919A (Revised Forms 1939).

CLAUSE 9. The Charterer shall have the use of all outfit, equipment, furniture, furnishings, appliances, spare and replacement parts belonging to the Vessel, either on board the Vessel or ashore, from the time of delivery without extra cost and the same or their substantial equivalent shall be returned to the Owner on redelivery in the same good order and condition as when received, ordinary wear and tear excepted. Any such items lost, destroyed, damaged, or so worn in service as to be unfit for use in Owner's service shall be replaced or made good by the Charterer in kind or value at or before redelivery and any overages, accepted by the Owner, shall be paid for at the current market price at the port and time of redelivery. Provided, further, That any equipment, furniture, furnishings or appliances belonging to the Vessel and not required by the Charterer may be removed and stored by the Charterer at its expense. The Charterer shall have the right to use, sell, or otherwise dispose of any of such items removed, on condition, however, that the same or their substantial equivalent shall be returned aboard the Vessel on redelivery thereof in the same good order and condition as when removed, ordinary wear and tear excepted, and any such items lost, destroyed, damaged, or so worn in service as to be unfit for use are to be replaced or made good by the Charterer in kind before redelivery or in value at the time of redelivery. Provided, further, however, That the foregoing condition as to restoration shall not apply in the event of loss of or requisition of title to the Vessel.

CLAUSE 10. During the period of this Charter, the Charterer shall at its own expense, or by its own procurement, man, victual, navigate, operate, supply, fuel, and except as otherwise provided herein repair the Vessel and pay all charges and expenses of every kind and nature whatsoever incident to the use and operation of the Vessel under this Charter. The Charterer and not the Owner shall have exclusive possession, control and command of the Vessel during the entire period of this Charter.

CLAUSE 11. A. Beginning with the delivery of the Vessel under this Charter and continuing until her redelivery, the Charterer, directly and also as insurer, assumes and hereby insures the Owner against all risks, of whatsoever nature or kind, of loss of or damage to the Vessel, and assumes and hereby insures the Owner against all liabilities, of whatsoever nature or kind, arising out of or in connection with the use of the Vessel by the Charterer, including, without limitation, all liabilities for breach of statute or contract, or for loss of or damage to property including cargo and other vessels, or for personal injuries or death of any persons whatsoever, and in addition, the Charterer shall indemnify and save harmless the Owner and the Vessel against and from any and all loss, liability, damage, and expense (including costs of court and reasonable attorneys' fees) on account of such risks or liabilities arising out of any matter occurring during the currency of this Charter. The Charterer having assumed and insured the Owner against all risks of loss of or damage to the Vessel, then in the event of total or constructive total loss of the Vessel the Charterer shall pay to the person entitled thereto the agreed valuation of the Vessel or, if no avaluation of the Vessel has been agreed to, the Charterer shall pay just compensation for such loss to the extent the person entitled thereto is not otherwise reimbursed through policies of insurance. The amount of the just compensation shall be determined by the Administrator in accordance with the applicable laws and Constitution of the United States and paid by the Charterer as soon as practicable after the loss; but if the amount of just compensation so determined is unsatisfactory to the person entitled thereto, the Charterer shall pay to such person 75 per centum of the amount so determined, and such person shall be entitled to sue the United States to recover such further sum as, added to said 75 per centum, will make up such amount as will be just compensation for the Vessel. The Charterer shall not, however, by reason of this Clause be liable for any damage of an insurable nature incurred prior to delivery under this Charter and not repaired by, and at the expense of the Owner prior to the loss of the Vessel, except to the extent the Charterer may be liable for such damage under any prior requisition or Charter or insurance issued pursuant thereto: Provided, however, Any such liability of the Charterer shall be subject to the terms and conditions of Clause 17 A (c) hereof.

A binder of insurance in the form annexed as Schedule A to this Part II shall be issued by the Charterer against the risk of total and/or constructive total loss of the Vessel by marine or war perils, or both. The insurance protection provided by such binder shall be in addition to and not in lieu of the obligations of the Charterer under this Clause 11 A: Provided, however, That a recovery under the binder for the loss of the Vessel shall bar recovery for such loss under this Clause 11 A.

In the event the Vessel is covered by a mortgage or a lien held by the Charterer or any other agency of the United States then any sum or sums payable by virtue of the provisions of this Clause 11 shall be payable for distribution to such agency and/or the persons entitled thereto as their interests may appear.

CLAUSE 11. B. If the Owner has elected valuation Option II set forth in Part I hereof, or if such Option shall otherwise apply to the Vessel, the Owner may procure at its expense and for its account, but subject to the consent of the Administrator as to the amount thereof insurance in excess of such valuation: Provided, however, That such insurance shall be without benefit of salvage, subrogation or right of contribution and shall be subject to the terms and conditions of Clause 12 of this Charter.

CLAUSE 12. A. (1) The Owner shall and does hereby waive all claims for general average, salvage, collision or demurrage against any vessel: (a) owned by the United States; or (b) under charter to the United States on terms which would make the United States liable as Charterer, insurer or otherwise for such claims; or (c) under Charter to the United States and insured under the terms of the American Hull Form Revised (Requisitioned Vessels 1943).

(2) The Owner shall and does hereby waive all claims for general average, salvage, collision or demurrage against any other vessel owned by or under charter to any Government, and against any cargo carried on any such vessel or on any vessel described in subparagraph (1) above, to the extent such waiver may be required by the Charterer in any specific case or cases in order to give effect to any agreement for mutual or reciprocal waiver of claims entered into by the United States on behalf of vessels owned by or under charter to it.

(3) The waivers provided in this paragraph A shall be effective only as to claims relating to the Vessel and arising out of her use or operation under this Charter, and such waivers shall not relieve the Charterer of any liability it may have to the Owner under the terms of this Charter.

CLAUSE 12. B. The Owner shall and does hereby waive any claim against any ship repairer, based on negligence or otherwise, arising out of repair or custody of the Vessel during the period of this Charter, to the extent that such claim, if not waived, would ultimately be borne by the United States under contract or insurance arrangement between The United States and the repairer: Provided, however, That such waiver shall not preclude recovery by the Owner against the repairer for amounts less than the customary contractual limit of $300,000 on the repairer's liability, nor for any claim by the Owner for proper replacement of defective workmanship or material in connection with any repairs which are for the Owner's account under the terms of this Charter. The Owner shall and does hereby also waive any claim for loss of or damage to the Vessel against any stevedore to the extent that such claim, if not waived, would ultimately be borne by the United States under contract or insurance arrangement between the United States and the stevedore.

CLAUSE 12. C. The Charterer shall indemnify and hold the Owner harmless for and against any loss or damage suffered or liabilities incurred by the Owner for which claim is waived under the provisions of paragraphs A or B of this Clause 12 (except claims for salvage in excess of actual costs incurred in connection therewith), and which is not recovered by the Owner under any other provisions of this Charter; Provided, however, That if a valuation of the Vessel has been agreed to this indemnity shall not entitle the Owner to recover for loss of or damage to the Vessel an aggregate sum in excess of the agreed valuation, or if no valuation of the Vessel has been agreed to, in excess of the amount of compensation payable in the event of loss of the Vessel as provided in paragraph A of Clause 11, Part II; and provided further, That this indemnity shall not entitle the Owner to recover for any period of detention or loss of use of the Vessel an aggregate sum in excess of the amount which would be payable to the Owner under the other terms of this Charter for such period.

CLAUSE 13. A. The Owner shall forever indemnify, hold harmless and defend the Charterer against any liens, claims, demands, or liabilities of whatsoever nature by whomsoever asserted (including costs and reasonable attorneys' fees paid or incurred in defending such lien, claim or demand, whether or not it shall be found to be valid, and also including reasonable compensation for loss of use resulting therefrom) upon the Vessel at the time of her delivery under this Charter, or arising out of the use or operation of the Vessel prior to her delivery under this Charter, unless the amount thereof is properly chargeable to the Charterer by reason of any pre-existing charter of the Vessel to or requisition of her by the Charterer. The Charterer shall forever indemnify, hold harmless and defend the Owner against any liens of whatsoever nature and against any claim of such lien (including costs and reasonable attorneys' fees paid or incurred in defending any such claim, whether or not the claim be found to be valid, and also including reasonable compensation for loss of use resulting therefrom), whenever and by whomsoever asserted, upon the Vessel at the time of her redelivery under this Charter, and for which the Owner is not responsible as aforesaid. The Charterer shall also indemnify, hold harmless and defend the Owner and the Vessel against any claims, demands, or liabilities against them or either of them (including costs and reasonable attorneys' fees in defending such claim or demand, whether or not the claim or demand be found to be valid) arising out of the use or operation of the Vessel by the Charterer or any subcharterer or out of any act or neglect of the Charterer or any subcharterer in relation to the Vessel, or out of any obligation or liability incurred by the Charterer or any subcharterer. Each party shall give to the other prompt notice of the assertion of any such lien, claim, demand or liability.

CLAUSE 13. B. If after redelivery the Vessel is arrested or attached upon any cause of action arising or alleged to have arisen from previous possession or operation of the Vessel by the Charterer, or any subcharterer, the Charterer undertakes to use its best efforts to cause the release of the Vessel under the Suits in Admiralty Act or any other special remedy available to the Charterer, subject to the concurrence of the Attorney General of the United States.

CLAUSE 14. The Charterer in its use and operation of the Vessel shall abide by, and comply with, all applicable laws and governmental rules and regulations and the terms of any governmental preferred mortgage on the Vessel, and shall not use or operate the Vessel, or permit use or operation of the Vessel, except in full compliance with all such laws, rules and regulations, and shall indemnify the Vessel and the Owner against any loss, claim, liability, damage or expense on account of any such violation of law, rule, or regulation.

CLAUSE 15. The Charterer shall at all times have the option of subletting or assigning this Charter, but the Charterer shall always remain responsible for the due fulfilment of this Charter in all its terms and conditions.

CLAUSE 16. A. If the Charterer finds, in case of casualty or serious damage or injury to the Vessel during the period of this Charter, whether or not the Vessel is an actual or constructive total loss under Clause 11 hereof, that the continuation of the Charter is inadvisable because of the probable high cost of repairs or indefinite loss of use of the Vessel then the Charterer nonetheless shall have the option of declaring her a constructive total loss by so notifying the Owner in writing as soon as practicable after the occurrence causing such damage or injury. In the event of such a declaration by the Charterer, the Charterer, as insurer, shall forthwith pay or cause to be paid to the Owner an amount to be determined in accordance with the provisions of Clause 11, Part II, as though the Vessel were an actual total loss. If the extent of such damage or injury is not sufficient to entitle the Owner to collect for an actual or constructive total loss under the provisions of Clause 11 hereof in the absence of such a declaration by the Charterer, then the Owner shall also be entitled to hire at the rate of 3½ percent per annum on the valuation of the Vessel computed in conformity with valuation Option II as of the date of such casualty, damage or injury, for the period commencing from the date of termination of hire pursuant to Clause 3 hereof and ending on the date of such declaration except that for any portion of such period covered by Clause 16 B hereof, the rate of hire shall be determined under the provisions of Clause 16 B. Against such payment the Owner will give the Charterer such releases and instruments granting the Vessel or the property of her remaining as the Charterer may require, if the Charterer elects to take title to the vessel.

B. If the Charterer delays declaring the Vessel a constructive total loss beyond four months after hire terminated under Clause 3, Part II, the Charterer shall pay full hire for such period in excess of four months.

CLAUSE 17. A. If immediately prior to delivery under this Charter the Vessel shall have been under charter pursuant to requisition or otherwise to the Charterer, then:

(a) The term of this Charter shall commence coincidentally with the termination of the prior charter and there shall not be an interval between the two.

(b) Except as may be otherwise provided in Clause 18, Part II, the Vessel's particulars as stated in Part I shall be understood to be her particulars as of the time of delivery to the Charterer under such prior charter.

(c) Any insurance provided by the Charterer under said prior charter shall terminate upon the commencement of the term of this Charter (without prejudice to any claim that may have arisen thereunder); Provided, however, That claims for unrepaired damage under said prior insurance shall not be due and payable until the repairs are effected, or if not so effected, until the time of redelivery hereunder, but in no case shall the Charterer be liable for such unrepaired damage in addition to a subsequent total or constructive total loss for which the Charterer is liable under this Charter or any insurance provided hereunder.

B. The Charterer shall reimburse the Owner for its actual out-of-pocket expenses, including all taxes with respect thereto, for which the Owner is responsible by reason of the Ship's Articles or collective bargaining agreements with the master, officers and crew, or the Owner's usual practice, for transportation, wages and subsistence, or payments in lieu thereof, incurred in returning the master, officers and crew to the port, place or area of signing off named in or contemplated by the terms of the Articles, if such expenses are incurred by reason of delivery of the Vessel under this Charter, pursuant to orders or directions of the Charterer or any other agency of the United States, at a port, place or area other than that named in or contemplated by the Articles for termination of the voyage during which delivery of the Vessel is made.

CLAUSE 18. A. Insofar as it is a factor in the Vessel's rate and valuation, deadweight capacity is to be established in accordance with normal Summer Freeboard as assigned pursuant to the International Load Line Convention, 1930, and shall be her capacity (in tons of 2240 lbs.) for cargo, fuel, fresh water, spare parts and stores but exclusive of permanent ballast. Deadweight shall be calculated without deduction for weight lost by reason of cargo refrigeration installation heretofore made, if any, and weight added by installation of refrigerated cargo capacity (including offsetting permanent ballast required thereby), arming, degaussing, demagnetizing, or the installation of splinter-protection equipment or because of ice-strengthening, or other extraordinary wartime installation of equipment, including permanent ballast, heretofore or hereafter made or required by the Charterer, or any other agency of the United States.

B. In the event that the Vessel's deadweight or bale cubic refrigerated capacity, when finally determined as herein provided, shall not be in accord with the description contained in Part I hereof, the hire and valuation (if any) shall be equitably adjusted to be appropriate for the Vessel's deadweight and bale cubic refrigerated capacity. Certificates of deadweight or bale cubic capacity in satisfactory form, heretofore or hereafter furnished by American Bureau of Shipping shall be accepted as final proof of deadweight capacity and bale cubic refrigerated capacity.

CLAUSE 19. Unless otherwise provided in this Charter or mutually agreed upon, all payments, notices and communications from the Charterer to the Owner, pursuant to the terms of or in connection with this Charter shall be made or addressed to the Owner at the address provided in Part I, and all payments, notices and communications from the Owner to the Charterer, pursuant to the terms of or in connection with this Charter, shall be made or addressed to the Charterer at its offices in Washington, District of Columbia.

CLAUSE 20. No member of or delegate to Congress or Resident Commissioner is or shall be admitted to any share or part of this Charter, or to any benefit that may arise therefrom, except to the extent allowed by Title 18 U. S. Code, Section 206. The Owner agrees not to employ any member of or delegate to Congress or Resident Commissioner, either with or without compensation, as an attorney, agent, officer or director.

CLAUSE 21. The Owner warrants that it has not employed any person to solicit or secure this Charter upon any agreement for a commission, percentage, brokerage, or contingent fee. Breach of this warranty shall give the Charterer the right to annul this Charter or, in its discretion, to deduct from any sums payable under this Charter the amount of such commission, percentage, brokerage or contingent fees. This warranty shall not apply to commissions payable by the Owner upon agreements or sales secured or made through bona fide established commercial or selling agencies maintained by the Owner for the purpose of securing business.

CLAUSE 22. The Administrator (Charterer), acting pursuant to delegation of authority by the War Contracts Price Adjustment Board to the Administrator by instrument dated February 26, 1944, having found that this agreement is in the nature of a lease contract and that the profits hereunder can now be determined with reasonable certainty, that the rate of hire and agreed valuation (if any) are not in excess of just compensation to which the Owner is or may be entitled, and that the provisions of this Charter adequately prevent excessive profits, this Charter (including such rate of hire and agreed valuation (if any)) is hereby exempted from the provisions of the Renegotiation Act, pursuant to subsection (i) (4) of the said Act. Nothing in this Clause shall be construed as an admission by the Owner that this Charter would otherwise be subject to the Renegotiation Act.

CLAUSE 23. A. In the event that this form of bareboat charter is modified by the Charterer at any time prior to July 1, 1944, the Owner shall, at its option, have the benefit of any such modifications, subject to the assumption by the Owner, at the request of the Charterer, of any obligations imposed in conjunction with such modifications. Said option shall be exercised within such reasonable time as the Charterer may prescribe, and, upon such exercise, the modifications shall become effective as of the date of this Charter. In the event of non-exercise by the Owner of said option, this Charter shall remain in full force and effect in accordance with its original terms.

B. This Charter may be amended, modified or terminated at any time by mutual agreement between the parties hereto.

CLAUSE 24. Notwithstanding any other provision of this Charter, the Charterer shall have a lien on the Vessel for all moneys paid by the Charterer for all repairs, work, or renewals to the Vessel which are for the Owner's account and for moneys paid and not earned or due to the Owner, and for all advances and other payments made to the Owner or on Owner's behalf and, upon redelivery, for the value of fuel, stores, appliances, equipment or machinery the Charterer may have on board or ashore which is for use on the Vessel and which the Owner has agreed to purchase or for which the Owner is liable under this Charter.

CLAUSE 25. This Charter consists of this Part II and Part I which incorporates this Part II therein by reference. In the event of conflict between the provisions of this Part II and those of Part I, the provisions of Part I shall govern to the extent of such conflict.

SUBPART I—FINDINGS AND SCOPE OF ORDER

§ 302.101 Findings. Pursuant to section 902 of the Merchant Marine Act, 1936, as amended, the Administrator finds (a) that the values and rates of charter hire provided in this order constitute just compensation for the taking or use of the property to which they apply, and are without enhancement by reason of the causes necessitating the taking or use, within the meaning of section 902 (a) of said act, and (b) that said values and rates conform with the standards, rules and formulae of general application established by the Advisory Board on Just Compensation (Executive Order No. 9387, October 15, 1943, 8 F.R. 14105) in its report of December 7, 1943.

§ 302.102 Scope of order—(a) Vessels included. This General Order 37 (§§ 302.101 through 302.113) establishes values with respect to risks insured or assumed by the War Shipping Administration and rates of charter hire, for self-propelled ocean-going iron and steel vessels (other than vessels excluded pursuant to paragraph (b) of this section) requisitioned for use pursuant to the provisions of Section 902 of the Merchant Marine Act, 1936, as amended, and chartered under the requisition bareboat charter for dry cargo and tank vessels (WARSHIPDEMISE (Rev.), General Order 13, Supp. 1, § 302.61), the uniform time charter for requisitioned and other dry cargo vessels (WARSHIPTIME (Rev.), General Order 11, Supp. 3, § 302.50), or the amended time charter for tank vessels ("WARSHIPOILTIME (Rev.), General Order 11, Supp. 4, § 302.55), as published in this issue of the FEDERAL REGISTER. The values and rates herein provided shall also apply to such charter parties entered into between vessel owners and any other agency or department of the United States when such charters provide that the rates or conditions specified therein are subject to adjustment or alteration in accordance with orders, directions, rules, or regulations of the United States Maritime Commission or the War Shipping Administration. The extent of the application of the values and rates provided in this order to vessels for which a warrant has been issued pursuant to Public Law No. 173, 77th Congress, approved July 14, 1941 (c. 297, 55 Stat. 591), will be covered by a separate order.

(b) Vessels excluded. The values and rates of charter hire established in this Order do not apply to passenger vessels, lumber schooners, car ferries, seatrains, cable ships, ore carriers, bulk cement carriers, vessels normally operated on the Great Lakes and inland water ways, fully refrigerated vessels, specially ventilated vessels, vessels of 1000 gross tons or under, vessels having speeds of less than 8 knots, vessels built prior to 1914, or any other vessel or class of vessels as to which the Administrator finds that this order would not be appropriate. Values and rates of charter hire for vessels exempted from the provisions of this Order shall be specially determined by the Administrator.

SUBPART II—DRY CARGO VESSELS

§ 302.103 Vessels built during or after 1935. With respect to a dry cargo vessel built during or after 1935, the value shall be determined in accordance with the provisions of paragraph (a) of this section, and the rate of hire shall be determined in accordance with the provisions of paragraph (b) or (c) of this section, subject to the adjustments provided in § 302.108 of this order.

(a) Value. The value shall be determined in accordance with the provisions of subparagraph (1) or (2) of this paragraph.

(1) Vessels subject of section 902 (b) of the Merchant Marine Act, 1936. The value of a vessel subject to section 902 (b) of the Merchant Marine Act, 1936, as amended, shall be determined as of the date of loss pursuant to the provisions of section 802 of the Merchant Marine Act, 1936, as amended.

(2) Other vessels. The value of a vessel not subject to section 902 (b) of the Merchant Marine Act, 1936, as amended, shall be:

(i) With respect to a vessel built prior to January 1, 1942, the reproduction cost of the vessel as determined by the Administrator, depreciated for the full life of the vessel to the effective date of the Administrator's determination, less a deduction annually thereafter representing depreciation computed at the rate of 5% per annum of such cost. The value so determined shall exclude any portion of such cost which the Administrator may find to constitute enhancement due to the causes necessitating the vessel's taking or use.

(ii) With respect to a vessel built on or after January 1, 1942, the construction cost of the vessel as determined by the Administrator as of the date of construction, depreciated for the full life of the vessel to the effective date of the Administrator's determination, less a deduction annually thereafter representing depreciation computed at the rate of 5% per annum of such cost.

(b) Rate of bareboat charter hire. The rate of bareboat charter hire shall be determined in accordance with the provisions of subparagraph (1) or (2) of this paragraph.

(2) Other vessels. The monthly rate of bareboat charter hire for a vessel not subject to section 902 (b) of the Merchant Marine Act, 1936, as amended, shall be one-twelfth of the sum of (i) an amount equal to 10% of the value as determined in accordance with the provisions of paragraph (a) of this section, plus (ii) an amount equal to 5% of said value to cover depreciation.

(c) Rate of time charter hire. The monthly rate of time charter hire shall consist of the sum of the compensation payable for the use of the vessel (herein referred to as the "use rate"), plus the compensation payable for the services required of the owner under the charter (herein referred to as the "service rate").

(1) Use rate. The use rate shall be the rate of bareboat charter hire as determined for the vessel in accordance with the provisions of paragraph (b) of this section.

This allowance is equivalent to the compensation of $65.00 per day per vessel paid to General Agents under General Order 34, and shall be taken into account for the purposes of applying the provisions of §§ 306.96 and 306.97 of General Order 34.

SUBPART IV—COLLIERS

§ 302.107 Values and rates. With respect to a collier built during the period 1914–1928 (both inclusive) the values shall be determined in accordance with the provisions of paragraph (a) of this section, and the rates of hire shall be determined in accordance with the provisions of paragraph (b) or (c) of this section, subject to the adjustments provided in § 302.108 of this order. With respect to a collier built after 1928, the value and rate of hire shall be determined specially by the Administrator.

(a) Value. Where a value was specially determined and tendered by the Administrator during the calendar year 1942 in connection with a previous requisitioning, then, unless otherwise determined by the Administrator, the value as of April 20, 1944 shall be arrived at by deducting from said value as earlier determined an amount equal to 25% of such value for depreciation. Thereafter the value shall be depreciated annually by an amount equal to 12½% of the said value as earlier determined. In all other cases the value shall be specially determined by the Administrator.

(b) Rate of bareboat charter hire. The basic rate of bareboat charter hire shall be $1.00 per deadweight ton per month. In cases where a vessel is, or was, delivered in a "where is, as is" condition the basic rate of bareboat charter hire shall not exceed $0.75 per deadweight ton per month, unless otherwise specifically agreed.

(c) Rate of time charter hire. The monthly rate of time charter hire shall consist of the sum of the compensation payable for the use of the vessel (herein referred to as the "use rate"), plus the compensation payable for the services required of the owner under the charter (herein referred to as the "service rate").

(1) Use rate. The use rate shall be the rate of bareboat charter hire as determined for vessel in accordance with provisions of paragraph (b) of this section.

(2) Service rate. The service rate per deadweight ton per month shall be:

Tonnage	Rate per deadweight ton per month	But the aggregate monthly hire shall not exceed
14,500–14,999	$1.425	$21,000.00
14,000–14,499	1.45	20,663.00
9,000–9,499	2.00	18,050.00
8,500–8,999	2.10	18,000.00
8,000–8,499	2.20	17,650.00
7,500–7,999	2.30	17,600.00
7,000–7,499	2.40	17,250.00
6,500–6,999	2.50	16,800.00
6,000–6,499	2.65	16,250.00
5,500–5,999	2.85	15,900.00
5,000–5,499	3.05	15,675.00
4,500–4,999	3.25	15,250.00
4,000–4,499	3.45	14,625.00

The service rate includes an allowance, which the Administrator has determined to be fair and reasonable, for administrative and general expenses not otherwise compensated for. This allowance is equivalent to the compensation of $65.00 per day per vessel paid to General Agents under General Order 34, and shall be taken into account for the purposes of applying the provisions of §§ 306.96 and 306.97 of General Order 34.

SUBPART V—GENERAL PROVISIONS

§ 302.108 Adjustments for speed, equipment, upkeep, and other considerations. The values and rates of bareboat and time charter hire provided in Subparts II, III and IV of this Order shall be adjusted for individual vessels with respect to speed, equipment, upkeep, and other considerations to the extent provided in paragraphs (a) through (f) of this section.

(a) Speed. With respect to vessels built during the period 1914–1934 (both inclusive), the values and the rates of bareboat and time charter hire shall be subject to the adjustments provided in subparagraphs (1) or (2) of this paragraph.

(1) Allowances for speeds of 11 knots or over. With respect to vessels having a speed of 11 knots or over there shall be added to the basic values provided in §§ 302.104 (a) and 302.106 (a), and to the rates of hire provided in §§ 302.104 (b) and 302.106 (b), the following amounts: (Since the bareboat rate is a component part of the time charter rate, the allowance will be reflected in the time charter rate.)

Speed		Additional value per deadweight ton	Additional hire per deadweight ton per month
Equal to or in excess of—	But under—
11 knots	12 knots	$2.25	$0.03
12 knots	13 knots	5.00	.06
13 knots	14 knots	8.25	.10
14 knots	15 knots	12.00	.15
15 knots	16 knots	16.50	.20

(2) Deductions for speeds of less than 9 knots. With respect to a vessel having a speed equal to or in excess of 8 knots but under 9 knots, $5.00 per deadweight ton shall be deducted from the basic values provided in § 302.104 (a) and 302.106 (a), and $0.06 per deadweight ton per month shall be deducted from the rates of bareboat charter hire provided in §§ 302.104 (b) and 302.106 (b). (Since the bareboat rate is a component part of the time charter rate, the deduction will be reflected in the time charter rate.)

(b) Refrigeration. Subject to the provisions of paragraph (e) of this section, allowances for refrigerated space shall be made in the values and rates in accordance with subparagraphs (1) and (2) of this paragraph.

(1) Allowances based on net average cubic capacity. The net cubic capacity of each separately insulated refrigerated compartment of the vessel, exclusive of any refrigerated space ordinarily required for vessel's stores, shall be computed, and the average cubic capacity of all such compartments shall then be ascertained.

The number of net cubic feet of the sum of all the refrigerated compartments of the vessel, exclusive of the refrigerated space ordinarily required for the vessel's stores, shall then be multiplied by the amount shown opposite the range that includes the average capacity of the vessel's refrigerated compartments, in columns (A) or (B) in the table shown below, and the result shall be the amount to be added to the value or rate, as the case may be.

Column (A) shows the amount to be multiplied when determining the allowance to be added to the basic value provided in § 302.104 (a).

Column (B) shows the amount to be multiplied when determining the allowance to be added to the basic rates of bareboat charter hire provided in §§ 302.103 (b) (1) and 302.104 (b).

If average capacity of all compartments is—	Then multiply the total net capacity of all compartments by—
	(A)	(B)
4,999 cubic feet and under	$2.55	$0.04
5,000–9,999 cubic feet	2.15	.035
10,000–19,999 cubic feet	1.90	.025
20,000–39,999 cubic feet	1.75	.03
40,000–59,999 cubic feet	1.60	.03
80,000 cubic feet and over	1.35	.025

(2) Allowances based on the deadweight capacity. If the sum of all the refrigerated compartments of the vessel, exclusive of the refrigerated space ordinarily required for the vessel's stores, exceeds 5,000 cubic feet, there shall be added to the service rates provided in §§ 302.103 (c) and 302.104 (c), 5% of the applicable rate where said refrigerated capacity is between 5,000 and 9,999 cubic feet, and 10% of said rate where said refrigerated capacity is 10,000 cubic feet or over.

(c) Penalty for a vessel of substandard condition. For any marked deviation from the standard conditions required of vessels as provided in the charter forms mentioned in § 302.102 (a) of this order, penalties, in such amounts as the Administrator shall determine, shall be deducted from the values and rates of hire. This provision shall apply in all cases to a bareboat chartered vessel that is, or was, delivered in a "where is, as is" condition rather than in the standard condition required under said charter forms, unless otherwise specially agreed.

(d) Special equipment. For any special equipment of material utility in the handling of cargo or utilization of the vessel, not otherwise compensated for, if the depreciated reproduction cost less construction subsidy, if any, of such special equipment is in excess of $50,000.00, there shall be added to the basic rate of bareboat charter hire and to the value an allowance in such amount as the Administrator shall determine.

(e) Government installations. The owner shall not be entitled to receive additional compensation for either use or value as provided by this Order for any special installations or equipment the cost of which was borne by the United States.

(f) Adjustments for arming and degaussing, etc. Time lost in partially or entirely arming, degaussing or demagnetizing any vessel at any time prior to delivery to the Government and not previously compensated for by the Government shall be compensated for under the charter tendered and executed on one of the forms mentioned in § 302.102 (a) of this order. Such compensation shall be computed on the basis of the applicable rate of bareboat charter hire established by this order plus the owner's fair and reasonable expenses as determined by the Comptroller, War Shipping Administration, after audit, and shall constitute additional charter hire earned upon delivery and acceptance of the vessel under such charter. Time lost shall be determined in accordance with regulations to be issued by the Administration. The compensation provided in this paragraph (f) of this section shall not apply where the arming, degaussing, or demagnetizing was done prior to the delivery of the vessel by the builder to the owner.

§ 302.109 Definitions—(a) Date vessel is built. The date a vessel is built is the date upon which the vessel is delivered by the shipbuilder.

(b) Deadweight tonnage. The deadweight tonnage of a vessel shall be computed in the manner provided in the applicable charter.

(c) Speed of vessel. The speed of a vessel means the speed as stipulated by the Administrator, who may require the owners to file certificates of speed pursuant to Sections 302.44 to 302.48, inclusive, of General Order 10, Supp. 2.

(d) Passenger vessel. A passenger vessel is a vessel which was constructed or materially reconditioned prior to December 7, 1941, to accommodate at least fifty passengers.

(e) Specially ventilated vessel. A specially ventilated vessel is a vessel specially fitted with deck gratings, and hull battens or sheathing, and with heating equipment sufficient to maintain inside temperature of 50° when outside temperature is 20°.

§ 302.110 Operation of provisions of this order. No provision of this order shall apply so as to provide a higher value or more aggregate charter hire for a vessel coming within a given tonnage subdivision than the minimum value or minimum aggregate charter hire for a vessel substantially similar but coming within the next higher tonnage subdivision.

§ 302.111 Vessels subject to section 902 (b) of the Merchant Marine Act, 1936. Wherever a vessel is subject to section 902 (b) of the Merchant Marine Act, 1936, as amended, the provisions of section 802 of said Act shall apply and control in the determination of values with respect to risks insured or assumed by the War Shipping Administration, notwithstanding any contrary provisions of this order.

§ 302.112 The Administrator may modify this order. The Administrator reserves the right to exempt specific vessels from the scope of this General Order 37, or to amend, modify, or terminate said order, but no such action shall apply to any charter (mentioned in § 302.102 (a) of this order) tendered and executed prior to the date of any such action except where such action is in conformity with the provisions of the applicable charter.

§ 302.113 Effective date and supersession of previous orders. This General Order 37 shall become effective, (a) insofar as it provides rates of charter hire, as of the effective dates of the applicable charters executed on one of the forms mentioned in § 302.102 (a) of this order, and (b) insofar as it provides values, as of Noon E. W. T. April 20, 1944 and, as of such effective dates, General Orders 8, 9, and 10, and all supplements and amendments to such orders, shall be superseded insofar as values or rates are determined in accordance with the provisions of this order; Provided, however, That the values shall be applicable for the purpose of establishing insurance valuations under Form No. 1 and Form No. 3 attached to the notice of "Revised Program of Ship Requisition, Charter and Operation" dated November 24, 1943, and published in the FEDERAL REGISTER of November 27, 1943, from the earliest effective dates permissible in conformity with Paragraph Fourth of each such form, and the rates of bareboat charter hire described in this order shall be effective as of January 1, 1944, with respect to redeterminations of the rates effected by said notice of November 24, 1943.

[Docket No. G-533]

NORTHERN NATURAL GAS CO.

NOTICE OF APPLICATION

APRIL 6, 1944.

Notice is hereby given that on March 24, 1944, Northern Natural Gas Company (hereinafter referred to as "Applicant") filed with the Federal Power Commission an application seeking authority under section 7 of the Natural Gas Act, as amended, to construct and operate approximately 0.7 mile of 4½-inch pipe line extending in a northerly direction from a point on Applicant's 10-inch Ames lateral line to a measuring station to be constructed near the city limits of Boone, Iowa. The application also requests authority to construct and operate the aforesaid measuring station.

Applicant states that the proposed facilities will enable it to deliver increased volumes of natural gas to Iowa Electric Light and Power Company pursuant to an existing contract between the parties. Applicant further states that "the proposed construction will enable the Iowa Electric Light and Power Company to use natural gas as boiler fuel during the summer months and at such other times as gas is available for delivery to this customer, thereby releasing approximately 40,000 tons of coal, and the transportation thereof, which would otherwise be required during such period."

Any person desiring to be heard or to make any protest with reference to this application should, on or before April 22, 1944, file with the Federal Power Commission a petition or protest in accordance with the rules of practice and regulations of the Commission.

NORTHERN NATURAL GAS CO.

NOTICE OF APPLICATION

APRIL 6, 1944.

Notice is hereby given that on March 29, 1944, Northern Natural Gas Company (hereinafter referred to as "applicant") filed with the Federal Power Commission an application seeking authority under section 7 of the Natural Gas Act, as amended, to construct and operate a 5200-horsepower natural gas compressor station to be located in Beaver County, Oklahoma, on applicant's 24-inch main transmission pipeline, and an additional 1000-horsepower unit in applicant's existing Skellytown compressor station in Carson County, Texas.

The applicant states that the proposed facilities are required to maintain its present system capacity by increasing its deliveries of gas from the Texas Panhandle field and thereby offsetting a reduction in its withdrawals of gas from the rapidly depleting Otis or Rush County, Kansas, gas field.

Any person desiring to be heard or to make any protest with reference to this application should, on or before April 22, 1944, file with the Federal Power Commission a petition or protest in accordance with the Rules of Practice and Regulations of the Commission.

The Acting Secretary of the Navy having by order dated 1 October, 1942 (7 F.R. 7979), waived compliance with the Navigation and Vessel Inspection laws administered by the United States Coast Guard, in the case of any vessel engaged in business connected with the conduct of the war to the extent and in the manner that the Commandant, United States Coast Guard, shall find to be necessary in the conduct of the war; and

It appearing upon investigation that the efficient prosecution of the war would be impeded by the application to ocean and coastwise vessels of certain navigation and vessel inspection laws and regulations issued thereunder which require the posting of forms, notices, and other documents under glass in said vessels;

Now therefore, I hereby find it to be necessary in the conduct of the war that there be waived compliance with the Navigation and Vessel Inspection laws and the regulations issued thereunder administered by the United States Coast Guard, in the case of any vessel engaged in business connected with the conduct of the war, to the following extent and in the following manner:

To the extent necessary to dispense with the requirements of any navigation and vessel inspection law or regulation issued thereunder applicable to ocean and coastwise vessels and administered by the United States Coast Guard requiring the posting of forms, notices, or other documents under glass.

Nothing contained herein shall be construed to effectuate waiver of compliance with any law or regulation requiring the posting of forms, notices, and other documents on ocean and coastwise vessels, except to the extent of waiving compliance with the requirement of posting under glass. Nothing herein contained shall be construed to impair or limit the waiver order of the Secretary of the Navy of 21 March, 1942 (7 F.R. 2477), with respect to compliance with R. S. 4446 (46 U.S.C. 232).

Dated April 6, 1944.

PART 1220—FEED

SET ASIDE REQUIREMENTS FOR PROCESSORS OF OILSEED FOR MAY, 1944

Pursuant to the authority vested in me by Food Production Order No. 9, Revision No. 3 (8 F.R. 16960), issued on December 18, 1943, and to effectuate the purposes of such order pertaining to set aside requirements for oilseed meal produced by processors, and to secure an equitable distribution of such oilseed meal, it is hereby ordered, that:

§ 1220.10 Set aside requirements for processors of oilseed for May 1944—(a) Amount to be set aside. Each processor shall set aside at each processing plant operated by him 20 percent of his production of cottonseed, soybean, linseed and peanut oil meal, cake or pellets (hereinafter called "oilseed meal"), during May 1944. The amount of production upon which the quantity of oilseed meal set aside is based shall not include any oilseed meal produced for the Commodity Credit Corporation under the provisions of contracts designated "CCC Soybean Form 106, 1943 Crop," and this order shall not apply to oilseed meal produced under such contracts.

(b) Sale and delivery of oilseed meal set aside. (1) Oilseed meal set aside pursuant to this Order shall not be sold or delivered by any processor except to a buyer named in a Certificate of Designated Buyer issued by the Agricultural Conservation Committee for the State or county in which the buyer's farm or establishment is located or by the Chief of the Feed and Livestock Branch, Office of Production, War Food Administration. The certificate shall be in substantially the following form:

(2) Agricultural Conservation Committees may commence issuing Certificates of Designated Buyers pursuant to this order during April 1944, and processors may commence delivery of oilseed meal pursuant to such certificates during April 1944. A processor shall be entitled to credit such deliveries made in April 1944 against the quantity of oilseed meal which he is required to set aside in May 1944, if he makes the report provided for in paragraph (d) (1) hereof.

(3) Shipment of any oilseed meal, set aside pursuant to this order must be made by a processor within twelve days of the receipt of any such certificate.

(4) The original and the processor's copy of appropriately executed certificates shall be sent by the person responsible for their issuance directly to the processor and a copy shall be sent to the designated buyer. The designated buyer and the processor shall arrange the details of transfer of materials designated on the certificate, using such intermediary parties as the processor may designate. The processor who delivers such oilseed meal pursuant to a certificate shall file such certificate as required under the provisions of paragraph (d) (2).

(5) No processor shall be required to honor a Certificate of Designated Buyer unless the designated buyer furnishes the processor or his agent, before midnight of May 20, 1944, with (1) shipping instructions, and, in the case of designated buyers other than feeders, (2) the statement required by paragraph (h) of Food Production Order No. 9, Revision No. 3. (f) Alternate method of calculating quotas. As an alternate method of calculating quarterly quotas for any converted product, any person may, after the filing of a notice in writing with the War Production Board, elect to apply the percentages established by paragraphs (d) and (e) (1) of this order to one fourth of his total yearly consumption of pulp, paper and paperboard in such product during 1942. When such election has been made and the required notice in writing has been given to the War Production Board, the method of determining quotas may not thereafter be changed.

In case of doubt he may apply to the War Production Board in writing describing the product in question, for a specific ruling determining whether or not the same is so included. The War Production Board may of its own motion in any case, by telegram or letter, issue a specific ruling determining whether or not a particular product of a particular converter is so included.

(h) Inventory restrictions.

(1) [Deleted Apr. 8, 1944]

(2) No person shall knowingly deliver to any converter and no converter shall accept delivery of, any quantity of any grade of pulp, paper or paperboard if the inventory of such grade in the hands of the converter accepting delivery is, or will by virtue of such acceptance become, either

INTERPRETATION 1

WAXED PAPER CONVERSION

"Waxed and oiled paper, all types and grades other than household packages, excluding waxed paper wrappings for direct war use as provided in List A," as that caption appears in List B of General Conservation Order M-241-a, applies to all the kinds of paper so described regardless of whether produced as a result of a separate converting operation, as is commonly the case, or produced as a result of having been oiled or waxed on the paper machine. For the purpose of this order control has been placed on the end product. The method employed in consuming paper in the manufacture of the end product is not a factor of consideration in determining the applicability of the order. (Issued Feb. 15, 1944.)

RETAIL UNITS

This interpretation of General Conservation Order M-241-a applies to the consumption of paper in the manufacture of retail units of wrapping and other papers as dispensed through the variety chain stores, the department stores, the stationery stores and all other retail outlets. These retail units are regarded as within the definition of a "converted product" in Order M-241-a and therefore subject to the restrictions contained in paragraphs (d) or (e) of the order.

All grades and kinds of paper, plain or printed, when converted into retail units for wrapping purposes are subject to the order, although the percentage restriction on consumption need not be separately applied to each of the grades and kinds of paper

Since retail units are regarded as a separate and distinct type of "converted product," it is obvious that tonnage from other products cannot be included when calculating a quota for retail units.

Plain wrapping tissue purchased in quires, or flat, when subsequently folded and labeled or otherwise packaged, is deemed to be a retail unit and therefore restricted by paragraph (e).

Quota tonnage which has not been consumed at the end of a calendar quarter may not be carried over to the succeeding calendar quarter. (Issued Feb. 15, 1944.)

PART 3290—TEXTILE, CLOTHING AND LEATHER

[General Conservation Order M-317,[1] as Amended Apr. 8, 1944]

COTTON TEXTILE DISTRIBUTION

§ 3290.115 General Conservation Order M-317—(a) Definitions. In this order:

(1) "Cotton textiles" means the following products, containing more than 50% by weight of cotton or cotton waste, or a combination of the two:

(i) Woven fabrics, whether gray, original mill or regular finish, bleached, dyed or printed, and the following cotton products: bedsheets, pillow cases, blankets, towels, diapers, face cloths and table "linens"; and

(ii) Yarns, whether gray, bleached, colored, mercerized, glazed, polished, single, plied, cabled or braided, including thread, twines and cordage (e. g. tying, sail, seine, etc. twine, rope, sash, cord, etc.) and including any of the foregoing which may be spun on roving, ring, mule or converted twister spindles.

"Cotton textiles" does not include cotton duck as defined in Conservation Order M-91; or blankets containing 25 percent or more by weight of wool; or fabrics (other than blankets) or yarns, containing wool and produced on the woolen or worsted system.

(2) (i) "Producer" means any manufacturer who makes cotton textiles in the United States.

(ii) "Intermediate processor" means tiles for his own use in the United States in any business, industry, profession or occupation.

(vi) Any person who performs the functions of more than one of the foregoing—regardless of his customary manner of conducting his business—shall, for the purpose of the following be deemed a separate person with respect to each of those capacities, and he is required to:

(a) Accept rated orders for cotton textiles in preference to any other contracts, orders or uses even though he has not in the past accepted or filled orders for that particular cotton textile, and also to fill them in accordance with the rules of Priorities Regulation No. 1;

(b) Use the ratings assigned by this order; and

(c) Apply the inventory restrictions of this order.

(vii) The definitions in subdivisions (i) to (v) above do not include the United States Army, Navy, Maritime Commission or War Shipping Administration.

(3) Trade terms used in this order shall have their usual trade significance unless otherwise specified.

(b) Assignment of ratings.[2] The preference ratings specified in the Preference Rating Schedules of this order are assigned to the persons in Column I for the cotton textiles in Column II to be used only as specified in Column III. The revocation of any rating and its effect is stated in the appropriate group of the Preference Rating Schedules.

(c) Compulsory use of ratings assigned in schedules or by Form WPB-2842. No intermediate processor, processor or merchant (except a retailer) shall purchase or accept delivery of a cotton textile for a purpose for which a rating for that cotton textile is assigned to him in a Preference Rating Schedule, unless he has applied or extended that rating or a rating assigned on Form WPB-2842. He may not purchase that cotton textile for the specified purpose with any other rating which he may have (whether higher or lower), nor may he purchase it without a rating for that purpose. The provisions of this paragraph do not apply to purchases for delivery or ultimate delivery to, or for incorporation into any product for delivery or ultimate delivery to, the United States Army,

This interpretation of General Conservation Order M-241-a applies to the consumption of paper in the manufacture of retail units of wrapping and other papers as dispensed through the variety chain stores, the department stores, the stationery stores and all other retail outlets. These retail units are regarded as within the definition of a "converted product" in Order M-241-a and therefore subject to the restrictions contained in paragraphs (d) or (e) of the order.

All grades and kinds of paper, plain or printed, when converted into retail units for wrapping purposes are subject to the order, although the percentage restriction on consumption need not be separately applied to each of the grades and kinds of paper consumed during the base period. It is permitted to calculate an aggregate quota and to consume any grade or kind of paper, plain or printed, within the quota without regard to the maintenance of the same relationship of grade and kind that prevailed during the base period.

Any person who did not consume paper during the base period of the order in the conversion of such retail units of wrapping and other papers has no basis from which to calculate a quota and, therefore, cannot become a converter.

There is a distinction in the instance of printed wrapping paper as follows:

1. When printed wrapping paper is delivered by the printer in bulk form (not packaged) for further sale or further distribution the printer is the "converter" as defined in the order, and, therefore, subject to the restrictions of paragraph (e); but,

2. If the printer delivers the printed wrapping paper to a person for subsequent conversion into retail units, the final converter is the one subject to the restrictions of paragraph (e) and not the printer.

Since retail units are regarded as a separate and distinct type of "converted product," it is obvious that tonnage from other products cannot be included when calculating a quota for retail units.

Plain wrapping tissue purchased in quires, or flat, when subsequently folded and labeled or otherwise packaged, is deemed to be a retail unit and therefore restricted by paragraph (e).

Quota tonnage which has not been consumed at the end of a calendar quarter may not be carried over to the succeeding calendar quarter. (Issued Feb. 15, 1944.)

PART 3290—TEXTILE, CLOTHING AND LEATHER

[General Conservation Order M-317,[1] as Amended Apr. 8, 1944]

COTTON TEXTILE DISTRIBUTION

§ 3290.115 General Conservation Order M-317—(a) Definitions. In this order:

(1) "Cotton textiles" means the following products, containing more than 50% by weight of cotton or cotton waste, or a combination of the two:

(i) Woven fabrics, whether gray, original mill or regular finish, bleached, dyed or printed, and the following cotton products: bedsheets, pillow cases, blankets, towels, diapers, face cloths and table "linens"; and

(ii) Yarns, whether gray, bleached, colored, mercerized, glazed, polished, single, plied, cabled or braided, including thread, twines and cordage (e. g. tying, sail, seine, etc. twine, rope, sash, cord, etc.) and including any of the foregoing which may be spun on roving, ring, mule or converted twister spindles.

"Cotton textiles" does not include cotton duck as defined in Conservation Order M-91; or blankets containing 25 percent or more by weight of wool; or fabrics (other than blankets) or yarns, containing wool and produced on the woolen or worsted system.

(2) (i) "Producer" means any manufacturer who makes cotton textiles in the United States.

(ii) "Intermediate processor" means any person engaged in the United States in the business of bleaching, dyeing or otherwise finishing cotton textiles and delivering or using them in the United States for his own account in the bleached or otherwise finished state.

(iii) "Processor" means any person engaged in the United States in the business of manufacturing or having manufactured in the United States for his account, any product in which cotton textiles are incorporated.

(iv) "Merchant" means any person engaged in the United States in the business of purchasing cotton textiles for resale in the United States in the form in which purchased.

(v) "User" means any person other than a producer, intermediate processor or processor, who purchases cotton textiles for his own use in the United States in any business, industry, profession or occupation.

(vi) Any person who performs the functions of more than one of the foregoing—regardless of his customary manner of conducting his business—shall, for the purpose of the following be deemed a separate person with respect to each of those capacities, and he is required to:

(a) Accept rated orders for cotton textiles in preference to any other contracts, orders or uses even though he has not in the past accepted or filled orders for that particular cotton textile, and also to fill them in accordance with the rules of Priorities Regulation No. 1;

(b) Use the ratings assigned by this order; and

(c) Apply the inventory restrictions of this order.

(vii) The definitions in subdivisions (i) to (v) above do not include the United States Army, Navy, Maritime Commission or War Shipping Administration.

(3) Trade terms used in this order shall have their usual trade significance unless otherwise specified.

(b) Assignment of ratings.[2] The preference ratings specified in the Preference Rating Schedules of this order are assigned to the persons in Column I for the cotton textiles in Column II to be used only as specified in Column III. The revocation of any rating and its effect is stated in the appropriate group of the Preference Rating Schedules.

(c) Compulsory use of ratings assigned in schedules or by Form WPB-2842. No intermediate processor, processor or merchant (except a retailer) shall purchase or accept delivery of a cotton textile for a purpose for which a rating for that cotton textile is assigned to him in a Preference Rating Schedule, unless he has applied or extended that rating or a rating assigned on Form WPB-2842. He may not purchase that cotton textile for the specified purpose with any other rating which he may have (whether higher or lower), nor may he purchase it without a rating for that purpose. The provisions of this paragraph do not apply to purchases for delivery or ultimate delivery to, or for incorporation into any product for delivery or ultimate delivery to, the United States Army, Navy, Maritime Commission or War Shipping Administration, nor do they prohibit the use of an AAA rating.

This rule does not change the rating on the finished product. For example, even though a manufacturer (processor), who is given a rating, according to the AA-2X Preference Rating Schedule, to obtain twills to make coated abrasive products, holds an AA-1 order for coated abrasive products, he must use the AA-2X rating given by the schedule to obtain the twills, and may not use the AA-1 rating for this purpose. The AA-1 rating, however, remains applicable to the finished coated abrasive product for all other purposes (such as to determine the sequence of deliveries).

[1] Limitation Order L-99 relates to cotton textile production.

[2] Conservation Order M-328 permits other preference ratings, as well as those assigned by this order, and imposes conditions on the use of all ratings for cotton textiles.

(d) How ratings for cotton textiles are to be applied or extended. Preference ratings shall be applied and extended as provided in Priorities Regulation 3. In addition, the provisions of subparagraph (1) below shall be followed in the case of products which are to be exported in the form of cotton textiles, and the provisions of subparagraph (2) below are to be followed when cotton textiles are not to be exported.

(1) Cotton textiles for export. Except where the cotton textile is for direct or ultimate delivery to, or for incorporation into any product for delivery or ultimate delivery to, the United States Army, Navy, Maritime Commission or War Shipping Administration, the purchaser shall place upon the purchase order an appropriate notation (with the blanks properly filled in), substantially as follows:

These cotton textiles will be exported, or will replace in inventory cotton textiles exported after December 24, 1943.

And also one of the following statements is to be made:

The preference rating was applied by the United States Treasury Procurement Division in connection with contract number ---------- [In, the case of United States Treasury Procurement for Foreign Economic Administration];

The preference rating was applied in connection with Export License number---------, or Release Certificate number---------- [In the case of export in connection with licenses or release certificates issued by Foreign Economic Administration]

or

The preference rating was applied in connection with the Canadian Cotton Administrator's serial number ---------- [In the case of exports to Canada.]

(This notation is to be used when the rating is for the export of a cotton textile, in the form of cotton textile as defined in this order. When this is done the requirements of M-328 are met and it is unnecessary to use any other notation.)

(2) Cotton textiles for domestic use. A person (other than the United States Army, Navy, Maritime Commission or War Shipping Administration on their direct purchase orders), applying or extending a rating for a cotton textile, which was assigned by a Preference Rating Schedule or under a War Production Board form, shall place upon the purchase order an appropriate notation, substantially as follows:

This rating has been assigned by M-317, Group(s) No. ---------- [Insert applicable group number or numbers of Preference Rating Schedule.]

or

This rating has been assigned under Form WPB ----------, Serial No. ---------- [Insert the War Production Board form number and its serial number.]

(This notation is to be used when the rating for a cotton textile, as defined in this order, is assigned by a Preference Rating Schedule or a War Production Board form. When this is done the requirements of M-328 are met and it is unnecessary to use any other notation.)

The standard certification described in Priorities Regulation 7 may be used in applying or extending the rating, but the specific notation of subparagraph (1) or (2) above must be added.

(e) Restrictions on extension of rating to obtain fiber or yarn. (1) No person shall use any preference rating which was assigned, applied or extended for cotton textiles in order to obtain any synthetic fiber or synthetic yarn, except cotton textiles for direct or ultimate delivery to, or for incorporation into any product for direct or ultimate delivery to, the United States Army, Navy, Maritime Commission or War Shipping Administration.

(2) No person shall use any preference rating which was assigned, applied or extended for knitted or woven fabrics, in order to obtain cotton yarns defined in paragraph (a) (1) (ii). If he does not own or control spinning machinery, he may use the rating to obtain cotton yarns for incorporation into products for direct or ultimate delivery to the United States Army, Navy, Maritime Commission or War Shipping Administration. If he does own or control spinning machinery, upon his showing on Form WPB-2842 the extent to which it is insufficient or unsuitable to produce cotton yarns required for incorporation into products for direct or ultimate delivery to the United States Army, Navy, Maritime Commission or War Shipping Administration, the War Production Board may authorize him to use that rating to obtain a specific quantity of cotton yarns for that purpose.

(3) No person owning or controlling spinning machinery shall use any preference rating which was assigned, applied or extended for yarn, in order to obtain cotton yarns defined in paragraph (a) (1) (ii), except to the extent authorized by the War Production Board, upon his showing, on Form WPB-2842, that his own spinning is insufficient or unsuitable to fill that yarn order.

(f) Obligations in respect of rated orders. (1) Each producer—even if he is also an intermediate processor, processor, merchant or user—shall, in each calendar quarter, deliver or set aside for later delivery on rated orders those percentages of his total production (in pounds or yards according to his usual method of operation) of each cotton textile as specified in the Distribution Schedules of this order.

(2) No producer shall be required to fill rated orders in excess of the percentage of his production of each cotton textile as specified in the Distribution Schedules, computed by calendar quarters.

(3) The War Production Board may establish other percentages with respect to any of the cotton textiles listed in the Distribution Schedules.

(4) No person shall be required to accept any rated order for cotton textiles calling for delivery more than 90 days after the receipt of the order, except from the United States Army, Navy, Maritime Commission or War Shipping Administration.

(g) Special conditions. No producer, intermediate processor, processor, merchant or user shall sell, deliver, buy, accept or use a cotton textile or any product containing a cotton textile or assign, apply or extend a preference rating contrary to the provisions in Column III of a Preference Rating Schedule or in Column VI of a Distribution Schedule of this order.

(h) Exports. No person shall purchase for export without a preference rating any of the cotton fabrics defined in paragraph (a) (1) (i), except woven or braided fabrics 12 inches or less wide; and rags (pieces shorter than two yards commonly sold by the pound).

(i) Inventory restrictions. No person shall accept delivery of any cotton textiles if his aggregate inventory exceeds or would then exceed the lesser of (1) a practicable minimum working inventory, or (2) his requirements for 90 days (except in the case of merchants and users of cotton textiles used in crop cultivation).

In computing inventory include products in process of manufacture but exclude cotton textiles in transit or in process of conversion.

(j) Allocation. The War Production Board may assign preference ratings for or allocate and direct deliveries of cotton textiles pursuant to application on Form WPB-2842.

(k) Applicability of regulations. Except as otherwise provided herein, this order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to all applicable regulations of the War Production Board.

(l) Appeals. Any appeal from the provisions of this order shall be made by filing a letter in triplicate, referring to the particular provisions appealed from, and stating fully the grounds of the appeal.

(m) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using material under priorities control, and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(n) Communications. All reports to be filed, appeals and other communications concerning this order should be addressed to: War Production Board, Textile, Clothing and Leather Bureau, Washington 25, D. C., Ref.: M-317.

Issued this 8th day of April 1944.

DISTRIBUTION SCHEDULE—COTTON YARNS, CORDAGE AND TWINE

(Schedule amended Apr. 8, 1944.)

Column I indicates the corresponding item numbers of the various cotton textiles in this Schedule as each appears on Form WPB-656E (12-15-43).

Column II shows the cotton textiles covered by this schedule. The calendar quarter in 1943 in which a producer sold the largest percentage of his yarn production is his base period. Each producer must make available for distribution in accordance with the Distribution Schedule in each calendar quarter the same percentage of his yarn production as he sold in his base period. This yarn is called "sale yarn."

DISTRIBUTION SCHEDULE—FINE COTTON GOODS—Continued

Column IV shows the minimum percentage which must be delivered by the producer against all rated orders. However, where the percentage in Column IV amounts to 100, seconds which are produced in the normal course of manufacture may be disposed of without regard to this provision to the extent that rated orders are not offered.

Column V shows the percentage beyond which rated orders need not be accepted by the producer. Priorities Regulation 1 applies up to that percentage. If receipt of an order which is rated higher than the previously accepted rated order would result in having more rated orders than the Column V

PART 3291—CONSUMERS DURABLE GOODS

FURNITURE AND FURNITURE PARTS

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States, has created a shortage in the supply of wood and other critical materials for defense, for private account and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense.

§ 3291.66 General Limitation Order L-260-a—(a) What this order does. This order governs the manufacture and distribution of furniture. It restricts the use of certain materials in the production of furniture both for civilian use, and for all other uses, including Army, Navy or other Governmental orders.

(b) Definitions. For the purposes of this order:

(1) The term "manufacturer" means any person who makes, assembles, finishes or upholsters any new furniture.

(2) "Furniture" as used in this order means all articles commonly known as furniture including, but not limited to, products shown on List I, but not including products shown on List II.

(3) "Wood" means furniture parts and all sawed lumber including round edge, of any size or grade, whether rough, dressed on one or more sides or edges, dressed and matched, shiplapped, worked to pattern, or grooved for splines. The term does not include veneer and all veneer constructed plywood, whether produced or purchased by a manufacturer. Neither does it include slabs, edgings, trims and off-falls less than 3 inches wide or less than 4 feet long when purchased in such form.

(4) "Veneer" means, for the purpose of this order and only for the purpose of this order, a layer of wood ⅜ inches or less in thickness whether sawn, sliced or rotary cut.

(5) "Furniture parts" as used in this order means parts, unassembled or assembled, intended for use in the production of furniture, including but not limited to, dimension parts whether or not cut to size, machined or partially machined, carvings, turnings, venetian blind slats, moldings, lumber cores used or purchased as such or in the form of plywood.

(6) "Pattern" means any piece of furniture, whether or not containing wood as defined in paragraph (b) (3), having its own identification mark and selling price, except that for the purpose of this order, two or more pieces of furniture identical in every respect other than color, finishing material, fabric, leather or other outer covering or cover, species of wood or veneer, spring construction, content of metal parts or method of joining shall be considered one pattern, whether or not they have the same selling price. A suite of furniture of two or more different pieces shall constitute two or more patterns.

(7) "Upholstery springs" means any type of spring, intended for use in upholstered furniture, whether flat, coiled or otherwise formed, made of metal, including but not limited to, upholsterer's seat springs, spring cushion units, pillow springs, flat or formed under-constructions, spring constructions, spring supporting bars, edgewire and edgewire clips.

(8) "Upholstered furniture" means padded furniture whether or not containing upholstery springs.

(c) Restrictions on use of wood. During any calendar quarter, no manufacturer shall use in the manufacture and crating of furniture more than 21% of the amount of wood which he used for these combined purposes in the calendar year 1943. Use of wood shall be measured in board feet, and wood shall be considered used in the quarter in which it is first changed from the form in which it was received or is first assembled, finished or upholstered. In computing the amount of wood used in items such as furniture parts or as assembled furniture, bought otherwise than by gross board-foot measurement, a manufacturer may convert it to board feet by any reasonable and consistent method.

(d) Restrictions on receipt of wood. No manufacturer shall accept any delivery of wood, which, added to all inventory on hand, including wood in dry kilns, will give him a supply greater than:

(1) 42% of the amount of wood (which requires kiln or air drying prior to use) consumed by him in the production of furniture in 1943.

(2) 21% of the amount of other wood, consumed by him in the production of furniture in 1943.

(e) Restrictions on patterns. (1) Until June 1st, no manufacturer shall at any one time be engaged in processing, fabricating, assembling or offering for sale in combined total more than 35% of the total number of patterns of furniture offered for sale by him during the month of September, 1941, or 24 patterns, whichever is greater.

(2) On and after June 1, 1944, no manufacturer shall at any one time be engaged in processing, fabricating, assembling or offering for sale in combined total more than 25% of the total number of patterns of furniture offered for sale by him during the month of September, 1941, or 24 patterns, whichever is greater.

(3) No manufacturer shall produce or offer for sale any pattern of furniture which had not been offered for sale by him prior to March 15, 1943, or any pattern which has not been specifically authorized in writing by the War Production Board.

(4) Request for specific authorization to make a change in patterns should be made by letter addressed to the War Production Board, Washington, 25, D. C., Ref: L-260-a.

(5) The provisions of this paragraph (e) do not apply to the manufacture of the following: (i) venetian blinds; (ii) furniture to fill any order, contract or subcontract placed by or for the account of the Army or Navy of the United States, the United States Maritime Commission, the War Shipping Administration, or the Federal Public Housing Authority.

(f) Restrictions on the use of metal. (1) No manufacturer shall use in the production of upholstered furniture in any calendar quarter more metal upholstery springs than 12½% by weight of the total weight of metal upholstery springs used by him in the year 1941.

(2) No manufacturer shall use in the production of furniture any steel sheet or strip which is 12 inches or more in width.

(g) Small manufacturers excluded. This order does not apply to any manufacturer in any quarter in which his sales of furniture are less than $5,000.00 provided that his sales did not exceed $20,000.00 in any of the years 1941, 1942, or 1943.

(h) Equitable distribution to retailers. It is the policy of the War Production Board that furniture not required to fill rated orders be distributed equitably to retailers giving due regard to established trade connections and also to the needs of dealers whose usual supplies have been cut off and diverted, and to the increased needs of certain areas caused by war conditions. If voluntary compliance with this policy is not found to be sufficient, the War Production Board may issue directions with respect to sales to specified outlets or to outlets in specified areas.

(i) Finished item deliveries. No person shall deliver, offer for sale, or accept delivery of any furniture or furniture part which he knows or has reason to believe was made, assembled or delivered in violation of this order.

(j) Reports. All persons affected by this order shall execute and file with the War Production Board such reports as the War Production Board may specify from time to time, subject to the approval of the Bureau of the Budget pursuant to the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

(k) Appeals. Any appeal from this order should be made on Form WPB-1477 (formerly PD-500) and should be filed with the field office of the War Production Board for the district in which is located the plant to which the appeal relates.

(l) Applicability of regulations. This order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to all applicable provisions of the regulations of the War Production Board, as amended from time to time.

(m) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States, is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

PART 3175—REGULATIONS APPLICABLE TO THE CONTROLLED MATERIALS PLAN

INCREASED QUOTAS FOR SEASONAL BUSINESSES

The following interpretation is issued with respect to CMP Regulation 5:

(a) Paragraph (f) (4) of CMP Regulation No. 5 as amended on February 26, 1944, permits the use of a specific quota authorization as an increased quota for all following quarters. Thus if a particular company's quota has been increased by specific authorization during the fourth quarter of 1943 from $100,000 to $125,000 the company has a quota for each succeeding quarter of $125,000.

(b) In the case of a person operating under a seasonal quota under paragraph (f) (2), his quarterly quota varies from quarter to quarter based on the similiar quarter of 1942. Consequently, when a seasonal quota has been increased by specific authorization for any one quarter, that increase does not increase all succeeding quarters, but may only be used as an increased quota during the same quarter of the following year. Thus if a company operating on a seasonal basis had a quota during the third quarter of 1943 of $10,000, and during the fourth quarter of 1943 of $50,000 and received an increase of the fourth quarter's quota from $50,000 to $60,000, its quota for the third quarter of 1944 would remain at $10,000, although its fourth quarter quota of 1944 would become $60,000.

(c) Where a company has received succeeding special authorizations increasing a quota, and where it is not on a seasonal basis, the last special authorization determines the company's quota during each following quarter.

PART 3285—LUMBER AND LUMBER PRODUCTS

[Order L-335, as Amended Apr. 6, 1944 [1]]

LUMBER CONSUMERS' REQUIREMENTS

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply of lumber for defense, for private account and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

§ 3285.121 Order L-335—(a) What this order does. This order requires large consumers of lumber to file application with the War Production Board stating their requirements for the second and third quarters of 1944 and prohibits them from receiving lumber after April 25, 1944, unless they file their applications. These applications will be used by the War Production Board as a basis for authorizing the applicants to receive lumber, during part of the second and all of the third quarters, under procedures which will replace existing procedures under other orders. These procedures will be described in a later revision of this order.

(b) Definitions. For the purposes of this order:

(1) "Lumber" means any sawed or hewed railway cross ties and switch ties, and any sawed lumber of any species, size or grade including round edge, rough, dressed on one or more sides or edges, dressed and matched, shiplapped, worked to pattern, or grooved for splines, except:

(i) Dogwood, rattan, and aircraft grade of sitka spruce;

(ii) Shingles, lath, and slabs;

(iii) Edging, trim, and off-fall less than three inches wide or less than four feet long, unless produced for the purpose of evading this order;

(iv) Hardwood flooring;

(v) Items produced from lumber but not classified in the trade as "lumber" such as box shook, last blocks, and mill work;

(vi) Used lumber.

(2) "Class I Consumer" means any person or any part of a person's operation (such as a plant, branch, or department) as to which a separate lumber inventory is regularly maintained, which either received more than 50,000 board feet of lumber during the last quarter of 1943 or expects that he will need to receive more than 50,000 board feet of lumber during either the second or third quarters of 1944, for all purposes, except: (i) operations for which producers have been assigned serial numbers under Order P-56 (regarding mines and smelters); (ii) operations directly incident to the discovery, development, or depletion of a petroleum pool as authorized by Petroleum Administrative Order 11; (iii) resale by a sawmill or distributor; (iv) use outside the 48 states and the District of Columbia; and (v) construction jobs which have been expressly authorized by the War Production Board or by any other Federal agency whose authorization makes it unnecessary to get permission from the War Production Board for construction. This exception does not include those construction jobs which do not require the permission of the War Production Board or any Federal agency under Order L-41. If a person has two or more branches, plants, departments, or other divisions which regularly maintain separate lumber inventories and none of which comes within the above definition, then neither the person nor any of its divisions is a "Class I Consumer". Thus, if a company has two plants maintaining separate lumber inventories each of which consumed less than 50,000 board feet of lumber in the last quarter of 1943 and expects to consume less than 50,000 in each the second or third quarter of 1944 then neither of the plants nor the company is a "Class I Consumer". If either plant consumed over 50,000 board feet of lumber during the last quarter of 1943 or expects to consume more than 50,000 board feet of lumber during either the second or third quarter of 1944, such plant would be treated as a separate "Class I Consumer" for all purposes under this order. Inventories may not be split for the purpose of evading this order.

(3) "Sawmill" means:

(i) Any mill or plant, stationary or portable, which produces any lumber; and,

(ii) Any concentration yard or plant other than a mill if the yard or plant is located in a producing area and processes by drying, sawing, edging, planing, or some other comparable method, 25 percent or more of the total volume of logs and lumber which it receives.

(iii) The term "sawmill" does not include any establishment known in the trade as a distribution yard engaged in either retail or wholesale business, even though such a yard may process more than 25 percent of the volume of lumber it receives for the servicing of special orders from customers.

(4) "Sawmill stock" means any lumber in the possession of a "sawmill."

(5) "Distributor" means any person who buys lumber from a "sawmill" or from another distributor for resale either at wholesale or retail.

(6) "Distributor stock" means any lumber which a distributor has in his possession for resale, or for his own use.

(7) "Person" means any individual, partnership, association, business trust, corporation, governmental corporation or agency, or any organized group of persons, whether incorporated or not.

(c) Acceptance of lumber in second quarter without filing application forbidden. No "Class I consumer" may receive any lumber from any source after April 25, 1944 unless on or before April 25, he has filed with the War Production Board form WPB-3640. This means that if a "Class I consumer" does not file application he is forbidden to receive any lumber even though he has a preference rating for it or has been authorized to receive lumber under another order, regulation, or certificate of the War Production Board. The only exceptions are:

(1) A "Class I consumer" may receive the amount of lumber necessary for a construction job which has been authorized in writing by the War Production Board or by any other Federal agency whose authorization makes it unnecessary to get permission for construction from the War Production Board. He may not, under this exception, receive lumber for those construction jobs which do not require the permission of the War Production Board, or any other Federal agency under Order L-41.

(2) A "Class I consumer" who is also in the mining or smelting business may receive lumber for an operation which has been assigned a serial number under Order P-56.

(3) A "Class I consumer" who is also in the petroleum industry may receive lumber for operations directly incident to the discovery, development, or depletion of a petroleum pool as authorized by Petroleum Administrative Order 11.

(4) A "Class I consumer" who also has a sawmill or a distribution yard may receive lumber for resale.

(5) A "Class I consumer" may receive lumber if authorized in writing by the War Production Board and if the written authorization expressly refers to this order and grants an exception from it.

(d) Receipt of lumber by Class I consumers who have filed applications. Until otherwise notified by the War Production Board either through an amendment of this order or by action on his application, a "Class I consumer" who has filed his application may receive lumber to the extent he is authorized by other applicable orders and regulations of the War Production Board, and he may procure lumber under the procedures provided in such orders for delivery at any time in the future until otherwise provided.

(e) Receipts from own sawmill stock or distribution stock included. Under the definitions provided for in this order a person may find that his operations make him both a "sawmill" and a "Class I consumer" or both a "distributor", and a "Class I consumer", or he may be all three. Any person who finds that he is a "Class I consumer" as well as a "distributor" or a "sawmill" must file an application for permission to receive lumber for that part of his operation which makes him a "Class I consumer." For example, if a person has his own sawmill or distribution yard and also maintains his own cut-up plant, box factory or other plant where fabricated products are made from lumber or he uses lumber for purposes other than resale, he must apply for permission to use his "sawmill stock" or "distribution stock" in another piece of machinery, department, or plant which turns out products other than lumber, such as fabricated products or parts for fabricated products either for his own use or resale. The term "fabricated products" includes hardwood flooring but does not include softwood flooring which is included in the definition of lumber.

(f) Existing lumber orders and procedures. This order for the present in no way affects the manner in which lumber is controlled under other lumber orders and particularly orders L-218, L-290, M-361, and M-364. In other words, except for "Class I consumers" all transactions in lumber will continue to be handled as if this order did not exist. Even "Class I consumers" can make purchases and arrange for delivery of lumber in compliance with other applicable orders provided their applications on Form WPB-3640 are filed with the War Production Board by April 25, 1944. Before the end of the second quarter this order will be amended and new procedures will be established under which all consumers will be authorized to receive lumber.

(g) Restrictions on delivery. No person shall sell, ship, or deliver, or cause to be sold, shipped or delivered, any lumber which he knows or has reason to believe will be used in violation of the provisions of this order, or any other order or regulation of the War Production Board.

(h) Reports. Any person shall execute and file with the War Production Board such other reports and questionnaires as the War Production Board may, from time to time, require, subject to the approval of the Bureau of the Budget pursuant to the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

(i) Appeals. Any appeal from the provisions of this order shall be made by mailing a letter to the War Production Board referring to the particular provision appealed from and stating fully the grounds of the appeal.

(j) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States, is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(k) Application and communications. Form WPB-3640 for use in filing applications under this order may be obtained at any War Production Board District Office. All communications, unless otherwise directed, must be addressed as follows: Lumber and Lumber Products Division, War Production Board, Washington 25, D. C., Ref.: L-335.

INCREASED QUOTAS FOR SEASONAL BUSINESSES

The following interpretation is issued with respect to CMP Regulation 5:

(a) Paragraph (f) (4) of CMP Regulation No. 5 as amended on February 26, 1944, permits the use of a specific quota authorization as an increased quota for all following quarters. Thus if a particular company's quota has been increased by specific authorization during the fourth quarter of 1943 from $100,000 to $125,000 the company has a quota for each succeeding quarter of $125,000.

(b) In the case of a person operating under a seasonal quota under paragraph (f) (2), his quarterly quota varies from quarter to quarter based on the similar quarter of 1943. Consequently, when a seasonal quota has been increased by specific authorization for any one quarter, that increase does not increase all succeeding quarters, but may only be used as an increased quota during the same quarter of the following year. Thus if a company operating on a seasonal basis had a quota during the third quarter of 1943 of $10,000, and during the fourth quarter of 1943 of $50,000 and received an increase of the fourth quarter's quota from $50,000 to $60,000, its quota for the third quarter of 1944 would remain at $10,000, although its fourth quarter quota of 1944 would become $50,000.

(c) Where a company has received succeeding special authorizations increasing a quota, and where it is not on a seasonal basis, the last special authorization determines the company's quota during each following quarter.

[Order L-335, as Amended Apr. 6, 1944 [1]]

LUMBER CONSUMERS' REQUIREMENTS

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply of lumber for defense, for private account and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public cedures which will replace existing procedures under other orders. These procedures will be described in a later revision of this order.

(b) Definitions. For the purposes of this order:

(1) "Lumber" means any sawed or hewed railway cross ties and switch ties, and any sawed lumber of any species, size or grade including round edge, rough, dressed on one or more sides or edges, dressed and matched, shiplapped, worked to pattern, or grooved for splines, except:

This exception does not include those construction jobs which do not require feet of lumber during the last quarter of 1943 or expects to consume more than 50,000 board feet of lumber during either the second or third quarter of 1944, such plant would be treated as a separate "Class I Consumer" for all purposes under this order. Inventories may not be split for the purpose of evading this order.

MEAT, FATS, FISH AND CHEESES

A rationale for this amendment has been issued simultaneously herewith and has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Ration Order 16 is amended in the following respects:

1. Section 26.1 (a) is amended to read as follows:

(a) Rendering establishment. Any place at which a "person" processes "household salvage fats" by dry rendering such fats in a closed fat melter or wet rendering such fats in a steam pressure tank to produce tallow, grease, tankage, fatty acids, or detergents is a "rendering establishment".

2. Section 26.4 (a) is amended by substituting the number "15" for the number "20" in the next to the last sentence.

CHARCOAL

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Maximum Price Regulation No. 431 is amended in the following respects:

1. The definition of "Dealer" in section 9 (a) is amended to read as follows:

"Dealer" means a person who purchases charcoal and resells it in substantially the same form, and includes a person who purchases charcoal and grinds it before reselling it, but does not include a person selling at retail.

2. A new definition is added to section 9 (a) between the definition of "Dealer" and "Person" as follows:

"Selling at retail" means selling to an ultimate consumer other than an industrial or commercial user.

6. Appendix A is amended by the insertion of the following immediately after the section headed "General Rules—Peeler Logs".

GENERAL RULES—WOOD LOGS

A log that in the judgment of the Scaler is a Wood Log as defined for the particular species shall be scaled for its net lumber content exclusive of bark, under the following deduction requirements:

Diameters: Take full diameter inside the bark or decayed sap at the top end of the log.

Lengths: Where logs have bucked ends, the standard gross lengths shall be used.

[RMPR 125,[1] Amdt. 4]

NONFERROUS CASTINGS

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Section 1395.1 is amended by adding a new paragraph (b1) after paragraph (b) and before paragraph (c), to read as follows:

(b1) Small orders. Nothing in this regulation or in the General Maximum Price Regulation[2] shall apply to any sale, contract to sell, or delivery of nonferrous castings if all of the following conditions are met:

NOTE: If any one or more of the conditions are not met, the exclusion is not in effect.

(1) Limits as to total weight and number. The order for the castings must not exceed the following limits either in total weight or in total number of castings:

	(i) For the particular small order		(ii) For all small orders received from the same buyer within 30 days before the receipt of the particular order, plus the particular order
	Weight	Number from one design of pattern	Weight	Number from one design of pattern
Copper base castings	Pounds 100	25	Pounds 400	80
Magnesium base castings	100	25	300	60

The total weights are the weights, before machining, of all castings of each metal base, and the number of castings is the number of castings from each design of pattern. The number of castings from more than one design of pattern in a single order may, of course, be greater than the limit provided for each single design of pattern.

(2) No pricing contract or list in effect. The exemption does not apply to castings for which the prices are provided, at the time of the order, by a pricing contract or agreement, price list or schedule, such as, for example, a flat price for similar castings or groups of castings.

(3) No pricing under the regulation within past 30 days. The exemption does not apply to castings the same as castings that have been sold, contracted to be sold, delivered or offered for sale to the same buyer within 30 days before the receipt of the order, at a price figured for the purpose of complying with pricing provisions of this regulation.

(4) Statement on invoice and copy. A statement must appear on the invoice for the castings and on at least one copy of the invoice in the records of the seller as follows: "Exempted from price control by RMPR 125, § 1395.1 (b1)."

(5) Report of small orders. The seller must report on January 15, April 15, July 15 and October 15 of each year the following information concerning castings sold by him during the preceding completed calendar quarter year:

(i) Total weight and dollar amount of castings of each metal base exempted from price control under this section.

(ii) Total weight and dollar amount of all nonferrous castings priced under RMPR 125.

The information shall be reported by a letter signed by the seller and filed with the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C.

This amendment shall become effective April 15, 1944.

NOTE: All reporting and record-keeping requirements of this amendment have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

Chapter XIII—Petroleum Administration for War

[PAO 12, as Amended Apr. 8, 1944]

PART 1528—MATERIAL CONSERVATION; MARKETING

The fulfillment of the requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply of material for the marketing of petroleum for defense, for private account and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary in the public interest to promote the national defense and provide adequate supplies of petroleum for military and other essential uses.

§ 1528.1 Petroleum Administrative Order No. 12—(a) Scope of order. The provisions of this order shall be applicable to petroleum marketing operations in the United States, its territories or possessions and to the use of material for such operations.

(b) Definitions. (1) "Person" means any individual, partnership, association, business trust, corporation, governmental corporation or agency, or any organized group of persons, whether incorporated or not.

(2) "Marketing" means the operation of all facilities (other than petroleum terminal or terminal storage facilities or marine, rail, pipeline or truck facilities used to transport petroleum) for distributing or dispensing petroleum (excluding natural or liquefied petroleum gas), including without limitation the operation of service stations, substations, bulk plants, warehouses, wholesale depots, or facilities operated by "consumer accounts".

(3) "Material" means any commodity, equipment, accessory, part, assembly, or product of any kind.

(4) "Structure" means any building, physical construction or portion thereof, used in marketing, but not including equipment used therein.

(5) "Equipment" means dispensing pumps, other than "drum" or "barrel" pumps as these terms are known to the trade, and storage tanks (including but not limited to skid tanks) having a capacity of more than 65 gallons used in marketing.

(6) "Maintenance and repair" means (without regard to accounting practice):

(i) The upkeep of any structure or equipment in a sound working condition or the restoration or fixing of any structure or equipment which has broken down or is worn out, damaged or destroyed;

(ii) Any other use of material not exceeding in material cost five hundred dollars ($500.00) for any one complete operation which has not been subdivided for the purpose of coming within this definition: Provided, That maintenance and repair shall not include (a) any use of material in connection with a service station or retail outlet other than for upkeep or restoration purposes; or (b) the installation or replacement of any equipment.

(7) "Farm" means any plot of land at least 10 acres of which are used for agricultural purposes for profit.

(8) "Supplier" means any person, other than an ultimate consumer, supplying petroleum directly or indirectly.

(9) "Advertising material" means any material (other than non-metallic material) used for such display or advertising purposes as are incident to marketing.

(c) Restrictions on use of material. Subject to the exceptions in paragraph (d), no person shall:

(1) Construct, reconstruct, expand, alter or remodel any structure;

(2) Install equipment or advertising material;

(3) Construct, equip or locate any tank truck or tank trailer where such tank truck or tank trailer is used or is to be used to deliver petroleum into the fuel supply tanks of passenger motor vehicles.

(4) Use any (i) structure constructed, reconstructed, expanded, altered or remodelled in violation of this order; (ii) equipment installed in violation of this order; (iii) tank or tank trailer constructed, equipped or located in violation of this order.

(d) Permitted uses of material. The provisions of paragraph (c) shall not apply in the following instances:

(1) To any case where material is to be used by any person for the maintenance and repair of any structure or equipment.

(2) To any case where the structure or equipment is to be used exclusively for the official requirements of the armed forces of the United States.

(3) To any case where equipment is to be installed as a replacement of equipment the repair of which cannot be effected on the premises: Provided, That:

(i) In the case of storage tanks having a capacity of more than 65 gallons, the capacity of the tank which is to be installed does not exceed the capacity of the tank which is to be replaced;

(ii) In the case of dispensing pumps, the pump which is to be installed is of similar type and design as the pump which is to be replaced.

(4) To any case where any dispensing pump completely fabricated prior to January 14, 1942

(i) Is to be installed to replace a dispensing pump manufactured not less than five years prior to the date of such installation; or

(ii) Is to be installed by any person at any location from which such dispensing pump had been previously removed by such person for safe-keeping for a period of at least two months or is to be installed by any person as a replacement of a pump of the same type and design which had been removed by such person from such location for safe-keeping for a period of at least two months: Provided, That any person installing a dispensing pump pursuant to this paragraph (d) (4) (ii) shall keep a record showing the date and location of the removal, the type and design of the pump removed, the date of the installation and the type and design of the newly installed pump.

(5) To any case where equipment is to be installed to distribute petroleum to machinery or vehicles used directly in physical construction work on any project to which a preference rating of AA-4 or higher has been assigned: Provided, That such equipment shall be withdrawn from the location of the project upon the completion thereof and shall thereafter be subject to the provisions of this Order.

(6) To any case where equipment is to be installed to contain, distribute or dispense fuel oil, including grades Nos. 1, 2, 3, 4, 5 or 6, Bunker "C", kerosene, range oil or gas oils, to stationary consuming facilities: Provided, That such equipment is not installed at any structure for use in carrying out marketing functions regularly performed by a service station, substation, bulk plant, warehouse, or wholesale depot.

(7) To any case where equipment is to be installed on a farm and is to be used exclusively to dispense petroleum products to the machinery or vehicles used directly in operations on such farm.

(8) To any case where advertising material which was completely fabricated, but not necessarily assembled, on or before March 30, 1942, is to be installed.

(9) To any case where storage tanks are to be installed to augment the storage capacity at any location for a product presently stored at that location: Provided, That the installation results in an annual mileage saving of at least 25% in the mileage traveled by the transportation facilities used in making deliveries of such petroleum product to the location: And provided further, That the installation is not disapproved by the Petroleum Administration for War within ten days after a statement in triplicate is filed with the District Director of Distribution and Marketing, as directed in paragraph (e) hereof, advising the date and location of the proposed installation, the material and equipment to be used, and the estimated mileage traveled by the transportation facilities used in making deliveries of such petroleum product to the location before and after the proposed installation, such notice to be signed by a duly authorized representative of the person supplying the location with petroleum.

(10) To any case where an authorized official of the Petroleum Administration for War has determined that the construction, reconstruction, expansion or remodeling of any structure, the installation of equipment or advertising material, or the construction, equipping or locating of any tank truck or trailer, is necessary and appropriate in the public interest and contributes to the successful prosecution of the war. Application for such a determination shall be filed in triplicate on Form PAW 23.

(e) Application and correspondence. All correspondence and all applications filed under subparagraphs (d) (8) and (d) (9) shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to the District Director of Distribution and Marketing, Petroleum Administration for War at:

Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order may be prohibited from delivering or receiving any material under priority control, or such other action may be taken as is deemed appropriate.

PART 1—GENERAL REGULATIONS AFFECTING THE PUBLIC COMMERCIAL ADVERTISING; PHOTOGRAPHS OF NAVAL SUBJECTS

Sections 1.3002[1] and 1.3005[2] (b) (5), (h) (1) are amended to read as follows:

§ 1.3002 Commercial advertising. (a) The Navy Department will not object to commercial firms advertising that their products are or have been supplied to, or used by the Navy, provided:

(1) That no information held as confidential by the Navy is divulged.

(2) That the advertising constitutes a statement of fact with no misleading or otherwise objectionable features.

(3) That no mention is made of the fact that a product has undergone or is undergoing test at the instance of or under the cognizance of the Navy Department, and that there are included no data derived from tests made in Government laboratories or on board naval vessels.

(4) That no statement is made that the product is used by the Navy to the exclusion of other similar products.

(5) That all copy, text, and photographs to appear are submitted for review prior to release.

(b) The following regulations govern the use of naval insignia, uniforms, and personnel in advertisements or publicity stories:

(1) Insignia. Reproductions of naval insignia may be used in advertising and publicity provided that the dignity of such insignia is not compromised.

(2) Uniforms. Actual uniforms may be used for illustrations, provided that the dignity of such uniforms is not compromised. There is no objection to the use of professional models photographed in naval uniforms provided that the foregoing regulations are observed.

(3) Personnel. Navy personnel may be used under the following conditions:

(i) The action may not in any way reflect discredit upon the Navy.

(ii) The action or pose shall in no way infer the products advertised are endorsed by the Navy to the exclusion of other products.

(iii) Testimonials from Navy personnel are not banned per se, but the person giving the testimonial cannot be specifically identified. The use of name, initials or rank of Navy personnel appearing in testimonial advertising is not permitted. However, it is permissible to use the expression "says a Navy captain," etc. Care should be taken to phrase testimonials from Navy personnel so as to make clear that the views expressed are those of individuals and not of the Navy Department.

(iv) Names and pictures of naval personnel shall not be used for advertising purposes without first obtaining the permission of the man in question and without submission of the advertisement, in completed form, to the Office of Public Relations for review and approval prior to publication.

(v) Should an advertiser contemplate the use of Navy heroes in a manner not covered by the foregoing, he should be requested to submit photographs and text material to the Office of Public Relations, Review Section, Washington, D. C., for review prior to publication.

(c) In each case in which any bureau or office of the Navy Department or other agency in the naval service receives an inquiry on this subject, it will reply in the sense of the foregoing.

(d) So far as practicable, the review of advertising copy by naval authority will be carried out by the commandant of the naval district within which the advertising company is located.

(e) When there is doubt as to the propriety of the copy or photographs, reference should be made to the Office of Public Relations, Review Section, Navy Department, Washington. D. C.

§ 1.3005 Photographs of naval subjects. * * *

(b) Responsibility. * * *

(5) Reference to Navy Department in cases of doubt. Where there is doubt as to the advisability of making or releasing any photograph for publication, reference, with recommendation, will be made to the Secretary of the Navy (Director of Public Relations). When an official Navy still photograph is referred to the Navy Department for review, the original negative and two prints will be forwarded to the Chief of Naval Operations. All copies of negatives and photographs of combat action against the enemy which show loss of or damage to U. S. combatant ships, or fleet operations knowledge of which must be kept in the limited distribution category, should be forwarded via the Commander in Chief, United States Fleet, who will take appropriate action as to further disposition. All still negatives and prints made by commercial photographers shall remain under naval jurisdiction until such negatives have been released. In the case of commercial photographers one additional print should be forwarded to the Secretary of the Navy (Director of Public Relations) for the Department files.

CIVIL SERVICE COMMISSION.

CONDITION OF APPORTIONMENT AT CLOSE OF BUSINESS FRIDAY, MARCH 31, 1944

The apportioned classified Civil Service includes central offices physically located in Washington, D. C., or elsewhere. Positions in local post offices, customs districts and other field services outside of the District of Columbia which are subject to the Civil Service act are filled almost wholly by persons who are local residents of the general community in which the vacancies exist. It should be noted and understood that so long as a person occupies, by original appointment a position in the apportioned service, the charge for his appointment continues to run against his state of original residence. Certifications of eligibles are first made from states which are in arrears. The apportionment is observed in certifications except to low salaried positions; but as persons who receive appointments in the Departmental Service under the War Service Regulations do not thereby acquire a permanent classified civil service status, their appointments are not charged to the apportionment.

Proposed Amendments

The regulation promulgated under section 502 (f) of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act, as published in the FEDERAL REGISTER of April 15, 1941 (6 F.R. 1920), is hereby amended by striking out paragraphs (b) and (c), and promulgating the following:

§ 2.106 Drugs and devices; directions for use. • • •

(b) A shipment or other delivery of a drug or device shall be exempt from the requirements of section 502 (f) (1) of the act, if it complies with all of the following conditions:

(1) Such drug or device, because of its toxicity or other potentiality for harmful effect or the method of its use or the collateral measures necessary to its use, is not generally recognized among experts by scientific training and experience to evaluate its safety and efficacy, as safe and efficacious for use except by or under the supervision of a physician, dentist, or veterinarian.

(2) Such shipment or delivery is made for the purpose of exclusive use:

(i) By physicians, dentists, or veterinarians in their professional practice; or

(ii) Upon their prescriptions and under labeling bearing the directions for use specified in such prescriptions; or

(iii) In the manufacture of another drug or device.

(3) Adequate directions for the use of such drug or device by physicians, dentists, or veterinarians, as the case may be, are readily available.

(4) The label of such drug or device (other than surgical instruments and other devices to be used exclusively by physicians, dentists, or veterinarians in their professional practice) bears the statement "Caution: To be dispensed only by or on the prescription of a _____," or "Caution: To be dispensed only by a _____," the blank being filled in with one or more of the words "physician," "dentist," and "veterinarian," as the case may be.

(5) No representation with respect to the conditions for which a drug or device is to be used and no statement of dosage or other direction for use appears in its labeling except representations or directions:

(i) Referred to in paragraph (f);

(ii) In printed matter supplied to a physician, dentist, or veterinarian separately from such drug or device; and

(iii) Specified in the prescription of a physician, dentist, or veterinarian upon which such drug or device was dispensed.

(6) In the case of a drug which is not designated solely by a name recognized in an official compendium and which is fabricated from two or more ingredients, its label also bears a statement of the quantity or proportion of each active ingredient.

(c) A shipment or other delivery of a drug or device shall also be exempt from the requirements of section 502 (f) (1) of the act if it complies with all the conditions set forth in paragraph (b) (3) and (6) and if such shipment or delivery is made to a physician, dentist, veterinarian, hospital, or clinic for the purpose of exclusive use by physicians, dentists, or veterinarians in their professional practice.

(d) A shipment or other delivery of a drug or device shall also be exempt from the requirements of section 502 (f) (1) of the act, if it is made to a dealer or manufacturer for the purpose of exclusive use in the manufacture of another drug or device and its label bears the statement "For manufacturing use only."

(e) A shipment or other delivery of a drug or device shall also be exempt from the requirements of section 502 (f) (1) of the act with respect to common uses, adequate directions for which are known by the ordinary individual.

(f) No shipment or other delivery of a new drug shall be exempt under paragraph (b) or (c) unless its labeling bears such directions for use as are contained in the labeling upon the basis of which an application under section 505 of the act is effective with respect to such new drug.

(g) No exemption under any provision of this regulation shall apply to any shipment or other delivery of:

(1) A drug if its advertising disseminated or sponsored by or on behalf of its manufacturer, packer, or other persons responsible for making such shipment or delivery, contains any representation not borne by its labeling and which, if so borne, would make it a new drug.

(2) A drug intended for administration by iontophoresis or by injection into or through the skin or mucous membrane.

(3) A drug or device if such shipment or delivery is made in the course of the conduct of a business of dispensing drugs or devices pursuant to diagnosis by mail.

(h) If a shipment or other delivery, or any part thereof, of a drug or device which is exempt under paragraph (b), (c), or (d) is disposed of for any purpose other than that of the exclusive uses specified in such paragraph, such exemption shall expire, with respect to such shipment or delivery or part thereof which is so disposed of, at the beginning of the act of such disposal. The causing of an exemption so to expire shall be considered to be an act which results in such drug or device being misbranded unless, prior to such disposal, it is relabeled to comply with the requirements of section 502 (f) (1) of the act, or it is disposed of for use otherwise than as a drug or device.

(i) For the purposes of this regulation:

(1) The term "dispense" includes, but the term "manufacture" does not include, the use of a drug as an ingredient in compounding any prescription issued by a physician, dentist, or veterinarian in his professional practice.

(2) The terms "physician," "dentist," and "veterinarian," as used in relation to the exemption of any drug or device, include only those physicians, dentists, and veterinarians who are licensed by law to administer or apply such drug or devices.

The regulations relating to section 505 of the act promulgated December 28, 1938 (3 F.R. 3168), as amended April 15, 1941 (6 F.R. 1921), are hereby further amended as follows:

I. By changing paragraph (b) of § 2.110 (relating to section 505 (b) of the act) and adding a new paragraph (d) thereto as follows:

(b) An application shall not be accepted for filing if only one copy is submitted or if it is incomplete on its face in that:

(1) It does not contain all the matter required by clauses (1), (2), (3), (4), and (6) of section 505 (b) of the act;

(2) It does not state the conditions under which the drug is to be used; or

(3) The specimens of labeling proposed for use upon or within the retail package do not expressly or by reference to a brochure or other printed matter prescribe, recommend, or suggest the use of such drug under such conditions.

The Food and Drug Administration shall notify the applicant of such nonacceptance and the reason therefor and, in case of incompleteness as to matter required by any clause of section 505 (b), shall specify such clause. Otherwise the date on which an application is received by the Agency shall be considered to be the date on which such application is filed, and the Food and Drug Administration shall notify the applicant of such date. If the applicant withdraws his application, such application shall be considered as not having been filed.

(d) After an application has become effective with respect to a drug the applicant may file a supplemental application with respect thereto setting forth any proposed change in the conditions under which such drug is to be used, in the labeling thereof, in any circumstance relating to its production, or in any other information contained in the effective application. Such supplemental application may omit statements made in the effective application concerning which no change is proposed.

II. By adding to such regulations a new section (relating to section 505 (d) of the act) as follows:

§ 2.112 The information contained in an application may be insufficient for the Administrator to determine whether a drug is safe for use if it fails to include (among other things) a statement showing whether the drug is to be exempt under § 2.106 (b) or (c) of the regulation under section 502 (f) of the act, as amended, from the requirement that its labeling bear adequate directions for use. If the drug is to be so exempt the information may also be insufficient if:

(1) The specimen label of the drug fails to incorporate by reference a specifically identified brochure or other printed matter containing adequate directions for use by physicians, dentists, or veterinarians, as the case may be, under all conditions under which the drug is to be used;

(2) Such label fails to state that the drug is to be used as shown in such brochure or printed matter and that such brochure or printed matter will be sent to physicians, dentists, or veterinarians, as the case may be, on request;

(3) The application fails to contain a copy of such brochure or printed matter; or

(4) The application fails to show that such brochure or printed matter is readily available to physicians, dentists, or veterinarians, as the case may be, or if not that it is to be made so upon the application becoming effective.

III. By adding to such regulations a new section (relating to section 505 (e) of the act) as follows:

§ 2.113 Among the reasons why a statement contained in an application may be untrue are changes in:

(1) Conditions of use prescribed, recommended, or suggested by the applicant for the drug from the conditions of such use stated in the application;

(2) Articles used as components of the drug from those listed in the application;

(3) Composition of the drug from that stated in the application;

(4) Methods used in, or the facilities or controls used for, the manufacture, processing, or packing of the drug from such methods, facilities, and controls described in the application; and

(5) Labeling from the specimens contained in the application.

The numbers of §§ 2.110 (d), 2.111, and 2.1065 (relating respectively to sections 505 (c), 505 (i), and 502 (k) and 506 of the act) have been changed to 2.111, 2.114, and 2.115, respectively.

[Region I] 2d Rev. Order G–1 Under RMPR 122]

PENNSYLVANIA ANTHRACITE IN MIDDLESEX COUNTY, N. J.

Second Revised Order No. G–1 under §§ 1340.259 (a) (1) and 1340.260 of Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 122. Solid fuels sold and delivered by dealers. Pennsylvania anthracite delivered by dealers in Middlesex County, State of New Jersey, Coal Area VII.

For the reasons set forth in an opinion issued simultaneously herewith and in accordance with §§ 1340.260 and 1340.259 (a) (1) of Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 122, it is ordered:

(a) What this order does—(1) Dealers' maximum prices; area covered. If you are a dealer in "Pennsylvania anthracite", this order sets the maximum prices which you may charge and, if you are a purchaser in the course of trade or business, this order sets the maximum prices which you may pay for certain sizes and quantities of "Pennsylvania anthracite" (hereinafter called simply "anthracite") delivered to or at any point in State of New Jersey, Coal Area VII. Coal Area VII comprises all of Middlesex County in the State of New Jersey.

(2) Schedules of prices, charges and discounts. The applicable prices, authorized charges, and required discounts, from which you shall determine the maximum prices for designated sizes and quantities of anthracite delivered within Coal Area VII are set forth in Schedules 1, 11, and 111 hereafter.

(3) To what this order applies. If you are a dealer in anthracite you are bound by the prices, charges and discounts, and by all other provisions of this order for all deliveries within Coal Area VII whether or not you are located in Coal Area VII.

(b) What this order prohibits. Regardless of any contract or other obligation, you shall not:

(1) Sell or, in the course of trade or business, buy anthracite of the sizes and in the quantities set forth in the schedules herein at prices higher than the maximum prices computed as set forth in paragraph (c) of this order, although you may charge, pay or offer less than maximum prices.

(2) Obtain any price higher than the applicable maximum price by:

(i) Changing the discounts authorized herein, or

(ii) Charging for any service rendered in connection with the sale or delivery of anthracite subject to this order, or

(iii) Using any tying agreement or requiring that the buyer purchase anything in addition to the fuel requested by him, except that a dealer may comply with requirements or standards with respect to deliveries which have been or may be issued by an agency of the United States Government.

(iv) Using any other device by which a higher price than maximum price is obtained, directly or indirectly.

(c) How to compute maximum prices. You must figure your maximum price as follows:

(1) Use the schedule which covers your sale. (Schedule I applies to sales on a "direct delivery" basis. You will find Schedule I in paragraph (d). Schedule II applies to "yard sales." You will find Schedule II in paragraph (e). Schedule III applies to sales of bagged coal in 50 lb., 25 and 12 lb. paper bags. You will find Schedule III in paragraph (f).)

(2) Take the dollars-and-cents figure set forth in the applicable schedule for the size and quantity you are selling.

(3) Deduct from that figure the amount of the discount which you are required to give as specified in the schedule. If the schedule makes no reference to any discount, you need give no discount. When a discount is required, you must state it separately on your invoice.

(4) If you deliver a fraction of a net ton, even if less than one-half ton, and the applicable schedule provides a discount on the basis of one ton or one-half ton, you shall allow a proportionate discount, making your calculation to the nearest full cent. For example, if you are required to deduct 50¢ per ton for cash payment, you shall deduct 38¢ for three-quarters of a ton and 13¢ for one-quarter of a ton.

(d) Schedule I: "Direct delivery" sales. Schedule I establishes maximum prices for certain sizes of anthracite in certain specific quantities, delivered to or at any point within Coal Area VII.

(1) For sales of anthracite of the sizes and in the quantities specified.

Size	Per net ton	Per net ½ ton	Per 100 lbs. (for sales of 100 lbs. or more but less than ½ ton)
Broken, egg, stove, nut	$11.74	$7.13	$0.83
Pea	11.98	6.25	.75
Buckwheat	10.06	5.30	.70
Rice	8.95	4.75
Screenings	4.20	2.15

(2) Required discounts. You shall deduct from the prices set forth above in this Schedule, on sales and deliveries of all sizes except screenings, a discount of 50¢ per net ton and 25¢ per net ½ ton, where payment is made within ten days after delivery. Nothing in this sub-paragraph requires you to sell on other than a cash basis.

In addition, you shall deduct a discount of 50¢ per net ton, on sales and deliveries of all sizes except screenings, to consumers purchasing from one dealer, for delivery at one point, a quantity of 50 tons or more, within a period of twelve months.

You shall not break up a single order in an attempt to avoid this discount.

You must grant this discount whether the purchaser has received 50 tons or more pursuant to a single purchase order, or several purchase orders, and whether there was delivery at one time or at intervals of time, the sole basis of the discount being the annual purchase of 50 tons or more for delivery at one point.

You must deduct this discount at or before the delivery of the fiftieth ton and continue to grant the discount on every subsequent delivery during the same twelve-month period.

(e) Schedule II: "Yard sales". Schedule II establishes maximum prices for certain sizes of anthracite in certain specific quantities sold at the dealer's yard.

(1) For sales of anthracite of the sizes and in the quantities specified.

Size	Per net ton (for sales of ½ ton or more)	Per 100 lbs. (for sales of 100 lbs. or more, but less than ½ ton)
Broken, egg, stove, nut	$11.75	$0.70
Pea	10.30	.65
Buckwheat	8.75	.55
Rice	7.65	.50
Screenings	2.50

(2) Required discounts. You shall deduct from the prices set forth in this Schedule, on sales and deliveries of all sizes except screenings, a discount of 50¢ per net ton where payment is made within ten days after delivery. Nothing in this sub-paragraph requires you to sell on other than a cash basis.

(f) Schedule III: "Sales of bagged coal". Schedule III establishes maximum prices for sales to dealers and to consumers of certain sizes of anthracite in 50 lb., 25 lb., and 12 lb. paper bags.

MAXIMUM PRICES PER 50 LB. PAPER BAG

Size	Delivered at dealer's yard	Delivered to retail stores	Sales to ultimate consumers
Nut	$0.37	$0.42	$0.47

MAXIMUM PRICES PER 25 LB. PAPER BAG

MAXIMUM PRICES PER 12 LB. PAPER BAG

Nut	$0.095	$0.105	$0.125

(g) Commingling. If one size of anthracite is sold commingled with another size of anthracite, the maximum price for the combination shall be the maximum price established in this order for the smallest of the sizes so commingled, whether the sale be a "delivered sale", "yard sale", or a "sale of bagged coal", except in the following situation: Where a purchaser requests that two or more sizes of anthracite be commingled in one delivery, then, and in that event, if these sizes are separately weighed at the point of loading, or when bagged, the dealer may commingle those sizes in the truck or other vehicle, or in the bags, in which the delivery is made. The price for anthracite so commingled shall be calculated on the basis of the applicable per net ton price or, in the case of bagged coal, on the basis of the applicable bagged price, for each size in the combination, and the invoice shall separately state the price, so determined, for the quantity of each size in the combination.

(h) Ex Parte 148—Freight Rate Increase. Since the Ex Parte 148 Freight Rate Increase has been rescinded by the Interstate Commerce Commission, dealers' freight rates are the same as those of December 1941. Therefore, you may not increase any Schedule Price on account of freight rates.

(i) Addition of increase in suppliers' maximum prices prohibited. You may not increase the specific maximum prices established by this order to reflect, in whole or in part, any subsequent increase to you in your supplier's maximum price for the same fuel. The specific maximum prices already reflect increases to you in your supplier's maximum prices occurring up to the effective date of this order. If increases in your supplier's maximum prices should occur after such date, as the result of any amendment to or revision of a maximum price regulation issued by the Office of Price Administration governing sales and deliveries made by such suppliers, the Regional Administrator will, if he then deems it to be warranted, take appropriate action to amend this order to reflect such increases.

(j) Taxes. If you are a dealer subject to this order you may collect, in addition to the specific maximum prices established herein, provided you state it separately, the tax imposed by Section 620 of the Revenue Act of 1942 if actually paid or incurred by you or by any of your prior suppliers and separately stated and collected from you by your supplier. On sales to the United States or any agency thereof, you need not state this tax separately.

(k) Adjustable pricing. You may not make a price adjustable to a maximum price which will be in effect at some time after delivery of the anthracite has been completed; but the price may be adjustable to the maximum price in effect at the time of delivery.

(l) Petitions for amendment. Any person seeking an amendment of any provision of this order may file a petition for amendment in accordance with the provisions of Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1, except that the petition shall be filed with the Regional Administrator and acted upon by him.

(m) Right of amendment or revocation. The Regional Administrator or the Price Administrator may amend, revoke or rescind this order, or any provision thereof, at any time.

(n) Applicability of other regulations. If you are a dealer subject to this order, you are governed by the licensing provisions of Licensing Order 1. Licensing Order 1 provides, in brief, that a license is required of all persons making sales for which maximum prices are established. A license is automatically granted. It is not necessary to apply for the license. The license may be suspended for violations in connection with the sale of any commodity for which maximum prices are established. If your license is suspended, you may not sell any such commodity during the period of suspension.

(o) Records. If you are a dealer subject to this order, you shall reserve, keep, and make available for examination by the Office of Price Administration a record of every sale of anthracite hereunder, showing the date, the name and address of the buyer, if known, the per net ton price charged, and the solid fuel sold. The solid fuel shall be identified in the manner in which it is described in the order. The record shall also state separately each service rendered and the charge made for it.

(p) Posting of maximum prices: sales slips and receipts. (1) If you are a dealer subject to this order, you shall post all your maximum prices as set forth in the applicable schedule or schedules of this order in your place of business in a manner plainly visible to and understandable by the purchasing public.

(2) If you sell subject to this order, you shall, except for a sale of less than one-half ton, give each purchaser a sales slip or receipt showing your name and address, the kind, size, and quantity of the anthracite sold to him, the date of the sale or delivery and the price charged, separately stating the amount, if any, of the required discounts which must be deducted from, and the authorized service charges and the taxes, which may be added to, the maximum prices set hereby.

In the case of all other sales, you shall give each purchaser a sales slip or receipt containing the information described in the foregoing paragraph, if requested by such purchase or if, during December 1941, you customarily gave purchasers such sales slips or receipts.

(q) Enforcement. (1) Persons violating any provision of this order are subject to civil and criminal penalties, including suits for treble damages, provided for by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended.

(2) Persons who have any evidence of any violation of this order are urged to communicate with the Trenton District Office of the Office of Price Administration or with the Price Panel of the appropriate War Price and Rationing Board.

(r) Definitions and explanations. When used in this Revised Order No. G–1, the term:

(1) "Person" includes an individual, corporation, partnership, association, or any other organized group of persons, or legal successor or representative of the foregoing, and includes the United States or any agency thereof, or any other government, or any of its political subdivisions, or any agency or any of the foregoing.

For the reasons set forth in an opinion issued simultaneously herewith and under the authority vested in the Regional Administrator of the Office of Price Administration by §§ 1340.260 and 1340.259 (a) (1) of Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 122, it is ordered:

(a) What this order does—(1) Dealers' maximum prices; area covered. If you are a dealer in "Pennsylvania anthracite", this order fixes the maximum prices which you may charge, and if you are a purchaser in the course of trade or business, this order fixes the maximum prices which you may pay, for certain sizes and quantities of "Pennsylvania anthracite" (hereinafter called simply "anthracite") delivered to or at any point in Coal Area II. Coal Area II includes all of Hudson County in the State of New Jersey east of the Hackensack River.

(2) Schedules of prices, charges and discounts. The applicable prices and required discounts, from which you shall determine the maximum prices for designated sizes and quantities of anthracite delivered within Coal Area II, are set forth in Schedules I, II, and III hereafter.

(3) To what sales this order applies. If you are a dealer in anthracite, you are bound by the prices and discounts, and by all other provisions of this order for all deliveries within Coal Area II, whether or not you are located in Coal Area II.

(b) What this order prohibits. Regardless of any contract or other obligations, you shall not:

(1) Sell or, in the course of trade or business, buy anthracite of the sizes and in the quantities set forth in the schedules herein, at prices higher than the maximum prices computed as set forth in paragraph (c) of this order, although you may charge, pay, or offer less than maximum prices.

(2) Obtain any price higher than the applicable maximum price by:

(i) Changing the discounts authorized herein, or

(ii) Charging for any service rendered in connection with the sale or delivery of anthracite subject to this order, or

(iii) Using any tying agreement or requiring that the buyer purchase anything in addition to the fuel requested by him, except that the dealer may comply with requirements or standards with respect to deliveries which have been or may be issued by an agency of the United States Government.

(iv) Using any other device by which a higher than the applicable maximum price is maintained, directly or indirectly.

(c) How to compute maximum prices. You must figure your maximum price as follows:

(1) Use the schedule which covers your sale. (Schedule I applies to "direct-delivery" sales of anthracite. You will find Schedule I in paragraph (d). Schedule II applies to "yard sales". You will find Schedule II in paragraph (e). Schedule III applies to sales of bagged coal in 50 lb., 25 lb., and 12 lb. paper bags. You will find Schedule III in paragraph (f).)

(2) For "direct-delivery" sales. (i) Take the dollar-and-cents figure given in the applicable Schedule for the size and quantity you are selling.

(ii) Deduct from this figure the amount of the discount which you are required to give as specified in the schedule. (You will find discounts stated in paragraph (d) (2).) If the schedule makes no reference to any discount, you need give no discount. Where a discount is required, you must state it separately on your invoice.

(iii) If you deliver a fraction of a net ton, even if less than one-half ton, and the applicable schedule provides a discount on the basis of one ton or one-half ton, you shall allow a proportionate discount, making your calculation to the nearest full cent. For example, if you are required to deduct 50¢ per ton for cash payment, you shall deduct 38¢ for three-quarters of a ton and 13¢ for one-quarter of a ton.

(iv) You shall not impose any charges with respect to such sales.

(3) For "yard sales". (i) The dollars-and-cents figure set forth in the applicable schedule for the sizes and quantities specified shall be the maximum price for sales of those sizes and in those quantities at the yard. You shall not impose any charge, and you are required to give no discounts, in connection with such sales.

(4) For "sales in 50 lb., 25 lb., and 12 lb. paper bags". (i) The dollars-and-cents figure set forth in the applicable schedule for the size of anthracite and type of sale there specified, shall be the maximum price. You shall not impose any charges, and you are required to give no discounts, in connection with such sales.

(d) Schedule I: Sales on a "direct-delivery" basis. Schedule I establishes maximum prices for certain sizes of anthracite in certain specific quantities, delivered to or at any point within Coal Area II.

(1) For sales of anthracite of the sizes and in the quantities specified.

Size	Per net ton	Per net ½ ton	Per 100 lbs. for sales of 100 lbs. or more, but less than one-half ton

(2) Required discounts. (i) You shall deduct from the prices set forth above in this schedule, on sales and deliveries of all sizes except screenings, a discount of 50¢ per net ton and 25¢ per net half ton, where payment is made on delivery. Nothing in this sub-paragraph requires you to sell on other than a cash basis.

(ii) In addition, you shall deduct a discount of 75¢ per net ton, on sales and deliveries of all sizes except screenings, to consumers purchasing from one dealer, for delivery at one point, a quantity of 50 tons or more, within a period of twelve months.

You shall not break up a single order in an attempt to avoid this discount.

You must grant this discount whether the purchaser has received 50 tons or more pursuant to a single purchase order, or several purchase orders, and whether there was delivery at one time or at intervals of time, the sole basis of the discount being the annual purchase of 50 tons or more for delivery at one point.

You must deduct this discount at or before the delivery of the 50th ton and continue to grant the discount on every subsequent delivery during the same twelve-month period.

(e) Schedule II: "Yard sales". (1) Maximum prices for certain sizes of anthracite sold at the dealer's "yard" within Coal Area II.

(g) Commingling. If you sell one size of anthracite commingled with another size of anthracite, your maximum price for the combination shall be the maximum price established in this order for the smallest of the sizes so commingled, except in the following situation. Where a purchaser requests that two or more sizes of anthracite be commingled in one delivery, then, and in that event, if those sizes are separately weighed at the point of loading, or when bagged, the dealer may commingle those sizes in the truck or other vehicle, or in the bags, in which the anthracite is sold. The price for anthracite so commingled shall be calculated on the basis of the applicable per net ton price, or, in the case of bagged coal, on the basis of the applicable bagged price, for each size in the combination, and the invoice shall separately state the price, so determined, for the quantity of each size in the combination.

(h) Ex parte 148 freight rate increase. Since the Ex Parte 148 freight rate increase has been rescinded by the Interstate Commerce Commission, dealers' freight rates are the same as those of December 1941. Therefore, you may not increase any schedule price on account of freight rates.

(i) Addition of increase in supplier's maximum price prohibited. You may not increase the specific maximum prices established by this order to reflect, in whole or in part, any subsequent increase to you in your supplier's maximum price for the same fuel. The specific maximum prices already reflect increases to you in your supplier's maximum prices occurring up to the effective date of this order. If increases in your supplier's maximum prices should occur after such date, as the result of any amendment to or revision of a maximum price regulation issued by the Office of Price Administration governing sales and deliveries made by such suppliers, the Regional Administrator will, if he then deems it to be warranted, take appropriate action to amend this order to reflect such increases.

(j) Taxes. If you are a dealer subject to this order you may collect, in addition to the specific maximum prices established herein, provided you state it separately, the amount of the Federal tax upon the transportation of property imposed by section 620 of the Revenue Act of 1942 actually paid or incurred by you, or an amount equal to the amount of such tax paid by any of your prior suppliers and separately stated and collected from you by the supplier from whom you purchased. On sales to the United States or any agency thereof, you need not state this tax separately. For convenience, in billing, you may use on your invoice a rubber stamp reading: "Above price includes Federal Transportation Tax of 4¢ per ton."

(k) Adjustable pricing. You may not make a price adjustable to a maximum price which will be in effect at some time after delivery of the anthracite has been completed; but the price may be adjustable to the maximum price in effect at the time of delivery.

(l) Petitions for amendment. Any person seeking an amendment of any provision of this order may file a petition for amendment in accordance with the provisions of Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1, except that the petition shall be filed with the Regional Administrator and acted upon by him.

(m) Right of amendment or revocation. The Regional Administrator or the Price Administrator may amend, revoke or rescind this order, or any provision thereof, at any time.

(n) Applicability of other regulations. If you are a dealer subject to this order, you are governed by the licensing provisions of Licensing Order 1. Licensing Order 1 provides, in brief, that a license is required of all persons making sales for which maximum prices are established. A license is automatically granted. It is not necessary to apply for the license. The license may be suspended for violations in connection with the sale of any commodity for which maximum prices are established. If your license is suspended, you may not sell any such commodity during the period of suspension.

(o) Records. If you are a dealer subject to this order, you shall preserve, keep, and make available for examination by the Office of Price Administration, a record of every sale of anthracite hereunder, showing the date, the name and address of the buyer, if known, the per net ton price charged, and the solid fuel sold. The solid fuel shall be identified in the manner in which it is described in the order. The record shall also state separately each service rendered and the charge made for it.

(p) Posting of maximum prices; sales slips and receipts. (1) If you are a dealer subject to this order, you shall post all your maximum prices (as set forth in the applicable schedule or schedules of this order) in your place of business in a manner plainly visible to and understandable by the purchasing public.

(2) If you are a dealer subject to this order, you shall, except for a sale of less than one-half ton, give each purchaser a sales slip or receipt showing your name and address, the kind, size, and quantity of anthracite sold to him, the date of the sale or delivery and the price charged, separately stating the amount, if any, of the required discounts which must be deducted from, and the taxes, which may be added to, the specific maximum prices prescribed herein.

In the case of all other sales, you shall give each purchaser a sales slip or receipt containing the information described in the foregoing paragraph, if requested by such purchaser, or if, during December 1941, you customarily gave purchasers such sales slips or receipts.

(q) Enforcement. (1) Persons violating any provision of this order are subject to civil and criminal penalties, including suits for treble damages, provided for by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended.

(2) Persons who have any evidence of any violation of this order are urged to communicate with the Newark District Office of the Office of Price Administration, or with the Price Panel of the appropriate War Price and Rationing Board.

You must state that charge separately on your invoice. The only authorized service charges are those provided for sales under Schedule I.

(4) If you deliver a fraction of a net ton, but not less than one-half ton, you shall add no more than a proportionate service charge, based on the per net ton charge, making your calculation to the nearest full cent. If your license is suspended, you may not sell any such commodity during the period of suspension.

PENNSYLVANIA ANTHRACITE IN DESIGNATED COUNTIES IN PENNSYLVANIA

Order No. G–22 under §§ 1340.260 and 1340.259 (a) (1) of Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 122. Solid fuels sold and delivered by dealers. Pennsylvania anthracite delivered by dealers in Lancaster, Lebanon, Berks, Lehigh and Northampton Counties, Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, Coal Area V.

For the reasons set forth in an opinion issued simultaneously herewith and under the authority vested in the Regional Administrator of the Office of Price Administration by §§ 1340.260 and 1340.259 (a) (1) of Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 122, it is hereby ordered:

(a) What this order does—(1) Dealers' maximum prices, area covered. If you are a dealer in "Pennsylvania anthracite", this order fixes the maximum prices which you may charge, and if you are a purchaser in the course of trade or business, this order fixes the maximum prices which you may pay, for certain sizes and quantities of "Pennsylvania anthracite" (hereinafter called simply "anthracite") delivered to or at any point in the zones comprising Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, Coal Area V. That area consists of five zones, as follows:

Zone 1. Zone 1 includes all of Lancaster County.
Zone 2. Zone 2 includes all of Lebanon County.
Zone 3. Zone 3 includes all of Berks County.
Zone 4. Zone 4 includes all of Lehigh County except the City of Bethlehem and the Borough of Fountain Hill.
Zone 5. Zone 5 includes all of Northampton County including the Borough of Fountain Hill and that portion of the City of Bethlehem which lies in Lehigh County.

(2) Schedules of prices, charges and discounts. The applicable prices, authorized charges, and required discounts, from which you shall determine the maximum prices for designated sizes and quantities of anthracite delivered within Zones 1, 2, 3, 4, and 5 are set forth in Schedules I, II, III, IV, and V respectively.

(3) To what sales this order applies. If you are a dealer in anthracite you are bound by the prices, charges and discounts, and by all other provisions of this order for all deliveries within Zones 1, 2, 3, 4, and 5.

You shall determine the maximum price for "direct-delivery" sales, as hereinafter defined, by reference to the appropriate Schedule of this order covering the zone to which delivery is made, whether or not you are located in one of the five zones.

You shall determine your maximum price for a "yard" sale, as hereinafter defined, by reference to the appropriate schedule of this order covering the zone in which the purchaser takes physical possession or custody of the anthracite.

(b) What this order prohibits. Regardless of any contract or other obligation, you shall not:

(1) Sell or, in the course of trade or business, buy anthracite of the sizes and in the quantities set forth in the schedules herein, at prices higher than the maximum prices computed as set forth in paragraph (c) of this order, although you may charge, pay or offer less than maximum prices.

(2) Obtain any price higher than the applicable maximum price by:

(i) Changing the discounts authorized herein, or

(ii) Charging for any service which is not expressly requested by the buyer, or

(iii) Charging for any service for which a charge is not specifically authorized by this order, or

(iv) Charging a price for any service higher than the Schedule price for such service, or

(v) Using any tying agreement or requiring that the buyer purchase anything in addition to the fuel requested by him, except that a dealer may comply with requirements or standards with respect to deliveries which have been or may be issued by an agency of the United States Government.

(vi) Using any other device by which a higher price than the applicable maximum price is obtained, directly or indirectly.

(c) How to compute maximum prices. You must figure your maximum price as follows:

(1) Use the schedule which covers your sale. (Schedule I applies to sales on a "direct-delivery" basis and "yard sales" within Zone 1. You will find Schedule I in paragraph (d). In like manner, Schedules II, III, IV, and V apply to similar sales in Zones 2, 3, 4, and 5, respectively. You will find Schedule II in paragraph (e), Schedule III in paragraph (f), Schedule IV in paragraph (g), and Schedule V in paragraph (h).

(2) Take the dollars-and-cents figure set forth in the applicable schedule, for the sizes and quantity you are selling.

(3) Deduct from that figure the amount of the discount which you are required to give, as specified in each schedule. Where a discount is required, you must state it separately on your invoice.

(4) If, at your purchaser's request, you actually render him a service for which this order authorizes a charge, you may add to the figure obtained as above no more than the maximum authorized service charge. You must state that charge separately on your invoice. The only authorized service charges are those provided for in the schedules.

(i) Commingling. If you sell one size of anthracite, commingled with another size of anthracite, your maximum price for the combination shall be the maximum price established in this order for the smallest of the sizes so commingled, whether the sale be a "direct-delivery" sale or "yard sale", except in the following situation. Where a purchaser requests that two or more sizes of anthracite be commingled in one delivery, then, in that event, if those sizes are separately weighed at the point of loading, the dealer may commingle those sizes in the truck or other vehicle in which the delivery is made. The price for anthracite so commingled shall be calculated on the basis of the applicable per net ton price for each size in the combination, and the invoice shall separately state the price, so determined, for the quantity of each size in the combination.

(j) Ex Parte 148 freight rate increase. Since the Ex Parte 148 freight rate increase has been rescinded by the Interstate Commerce Commission, dealers' freight rates are the same as those of December 1941. Therefore, you may not increase any schedule price on account of freight rates.

(k) Addition of increase in suppliers' maximum prices prohibited. You may not increase the specific maximum prices established by this order to reflect, in whole or in part, any subsequent increase to you in your supplier's maximum price for the same fuel. The specific maximum prices already reflect increases to you in your supplier's maximum prices occurring up to the effective date of this order. If increases in your supplier's maximum prices should occur after such date, as the result of any amendment to or revision of a maximum price regulation issued by the Office of Price Administration governing sales and deliveries made by such suppliers, the Regional Administrator will, if he then deems it to be warranted, take appropriate action to amend this order to reflect such increases.

(l) Taxes. If you are a dealer subject to this order you may collect, in addition to the specific maximum prices established herein, provided you state it separately, the amount of the Federal tax upon the transportation of property imposed by section 620 of the Revenue Act of 1942 actually paid or incurred by you, or an amount equal to the amount of such tax paid by any of your prior suppliers and separately stated and collected from you by the supplier from whom you purchased. On sales to the United States or any agency thereof, you need not state this tax separately.

(m) Adjustable pricing. You may not make a price adjustable to a maximum price which will be in effect at some time after delivery of the anthracite has been completed; but the price may be adjustable to the maximum price in effect at the time of delivery.

(n) Petitions for amendment. Any person seeking an amendment of any provision of this order may file a petition for amendment in accordance with the provisions of Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1, except that the petition shall be filed with the Regional Administrator and acted upon by him.

(o) Right of amendment or revocation. The Regional Administrator or the Price Administrator may amend, revoke or rescind this order, or any provision thereof, at any time.

(p) Applicability of other regulations. If you are a dealer subject to this order, you are governed by the licensing provisions of Licensing Order 1. Licensing Order 1 provides, in brief, that a license is required of all persons making sales for which maximum prices are established. A license is automatically granted. It is not necessary to apply for the license. The license may be suspended for violations in connection with the sale of any commodity for which maximum prices are established. If your license is suspended, you may not sell any such commodity during the period of suspension.

(q) Records. If you are a dealer subject to this order, you shall preserve, keep, and make available for examination by the Office of Price Administration, a record of every sale of anthracite hereunder, showing the date, the name and address of the buyer, if known, the per net ton price charged, and the solid fuel sold. The solid fuel shall be identified in the manner in which it is described in the order. The record shall also state separately each service rendered and the charge made for it.

(r) Posting of maximum prices; sales slips and receipts. (1) If you are a dealer subject to this order, you shall post all your maximum prices (as set forth in the applicable schedule or schedules of this order) in your place of business in a manner plainly visible to and understandable by the purchasing public.

(2) If you are a dealer subject to this order, you shall, except for a sale of less than one-half ton, give each purchaser a sales slip or receipt showing your name and address, the kind, size, and quantity of the anthracite sold to him, the date of the sale or delivery and the price charged, separately stating the amount, if any, of the required discounts which must be deducted from, and the authorized service charges and the taxes, which may be added to the specific maximum prices prescribed herein.

In the case of all other sales, you shall give each purchaser a sales slip or receipt containing the information described in the foregoing paragraph, if requested by such purchaser or of, during December 1941, you customarily gave purchasers such sales slips or receipts.

(s) Enforcement. (1) Persons violating any provision of this order are subject to civil and criminal penalties, including suits for treble damages, provided for by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended.

(2) Persons who have any evidence of any violation of this order are urged to communicate with the Harrisburg District Office of the Office of Price Administration for violations in Zones 1 and 2 (Lancaster and Lebanon Counties), and with the Philadelphia District Office of the Office of Price Administration for violations in Zones 3, 4, and 5 (Berks, Lehigh and Northampton Counties), or with the Price Panel of the appropriate War Price and Rationing Board.

(t) Definitions and explanations. When used in this Order No. G-22, the term:

(1) "Person" includes an individual, corporation, partnership, association, or any other organized group of persons, or legal successor or representative of any of the foregoing, and includes the United States or any agency thereof, or any other government, or any of its political subdivisions, or any agency of any of the foregoing.

(4) "Pennsylvania anthracite" means all coal produced in the Lehigh, Schuylkill and Wyoming regions in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

(5) The sizes of "Pennsylvania anthracite" described as broken, egg, stove, nut, pea, buckwheat, rice, barley and screenings, shall refer to the same sizes of the same fuel as were sold and delivered in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, Coal Area V, with such designation during December 1941.

(6) "Direct delivery", except with respect to sales in 100 lb. lots, means delivery to the buyer's bin or storage space by dumping or chuting directly from the seller's truck or vehicle, or, where such delivery to the buyer's bin or storage space is physically impossible, by discharging at the point nearest and most accessible to the buyer's bin or storage space and at which the coal can be discharged directly from the seller's truck. "Direct delivery" in 100 lb. lots shall mean depositing in buyer's bin or other storage space designated by buyer.

(7) "Carry" and "wheel" refer to the movement of coal to buyer's bin or storage space in baskets or other containers, or by wheelbarrow or barrel, from seller's truck or vehicle, or from the point nearest and most accessible to the buyer's bin or storage space at which the coal is discharged from the seller's truck in the course of "direct delivery".

(8) "Yard sales" means sales accompanied by physical transfer to the buyer's truck or vehicle at the yard, dock, barge, car, or at a place of business of the seller other than at seller's truck or vehicle.

Effective date. This order shall become effective November 29, 1943.

NOTE: This order has been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

(p) Applicability of other regulations. If you are a dealer subject to this order, you are governed by the licensing provisions of Licensing Order 1. Licensing Order 1 provides, in brief, that a license is required of all persons making sales for which maximum prices are established. A license is automatically granted. It is not necessary to apply for the license. The license may be suspended for violations in connection with the sale of any commodity for which maximum prices are established. If your license is suspended, you may not sell any such commodity during the period of suspension.

(q) Records. If you are a dealer subject to this order, you shall preserve, keep, and make available for examination by the Office of Price Administration, a record of every sale of anthracite hereunder, showing the date, the name and address of the buyer, if known, the per net ton price charged, and the solid fuel sold. The solid fuel shall be identified in the manner in which it is described in the order. The record shall also state separately each service rendered and the charge made for it.

(r) Posting of maximum prices; sales slips and receipts. (1) If you are a dealer subject to this order, you shall post all your maximum prices (as set forth in the applicable schedule or schedules of this order) in your place of business in a manner plainly visible to and understandable by the purchasing public.

(2) If you are a dealer subject to this order, you shall, except for a sale of less than one-half ton, give each purchaser a sales slip or receipt showing your name and address, the kind, size, and quantity of the anthracite sold to him, the date of the sale or delivery and the price charged, separately stating the amount, if any, of the required discounts which must be deducted from, and the authorized service charges and the taxes, which may be added to the specific maximum prices prescribed herein.

In the case of all other sales, you shall give each purchaser a sales slip or receipt containing the information described in the foregoing paragraph, if requested by such purchaser or of, during December 1941, you customarily gave purchasers such sales slips or receipts.

(s) Enforcement. (1) Persons violating any provision of this order are subject to civil and criminal penalties, including suits for treble damages, provided for by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended.

(2) Persons who have any evidence of any violation of this order are urged to communicate with the Harrisburg District Office of the Office of Price Administration for violations in Zones 1 and 2 (Lancaster and Lebanon Counties), and with the Philadelphia District Office of

NORTHERN INDIANA PUBLIC SERVICE CO.

NOTICE OF FILING AND ORDER FOR HEARING

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the City of Philadelphia, Pa., on the 8th day of April, A. D. 1944.

Notice is hereby given that an application-declaration has been filed with this Commission, pursuant to the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935, by Northern Indiana Public Service Company, a subsidiary of Clarence A. Southerland and Jay Samuel Hartt, Trustees of the Estate of Midland Utilities Company, a registered holding company. All interested persons are referred to the said application-declaration which is on file in the office of the said Commission for a statement of the transactions therein proposed which are summarized below:

Northern Indiana Public Service Company proposes to refinance its presently outstanding 220,078 shares of cumulative preferred stock (69,856 shares of the 7% series, 124,506 shares of the 6% series, and 25,715 shares of the 5½% series) by making an offer to the holders of such stock whereby they will be afforded the opportunity to exchange each share of presently held stock for one share of 5% cumulative preferred stock of the company, plus a cash payment in an amount not as yet determined. Any shares not exchanged will be called for redemption at the redemption prices ($115 per share for the 7%, $107.50 for the 6%, and $105 for the 5½%, cumulative preferred stock), plus accrued dividends. Northern Indiana Public Service Company also proposes to enter into an agreement with underwriters who have not as yet been designated in the application-declaration, providing for their services in furthering the exchanges and also providing that such underwriters will purchase from Northern Indiana Public Service Company such number of the 220,078 shares of the 5% cumulative preferred stock as have not been issued as a result of the exchanges. The exact terms of the proposed exchange offer, the price at which such shares not exchanged will be sold to underwriters, and the offering price of the underwriters upon sale to the public will be determined by an agreement to be entered into and subsequently to be filed as an amendment to the application-declaration.

The said application-declaration contains a request that the Commission enter an order finding that, with respect to the proposed issuance and sale of the 5% cumulative preferred stock, compliance with paragraphs (b) and (c) of Rule U-50 is not necessary or appropriate.

Applicant-declarant has designated sections 6 (b) and 12 (c) of the act and Rules U-42 and U-50 as applicable to the proposed transactions.

It appearing to the Commission that it is appropriate in the public interest and the interest of investors and consumers that a hearing be held with respect to such matters;

It is ordered, That a hearing on such matters under the applicable provisions of said act and the rules of the Commission thereunder be held on April 21, 1944, at 10:30 a. m., e. w. t., at the offices of the Securities and Exchange Commission, 18th and Locust Streets, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. On such day the hearing room clerk in room 318 will advise as to the room in which such hearing will be held. It is requested that any person desiring to be heard or to be admitted as a party to such proceeding shall file with the Secretary of this Commission on or before April 19, 1944, his request or an application therefor as provided in Rule XVII of the rules of practice of the Commission.

It is further ordered, That William W. Swift, or any other officer or officers of the Commission designated for that purpose shall preside at the hearings in such matter. The officer so designated to preside at any such hearing is hereby authorized to exercise all powers granted to the Commission under section 18 (c) of said act and to a trial examiner under the Commission's rules of practice.

It is further ordered, That, without limiting the scope of the issues presented by said application-declaration, particular attention will be directed at such hearing to the following matters and questions:

1. Whether the proposed issue and sale of its 5% cumulative preferred stock by Northern Indiana Public Service Company is solely for the purpose of financing its business;

2. Whether the proposed transactions are appropriate and in the public interest and the interest of investors and consumers;

3. Whether compliance with the requirements of paragraphs (b) and (c) of Rule U-50 is not necessary or appropriate under the circumstances;

4. The propriety of the proposed accounting treatment of the proposed transactions on the books of the applicant-declarant;

5. Whether it is necessary or appropriate to impose terms or conditions in the public interest or for the protection of investors or consumers; and

6. Whether the proposed transactions comply with all the provisions and requirements of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 and the rules and regulations promulgated thereunder.

By the Commission.

CONSOLIDATED ELECTRIC AND GAS CO. AND CENTRAL PUBLIC UTILITY CORP.

ORDER POSTPONING HEARING

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the City of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, on the 7th day of April, A. D. 1944.

In the matters of Consolidated Electric and Gas Company, File No. 54-78; Consolidated Electric and Gas Company, Applicant, File No. 54-40; Central Public Utility Corporation, Consolidated Electric and Gas Company, Respondents, File No. 59-40; Christopher H. Coughlin, W. T. Crawford, and Rawleigh Warner, voting trustees under Voting Trust Agreement dated August 1, 1932, relating to common stock of Central Public Utility Corporation, Applicants, File No. 54-53; and Christopher H. Coughlin, W. T. Crawford, and Rawleigh Warner, voting trustees under Voting Trust Agreement dated August 1, 1932, relating to common stock of Central Public Utility Corporation, Respondents, File No. 59-49.

Consolidated Electric and Gas Company, a registered holding company, having filed an application, pursuant to section 11 (e) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935, for approval of a plan for certain action designed to enable that company and certain of its subsidiary companies to comply with the provisions of section 11 (b) of said act; the Commission having by order dated July 19, 1943, consolidated the proceedings upon said application (1) with certain proceedings theretofore instituted by the Commission pursuant to section 11 (b) of said act with respect to said Consolidated Electric and Gas Company and Central Public Utility Corporation, also a registered holding company, (2) with certain other proceedings instituted by the Commission pursuant to said section 11 (b) with respect to Christopher H. Coughlin, W. T. Crawford, and Rawleigh Warner, voting trustees under a certain voting trust agreement dated August 1, 1932, relating to common stock of said Central Public Utility Corporation (said trustees also being a registered holding company), (3) with proceedings upon an earlier application of said Consolidated Electric and Gas Company for approval of certain other action also designed to enable said Consolidated Electric and Gas Company to comply with said section 11 (b), and (4) with proceedings upon an application and declaration by said trustees, above named, regarding the disposition of the common stock of Central Public Utility Corporation held by said trustees; and the Commission having by said order of July 19, 1943, set down said consolidated proceedings for hearing at the offices of the Commission in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, at 10:00 a. m., e. w. t., on August 3, 1943; and said hearing having been postponed by subsequent orders of the Commission until April 18, 1944; and

Consolidated Electric and Gas Company having requested that the hearing so directed to be held in said consolidated proceedings be further postponed for a period of not less than sixty days, stating in such request, among other things, that the company, since June 23, 1943, the date of the filing of its application for approval of the plan hereinabove first mentioned, has been actively engaged in a program of divestment of its investments in its subsidiary companies, and, since January 1, 1943, has effected dispositions of such investments in sixteen public utility companies, theretofore comprised within the Consolidated Electric and Gas holding company system, has contracted for the sale of its investment in a seventeenth such company (with relation to which a hearing was held before a trial examiner of this Commission on March 28, 1944), and has substantially completed negotiations for the sale of its investments in six additional subsidiary public utility companies, which last mentioned sales it is anticipated will be effected within sixty days from March 29, 1944; that the consummation of said sales and said proposed sales will serve to simplify the problems of said Consolidated Electric and Gas holding company system in effecting compliance with section 11 (b) of the act, reducing the number of public utility subsidiaries of the system operating in the United States to seven; that such divestments will require a substantial revision of the plan for such compliance filed with this Commission on June 23, 1943, which revision cannot be made until such further divestments are consummated; and

The Commission deeming it appropriate under the circumstances that the hearing directed to be held herein on April 18, 1944, be further postponed;

It is ordered, That the hearing in this matter previously scheduled for April 18, 1944, at 10:00 a. m., e. w. t., in the offices of the Securities and Exchange Commission, 18th and Locust Streets, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, be, and hereby is, postponed to June 20, 1944, at the same hour and place and before the same trial examiner as heretofore designated.

It is further ordered, That the time within which any person other than parties to said consolidated proceedings desiring to be heard or otherwise wishing to participate in said proceedings shall file his request or application therefor with the Secretary of the Commission as provided by Rule XVII of the Commission's rules of practice be, and the same hereby is, extended to June 15, 1944.

WEST PENN POWER CO.

NOTICE OF FILING AND ORDER FOR HEARING

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the City of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, on the 6th day of April, A. D. 1944.

Notice is hereby given that a declaration or application (or both) has been filed with this Commission pursuant to the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 by West Penn Power Company (West Penn) a registered holding company and a subsidiary of American Water Works and Electric Company, Inc., a registered holding company.

All interested persons are referred to said declaration or application (or both), which is on file in the office of this Commission, for a statement of the transactions therein proposed, which may be summarized as follows:

West Penn proposes to reduce the amount of capital represented by its presently outstanding 2,935,000 shares of no par value common stock from $31,750,000 to $21,750,000 without reducing the number of such shares. The surplus created by such reduction of common capital amounting to $10,000,000 will be setup in a separate account designated "capital surplus". The transaction proposed is for the stated purpose of making available "capital surplus" in the said amount of $10,000,000 for use in connection with the reclassification of the accounts and the adjustment of books of West Penn under the Uniform System of Accounts prescribed by the Federal Power Commission and the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission. The declaration or application (or both) states that the "capital surplus" so created, together with the earned surplus and reserves of West Penn, will be sufficient to cover any adjustments or write-offs which West Penn may be lawfully required to make by regulatory authorities in connection with the reclassification of its accounts. West Penn also proposes to call a special stockholders' meeting to obtain approval of the proposed reduction in capital and, in connection therewith, to solicit proxies from its stockholders.

It appearing to the Commission that it is appropriate, in the public interest and in the interest of investors and consumers, that a hearing be held with respect to said matter and that said declaration or application (or both), shall not become effective or be granted except pursuant to further order of this Commission;

It is ordered, That a hearing on such matter be held on April 24, 1944 at 10:00

TITLE 32—NATIONAL DEFENSE

Chapter IX—War Production Board

Subchapter B—Executive Vice-Chairman

AUTHORITY: Regulations in this subchapter issued under sec. 2 (a), 54 Stat. 676, as amended by 55 Stat. 236 and 56 Stat. 176; E.O. 9024, 7 F.R. 329; E.O. 9125, 7 F.R. 2719; W.P.B. Reg. 1 as amended March 24, 1943, 8 F.R. 3666, 3696; Pri. Reg. 1 as amended May 15, 1943, 8 F.R. 6727.

PART 1010—SUSPENSION ORDERS

[Suspension Order S–495, Amdt. 1]

HOPE WEBBING CO., INC.

Hope Webbing Company, Inc., Pawtucket, Rhode Island, is a manufacturer chiefly of cotton fabrics, and in addition it has made jute fabrics for a single customer. Suspension Order No. S–495, effective February 29, and expiring June 29, 1944, prohibits putting into process any cotton, rayon, jute or cotton, rayon or jute products except to fill orders rated AA–3 or higher.

It appears that Suspension Order S–495 has affected certain orders, which the company receives, in a manner not contemplated at the time Suspension Order S–495 was recommended. These facts were brought to the attention of the Chief Compliance Commissioner, who on April 4, 1944, directed that the restrictions contained in paragraph (a) of the suspension order should not apply to the putting into process of cotton yarn to manufacture wrapping tape for use as an operating supply for vulcanizing processes, or to manufacture products listed in General Conservation Order M–317 for which paragraph (b) of that order assigns a rating of AA–2X or higher for the delivery of cotton yarn.

In view of the foregoing, It is hereby ordered, That:

Section 1010.495 Suspension Order S–495 issued February 29, 1944, be, and hereby is, amended by adding the following:

(d) The restrictions contained in paragraph (a) of Suspension Order S–495 shall not apply to the putting into process of cotton yarn to manufacture wrapping tape for use as an operating supply for vulcanizing processes, or to manufacture products listed in General Conservation Order M–317 for which paragraph (b) of that order assigns a rating of AA–2X or higher for the delivery of cotton yarn.

Issued this 10th day of April 1944.

PART 1226—GENERAL INDUSTRIAL EQUIPMENT

[General Conservation Order L–80, Interpretation 2]

ELEVATORS AND ESCALATORS; ORDERS FOR MATERIAL AND LABOR EXCEEDING $500

The following interpretation is issued with respect to General Conservation Order L–80:

Some question has arisen as to whether an order rated as AA–5 or higher pursuant to CMP Regulation 5 or 5A is an "approved order" as defined in paragraph (a) (4) (ii) of Order L–80 if material alone cost less than $500 but material and labor installation together exceed $500. An order for material costing less than $500, other than material to be incorporated in a minor capital addition or capitalized under CMP Regulation 5 or 5A, is an approved order, as defined in Order L–80, even though the cost of both material and labor exceeds $500 and even though installation is made by the seller of the material as a normal business practice under a single fee for both material and labor. However, an MRO order for material costing less than $500, which will be incorporated in a minor capital addition or capitalized under CMP Regulation 5 or 5A, is not an approved order, as defined in Order L–80, if the material and labor together amount to more than $500 and the installation is made by the seller of the material as a normal business practice under a single fee. (See Interpretations 8 and 11 to CMP Regulation 5.)

Issued this 11th day of April 1944.

PART 3102—NATIONAL EMERGENCY SPECIFICATIONS FOR STEEL PRODUCTS

[Limitation Order L–211, Schedule 15 as Amended Apr. 11, 1944]

HOT-ROLLED CARBON STEEL BARS

§ 3102.16 Schedule 15 to Limitation Order L–211—(a) Definitions. For the purpose of this schedule:

(1) "Hot-rolled carbon steel bars" means carbon steel bars in either straight bar or coil form produced from billets or blooms by hot-rolling, without subsequent processing for accuracy of cross-section or to impart special surface finishes. The term does not include tool steel bars or concrete reinforcement bars.

(2) "Bars" means rounds, squares, round-cornered squares, hexagons, ovals, half-ovals, half-rounds, flats ($13/64$ inch or over in thickness and 6 inches and under in width), and bar size shapes (angles, channels, and tees under 3 inches on both legs). Rounds, squares, hexagons and flats having dimensions in excess of those shown in Table 1 of this schedule are classified as forgings or plates and are not within the scope of this definition.

(3) "Carbon steel" means steel other than alloy steel as defined in Order M–21–a.

(b) Restrictions on sizes. No person shall produce or deliver hot-rolled carbon steel bars of any type listed in Table 1 within the range of sizes there listed, except in the sizes listed in that table.

(c) Acceptance of delivery. No person shall accept delivery of any hot-rolled carbon steel bars which he knows or has reason to believe have been produced or delivered in violation of the provisions of paragraph (b) of this schedule.

(d) Exceptions. The provisions of this schedule shall not prevent:

(1) Production, delivery, or acceptance of hot-rolled carbon steel bars for which an order was entered prior to September 30, 1943, provided shipment of the entire order is made on or before December 31, 1943.

(2) Delivery or acceptance of hot-rolled carbon steel bars which because of errors in manufacture do not conform to the requirements of this schedule, providing such requirements are waived by the purchaser.

(3) Production, delivery, or acceptance of hot-rolled carbon steel bars specifically permitted in writing by the War Production Board.

(e) Records. Each person owning or possessing hot-rolled carbon steel bars excepted by the provisions of paragraph (d) shall retain records of such material available for inspection by duly authorized representatives of the War Production Board.

Issued this 11th day of April 1944.

Recording Secretary.

PERMISSIBLE VARIATIONS FOR DIMENSIONS AND WORKMANSHIP

Permissible size variations applicable to this schedule shall be those set forth as Standard Permissible Variations for Dimensions and Workmanship in Section 8, Hot, Rolled Carbon-Steel Bars, of the American Iron and Steel Institute Manual, Revision June 1943. Modification of the prescribed tolerances is not permissible; except that for bars purchased on Army, Navy or Federal Specifications, the tolerances set forth in such specifications may be applied.

INTERPRETATION 1

(a) The term "hot-rolled carbon steel bars" as used in the schedule does not include:
(1) Carbon file steel bars, which are considered to be tool steel bars.
(2) Wrought iron bars.

(b) The restrictions of the schedule apply generally to production and delivery, not to use. For example, although carbon steel bars in the dimensions listed under the heading "Nut–Steel Flats" are chiefly used for the manufacture of nuts, the schedule does not prohibit the production or use for other purposes of sizes permitted under this category.

(c) On the other hand, where a special quality or grade of steel is set forth in Table I, that type of steel may be furnished only in the dimensions listed. For example, the dimensions listed under the headings "Round Edge Flat Spring Steel" and "Automotive Round Edge Leaf Spring Flats" are applicable only to spring steel. Round edge flats in grades other than spring steel may not be produced in these dimensions, but must be produced only in the dimensions listed under the heading "Round Edge Flats." However, the rule stated in paragraph (b) of this interpretation is still applicable; spring steel purchased in accordance with the schedule may be used by the buyer for purposes other than the manufacture of springs.

(d) "Mill Edge" or "Strip Edge Flats" are not listed as such in this schedule but the dimensions listed under the heading "Square Edge Flats" also apply to "Mill Edge" or "Strip Edge Flats."

(e) Attention is called to the note at the end of Table 1, relating to permissible variations. This provides that modification of the prescribed tolerances is not permissible. Hence, an order calling directly or indirectly for a narrower tolerance than is prescribed must not be produced or delivered. The only exception is with respect to flats for cold drawing, and this exception is set forth in the note following the list of permitted sizes of flats in Table 1 of the schedule. (Issued Dec. 20, 1943; amended Feb. 3, 1944)

PART 3175—REGULATIONS APPLICABLE TO THE CONTROLLED MATERIALS PLAN

Section 3175.1 CMP Regulation No. 1 is amended as follows:

(1) Strike the period at the end of the first sentence of paragraph (j) (2) and add the following phrase: "and where he uses substantially the same trademark or trade name."

(2) Insert, "Ref: CMP Division" after "War Production Board" in the second sentence of paragraph (j) (2), strike the period at the end of the sentence and insert the following: "and furnishing one extra copy of such notification for each authorized production schedule that he has received from the War Production Board".

(3) Change the table in paragraph (L) (1) to read as follows:

Carbon steel (including wrought iron) and alloy steel	10 tons
Copper wire mill and brass mill products	1,000 lbs.
Copper and copper base alloy foundry products	300 lbs.
Aluminum	2,000 lbs.

(4) Add the following sentence to paragraph (s–1): "This paragraph (s–1)

does not change the restrictions of CMP Regulation No. 2 relating to the acceptance of delivery of controlled material."

(5) Strike paragraph (t) (3) (ii) and insert the following note:

NOTE: Paragraph (t) (3) (ii) relating to sample orders revoked April 11, 1944. Persons desiring controlled materials for testing and experimental purposes may obtain them under the provisions of Order P–43.

(6) Add the following subparagraph (iv) following paragraph (t) (3) (iii):

(iv) An order for steel which a distributor would be authorized to fill under paragraph (d) (4) of CMP Regulation No. 4, when the order is filled only from mill stock and the producer customarily sells steel from his own stock.

(7) Change the word "purchased" in paragraph (v) to "acquired".

(8) Change Interpretation 20 by changing paragraph (a) (5) from "Office of Lend-Lease Administration" to read "Foreign Economic Administration."

[Preference Rating Order P–142, Direction 2]

AUTHORIZATION TO ORDER ADDITIONAL TRACK MATERIALS

The following direction is issued pursuant to Preferred Rating Order P–142:

Under this direction, railroad operators may use the rating of AA–1 to order additional amounts of track materials for delivery during the third and fourth quarters of 1944, subject to the following conditions:

(1) For each of these two quarters, the additional amount must not exceed 20% of the total dollar value amount of track material to accompany new rail already authorized for the operator under P–142 for the particular quarter. (For example, a railroad operator who has been authorized to place orders for $1,000 worth of track material to accompany new rail for delivery in the third quarter, and $1,100 worth in the fourth quarter, is authorized by this direction to increase the former amount to $1,200 and the latter amount to $1,320).

(2) This direction covers only track materials as listed in paragraph (b) (2) of Order P–142, and not rail and track accessories (which are controlled materials). Also, the above 20% figure may be applied only against specific authorizations already issued to the railroad operator for track material to accompany new rail, as distinguished from track material for maintenance or other purposes.

(3) This direction applies only to railroad operators under P–142 (serial numbers below 1,000), and not to transit or other operators.

PART 3290—TEXTILE, CLOTHING AND LEATHER

[Limitation Order L–99 as Amended Apr. 11, 1944]

COTTON TEXTILE PRODUCTION

§ 3290.46 Limitation Order L–99—(a) Applicability of regulations. This order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to all applicable regulations of the War Production Board, as amended from time to time.

(b) Operations of spindles and looms producing cotton textiles. Except as otherwise specifically directed in writing by the War Production Board, no person shall operate spindles or looms, except in accordance with the following requirements: (column references apply only within each of the number groups in Column I of the schedules of this order).

(1) The percentages, as stated in Column III, of the number of spindles or looms operated on or assigned to the cotton textiles listed in Column II, at the time or times specified in the heading of Column II, may produce only the cotton textiles specified in Column IV.

(2) The restrictions of paragraph (b) (1) shall be effective on the dates specified in Column V.

(c) Exceptions. (1) The restrictions of paragraph (b) shall not prohibit the manufacture of any construction in any group of lower pick than the lowest pick specified in Column IV as to such group, unless the War Production Board hereafter specifically so directs in writing. Any person affected by this paragraph (c) (1) shall immediately report such fact in writing to the War Production Board.

(2) [Deleted Dec. 24, 1943]

(d) Further restrictions. (1) No producer or converter of cotton textiles shall produce, convert or deliver cotton textiles and no person shall accept delivery of cotton textiles from a producer or converter, contrary to any specific direction which may be issued from time to time by the War Production Board.

(2) No person in the business of producing cotton yarns shall operate in the calendar quarter beginning April 1, 1944 or in any subsequent calendar quarter at a rate of production which will result in a production of less cotton yarn than the greatest poundage of cotton yarn produced by him in any calendar quarter of 1943.

(e) [Deleted Dec. 24, 1943]

(f) Reports and records. All persons operating spindles or looms for the production of cotton textiles of any kind shall file with the War Production Board quarterly production reports on Form WPB 658–A, B, C, D and E. All persons affected by this order shall keep and preserve for a period of not less than two years, accurate and complete records concerning inventories, production and sales. The reporting requirements of this order have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget under the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

An appeal for suspension of the requirement of paragraph (d) (2) may be made on the ground that compliance will result in production at a loss, provided that an application for price relief on that ground is first filed with the Secretary of the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., and a copy is filed with the WPB appeal. If the WPB appeal is granted, the requirement of that paragraph for increases above current production will be suspended until the decision by the Office of Price Administration upon the application for price relief. This paragraph does not indicate or limit the extent or kind of price relief, if any, which may be granted by the Office of Price Administration.

(h) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States, is guilty of a crime and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

[General Conservation Order M-310, Interpretation 1]

EFFECT OF RATINGS ON EQUITABLE DISTRIBUTION

The following interpretation is issued with respect to General Conservation Order M-310:

Paragraph (b) (5) of this order, the so-called equitable distribution clause, does not excuse filling of rated orders. This clause prohibits discrimination between customers who meet established prices, terms and credit requirements, but it does not override Priorities Regulation No. 1, which requires, subject to the conditions set forth, that all rated orders be accepted and that preference be given to orders carrying higher ratings over those with lower ratings.

The particular types of leather specified by preference rated orders must be delivered unless the leather cannot be produced from the hides or skins available to the tanner or the tanner is excused or prevented from filling the order by a regulation, order or direction of the War Production Board. If a rated order is placed for military quality leather, this order may not be filled with civilian quality leather.

Issued this 11th day of April 1944.

Recording Secretary.

PART 3293 [1]—CHEMICALS

[General Preference Order M-307 as Amended Apr. 11, 1944]

CASEIN

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply of casein for defense, for private account and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

§ 3293.421 [1] General Preference Order M-307—(a) Definitions. (1) "Casein" means the protein components of skimmed milk which have been precipitated by the action of rennet, acid or sweet or sour whey and which have been washed, dried and ground. Precipitated components which have been washed and/or dried, but not ground, are not "casein" within the terms hereof, but "casein" does include "casein" as above defined where blended with other precipitated components, whether or not such other components are washed, dried or ground.

(2) "Producer" means any person who produces or imports casein and includes any person who produces casein for use in the manufacture by him of other products.

(3) "Distributor" means any person who purchases casein for the purpose of resale.

(4) "Supplier" means a producer or a distributor.

(b) Restrictions on production. War Production Board may at any time issue authorizations or directions to a producer respecting the grades or types of casein which he may produce.

(c) Restrictions on deliveries and use. (1) On and after May 1, 1943, no person shall deliver, accept delivery of, or use casein, except as specifically authorized or directed by War Production Board.

(2) Authorizations or directions with respect to deliveries or use in the two month period May 1, to June 30, 1943, and in each calendar quarter commencing with the third quarter of 1943, will so far as practicable be issued by War Production Board prior to the commencement of such period or quarter, but War Production Board may at any time in its discretion issue directions with respect to deliveries to be made or accepted, or with respect to use or uses which may or may not be made of casein to be delivered or then on hand. Such authorizations or directions may be made by War Production Board without regard to preference ratings applicable to particular orders.

(3) Each person specifically authorized to accept delivery of or use casein shall use such material for the purpose authorized, and only for such purpose, except as otherwise specifically directed by the War Production Board. Casein allocated for inventory shall not be used except as specifically directed by War Production Board.

(vii) In Column 4 (Product End Use), applicant will specify with respect to each primary product the ultimate use to which such primary product will be put. For example, if the "primary product" called for in Column 3 is "adhesives", the ultimate use might be "furniture plywood". Applicant will also specify in each case whether his customer is Army, Navy, other government agency, Lend-Lease, or commercial customer. If application is for casein for resale or for inventory, leave Column 4 blank.

(2) Each supplier seeking authorization to make delivery of casein in any calendar quarter commencing with the third quarter of 1943, shall file application therefor on or before the 20th day of the month preceding the commencement of such quarter. Applications respecting delivery in the period May 1 to June 30, 1943 shall be filed as many days as possible in advance of May 1, 1943. In any case, applications shall be made on Form PD–601 in the manner prescribed therein, subject to the following special instructions:

(i) Copies of Form PD–601 may be obtained at local field offices of the War Production Board.

(ii) Supplier will prepare an original and three copies of each set of Form PD–601 and will forward the original and two copies to War Production Board, Chemicals Division, Washington 25, D. A separate set of Form PD–601 shall be prepared by supplier to cover deliveries which he proposes to make in the applicable month to customers ordering casein for the manufacture or preparation of the same class of product. For the purposes of this requirement, the classes of product shall be those listed in paragraph (e) (1) (vi).

(iii) Each producer who has filed application on Form PD–600 specifying himself as his supplier, shall list his own name as customer on Form PD–601 and shall list his request for allocation in the manner prescribed for other customers.

PART 3293—CHEMICALS

MISCELLANEOUS CHEMICALS

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply of the chemicals subject to this order for defense, for private account and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

§ 3293.491 Allocation Order M–340—(a) Definitions. (1) "Subject chemical" means any chemical listed in Appendix A, as therein defined.

(2) "Producer" means any person engaged in the production of any subject chemical and includes a person who imports any subject chemical or has it produced for him pursuant to toll agreement.

(3) "Distributor" means any person who buys any subject chemical for the purpose of resale without further processing and without changing the form thereof.

(4) "Supplier" means a producer or distributor.

(b) Restrictions on deliveries. (1) On and after the applicable effective date stated in Appendix A, no supplier shall deliver a subject chemical to any person except as specifically authorized or directed in writing by War Production Board. No person shall accept delivery of a subject chemical which he knows or has reason to believe is delivered in violation of this order.

(2) Authorization or directions as to deliveries to be made by suppliers in each calendar month will generally be issued by War Production Board prior to the beginning of such month, but may be issued at any time. They will normally be issued on Form WPB–2947 (formerly PD–602) which is to be filed by the supplier with War Production Board as explained in paragraph (g) below.

(3) If a supplier is authorized or directed by War Production Board to deliver a subject chemical to any specific customer or group of customers, but is unable to make the delivery either because of receipt of notice of cancellation or otherwise, the subject chemical shall revert to inventory, and shall not be delivered, or used, without further instructions.

(c) Exceptions for small deliveries. (1) Specific authorization in writing of War Production Board is not required for delivery by any supplier to any person in any calendar month of a subject chemical in a quantity not exceeding the quantity stated in Column 3 of Appendix B.

(2) The aggregate quantity of a subject chemical which any supplier may deliver in any calendar month pursuant to paragraph (c) (1), shall not exceed:

(i) The quantity which he has been specifically authorized, upon application pursuant to Appendix D, to deliver on small orders; or

(ii) If he is a distributor, the quantity which he acquired upon certification that it was required to fill small orders or the quantity which he acquired himself on such a small order, or

(iii) If he is a distributor who customarily delivers exclusively on small orders, any quantity.

(d) Exceptions for deliveries for other reasons. Specific authorization in writing of War Production Board is not required for delivery of a subject chemical by any supplier to any other person for a purpose stated in Column 4 of Appendix B.

(e) Restrictions on use. (1) On and after the applicable effective date stated in Appendix A, no supplier shall use a subject chemical except as specifically authorized or directed in writing by War Production Board.

(2) Each person who with an order for a subject chemical furnishes a certificate required by paragraph (f) shall use the subject chemical delivered on such order only as specified on such certificate except as otherwise specifically authorized or directed in writing by War Production Board.

(3) War Production Board may from time to time issue directions with respect to the use or uses which may or may not be made of a subject chemical to be delivered to, or then in inventory of the prospective user.

(f) Supplier to obtain from customer a certificate of use. No supplier shall in any calendar month (beginning in the case of each subject chemical with the calendar month in which the order becomes effective as to that chemical as stated in Appendix A) deliver to any person a greater quantity of such subject chemical than is stated in Column 3 of Appendix B, unless he shall have received from such person a certificate as to the use for which such person is ordering such subject chemical. Such certificate must be received by the supplier not later than the 15th day of the month preceding the month in which delivery is to be made. It need not be filed with War Production Board. A supplier must not deliver a subject chemical where he knows or has reason to believe the purchaser's certificate is false, but in the absence of such knowledge or reason to believe, he may rely on the certificate.

(g) Applications by suppliers for leave to deliver or use. (1) Each supplier requiring authorization to make delivery of, or to use, a subject chemical during any calendar month shall file application on or before the 20th day of the preceding month. The application should be made on Form WPB–2947 (formerly PD–602) in the manner set forth in the general instructions appearing on that form, subject to the special instructions contained in Appendix D. If there is an inconsistency between the general and special instructions, the special instructions must be followed.

(2) War Production Board may issue to any supplier other and further directions with respect to preparing and filing Form WPB–2947 (formerly PD–602).

(h) Miscellaneous provisions—(1) Applicability of regulations. This order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to all applicable regulations of War Production Board, as amended from time to time.

(2) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order or who, in connection with this order wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(3) Communications to War Production Board. All reports required to be filed hereunder and all communications concerning this order, shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to: War Production Board, Chemicals Division, Washington 25, D. C. Ref: M–340.

Issued this 11th day of April 1944.

If it is necessary to use more than one sheet to list customers, number each sheet in order and show the grand total on last sheet which is the only one that need be certified.

(6) Primary product and end use. In Column 1-a (except for small orders as explained in (7) below) specify the product or products in the manufacture or preparation of which the subject chemical will be used by your customer, the end use to which such product or products will be put, and military or Lend-Lease contract numbers, and export license numbers, all as indicated by the certificate obtained under paragraph (f) of this order. The quantity of the subject chemical used in the manufacture or preparation of each primary product for each product use shall be shown separately. If the subject chemical ordered by a customer is for two or more uses, indicate each use separately and indicate the quantity of the subject chemical ordered for each use.

(7) Small orders. The supplier need not list the name of any customer to whom he is to deliver in the applicable month a quantity of the subject chemical not exceeding the maximum quantity (indicated in Column 3 of Appendix B) which he is permitted to deliver to any one person in any calendar month without specific authorization. Also, in the case of any such delivery, he need not show the name of the product or the end use. Instead, he must write in Column 1 "Total small order deliveries (estimated)" and in Column 4, must specify the total estimated quantity of the subject chemical to be delivered on such orders.

(8) Use by producers. A producer requiring permission to use a part or all of his own production of the subject chemical shall list his own name as customer in Column 1 on Form WPB-2947 (formerly Form PD-602) specifying quantity required and product manufactured. Written approval of War Production Board on such Form WPB-2947 (formerly Form PD-602) shall constitute authority to the producer to use the subject chemical in the quantity and for the purposes indicated in such approved form.

(9) Table II. Each producer will report production, deliveries and stocks as required by Table II, Columns 9 to 16, inclusive. Distributors will fill out only Columns 10, 12 and 13. Producers and distributors will show in Column 8 Grade, as stated in Appendix A, or if no Grade is there specified, will leave Column 8 blank.

TITLE 38—PENSIONS, BONUSES AND VETERANS' RELIEF

Chapter I—Veterans' Administration

PART 35—VETERANS' REGULATIONS

INDUCTION OF TRAINEES AT SUBMINIMUM WAGE RATES

Instruction No. 9, Public No. 16, 78th Congress (Act of March 24, 1943). (1) The relationship of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938, Public No. 718, 75th Congress, and the Walsh-Healey Public Contracts Act, Public No. 846, 74th Congress, to Public No. 16, 78th Congress; (2) Authority to induct trainees in training-on-the-job at subminimum wage rates.

For the purposes of Public No. 16, 78th Congress, the following instruction is hereby issued:

1. The Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938, Public No. 718, 75th Congress, requires an employer, as a statutory obligation, to pay to any person, not specifically exempt, who is suffered or permitted to work in commerce or in the production of goods for commerce, without regard to other source of income, a minimum wage of 40¢ per hour,[1] or a subminimum hourly wage rate which the Administrator of the Wage and Hour and Public Contracts Divisions, United States Department of Labor, may approve for handicapped workers under section 14 of the act. Similarly, the Walsh-Healey Public Contracts Act, Public No. 846, 74th Congress, requires that all persons employed by a contractor on work subject thereto be paid not less than the applicable minimum wages as determined by the Secretary of Labor. When the hours of employment-training exceed 40 in any one work-week (or 8 in any 1 day, if the work performed is subject to the Public Contracts Act), the overtime provisions of the acts are applicable.

2. When a prospective employer-trainer, as a condition precedent to his acceptance of a trainee[2] for training-on-the-job, indicates he will not meet the minimum wage requirements of the Fair Labor Standards Act and the Walsh-Healey Public Contracts Act, the use of such training facility will not be favorably considered unless (1) other opportunities for the desired training neither exist nor are available in the veteran's community; and (2) the trainee's disabilities preclude initial entrance into training at the minimum wage otherwise applicable.

3. When, after investigation, the above conditions are found to exist, vocational rehabilitation officers are authorized to approve induction in training-on-the-job at subminimum rates. To accomplish this purpose, the Administrator of the Wage and Hour and Public Contracts Divisions, United States Department of Labor, has delegated to the vocational rehabilitation officers of the field stations having regional office activities authority to issue to a prospective employer a temporary certificate for each trainee valid for a period of not longer than 3 months from the date of issuance, authorizing the employment-training of a trainee at an hourly wage rate not less than 75% of the applicable minimum wage unless

[1] Under the Fair Labor Standards Act, most industries are already under 40¢ wage orders; all others will probably be so covered within a few weeks except in Puerto Rico.

[2] As used herein the term "trainee" has reference to a disabled veteran determined to be eligible for vocational training by the Veterans Administration in an occupation covered by either the Fair Labor Standards Act or the Walsh-Healey Public Contracts Act.

after investigation a different wage rate appears to be clearly justified. In exceptional and unusual cases, vocational rehabilitation officers may authorize employment-training at lower rates. A certificate, however, should not necessarily be issued at a rate as low as 75% of the minimum. In each case the rate should be set at a figure designed adequately to reflect the individual trainee's earning capacity.

4. Payments made on a piece rate basis to a trainee in training-on-the-job must be at the piece rate paid nonhandicapped employees in the same occupation but in no case less than the hourly wage rate set forth in the certificate.

5. The temporary certificate will be prepared in quadruplicate. The blue copy will be forwarded to the employer-trainer. The green copy will be given to the trainee. The white copy will be filed in the trainee's vocational rehabilitation record file and the buff copy will be forwarded within 10 days after issuance by the vocational rehabilitation officer to the appropriate regional director of the Wage & Hour and Public Contracts Divisions, U. S. Department of Labor, together with the vocational rehabilitation officer's recommendation covering the agreed subminimum rate or rates for the balance of the training period. The regional director of the Wage & Hour and Public Contracts Divisions, U. S. Department of Labor, will then issue a special certificate prior to the expiration of the temporary certificate covering such remaining period of training as may be required under the terms of the training agreement, but in no case for a period in excess of 9 months from the date of expiration of the temporary certificate. The effective date of the special certificate will follow consecutively the date of expiration of the temporary certificate and such certificate will authorize the employment-training of the affected trainee at the graduated wage scale recommended by the vocational rehabilitation officer.

6. When unusual conditions necessitate a period of employment-training at a subminimum rate in excess of one year, a renewal certificate may be issued by the Wage & Hour and Public Contracts Divisions, U. S. Department of Labor, upon the vocational rehabilitation officer's application and recommendation.

7. Vocational rehabilitation officers or the employee acting in that capacity will authenticate special certificates. (April 10, 1944) (57 Stat. 43-45)

CACAO PRODUCTS

DEFINITIONS AND STANDARDS OF IDENTITY

In the matter of fixing and establishing definitions and standards of identity for cacao nibs; chocolate liquor; sweet chocolate (coating); milk chocolate (coating); skim milk chocolate (coating); buttermilk chocolate (coating); mixed milk, skim milk, buttermilk, malted milk chocolate (coating); cocoa; breakfast cocoa; low-fat cocoa; sweet cocoa and fat (other than cacao fat) coating; and sweet chocolate and fat (other than cacao fat) coating.

Proposed Order

It is proposed that, by virtue of the authority vested in the Federal Security Administrator by provisions of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act (secs. 401, 701 (e); 52 Stat. 1046, 1055; 21 U.S.C. 341, 371 (e), 1940 ed.); and upon the basis of evidence of record at the above-entitled hearings duly held pursuant to notice issued by the Acting Federal Security Administrator on October 11, 1940 (5 F.R. 4151), the following order be made:

Findings of Fact[1]—Cacao Nibs

1. The dried or cured cacao bean is the basic raw material from which cacao products are made. (R. pp. 22–23.)

2. The cacao product commonly and usually known as cacao nibs, cocoa nibs, or cracked cocoa is prepared by cleaning, heating, cracking, and removing the shell therefrom (see finding 4). (R. pp. 23–24, 42–43, 97–98, 265.)

3. The shell of the cacao bean is a hard, fibrous and unpalatable material of little nutritional value. It has only limited commercial uses, and sells at prices very much lower than the prices of cacao nibs. The presence of excess shell in nibs used in the manufacture of cacao products results in a coarse, gritty, and cheapened product; it has long been the practice of manufacturers to remove the shell as completely as is practicable. (R. pp. 23–25, 97–98, 333.)

4. The shell is removed from cacao nibs by sieving and winnowing the cleaned, heated, and cracked beans. The extent to which it is practicable to remove the shell from the nibs depends on several factors, including the equipment used, the variety of the cacao beans, the manner of curing, and the extent of heating. Although the shell is usually removed to such extent that the finished cacao nibs contain not more than about 1 percent by weight of shell, it is difficult to remove the shell of some cacao beans down to 1.5 percent. When good manufacturing practices are followed, a limit of not more than 1.75 percent by weight is a practicable and reasonable maximum for shell in the cacao nibs. (R. pp. 24–27, 36–37, 50, 74, 86–87, 90, 264, 332–333; Govt. Ex. No. 2.)

5. The quantity of shell in cacao nibs can be determined accurately by the method prescribed in "Official and Tentative Methods of Analysis of the Association of Official Agricultural Chemists", Fifth Edition, 1940, beginning on page 208 under the heading "Shell in Cacao Nibs—Tentative". This publication, hereinafter referred to as "Methods of Analysis—A. O. A. C., 5th Ed.", is well known to and commonly used by food chemists. (R. pp. 39–40, 56, 71–73, 83–84, 91–92, 97–98, 106, 264, 275–276, 332–333.)

6. Sometimes manufacturers heat all or part of a given lot of cacao nibs, or the cacao beans from which such nibs are made, with one or more alkalis. The effect of such alkali processing is to darken the color of the nibs, to change their flavor, aroma, and perhaps other physical or chemical characteristics. These changed characteristics render the nibs more desirable for some uses, and appear in finished cacao products made from cacao nibs so processed. (R. pp. 131–134, 266–267, 272–273, 506, 1141.)

7. One or more of the following alkalis are used in the processing of cacao nibs and are suitable for such use in a quantity not greater than that specified in finding 9: ammonium carbonate, ammonium bicarbonate, ammonium hydroxide, magnesium carbonate, magnesium oxide, potassium carbonate, potassium bicarbonate, potassium hydroxide, sodium carbonate, sodium bicarbonate, and sodium hydroxide. They are added as such or in water solutions. (R. pp. 131–134, 266–267, 272, 436, 437.)

8. When used in reference to alkali-processed cacao products, the term "alkali" is the name whereby the substances specified in finding 7 are designated collectively, and such term is commonly used as an alternative to the specific common names of the individual substances. (R. pp. 134–135.)

9. When potassium carbonate is the alkali used, the quantity usually added to obtain the desired characteristics is not more than three parts (calculated as anhydrous potassium carbonate) to each one hundred parts by weight of the cacao nibs used for such processing. When other alkalis specified in finding 7 are used singly, or in any combination with each other or with potassium carbonate, the quantity usually added to obtain such characteristics is such that its neutralizing value is not greater than that of the maximum quantity above specified for potassium carbonate when it is the only alkali used. The neutralizing values of such other alkalis are calculated from their respective combining weights. Larger quantities of alkalis are unnecessary and when added in excess of such amount they begin to impart "soapiness" and other undesirable characteristics. (R. pp. 131–134, 266–273, 333–334.)

10. When alkalis are added to a cacao product they combine with the free acids and perhaps other acidic constituents of the product, so that the alkalis are neutralized and are not present as such in the finished product but are present in combined form. (R. pp. 131–135, 270–272, 319–321.)

11. The distinctive characteristics of cacao products which have been subjected to the alkali process serve as a basis upon which purchasers select such products for particular uses. (R. pp. 131, 134–135, 149–150, 270–272, 319–320.)

12. The process of treating cacao products with alkalis originated in Holland, and the term "Dutch Process" has been used in the trade and on some labels for years to indicate that a particular cacao product has been subjected to this process; however, few people outside the

Also, in the case of any such delivery, he need not show the name of the product or the end use. Instead, he must write in Column 1 "Total small order deliveries (estimated)" and in Column 4, must specify the total estimated quantity of the subject chemical to be deliv-

75th Congress, and the Walsh-Healey Public Contracts Act, Public No. 846, 74th Congress, to Public No. 16, 78th Congress; (2) Authority to induct trainees in training-on-the-job at subminimum wage rates.

For the purposes of Public No. 16, 78th Congress, the following instruction is hereby issued:

1. The Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938, Public No. 718, 75th Congress, requires an employer, as a statutory obligation, to pay to any person, not specifically exempt, who is suffered or permitted to work in commerce or in the production of goods for commerce, without regard to other source of income, a minimum wage of 40¢ per hour,[1] or a subminimum hourly wage rate which the Administrator of the Wage and Hour and Public Contracts Divisions, United States Department of Labor, may approve for handicapped workers under section 14 of the act. Similarly, the Walsh-Healey Public Contracts Act, Public No. 846, 74th Congress, requires that all persons employed by a contractor on work subject thereto be paid not less than the applicable minimum wages as determined by the Secretary of Labor. When the hours of employment-training exceed 40 in any one work-week (or 8 in any 1 day, if the work performed is subject to the Public Contracts Act), the overtime provisions of the acts are applicable.

2. When a prospective employer-trainer, as a condition precedent to his acceptance of a trainee [1] for training-on-the-job, indicates he will not meet the minimum wage requirements of the Fair trade know the significance of that phrase. (R. pp. 131, 134–135, 270–272.)

13. A label statement of the presence of these optional alkali ingredients in cacao products which is informative and reasonable is a statement that the cacao product has been processed with alkali or processed with a specific alkali or alkalis, as, for example, "Processed With Alkali" or "Processed With Ammonia". (R. pp. 131–135, 271–272, 319–320, 549.)

Chocolate Liquor

14. The solid or semiplastic food prepared by finely grinding cacao nibs is commonly known by any of the several names "chocolate liquor", "chocolate", "bitter chocolate", "baking chocolate", "cooking chocolate", "chocolate coating", "bitter chocolate coating". (R. pp. 98, 107, 274, 336, 538–539, 1565.)

15. Different varieties and grades of cacao beans contain different percentages of cacao fat; the percentage of cacao fat in the ground cacao nibs varies with the variety, grade, or blend of cacao beans used and with other factors. (R. pp. 99, 103, 106–107, 129, 369; Govt. Ex. 3; O. P. Ex. 4.)

16. Cacao nibs seldom contain less than 50 percent or more than 58 percent by weight of cacao fat. In preparing chocolate liquor it is the normal practice to select or blend the nibs so that the finished product falls within this range, and these are practicable and reasonable limits for the cacao fat content of chocolate liquor. The quantity of cacao fat in chocolate liquor, other than that seasoned with butter, milk fat, or ground nut meats, can be determined accurately by the method prescribed in Methods of Analysis—A. O. A. C., 5th Ed., under "Fat Method I—Official" beginning on page 202. (R. pp. 98–106, 129, 274, 334–335, 369–370, 1273–1274; Govt. Ex. 3.)

17. Although chocolate liquor is extensively used in the home for culinary purposes, its principal use is as one of the basic ingredients in the manufacture of various chocolate products. (R. pp. 107–108, 110–111, 489–490.)

18. Various products in which chocolate liquor is used are manufactured according to formulae in which the percentage of cacap fat is an important factor (see finding 48). Manufacturers who purchase chocolate liquor for such purposes ordinarily do so on specifications as to its fat content. (R. pp. 107, 404–409, 540–541, 1018, 1139, 1144–1149, 1169.)

19. Different batches of chocolate liquor are adjusted to the desired percentage of cacao fat, within the limits of 50 percent to 58 percent, by adding to it either cacao fat or a cocoa (see findings 25 to 28, inclusive). If the chocolate liquor contains less cacao fat than desired, sufficient cacao fat is added to correct the deficiency; if it contains more, a cocoa is added to reduce the fat. The addition of both cacao fat and cocoa is not only unnecessary but is objectionable because such a mixture, even when it comes within the limits of fat content of chocolate liquor, is not chocolate liquor. (R. pp. 129–130, 193, 225, 334, 369, 403–407, 538, 1273–1274, 1529, 3467–3469.)

20. When alkali-processed chocolate liquor is desired, it is the general practice to add the alkalis specified in finding 7 to the cacao beans or nibs from which the chocolate liquor is prepared, as indicated in finding 6. However, manufacturers sometimes process the chocolate liquor itself with such alkalis. In either case findings 6 to 13, inclusive, are applicable to chocolate liquor, except that when the chocolate liquor itself is alkalized, the quantity of alkali used is calculated on the basis of the weight of cacao nibs used in preparing the chocolate liquor, including the nibs used in preparing any cocoa added thereto, and not on the basis of the weight of the finished chocolate liquor. (R. pp. 131, 506.)

21. Ingredients which are used to spice, flavor, or otherwise season chocolate liquor and which are suitable for such use are one or any combination of two or more of the substances listed in the following groups:

I. Ground spice.
II. Ground vanilla beans; any natural food flavoring oil, oleoresin, or extract.
III. Vanillin, ethyl vanillin, coumarin, or other artificial food flavoring.
IV. Butter, milk fat, dried malted cereal extract, ground coffee, ground nut meats.
V. Salt.

The use of such substances or combinations thereof is subject to the restrictions indicated in finding 22. (R. pp. 137–140, 218, 275–276, 421, 632, 700, 806–807, 1008, 1261–1262, 1537, 3424–3427, 3463–3464.)

22. Substances or combinations that impart a flavor which imitates the flavor of butter, milk, or chocolate are not generally regarded in the industry as legitimate ingredients of cacao products. It is cheaper to impart butter-like and milk-like flavors by such substances than by the use of butter and milk. The substances which impart chocolate-like flavors cause cacao products made from cheap, low-grade cacao beans to taste like those made from expensive, high-grade beans. The effect of the use of all such substances is to make the finished products appear better and more valuable than they are. Their use would tend to mislead or deceive consumers. (R. pp. 138, 276–277, 620, 1605–1606, 1621, 1626, 1648, 1672, 1687–1690, 3808, 3424–3427, 3463–3464.)

23. It is not the usual practice to add to chocolate liquor any of the seasoning ingredients specified in finding 21, except salt, and unless informed of such additions (other than salt) by appropriate labeling consumers generally do not expect chocolate liquor to contain such ingredients. (R. pp. 137–140, 1612–1613, 1643–1644.)

24. Label statements of the presence of such optional seasoning ingredients in chocolate liquor which are accurate and informative are those listed below for each of groups I to IV, inclusive, specified in finding 21:

Group I: "Spiced", "Spice Added", "With Added Spice"; or "Spiced With _____", "_____ Added", or "With Added _____", the blank being filled in with the specific common name of the spice used.

Group II: "Flavored", "Flavoring Added", "With Added Flavoring", "Flavored With _____", "_____ Added", or "With Added _____", the blank being filled in with the specific common name of the flavoring used.

Group III: "Artificially Flavored", "Artificial Flavoring Added", "With Artificial Flavoring", "Artificially Flavored With _____", or "With _____, an Artificial Flavoring", the blank being filled in with the specific common name of the artificial flavoring used.

Group IV: "Seasoned With _____", the blank being filled in with the specific common name of the substance used as seasoning. R. pp. 138–141, 276–278, 421, 1541, 1609–1613.)

Cocoas

25. The various cocoas are made by removing a portion of the cacao fat from ground cacao nibs and then pulverising the residual material. (R. pp. 117–120, 308–310, 337.)

26. The different kinds of cocoas are distinguished from each other on the basis of the range in the cacao fat content of each. (R. pp. 117–120, 308–310.)

27. Two kinds of cocoas are generally made and sold for use in the home; one contains not less than 22 percent, the other less than 22 but not less than 10 percent, by weight of cacao fat. The former is commonly and usually known as "breakfast cocoa" or "high fat cocoa", the latter as "cocoa" or "medium fat cocoa". (R. pp. 117–118, 309–310, 329.)

28. A kind of cocoa which contains less than 10 percent of cacao fat is also produced in large quantity for manufacturing use. In the trade this kind of cocoa, when it contains around 8 percent fat, has commonly been called "cocoa", and is usually sold on specifications as to fat content. The name "cocoa" unqualified is an inaccurate designation of this product and would not serve to distinguish it from household cocoa. When it contains around one percent fat it has been designated as low-fat cocoa or by fanciful names suggesting its low fat content. The name "low fat cocoa" is an informative and appropriate name for the kind of cocoa which contains less than 10 percent by weight of cacao fat. (R. pp. 119–120, 164, 310, 337–341, 455–458.)

29. When alkali-processed cocoas are desired, it is the general practice to make them from alkalized ground cacao nibs. However, manufacturers sometimes process the cocoas themselves with one or more of the alkalis specified in finding 7. In either case, findings 6 to 13, inclusive, are applicable, except that, when a cocoa itself is alkalized, the quantity of alkali used is calculated on the basis of the weight of the cacao nibs used in preparing such cocoa. (R. pp. 131–134, 266–268.)

30. Ingredients which are used to spice, flavor, or otherwise season cocoas and which are suitable for such use are one or any combination of two or more of the substances specified in groups I, II, III, and V in finding 21; finding 22 is applicable to the use of such substances. (R. pp. 137–140.)

31. It is not the usual practice to add to cocoas any of the seasoning ingredients specified in finding 21 except salt, and unless informed of such additions (other than salt) by appropriate labeling consumers generally do not expect cocoas to contain such ingredients. (R. pp. 137–140, 1591.)

32. Label statements of the presence of any such optional seasoning ingredient in any cocoa which are accurate and informative are those specified for such ingredient in finding 24. (R. pp. 137–140.)

33. The quantity of cacao fat in each kind of cocoa can be determined accurately by the method prescribed in Methods of Analysis—A. O. A. C., 5th Ed., under "Fat Method I—Official", beginning on page 202. (R. p. 274.)

Sweet Chocolate

34. The food commonly and usually known as "sweet chocolate" or "sweet chocolate coating" is the solid or semiplastic food composed basically of chocolate liquor intimately mixed and ground with one or more of the saccharine ingredients specified in findings 39 to 41, inclusive. (R. pp. 107–108, 458, 537–538, 640–641, 1167–8, 3313, 3315.)

35. Although sweetness is a characterising property of sweet chocolate, its principal characteristics are its chocolate taste, flavor, aroma, and color. These are derived from its chocolate liquor ingredient and may vary somewhat in strength with different kinds of cacao beans used and different degrees of roasting of such beans. When insufficient chocolate liquor is used, the finished product is excessively sweet and fatty and is deficient in chocolate characteristics. It is therefore necessary that sufficient chocolate liquor be used to insure the presence in the finished product of chocolate characteristics which are so substantial that the finished product is readily recognized by consumers as sweet chocolate. (R. pp. 108–109, 200, 358–359, 364–373, 518, 539–545, 993, 1017–1018, 1231, 3376–3378, 3413–3418, 3429, 3500–3501.)

36. It is customary in the trade to express the strength of the chocolate characteristics in sweet chocolate in terms of its chocolate liquor content. The components of chocolate liquor which give its outstanding characteristics of taste, flavor, aroma, and color are in the nonfat portion, which constitutes about 50 percent of the chocolate liquor. The percent of the nonfat portion varies somewhat in different chocolate liquors, depending on the percentage of cacao fat and whether or not alkali or other optional ingredients are added. In order to express the strength of chocolate characteristics in sweet chocolate with a fair degree of uniformity and precision, it is necessary that such strength be expressed as the percentage of chocolate liquor calculated as a nonalkalized, nonseasoned chocolate liquor containing 50 percent of cacao fat. A method for such calculation is as follows: Subtract from the weight of chocolate liquor used the weight of cacao fat therein and the weights of alkali and seasoning ingredients therein, if any. Multiply the remainder by 2, divide the result by the weight of the finished sweet chocolate, and multiply the quotient by 100. (R. pp. 130–131, 535, 570, 622, 628, 854, 899–901, 943–946, 993, 1017–1018, 1368, 3392–3394.)

37. To insure that the chocolate characteristics of the finished product are sufficient to be readily recognizable by consumers as sweet chocolate, it should contain not less than 15 percent by weight of cholocate liquor, calculated as indicated in finding 36. Most sweet cholocate contains substantially more than this quantity, and this is a reasonable minimum for the chocolate liquor content of sweet chocolate. (R. pp. 109, 360, 476, 517, 542, 678–679, 1038, 1278, 1342, 1652, 2404–2405, 2563, 2778–2779, 3377, 3392.)

38. Sweet chocolate of a relatively high chocolate liquor content and strong chocolate characteristics is frequently designated as "bittersweet chocolate", "bittersweet chocolate coating", "semisweet chocolate", "semisweet chocolate coating". The strong chocolate characteristics of sweet chocolate so designated result from the use in such product of not less than 35 percent by weight of chocolate liquor, calculated as indicated in finding 36; this minimum is necessary to insure such charactertistics. (R. pp. 154, 295, 317, 871, 1005, 1141–1142, 1176, 1210–1216, 1227–1230, 1253, 1276–1277, 2402, 2563, 3160.)

39. The sweetening ingredient traditionally used in sweet chocolate and most commonly used today is sugar, known chemically as sucrose, derived from sugar cane or sugar beets and refined to such extent that it free from perceptible color, odor, and flavor other than sweetness. (R. pp. 2226, 2813, 3587, 3757; O. P. Ex. No. 31.)

40. Sometimes partly refined cane sugar is also used, either alone or in combination with sugar. To be suitable for such purpose, raw cane sugar is subjected to some process of partial refinement, such as washing. (R. pp. 1517–1519, 2792–2803, 3581–3586, 3608–3609.)

41. Anhydrous dextrose or dried corn sirup or a mixture of these is sometimes used in a limited quantity (see finding 44), in combination with sugar or partly refined sugar or both, as part of the sweetening ingredient of sweet chocolate. Anhydrous dextrose suitable for such use is the refined anhydrous monosaccharide obtained from hydrolized starch. Dried corn sirup suitable for such use is the product prepared by incompletely hydrolyzing corn starch and is refined to such extent that, on a dry basis, it contains not less than 58 percent by weight of reducing sugars. (R. pp. 719, 962–968, 1637–1639, 2170–2180, 2391–2393, 2560–2562, 3158–3159, 3235–3237.)

42. The primary purpose of using saccharine substances in cacao products is to sweeten them. (R. pp. 1256, 2226.)

43. Anhydrous dextrose and dried corn sirup are less sweet than sugar, anhydrous dextrose being about two-thirds as sweet as sugar and dried corn sirup about one-half as sweet as sugar. (R. pp. 1993, 2029, 2214–2226, 2231, 2819, 3342–3344, 3352–3358; O. P. Exs. Nos. 23 to 26, incl.)

44. By reason of their lesser sweetness and other characteristics, neither anhydrous dextrose nor dried corn sirup nor any mixture of these is suitable for use as the sole sweetening ingredient of sweet chocolate; they are suitable ingredients only when used in combination with sugar or partly refined sugar or both. The quantity of anhydrous dextrous or dried corn sirup or mixture of these which is suitable for such use is a quantity so limited that there is no substantial difference in the sweetness, texture, and flavor of the sweet chocolate and the sweetness, texture, and flavor of a sweet chocolate of substantially the same composition (other than the kinds of saccharine ingredients present) in which sugar alone is used as the sweetening ingredient. Such quantity varies somewhat with the different kinds of cacao beans used in making the chocolate liquor. Generally manufacturers do not use more than one-third by weight of anhydrous dextrose in a mixture of anhydrous dextrose and sugar or partly refined sugar or both, and not more than one-fourth by weight of dried corn sirup in any such mixture. When both dried corn sirup and anhydrous dextrose are used in mixture with sugar or partly refined sugar or both, the quantities of anhydrous dextrose and dried corn sirup are so limited that twice the weight of the anhydrous dextrose used added to three times the weight of the dried corn sirup used is not more than the weight of the sugar, partly refined sugar, or combination thereof used, as the case may be. (R. pp. 721–723, 808, 962–964, 986–987, 1637–1639, 2393, 2561–2562, 3162, 3234–3237.)

45. There are slight differences in the cost of the various saccharine ingredients used in sweet chocolate. However, these are not sufficient to be reflected by differences in the retail prices of sweet chocolate and are not of material significance to consumers. (R. pp. 2663–2667, 3260.)

46. There is a theoretical difference in caloric value between anhydrous dextrose and sucrose and between dried corn sirup and sucrose. However, these differences are less than the variations in metabolism of the same carbohydrate in the same person on the same day, due to various factors, so that the caloric food values of these saccharine substances are not materially different. (R. pp. 1974–1992, 2123–2167.)

47. The sweetness of sweet chocolate varies widely between different brands and between different batches of the same brand because of the wide variation in the percentage of chocolate liquor used and the differences in flavor of such chocolate liquors. The sweetness of sweet chocolate is of secondary significance to its chocolate characteristics, and consequently the differences in sweetness which may result from the use of different saccharine ingredients in the proportions indicated in finding 44 is of no material significance to consumers. Nor does the use of different saccharine ingredients produce any significantly dif-

48. The percentage of chocolate liquor in most sweet chocolate is too small to supply a sufficient quantity of fat to impart the plasticity or viscosity expected and necessary when the chocolate is used for eating as such or for coating confections. Cacao fat is therefore added in the preparation of most sweet chocolate. The quantity added depends on the particular use for which the sweet chocolate is intended. (R. pp. 407–408, 540, 1147.)

49. Uniformity of viscosity is particularly important in sweet chocolate used for enrobing confections in order to insure that uniformity of thickness of covering demanded by manufacturing confectioners. Adjustment to a specific fat content does not of itself insure the requisite uniformity of viscosity or that the viscosity will remain sufficiently uniform over any extended period of use of such sweet chocolate. This is due principally to unavoidable variations in the moisture content of the sweet chocolate, caused by differing atmospheric conditions, by the moisture content of the confections being enrobed, and by other factors. (R. pp. 1228–1236; O.P. Ex. No. 4; O.P. Ex. No. 5.)

50. By the use of small quantities of an emulsifying ingredient, the viscosity of different batches of sweet chocolate may be held within a narrow range. Lecithin, with or without related natural phosphatides, and the monoglycerides and diglycerides of fat-forming fatty acids in combination with monosodium phosphate derivatives thereof, alone or mixed with lecithin, are suitable for use as such emulsifying ingredients. The quantity of these emulsifiers needed is not more than 0.5 percent by weight of the finished sweet chocolate. (R. pp. 142, 185, 295, 466, 821, 995, 1161, 1303, 1428–1429, 1796, 1802, 1835, 1889–1891, 1918–1922, 3045.)

51. Emulsifiers are commonly added to sweet chocolate mixed with a vegetable food fat which serves as a carrier for such emulsifiers. Vegetable food fat carriers which are used for this purpose, and which are suitable for such use, are cacao fat, soybean oil, corn oil, and others. The quantity of such fat necessary for such purpose is not more than 40 percent by weight of such mixture. (R. pp. 995, 1161, 1304, 1328, 1425, 1455, 2701, 2730, 2740–2741, 2745, 3049–3056, 3075, 3085.)

52. Incident to its desired effect of maintaining uniform viscosity of sweet chocolate coating, the use of such emulsifiers makes it possible to obtain a given viscosity with somewhat less cacao fat than would otherwise be required. Much sweet chocolate coating is produced without added emulsifier, but ordinarily such coatings contain a higher percentage of cacao fat than comparable coatings of equal viscosity which contain added emulsifier. Because sweet chocolate coatings containing emulsifiers have different characteristics as to viscosity and because they may contain lower quantities of cacao fat than a sweet chocolate of a similar viscosity which does not contain emulsifiers, it is in the consumer's interest to know when emulsifiers are present in sweet chocolate coating. R. pp. 143, 1169, 1302, 1865–1866, 1926–1928; O. P. Ex. Nos. 4, 5 and 6.)

53. The specific names of the emulsifiers used are not familiar to most consumers, but these substances are generally referred to by their collective common name "emulsifiers". The label statement "Emulsifier Added" or "With Added Emulsifier" is an informative and appropriate statement of the presence of such substances. (R. pp. 1901, 1769–1776, 1786–1792.)

54. When the characteristics resulting from processing with alkali are desired, sweet chocolate is made from chocolate liquor alkalized as described in finding 20. In such cases findings 11 to 13, inclusive, are applicable. (R. pp. 131–132.)

55. The spice, flavoring, and other seasoning ingredients which are used in sweet chocolate and which are suitable for such use (subject to the exception noted in finding 22) are one or more of the following: ground spice, ground vanilla beans, any natural food flavoring oil or oleoresin or extract, vanillin or ethyl vanillin or coumarin or any other artificial food flavor, ground coffee, ground nut meats, honey, molasses, brown sugar, maple sugar, dried malted cereal extract, salt (see finding 21). (R. pp. 631, 1512, 2226, 2836, 2838–2839, 3596).

56. Consumers ordinarily expect sweet chocolate to contain seasoning ingredients. However, when an artificial flavoring is used, it is of interest to consumers to know that the flavoring is not a natural flavoring. The label statements "Artificially Flavored" or "With Artificial Flavoring" or "Artificial Flavoring Added" are informative and reasonable statements of the presence of artificial flavoring in sweet chocolate. Other such label statements are those of which the following are examples: "Artificially Flavored with Coumarin", "With Vanillin, and Artificial Flavoring". (R. pp. 140, 276–278, 1492, 1609–1613.)

57. In order to modify somewhat the taste and flavor of sweet chocolate, the following dairy ingredients are frequently used and are suitable for such use: butter, cream, milk fat, milk, concentrated milk, evaporated milk, sweetened condensed milk, dried milk, skim milk, concentrated (condensed or evaporated) skim milk, sweetened condensed skim milk, nonfat dry milk solids[1] sweet cream buttermilk, concentrated sweet cream buttermilk, dried sweet cream buttermilk, and malted milk. The quantity of these ingredients usually used is such that the milk constituent solids in the finished sweet chocolate is substantially less than 12 percent by weight. In order to set sweet chocolate containing these ingredients apart from milk chocolate and other analogous cacao products, it is reasonable to require that such milk constituent solids in sweet chocolate be less than 12 percent by weight. (R. pp. 113–117, 135–137, 150, 221, 278–279, 295, 350–351, 386–388, 442, 505, 523, 814.)

Milk Chocolate

58. The food commonly and usually known as "Milk Chocolate", "Sweet Milk Chocolate", "Milk Chocolate Coating", and "Sweet Milk Chocolate Coating" is the solid or semiplastic food composed basically of chocolate liquor intimately mixed and ground with milk solids and one or more of the saccharine ingredients specified in findings 39, 40, and 41. Findings 35, 36, and 39 to 56, inclusive, are applicable to milk chocolate, except as indicated in finding 59. (R. pp. 109–112, 150, 297, 343, 1250, 2780.)

59. Compared with sweet chocolate, milk chocolate is characterized by its readily perceptible taste and flavor of milk and other characteristics resulting from the quantity of milk solids used. It is usually also characterized by somewhat less prominent chocolate characteristics, and it has been the general practice in the industry to use a relatively smaller percentage of chocolate liquor in milk chocolate than in sweet chocolate. (See finding 35.) (R. pp. 109–112, 360, 386–387.)

60. To insure that the finished product is adequately characterized by its chocolate ingredient, it is necessary that the quantity of chocolate liquor used be such that the finished milk chocolate contains not less than 10 percent by weight of chocolate liquor, calculated as indicated in finding 36. Most milk chocolate contains substantially more than this quantity and this is a reasonable minimum for the chocolate liquor content of milk chocolate. (R. pp. 110, 1010, 1217, 1247, 1280, 1653, 2780, 3392.)

61. The dairy ingredients which are used to supply the milk solids in milk chocolate and which are suitable for such use are milk, concentrated milk, evaporated milk, sweetened condensed milk, dried milk, and reconstituted milk solids. When milk, concentrated milk, evaporated milk, sweetened condensed milk, dried milk or any mixture of these is used, the milk fat content may be increased through the addition of butter, cream, or milk fat for the purpose of enhancing the characteristics contributed by these substances, but the total milk fat content, after such increase, does not exceed the known limit of the ratio of fat to nonfat milk solids for whole milk, which is not more than 1 part of milk fat to 1.2 parts of nonfat milk solids. The dairy ingredients used to supply milk constituent solids in the reconstitution of milk solids are skim milk, concentrated (evaporated or condensed) skim milk, sweetened condensed skim milk, nonfat dry milk solids, or any two or more of these, combined with butter, cream, or milk fat, or any mixture of two or all of these. The ratio of fat to nonfat solids in milk delivered to consumers averages 1 to 2.275, as determined by Nation-wide surveys. When the milk constitutent solids of milk chocolate are reconstituted, it is practicable and in the interest of consumers that such milk constituent solids be so adjusted that the ratio of milk fat to nonfat milk solids does not fall below such average ratio of fat to nonfat of the fluid milk sold to consumers nor exceed the known limits of such ratio, namely, 1 to 1.2, referred to above. (R. pp. 111–112, 150–152, 221, 296, 442, 505, 523, 549–551, 814, 3187–3197, 3229–3230.)

[1] The record upon which these proposed findings of fact and proposed standards are based refers to this product as "dried skim milk." This term had been designated by the Federal Security Administrator as one of the common or usual names of this product. (5 F.R. 2848.) By Public Law No. 244, Ch. 77, 78th Cong., 2d Sess., approved March 2, 1944, Congress prescribed for the purposes of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act the names "nonfat dry milk solids" and "defatted milk solids" for this product. In this proposed order, therefore, the term "nonfat dry milk solids" has been used to designate the product referred to in the record as "dried skim milk."

62. It has long been the practice of the industry to use not less than 12 percent by weight of milk solids in milk chocolate. This quantity is necessary to insure the milk characteristics expected by consumers. (R. pp. 109, 1249, 2780.)

Skim Milk Chocolate; Buttermilk Chocolate

63. The plastic or semiplastic foods commonly known as "skim milk chocolate" and "buttermilk chocolate" are of the same composition as milk chocolate, except that the only dairy ingredient solids in them are those of skim milk and sweet cream buttermilk, respectively. The skim milk solids are obtained by the use of skim milk, concentrated (evaporated or condensed) skim milk, sweetened condensed skim milk, nonfat dry milk solids, or any mixture of these. The buttermilk solids are obtained by the use of concentrated sweet cream buttermilk or dried sweet cream buttermilk or both. Fluid sweet cream buttermilk would also be suitable. To insure that the finished products possess the dairy ingredient characteristics expected by consumers, the quantity of skim milk solids in skim milk chocolate and of buttermilk solids in buttermilk chocolate is not less than 12 percent by weight. Except in the respects indicated in this finding, findings 35, 36, and 39 to 56, inclusive, and findings 59 and 60 are applicable to skim milk chocolate and buttermilk chocolate. Synonyms commonly used for skim milk chocolate are "sweet skim milk chocolate", "skim milk chocolate coating", and "sweet skim milk chocolate coating". A synonym commonly used for buttermilk chocolate is "buttermilk chocolate coating". (R. pp. 112–116, 221, 297, 342–343, 624.)

64. There are several kinds of cacao products which are of the same composition as milk chocolate, except that the milk constituent solids in them are those of mixtures of two or more of the following: milk, skim milk, sweet cream buttermilk, malted milk. Such solids are obtained by using dairy ingredients specified in findings 61 and 63, with or without malted milk. To insure that the milk constituent solids of each dairy ingredient used will impart its characteristics to the finished article, each such ingredient is used in such quantity as to contribute not less than one-third of the weight of milk constituent solids contributed by that dairy ingredient present in largest proportion. To insure that the finished product possesses the milk constituent characteristics expected by consumers, the quantity of any such mixture used is such that the finished article contains not less than 12 percent by weight of milk constituent solids. In order to distinguish such articles prepared with a mixture of milk solids and skim milk solids from milk chocolate, it is reasonable to require that the nonfat milk solids in such mixture be more than 2.275 times the quantity of milk fat therein. Findings 35, 36, and 39 to 56, inclusive, and findings 59 and 60 are applicable to these articles. (R. pp. 114–117, 342–343.)

65. These cacao products containing mixed dairy ingredients have not acquired common or usual names. Names for these foods which will distinguish them from other cacao products and which are accurate and informative are the names made up by "chocolate" or "chocolate coating" preceded by any two or more of the terms "milk", "skim milk", "buttermilk", "malted milk", as the case may be, and arranged in the order of predominance, if any, of the weight of milk constituent solids contributed by each such dairy ingredient. (R. pp. 115–117.)

Coatings Made From Sweet Chocolate or Sweet Cocoa and Fats Other Than Cacao Fat

66. Two kinds of chocolate flavored coatings, which are made with fats other than cacao fat, are produced and marketed for special uses. These coatings resemble sweet chocolate in taste and appearance but are separate identities. One kind of such coating is used as a coating for ice cream and other frozen desserts and the other as a coating for confections, bakery products, and other products held for retail sale under circumstances where they are exposed to relatively high temperatures. (R. pp. 614, 624–625, 653–655, 668–670, 837–838, 895–898, 924, 935, 939–940.)

67. Most sweet chocolate coating is not entirely suitable for use as a coating for ice cream and frozen desserts because the melting point of cacao fat is relatively high as compared to the temperature of such products; by reason of this fact sweet chocolate coating cannot be applied to frozen desserts with uniform thickness and after application such coating becomes brittle and is liable to crack and fall off in pieces. (R. pp. 608, 624–625, 837–838, 898.)

68. To overcome these difficulties a coating has been developed which remains plastic at temperatures of frozen desserts and which can be applied to such products with a more nearly uniform thickness. These physical characteristics are obtained by using in such coating, in lieu of added cacao fat, one or a mixture of two or more vegetable food oils or fats, other than cacao fat, which has a melting point lower than that of cacao fat. Except in the respects indicated in this finding and in finding 73, such coating conforms in composition to that of sweet chocolate coating and findings 35 to 37, and 39 to 57, inclusive, are applicable. (R. pp. 608, 625–628, 646, 655, 668–670, 729, 837–838, 895–896, 924, 939–940.)

69. Such low-melting-point coating is not generally known to consumers of coated frozen desserts by any particular name, because it has been sold as such only to manufacturers of such desserts. Such coating is ordinarily sold under such terms as "Ice Cream Coating", "Paddle Pop Paste", "Northern Lite Ice Cream Coating", and other similar designations. None of these designations identifies the product for what it is or differentiates it from other chocolate products which it resembles. A designation which is accurate and informative and which will distinguish this product from other coatings is a term which discloses the fact that it is a sweet coating containing chocolate and a fat other than cacao fat, as, for example, "Sweet Chocolate and Coconut Oil Coating". (R. pp. 120–123, 313, 837–840, 934, 951, 1043–1044, 1162, 1524, 2720.)

70. When sweet chocolate coating is used as a coating for confections, bakery products, and other products which are held for sale in warm places or under ordinary retail storage conditions during the summer months, particularly in the southern parts of the country, such coating will frequently melt since the melting point of cacao fat is relatively low as compared to such temperatures. Such melting will cause these coated products to become gray and unsightly. (R. pp. 566–567, 603, 614, 668–670, 729, 935–938, 998.)

71. To overcome the merchandising problem resulting from the melting of sweet chocolate coating on confectionery and such other products, a coating similar to sweet chocolate has been developed which will not ordinarily melt under such conditions of storage and sale. This results from the use, instead of chocolate liquor, of any one of the cocoas (usually low-fat cocoa) and a fat of a melting point higher than that of cacao fat. Such fats are any one or a mixture of two or more hardened or hydrogenated vegetable food oils and fats, other than cacao fat. Vegetable stearins are also used for this purpose. Except in the respects indicated in this finding and in findings 72 and 73, such coating conforms in composition to that of sweet chocolate coating and findings 35 to 37, and 39 to 57, inclusive, are applicable. (R. pp. 566–567, 586, 668–670, 729, 837–841, 935–940, 998.)

72. Because the characterizing cacao ingredient is a cocoa instead of chocolate liquor, it is appropriate that the minimum for such ingredient be expressed in terms of nonflavored, nonalkalized, fat-free cocoa which is a minimum of 7½ percent nonfat cacao solids. Such nonfat cacao solids are calculated by subtracting from the weight of cocoa used the weight of cacao fat therein and the weight therein of alkali and seasoning ingredients, if any, dividing the remainder by the weight of the finished coating, and multiplying the quotient by 100.

73. Because distinctions based on the quantities of dairy ingredients present have not developed in the uses of the low-melting-point and high-melting-point coatings and in the designations under which they are sold, there is no basis for the maximum limit set forth in finding 57 for such ingredients.

74. The high-melting-point coating is not generally known to consumers by any particular name, because it has been sold as such only to confectioners, bakers, and other manufacturers. Such coating is ordinarily identified in the trade as "Cocoa Coating", "Summer Coating", "Sudan Summer Coating", "Supreme Coating", and perhaps other similar designations. None of these designations identifies the product for what it is or differentiates it from other chocolate products which it resembles. A designation which is accurate and informative and which will distinguish this product from other coatings is a term which discloses the fact that it is a sweet coating containing cocoa and a fat other than cacao fat, as, for example, "sweet cocoa and hardened coconut oil coating". (R. pp. 120–123, 313, 602–603, 632, 837–840, 879, 934, 951, 992, 1043–1044, 1159, 1162, 1624, 2722, 2784.)

On the basis of the foregoing findings of fact it is concluded that each of the following regulations fixing and establishing a definition and standard of identity for a cacao product will promote honesty and fair dealing in the interest of consumers:

§ 14.1 Cacao nibs, cocoa nibs, cracked cocoa, identity; label statement of optional ingredients. (a) Cocoa nibs, cocoa nibs, cracked cocoa is the food prepared by heating the cracked dried or cured and cleaned cocoa beans and removing shell therefrom. Cacao nibs or the cacao beans from which they are prepared may be processed by heating with one or more of the following optional alkali ingredients, added as such or in aquaous solution: bicarbonate, carbonate, or hydroxide of sodium, ammonium, or potassium; or carbonate or oxide of magnesium; but for each 100 parts by weight of cacao nibs used, as such or before shelling from the cacao beans, the total quantity of such alkalis used is not greater in neutralizing value (calculated from the respective combining weights of such alkalis used) than the neutralizing value of 3 parts by weight of anhydrous potassium carbonate. The cacao shell content of cacao nibs is not more than 1.75 percent by weight (calculated to an alakali-free basis if they or the cacao beans from which they were prepared have been processed with alkali), as determined by the method prescribed under "Shell in Cacao Nibs—Tentative" beginning on page 208 of "Official and Tentative Methods of Analysis of the Association of Official Agricultural Chemists," Fifth Edition, 1940.

(b) When cacao nibs or the cacao beans from which they are prepared are processed, in whole or in part, with any optional alkali ingredient specified in paragraph (a), the label shall bear the statement "Processed with Alkali"; but in lieu of the word "Alkali" in such statement the specified common name of the optional alkali ingredient may be used. Wherever the name of the food appears on the label so conspicuously as to be easily seen under customary conditions of purchase, such statement shall immediately and conspicuously precede or follow such name, without intervening written, printed, or graphic matter.

§ 14.2 Chocolate liquor, chocolate, baking chocolate, bitter chocolate, cooking chocolate, chocolate coating, identity; label statement of optional ingredients. (a) Chocolate liquor, chocolate, baking chocolate, bitter chocolate, cooking chocolate, chocolate coating, bitter chocolate coating is the solid or semiplastic food prepared by finely grinding cacao nibs. To such ground cacao nibs either cacao fat or cocoa, but not both, may be added. (For the purposes of this section the term "cocoa" means breakfast cocoa, cocoa, low-fat cocoa, or any mixture of two or more of these.) Chocolate liquor may be spiced, flavored, or otherwise seasoned with one or more of the following optional ingredients, other than any such ingredient or combination of ingredients specified in subparagraphs (1), (2), or (3) which imparts a flavor that imitates the flavor of chocolate, milk, or butter:

(1) Ground spice.

(2) Ground vanilla beans; any natural food flavoring oil, oleoresin, or extract.

(3) Vanillin, ethyl vanillin, coumarin, or other artificial food flavoring.

(4) Butter, milk fat, dried malted cereal extract, ground coffee, ground nut meats.

(5) Salt.

Any optional ingredient used with the cacao beans or cacao nibs from which such chocolate liquor is prepared, or used with any cocoa added in preparing such chocolate liquor, shall be considered to be an optional ingredient used with such chocolate liquor. The optional alkali ingredients specified for use with cacao nibs in § 14.1 (a) may be used as optional ingredients with chocolate liquor; but for each 100 parts by weight of cacao nibs used in preparing the chocolate liquor, the total quantity of such alkali used is not greater in neutralizing value (calculated from the respective combining weights of such alkalis used) than 3 parts by weight of anhydrous potassium carbonate. The finished chocolate liquor contains not less than 50 percent and not more than 58 percent by weight of cacao fat. Unless the chocolate liquor is seasoned with butter, milk fat, or ground nut meats, the percentage of cacao fat is determined by the method prescribed under "Fat Method I—Official" beginning on page 202 of "Official and Tentative Methods of Analysis of the Association of Official Agricultural Chemists", Fifth Edition, 1940.

(b) Wherever the name of the food appears on the label so conspicuously as to be easily seen under customary conditions of purchase, the statements hereinafter prescribed showing the optional ingredients used shall immediately and conspicuously precede or follow such name without intervening written, printed, or graphic matter.

SECURITIES AND EXCHANGE COMMISSION.

[File No. 70-663]

BUFFALO, NIAGARA AND EASTERN POWER CORP.

NOTICE REGARDING FILING

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission held at its office in the City of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, on the 10th day of April 1944.

Notice is hereby given that an application or declaration has been filed with this Commission pursuant to the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 by Buffalo, Niagara and Eastern Power Corporation (Buffalo Niagara), a subsidiary of Niagara Hudson Power Corporation, in turn a subsidiary of The United Corporation, a registered holding company.

Notice is further given that any interested person may, not later than April 25, 1944, at 10:00 a. m., e. w. t., request the Commission in writing that a hearing be held on such matter, stating the reasons for such request and the nature of his interest, or may request that he be notified if the Commission should order a hearing thereon. At any time thereafter, said declaration or application, as filed or as amended, may be granted, as provided in Rule U-23 of the rules and regulations promulgated pursuant to said act, or the Commission may exempt such transaction as provided in Rules U-20 (a) and U-100 thereof. Any such request should be addressed: Secretary, Securities and Exchange Commission, 18th and Locust Streets, Philadelphia 3, Pennsylvania.

All interested persons are referred to said declaration or application, which is on file in the office of the Commission, for a statement of the transaction therein proposed, which is summarized below:

Buffalo Niagara has made cash advances from time to time, on open account, to its wholly-owned subsidiary, The Lockport and Newfane Power and Water Supply Company (Lockport) for additions and betterments to its electric plant and for other corporate purposes. Since 1939 the unpaid balance of such advances has been, and now is, $285,000, and it is stated that Lockport is not in a cash position to pay all or any substantial part of said balance. Buffalo Niagara now proposes, subject to a satisfactory closing agreement with the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, to forgive any and all obligations arising out of the indebtedness of $285,000 in order that Lockport may conserve its cash and strengthen its financial condition. Upon the elimination of said indebtedness as proposed, Buffalo Niagara further proposes to increase the carrying value of its investments in the common stocks of subsidiary companies by a like amount.

By the Commission.

Secretary.

(Sec. 5, 38 Stat. 719, as amended by sec. 3, 52 Stat. 112; 15 U.S.C., sec. 45b) [Cease and desist order, Gulf Oil Corporation, Docket 4581, April 4, 1944]

Chapter II—Bureau of Narcotics

[Narcotic Conservation Order 2]

PART 205—NARCOTIC DRUGS CONSERVATION

PURCHASES OR SALES OF DERIVATIVES OF OPIUM AND COCA LEAVES

The Bureau of Narcotics is satisfied that the fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States will result in a shortage in the supply of narcotic drugs for defense, for private account or for export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense.

Pursuant to the authority vested in the Bureau of Narcotics by Directive No. 10 of the War Production Board, issued October 6, 1942, and supplementing Narcotic Conservation Order 1, issued May 25, 1943, It is hereby ordered, That:

Sec.
205.11 Establishment of retail dealers' quotas.
205.12 Limitation on purchase of derivatives of opium or coca leaves.
205.13 Determination of quotas.
205.14 Adjustment of quotas.
205.15 Definitions.
205.16 Records and returns.
205.17 Penalties.
205.18 Effective date.

AUTHORITY: §§ 205.11–205.18, inclusive, issued under WPB Directive No. 10, 32 CFR 903.16, 7 F.R. 7038.

§ 205.11 Establishment of retail dealers' quotas. Whenever it shall appear to the Commissioner of Narcotics, through investigation made by the Bureau of Narcotics, that purchases or sales of derivatives of opium and coca leaves, by one or more retail dealers therein located within any particular area, exceed bona fide medical requirements, he may assign purchase quotas for such derivatives to all retail dealers located within the particular area.

§ 205.12 Limitation on purchase of derivatives of opium or coca leaves. No person in any such area, to whom a retail dealer's quota has been thus assigned, shall purchase any quantity of such derivative in excess of the regular and supplementary quotas assigned to him, and no other person in any such area shall purchase, as a retail dealer, any quantity of such derivative until he shall have applied to the Bureau of Narcotics for, and shall have been assigned, a purchase quota or quotas for such derivative.

§ 205.13 Determination of quotas. (a) Quotas will be assigned in such numbers and amounts and upon such terms and conditions as the Bureau of Narcotics shall deem necessary or appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense.

(b) In the assignment of quotas under § 205.11 hereof, consideration will be given to estimated requirements based upon past business done, to the extent only that such past business is deemed to reflect bona fide medical needs. In case of a new applicant, consideration will be given to estimated requirements as determined by comparison of his facilities with those of other retail dealers already established in the area, all with due regard to the current or anticipated medical needs.

(c) No purchase quota will be assigned (1) to a dealer whose sale or distribution of narcotic drugs has been marked by such lack of good faith, particularly in filling orders for narcotic drugs purporting to be prescriptions, as, in the opinion of the Bureau, renders assignment of a quota inadvisable in the interest of conservation, or (2) to a dealer who does not provide and maintain measures, deemed adequate by the Bureau of Narcotics, for the safeguarding and protection of narcotic drugs, or (3) to a dealer who fails to observe applicable licensing requirements, or regulatory restrictions upon the sale and distribution of narcotic drugs, imposed by the laws of his state, territory or district.

§ 205.14 Adjustment of quotas. All quotas assigned shall be subject to revision from time to time as the Bureau of Narcotics shall deem necessary to give full effect to the principle of this order and of Directive No. 10, and to supply all medical needs. For cause shown, the Commissioner of Narcotics may assign a supplementary quota or quotas.

§ 205.15 Definitions. The term "area" means any Federal internal revenue collection district or such limited portion thereof, as a county, city or town, as the Commissioner of Narcotics shall determine appropriate for the purpose of carrying into effect the intent and purpose of this order.

The term "narcotic drugs" means opium, coca leaves, cocaine, or any salt, derivative or preparation of opium, coca leaves, or cocaine.

The term "derivative" shall mean any form of opium obtained from crude opium; any of the phenanthrene alkaloids of opium or the ecgonine alkaloids of the coca leaf, or the salts of such alkaloids; and every substance obtained or obtainable from such alkaloids whether produced by a synthetic process or otherwise, excepting extracts of coca leaves which do not contain cocaine or ecgonine.

The term "supplementary quota" means a quota representing a quantity of a derivative additional to that of the regular quota assigned for the period.

§ 205.16 Records and returns. In addition to the records and returns required to be kept or submitted under the Federal narcotic laws and regulations pursuant thereto, such special reports of transactions in narcotic drugs shall be furnished as the Bureau of Narcotics may from time to time require.

§ 205.17 Penalties. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. Any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, narcotic drugs.

§ 205.18 Effective date. This order shall become effective on and after April 20, 1944, and subject to the provisions of Directive No. 10 of the War Production Board, and of section 1501 of the Second War Powers Act, 1942, shall continue in effect until revoked by the Commissioner of Narcotics. The right is reserved to amend, modify or supplement this order by such further orders as the Commissioner of Narcotics may deem necessary or appropriate.

[SEAL] H. J. ANSLINGER,
Commissioner of Narcotics.

Approved: April 6, 1944.

Acting Secretary of the Treasury.

[Suspension Order S-525]

LAUREHK RADIO MANUFACTURING CO.

Earl F. Rehklau, individually and doing business as Laurehk Radio Manufacturing Company of 3331 Monroe Avenue, Wayne, Michigan, is engaged in the business of dealing in radio tubes and the assembly and sale of both hearing aid devices and electronic stethoscopes. Between April 24 and September 1, 1943, he transferred about 7,500 radio tubes without the certificates, preferred order, or ratings required by General Limitation Order L-265 and in violation of that order. Between January 1 and September 30, 1943, he applied ratings to purchases in excess of quantities authorized by the War Production Board, in violation of Priorities Regulation No. 3. He failed to keep and preserve accurate and complete records of inventories and details of transactions in electronic equipment, in violation of Priorities Regulation No. 1. He misrepresented to the War Production Board his receipt of radio tubes during the period between January 1 and August 24, 1943. Earl F. Rehklau was so grossly negligent and indifferent to the orders and regulations of the War Production Board that these violations must be deemed wilful, and they have diverted scarce materials to uses not authorized by the War Production Board. In view of the foregoing, it is hereby ordered, that:

§ 1010.525 Suspension Order No. S-525. (a) Earl F. Rehklau, individually or doing business as Laurehk Radio Manufacturing Company, his or its successors or assigns, shall not directly or indirectly buy or sell radio tubes, as controlled by General Limitation order L-265, unless hereafter specifically authorized in writing by the War Production Board.

(b) Nothing in this order shall be deemed to relieve Earl F. Rehklau, individually or doing business as Laurehk Radio Manufacturing Company, his or its successors or assigns, from any restriction, prohibition, or provision contained in any other order or regulation of the War Production Board except insofar as the same may be inconsistent with the provisions hereof.

(c) This order shall take effect on April 11, 1944, and shall expire on August 11, 1944.

PART 1010—SUSPENSION ORDERS

VOISINE STEEL COMPANY

Voisine Steel Company, a corporation, operates a steel warehouse at 2423 McKinstry Avenue, Detroit, Michigan. In March, 1943, it delivered 7660 pounds of hot-rolled sheets upon an order bearing no preference rating, in violation of Supplementary Order M-21-b. It failed to reject orders for delivery and made delivery of steel, other than rails, as follows: 40,570 pounds on May 20, 1943; 41,110 pounds on August 5, 1943; and 60,660 pounds on August 6, 1943. Each order called for delivery and delivery was made to one person at one time at one destination in violation of CMP Regulation 4 restricting said deliveries to not more than 40,000 pounds. On May 10, 1943, it delivered 81,040 pounds of sheet steel to one customer, at one destination, and in one quarter, in violation of CMP Regulation 4 which limited such delivery to 6,000 pounds. It failed to keep and preserve accurate and complete records of inventories, of materials, and of details of transactions in those materials, in violation of Priorities Regulation 1. Voisine Steel Company made no attempt to comply with the orders and regulations of the War Production Board, and these violations must be deemed wilful.

These violations of Supplementary Order M-21-b, CMP Regulation 4, and Priorities Regulation 1 have diverted scarce materials to uses not authorized by the War Production Board and have hampered and impeded the war effort of the United States. In view of the foregoing, it is hereby ordered, that:

§ 1010.526 Suspension Order No. S-526. (a) Voisine Steel Company, its successors or assigns, shall not directly or indirectly, operate as a steel warehouse, as defined in General Preference Order M-21-b, or as defined in any order amending or superseding General Preference Order M-21-b-1, unless hereafter specifically authorized in writing by the War Production Board.

(b) Nothing contained in this order shall be deemed to relieve Voisine Steel Company, its successors or assigns, from any restriction, prohibition or provision contained in any other order or regulation of the War Production Board, except insofar as the same may be inconsistent with the provisions hereof.

(c) This order shall take effect on April 11, 1944.

Issued this 4th day of April 1944.

(3) The restrictions of this order shall not apply to the use of lead.

(c) General exceptions. The prohibitions and restrictions contained in this schedule shall not apply to the use of metal in the manufacture of any plumbing fixture or any part thereof which is being produced:

(1) Under a specific contract or subcontract for use in chemical plants, research laboratories or hospitals, where and to the extent that the physical, chemical and aseptic properties make the use of other materials impracticable. This exception, however, does not include any plumbing fixture used in private rooms or nurses' or attendants' quarters in any plant, laboratory or hospital.

(2) Under a specific contract or subcontract for use as part of the equipment of any aircraft or any vessel other than a pleasure craft where the use of other material is impracticable: Provided, however, That no monel metal shall be used in the manufacture of any trough urinal.

PART 1226—GENERAL INDUSTRIAL EQUIPMENT

[General Limitation Order L-332, as Amended Apr. 12, 1944]

CONTAINER MACHINERY

The fulfillment of the requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply of material used in the production of container machinery for defense, for private account and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense.

§ 1226.135 General Limitation Order L-332—(a) What this order does. This order restricts deliveries of new, used, and reconditioned container machinery; it does not restrict deliveries of repair parts. The order requires manufacturers to file monthly operations reports.

(b) Definitions. For the purpose of this order:

(1) "Person" means any individual, partnership, association, business trust, governmental corporation or agency, or any organized group of persons, whether incorporated or not.

(2) "Container machinery" means all new, used, and reconditioned machinery and equipment of the types listed in Schedule A of this order having a retail sales value of $500 or more (unless otherwise indicated).

(3) "Manufacturer" means any person engaged in the fabrication, assembly, reconditioning or rebuilding of container machinery.

(4) "Dealer" means any person engaged in the business of purchasing container machinery for resale.

(5) "Order" includes any arrangement for the delivery of container machinery or equipment, whether by purchase and sale, lease, rental or otherwise.

(c) Restrictions on sales and deliveries. After March 1, 1944, no person shall place an order for container machinery and no person shall accept such an order or deliver container machinery to fill an order received after March 1, 1944, unless the order bears a rating of AA-5 or higher. Neither shall any person make or accept delivery under any order placed or accepted before March 2, 1944, if delivery before that date would have violated Order L-83, as amended November 4, 1943.

(d) Exemptions. The limitations and restrictions of paragraph (c) shall not apply to the following transactions:

(1) The renewal of a lease for any container machinery if the original lease or any prior renewal was approved in accordance with this order (or Order L-83) and the machinery is still being used for the purpose approved.

(2) Any order for container machinery for the direct use of the Army, Navy, Maritime Commission or War Shipping Administration.

(3) The seizure of container machinery (but not subsequent disposition or use thereof) upon default, by any person pursuant to the terms of a conditional sales agreement, chattel mortgage, pledge, or other security agreement; and the distraint or levy by execution (but not subsequent disposition thereof) by tax authorities.

(4) The transfer of container machinery (but not subsequent disposition thereof) by will or intestacy, or a transfer by operation of law to a trustee, receiver, or assignee for the benefit of creditors, in bankruptcy, insolvency, receivership, or assignment for the benefit of creditors.

(5) The transfer of container machinery as part of a transaction, such as merger, consolidation, sale and purchase of assets, sale and puchase of stock, or lease of plant, involving the transfer of all or substantially all of the assets of an enterprise, where no liquidation or dismemberment of assets is contemplated.

(6) The transfer of container machinery, within a plant, or within a single corporate enterprise (including majority owned subsidiaries) from one plant or branch to another: Provided, however, That nothing in this subparagraph (6) shall be construed to permit transfers from a portion of an enterprise manufacturing, building or assembling new machinery to a portion using it.

(7) The transfer of container machinery (but not subsequent disposition thereof) as a trade-in, where the machinery to be installed is delivered pursuant to an approved order.

(8) Transfers of used container machinery to dealers.

(9) The delivery of container machinery for repair and return, the return of a repaired machine, and the loan of a machine to the user, for a period not to exceed three months pending the repair of the damaged machine.

(10) The transfer of container machinery to be scrapped for its material content.

(11) The unloading, from a vessel, of any imported container machinery.

(12) The transfer of any interest in any written instrument evidencing an interest in container machinery: Provided, however, That nothing in this subparagraph (12) shall be construed to permit the physical delivery or use of container machinery.

(13) The return of any leased container machinery by the lessee to the lessor upon the expiration, termination, or cancellation of the lease.

(14) The exchange of leased container machinery requiring factory repairing or rebuilding for new, reconditioned or rebuilt units fitted for the same size container, and of like model, size and capacity, provided the machinery to be replaced was approved in accordance with this order (or Order L–83) and the machinery to be acquired will be used for the purpose approved.

(e) Operations reports. Each manufacturer shall, on or before the 10th day of each month, commencing with March, 1944, file with the War Production Board an operations report on Form WPB–3551, in accordance with the instructions accompanying the form.[1]

(f) Miscellaneous provisions—(1) Applicability of regulations. This order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to all applicable regulations of the War Production Board as amended from time to time.

(2) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(3) Appeals. Any appeal from the provisions of this order shall be made by filing a letter, in triplicate, referring to the particular provision appealed from and stating fully the grounds of the appeal. The letter must be filed with the field office of the War Production Board in the district in which is located the plant or branch of the appellant to which the appeal relates.

(4) Communications. All reports required to be filed hereunder and all other communications concerning this order shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to the War Production Board, General Industrial Equipment Division, Washington 25, D. C., Ref. L–332.

Issued this 12th day of April 1944.

PART 3270—CONTAINERS

[Conservation Order M–290, as Amended Apr. 12, 1944]

CONTAINERBOARD

§ 3270.1 Conservation Order M–290—(a) Definitions. For the purpose of this order:

(1) "Mill operator" means any person who operates a congregation of pulp preparation, roll and sheet finishing equipment, paper machines and subsidiary facilities located and operated together as a single producing unit for the production of containerboard.

(2) "Containerboard" means the types and grades of paperboard classified under caption No. 211000 through 219000 in Form WPB–514, as currently revised. It shall also mean corrugated or solid fibre sheets of the kind used by "sheet plants" and "cleated-box manufacturers" in making containers or any other product. The term shall not include any item which is defined in Order P–146 as a "fibre shipping container"—such as a solid fibre (.045 or heavier) or corrugated fibre sheet or roll to be used for wrapping, packaging or otherwise protecting a product or material for shipment.

(3) "Container manufacturer" means any person (including any sheet plant operator, fibre-drum manufacturer, and any cleated-box manufacturer) who manufactures shipping containers or parts therefor, made wholly or in part from any type of containerboard.

(4) "Sheet-plant" means any container-manufacturing plant which does not have either corrugating or pasting equipment.

(5) "Cleated-box manufacturer" means any manufacturer of shipping containers made of corrugated or solid fibre sheets attached to wooden cleats.

(6) "Sheet supplier" means any container-manufacturer who supplies corrugated or solid fibre sheets to sheet-plants, whether owned by him or not.

Restrictions on Delivery and Receipt of Containerboard

(b) Restrictions on acceptance of delivery. On and after April 1, 1944, no person shall accept delivery of containerboard except as authorized by the War Production Board in writing.

(c) Sheet plants and cleated box manufacturers. Sheet plants and cleated box manufacturers who have been authorized to accept delivery of containerboard may place orders for corrugated or solid fibre sheets with sheet suppliers. If the orders have been properly certified as provided in the next paragraph the supplier may obtain the amount of containerboard which he will use to fill the orders in addition to that which the War Production Board has permitted him to receive by authorization issued directly to him. In certifying his orders for this additional containerboard the supplier shall give his customer's authorization number and date.

(d) Delivery restrictions. On and after April 1, 1944, no person shall deliver containerboard except on an order accompanied by a certificate, manually signed by the purchaser or an authorized official of the purchaser, in substantially the following form:

Authorized under Order M–290. Date of authorization ----------, authorization number ----------.

This certificate shall constitute a representation to the War Production Board (subject to the penalties of section 35A of the United States Criminal Code) that the purchaser is authorized under this and other applicable War Production Board regulations and orders to place the delivery order and to receive the item(s) ordered for the purpose for which ordered. The standard certification of Priorities Regulation 7 must not be used instead of the certification described in this paragraph (d).

(e) Authorizations. (1) Authorizations for the purchase of containerboard in each calendar quarter will generally be issued by the War Production Board prior to the beginning of such quarter, but may be issued at any time. They will normally be issued on Form WPB 2492 which is to be filed by the prospective purchaser with the War Production Board as explained in paragraph (1) below. However, they may be issued by telegram or letter.

(2) Authorizations for the purchase of containerboard may specify the supplier with whom all or part of the authorized orders may be placed and the date as of which said orders are to be shipped or delivered.

Exceptions for Small Deliveries

(f) Purchasers. A person who purchases less than 2½ tons of containerboard from all sources in any calendar quarter shall not be required to obtain the written authorization of the War Production Board to get containerboard in that quarter. However, when he buys in lots of more than fifty pounds he must accompany his order with a certificate in the following form:

> The undersigned certifies that the amount of containerboard delivered to him and ordered for delivery to him during the calendar quarter in which delivery of this order is to be made (including the amount specified in this delivery order), does not exceed 2½ tons.

Any person may purchase containerboard in lots of less than fifty pounds without the authorization of the War Production Board and without filing the foregoing certificate.

(g) Suppliers. Any supplier of containerboard may sell it to a person purchasing in accordance with the preceding paragraph (f) regardless of the provisions of paragraph (d) of this order.

Directions

(h) Directions. The War Production Board may, from time to time, issue directions of the following kinds:

(1) Mill production. Directions requiring that all or any part of any mill operator's containerboard production during any period shall be in specified types and grades. Such directions will not be inconsistent with Order M–93 or actions taken under that order.

(2) Mill shipment. Directions requiring that all or any part of any mill operator's containerboard production shall be shipped (in such quantities, types, and grades as may be specified) to specified persons and at specified times, whether or not the containerboard is produced for other persons.

(3) Sheet-supplier shipments. Directions requiring that all or any part of any sheet-supplier's supply of containerboard sheets shall be shipped in such quantities, types, and grades as may be specified, to specified sheet-plants or cleated-box manufacturers.

(4) Observance of directions. Directions issued pursuant to this paragraph (h) shall, to the extent stated therein, take precedence over other deliveries of containerboard. The War Production Board may (with or without conditions) rescind or modify any directions issued pursuant to this paragraph (h) in any case in which it decides that there are special circumstances which would cause fulfillment of the direction to be impractical. In order to receive consideration, such special circumstances must be presented by telegram or letter to the War Production Board within seventy-two hours after they have arisen. If the War Production Board shall, after receipt of such facts, not give its written approval to an application for rescission or modification of a direction, the direction shall be fulfilled in accordance with its original terms.

Unless the War Production Board specifically permits him to do so, in writing, no mill operator or other supplier shall require customers to deliver waste in return for containerboard shipped on any authorized order.

Restrictions on Use of Authorized Containerboard

(i) Use of authorized or directed containerboard. Authorizations or directions issued under paragraphs (e) or (h) may specify the use to which all or any part of the authorized or directed containerboard may be put. In such cases, no person shall use any such containerboard except for the purpose specified. This prohibition does not, however, prevent the substitute use of any equivalent amount of containerboard of suitable grades.

(j) Production directions. The War Production Board may, from time to time, direct any person to fill any designated order or class of orders involving the use of containerboard and to use in filling that order, any allocated or unallocated containerboard available to him.

Ratings

(k) Prohibition against use of ratings. No person shall use any rating to get containerboard and no person selling containerboard shall require a rating as a condition of sale. Any rating purporting to be applied or extended to containerboard shall be void and no person shall give any effect to it in filling an order.

Applications and Reports

(l) Applications for permission to receive containerboard. Each person requiring authorization to accept delivery of containerboard during any calendar quarter shall file application on Form WPB–2492 in the manner and at the time stated in the instructions on that Form.

(m) Reports by manufacturers of V–boxes. In addition to the report required by paragraph (l) above, each manufacturer of V–boxes shall, on or before the 10th of March, June, September and December in each year, report to the War Production Board on Form WPB–2492—Supplement No. 1, in accordance with the instructions on that Form.

(n) Budget approval. The reporting requirements set forth in paragraphs (l) and (m) of this order have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget pursuant to the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

(o) Other reports. All persons affected by this order shall execute and file with the War Production Board, such other reports and questionnaires as said Board shall from time to time request subject to the approval of the Bureau of the Budget pursuant to the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

Miscellaneous

(p) Multiple function organizations. Where any person (including any parent subsidiary organization) engages in two or more of the types of operations subject to this order (for instance, if he is both a producer or supplier and a converter of containerboard), the provisions of this order applicable to each type of function shall apply separately to his operations of that type. For example, a container-manufacturer may not receive containerboard from his own mill without an authorization; or part or all of that mill's production may be made the subject of a direction under paragraph (h).

(q) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order wilfully conceals a material fact, or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(r) Applicability of regulations. This order and all transactions affected hereby are subject to all applicable War Production Board regulations, as amended from time to time.

(s) Communications to War Production Board. All reports required to be filed hereunder and all communications concerning this order, shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to: War Production Board, Paperboard Division, Washington 25, D. C., Ref.: M–290.

Issued this 12th day of April 1944.

PART 3270—CONTAINERS

[Interpretation 1 to Conservation Order M–290]

The following interpretation is issued with respect to Conservation Order M–290:

Paragraph (b) of Order M–290 provides that no person shall accept delivery of containerboard except as authorized by the War Production Board in writing. This prohibition is not only applicable to container manufacturers, sheet plants, cleated box manufacturers, etc., but covers any person who requires the materials defined as containerboard by paragraph (a) (2) for any purpose. For instance, manufacturers of insulation, cedar closets, filing cabinets, and all other users of containerboard are barred from accepting delivery of this material without authorization. Pursuant to paragraph (d) a person who delivers containerboard to any person (not alone container manufacturers) except on an order certified as provided in that paragraph is in violation of Order M–290.

The material defined as containerboard in paragraph (a) (2) is any grade of paperboard classified under caption No. 211,000 through 219,000 in Form WPB–514 and any corrugated or solid fibre sheets of the kind used by sheet plants and cleated box manufacturers in making containers or any other product. If the sheets are of a kind used by sheet plants or cleated box manufacturers, they are covered by the order and cannot be acquired without authorization, regardless of whether they are to be used for the fabrication of containers or not.

Cases falling within the "small deliveries" exceptions provided by paragraphs (f) and (g) of the order are an exception to this rule. In addition, attention is called to the fact that items which fall within the definition of "fibre shipping containers" in Order P-146 are excluded from the definition of "containerboard" in Order M-290.

Issued this 12th day of April 1944.

STRAPPING FOR SHIPPING CONTAINERS

Section 3270.9 Conservation Order M-261 is hereby revoked. This revocation does not affect any liability incurred under the order. The use of strapping on shipping containers remains subject to all applicable regulations and orders of the War Production Board.

PART 3284—BUILDING MATERIALS

[Interpretation 2 to Limitation Order L-161]

TIME DELAY NON-RENEWABLE CARTRIDGE FUSE

The following interpretation is issued with respect to Limitation Order L-161:

The term "time delay non-renewable cartridge fuse" as used in paragraph (b) (2) (iii) of Limitation Order L-161 means a non-renewable cartridge fuse employing a dual element, one of the elements being a fuse link which opens on a short circuit and the second element, in series with the first, acting as a thermal cutout to open the circuit on prolonged overloads only. The term does not include non-renewable cartridge fuses which do not employ a dual element.

(16) "Inventory" means a stock of new replacement parts held by a distributor for his own account. Inventory does not include any new replacement parts held on consignment or any "as is", rebuilt, reconditioned or reconditionable parts.

Provisions Relating to Production

(b) Production of certain parts to be made as if orders were rated AA-1 and others AA-2X. Notwithstanding the provisions of Priorities Regulation No. 1, Part 944, replacement parts, for medium and heavy motor trucks, truck trailers, passenger carriers, off-the-highway motor vehicles and motorized fire equipment, enumerated in paragraph (a) (1), except items (41) to (46) inclusive, must be produced as if the orders therefor bore a preference rating of AA-1. Replacement parts, for passenger automobiles and light trucks, enumerated in paragraph (a) (1) and also items (41) to (46) inclusive, must be produced as if the orders therefor bore a preference rating of AA-2X.

(c) Special provision for production of truck and bus replacement parts. (1) To provide for production of automotive replacement parts (except parts for passenger automobiles) on orders for civilian use and on other orders to make automotive parts as Class B products, Priorities and CMP Regulations may be disregarded to the following extent: A producer of automotive parts whose facilities scheduled to produce a particular part are scheduled 95% or more for Class A production during a month, may schedule up to 5% of those facilities during the month for production of that part (or any other parts) to fill Class B orders for civilian or other use. In computing the 5% of the facilities referred to above, the term "facilities" means productive man-hours or productive machine-hours, or both. The calculation may be made on the basis of calendar months or of any successive periods of one month each beginning at any time.

(2) Whenever it appears to a producer that production under this paragraph (c) will result in serious interference with the production of orders for the Armed Services, he shall immediately notify the Automotive Division, War Production Board, in order that adjustments may be at once considered.

(3) No production under this paragraph (c) shall be allowed to interfere with any "frozen" schedule of Component Consumption Requirements issued under Order L-1-c or any other "frozen" schedule, as defined in Priorities Regulation No. 18.

(4) As the purpose of this paragraph (c) is primarily to secure additional critical replacement parts for commercial or civilian use, production must be made of those parts which are actually critical, against back orders where they exist.

NOTE: Paragraphs (d) through (n), formerly (c) through (r), redesignated April 12, 1944.

(d) Correction of critical shortages. Whenever the War Production Board determines that a critical shortage exists in respect to replacement parts, the Board may order any producer or supplier to schedule and deliver his production in such manner as will relieve the shortage; and in addition, may direct any producer or distributor to deliver or sell to any other person, at regularly established prices and terms, such quantities of replacement parts available for civilian distribution as the War Production Board may determine.

(e) Production restricted to enumerated replacement parts; use of critical materials. (1) No producer shall manufacture any parts for use in the repair, maintenance or improvement of passenger automobiles, light, medium and heavy trucks, truck trailers, passenger carriers, off-the-highway motor vehicles or motorized fire equipment except the items, and their components, enumerated in paragraph (a) (1) above as items (1) to (53) inclusive.

(2) In the production of such parts no materials shall be used which are prohibited by any orders, regulations or other restrictions on the use of critical materials now or hereafter issued by the War Production Board.

Standardization and Simplification Provisions

(f) Pistons and bearings. On and after November 15, 1943, producers shall make replacement pistons, piston pins, piston rings and engine bearings as components of engines, only according to the following standards:

(1) Pistons as components of engines only in standard sizes and the following oversizes: .005, .020, .030, .040, .060 and semi-finished.

(2) Piston pins as components of engines only in standard sizes and the following oversizes: .003, .005, .010.

(3) Piston rings as components of engines only in standard sizes and the following oversizes: .005, .020, .030, .040, .060; and in addition, for medium and heavy trucks and busses, .080, .100.

(4) Engine bearings as components of engines only in standard sizes and the following undersizes: .002, .010, .020, .030, .040, .060, .080 and semi-finished. In addition, connecting rod bearings with oversize outside diameter, and the "special length Ford main bearings".

(g) Ignition contracts. On and after December 1, 1943, all discs cut from tungsten contact rod for ignition contacts for all vehicles shall be cut to a thickness not exceeding .030 inch, plus a tolerance of .002 inch.

Provisions Relating to Distributors' Inventories

(h) Restrictions on distributors' inventories. (1) No distributor of replacement parts whose place of business is located in the eastern or central war time zone shall accept delivery of new replacement parts which, in combination with his existing inventory of new replacement parts, measured in total dollar cost value, will exceed a sixty-day (60) supply. Sixty-day supply means a supply in dollar cost value equal to the distributor's total sales, at his cost, of such new parts in the preceding two months period.

(2) No distributor of replacement parts whose place of business is located in any other war time zone shall accept delivery of new replacement parts which, in combination with his existing inventory of new replacement parts, measured in total dollar cost value, will exceed a ninety-day (90) supply. Ninety-day supply means a supply in dollar cost value equal to the distributor's total sales, at his cost, of such new parts in the preceding three months period.

(3) Irrespective of the restrictions in subparagraphs (1) and (2) above, a distributor may accept delivery of specific items of replacement parts even though his inventory then exceeds, or will by reason of such acceptance exceed, his maximum permissible inventory as specified in subparagraphs (1) and (2) above. The quantity of such specific items in dollar cost value shall not exceed the dollar cost value of his sales of such items during the preceding thirty days or the last thirty-day period in which a sale was made if the distributor is located in the eastern or central war time zones, and forty-five days in all other zones.

(i) Return of new replacement parts. New replacement parts, returned by a distributor to another distributor, if not included in the inventory of the person receiving the parts during the calendar quarter in which received shall be included in his inventory in the next succeeding calendar quarter.

(j) Disposition of traded-in used parts. No distributor may keep in his inventory, in his possession or under his control any used replacement parts which have been traded in and cannot be reconditioned for a period of more than thirty (30) days after they have been determined to be unserviceable, but he must dispose of them through customary disposal or scrap channels. Traded-in parts which can be reconditioned must be reconditioned, or returned to be reconditioned, as quickly as minimum quantities will permit.

(k) Traded-in ignition contact points to be reclaimed. As tungsten is a highly critical material, traded-in ignition contact points must be saved for possible reclamation. Therefore, they may not be scrapped. Where distributors can not reclaim the tungsten contacts for reuse, they must return them through normal trade channels to producers or suppliers for reclamation.

Provisions Relating to Distribution

(k) No preference ratings required for delivery of replacement parts for resale. No producer or distributor shall require any preference ratings for the purchase or the delivery of finished replacement parts for resale as such, except on Army, Navy, Maritime Commission and War Shipping Administration orders as provided in paragraph (m). All deliveries of such parts for resale or to consumers may be made as if the orders therefor bore the preference ratings assigned to their production in paragraph (b), and without regard to orders bearing a lower rating. In addition, the provisions of this paragraph are applicable to orders for finished parts required for rebuilding or reconditioning operations.

(l) Parts for emergency repairs—(1) How to order parts. Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraph (h) above, a distributor may order and accept delivery of replacement parts which he does not have in stock when required by a consumer for the emergency repair of a particular vehicle which cannot be operated without such parts. In such emergency, a distributor must file with his order to the producer a certificate in the following form:

CERTIFICATE FOR EMERGENCY REPAIR ORDER

AUTOMOTIVE REPLACEMENT PARTS

The undersigned purchaser certifies, subject to criminal penalties for misrepresentation, that the replacement parts specified in the attached order are essential for the repair of the following vehicle, which cannot now be operated without such parts:

Make_____ Engine number_____

Signed_____
(Firm, partnership or corporation)

By_____ (Name and title of individual)

Dated: _____ _____
Address of firm, partnership or corporation.

A copy of the certificate must be retained by the distributor issuing it as a part of his records.

(2) Emergency repair orders take preference. A producer receiving an order accompanied by a Certificate for Emergency Repair must give such order precedence in shipment over other orders not of an emergency nature.

(3) Use of certificate restricted. The Certificate for Emergency Repair may be used only to secure essential replacement parts for emergency repairs as described in this paragraph (l). It must not under any circumstances be used by a distributor to replenish his stock.

(m) Preference ratings of AA-2X or higher required on sales by distributors to army, navy and maritime commission. Irrespective of the provisions of this order, no distributor shall sell or deliver any replacement parts, as enumerated in paragraph (a) (1) above, to the Army or Navy of the United States, the United States Maritime Commission, or the War Shipping Administration except upon receipt of an order bearing a preference rating of AA-2X or higher.

(1) Additional provisions for army orders. Purchase orders for replacement parts (except parts for "post exchange" vehicles) submitted to distributors by the Army must specify, in accordance with War Department instructions, the type, manufacturer, model and United States Army registration number of vehicles covered by the purchase order; and must carry a certification that such vehicles are "dead-lined" for emergency repair. Delivery by distributors of replacement parts against such orders for the Army must be limited to replacement parts in distributors' inventory available for immediate delivery.

(n) Restrictions on sales to consumers—(1) No sale of new parts where old part can be rebuilt or reconditioned. No new replacement part shall be sold or delivered to a consumer to replace a part which the producer or distributor can rebuild or recondition by use of available local reconditioning facilities.

(2) Used part to be turned in. No producer or distributor shall sell or deliver any replacement part either new, used or rebuilt, to a consumer unless the consumer turns in to the producer or distributor, concurrently with his purchase, a used replacement part of similar kind and size for each such replacement part delivered to the consumer. However, a used replacement part need not be turned in in the following cases:

(i) Where the used part has been consumed in use, lost or stolen;

(ii) Where the used part is a cab assembly;

(iii) Where the consumer is a Federal or Territorial Department, Bureau or Agency, or a State or political subdivision thereof, which is forbidden by law from making such disposal of replacement parts;

(iv) Where the new or rebuilt part is ordered by telephone, telegraph or mail, or is to be installed by the purchaser.

(v) Where the new part to be purchased by the consumer will improve the efficiency of the vehicle, its capacity or usefulness, such parts being as follows: for all vehicles—oil filters; for medium and heavy trucks, truck trailers, passenger carriers, off-the-highway motor vehicles and motorized fire and police equipment—auxiliary springs, trailer connections, brakes, fifth wheels, auxiliary fuel tanks, governors, landing gears, heavy duty generators, auxiliary transmissions, power take-offs, heavy duty trailer axles, wheels and rims which do not increase tire sizes, marker, clearance and identification lamps, spot lamps (internally controlled only), fog lamps and backup lamps, signaling devices, reflex reflectors, windshield defrosters, truck and bus traction sanders.

(3) Use of consumer's certificates. In any of the cases provided for in subparagraphs (2) (i), (ii), (iv), and (v) above, in which the consumer is not required to turn in a used part, he must sign and deliver to the producer or distributor concurrently with each purchase, or on the written confirmation thereof if the order is placed by telephone or telegraph, a Consumer's Certificate in the following form:

CONSUMER'S CERTIFICATE

AUTOMOTIVE REPLACEMENT PARTS

The undersigned purchaser certifies, subject to criminal penalties for misrepresentation, that: (a) the replacement parts covered by this certificate are essential for the maintenance, repair or improvement of equipment he now owns or operates; (b) these parts will be used to replace parts which, to the best of his knowledge, cannot be rebuilt or reconditioned by use of available facilities; and (c) he will, within thirty days after receiving the parts, dispose of the old parts, if any through scrap channels.

(Signed)_____
Vehicle owner or operator.

Date: _____ Address _____

The foregoing Consumer's Certificate must be retained by the producer or distributor making the sale to the consumer as part of his records.

(4) Emergency stocks for truck and passenger carrier fleet operators. On and after December 31, 1943, any owner or operator of a fleet of twenty-five (25) or more medium or heavy trucks, passenger carriers or off-the-highway motor vehicles may, without turning in a similar used part or filing a Consumer's Certificate, purchase engines, less starting, ignition and fuel systems; transmission assemblies; and rear axle assemblies; in quantities not exceeding one each such part for every twenty-five (25) vehicles, or multiples of twenty-five (25) which he maintains in service currently licensed.

Miscellaneous Provisions

(o) Applicability of War Production Board regulations. This order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to all applicable provisions of the regulations of the War Production Board as amended from time to time except where otherwise stated.

(p) Exceptions to applicability of this order. (1) The terms and restrictions of this order, except as provided for in paragraph (d) and (m) above, shall not apply to any replacement parts sold to or produced under contracts or orders for delivery to or for the account of the Army or Navy of the United States, the United States Maritime Commission, the War Shipping Administration, the Panama Canal, the Coast and Geodetic Survey, the Civil Aeronautics Administration, the National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics, the Offices of Scientific Research and Development.

(2) The terms and restrictions of this order entitled Provisions Relating to Distributors' Inventories and Provisions Relating to Distribution shall not apply to any person located outside of the forty-eight (48) states and the District of Columbia.

(q) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact, or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States, is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, materials under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(r) Appeals. Any appeal from the provisions of this order shall be made by filing a letter in triplicate with the Field Office of the War Production Board nearest the appellant's place of business, referring to the particular provision appealed from and stating fully the grounds for appeal.

(s) Communications. All communications concerning this order shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to: War Production Board, Automotive Division, Washington 25, D. C., Ref.: Order L-158.

RESIZING OF ENGINE PISTONS AND BEARINGS BY PRODUCERS' BRANCHES

The question of resizing engine pistons and bearings in the field to sizes other than those specified in paragraphs (f) (1) and (f) (4), respectively, of § 3292.46. Limitation Order L-158, has been the subject of some uncertainty in the industry. In order to clarify the order, with respect to the intent of these paragraphs, the following interpretation is hereby issued:

Producers' direct factory branches of warehouses, wholly owned or controlled by them, may finish engine pistons and bearings to any intermediate sizes not specified in paragraphs (f) (1) and (f) (4), respectively, of Limitation Order L-158, when ordered from the factory branch by a customer for immediate use in a specific engine. None of these intermediate sizes may be ordered from a factory branch for stock or to be held in inventory. A certificate for emergency order, as provided for in Order L-158, paragraph (l), should accompany each order placed with the factory branch for the intermediate sizes other than those specified in the paragraphs mentioned above, as a means of identifying the need for the part in a specific vehicle. (Issued Oct. 1, 1943.)

PRODUCTION OF DECORATIVE HUB CAPS, WHEEL CAPS AND WHEEL TRIM RINGS NOT PERMITTED UNDER ORDER L-158

Hub caps, wheel caps and wheel trim rings which serve only as ornamental or decorative items are not considered components of wheels, Item (8), paragraph (a) (1) (i) of Limitation Order L-158, as amended November 18, 1943. Consequently, they may not be produced. However, hub caps which serve as grease retainers are considered components of wheels and may be produced. (Issued Dec. 29, 1943.)

[Limitation Order L-158, Direction 1 as Amended Apr. 12, 1944]

ARMY ORDERS FOR REPLACEMENT PARTS

The following direction is issued pursuant to Limitation Order L-158:

Purchase orders for replacement parts submitted by the Army to distributors under paragraph (m) (1) of Order L-158 need include neither the registration number of the vehicle nor a certification that the vehicle is deadlined for emergency repair if the Army certifies instead that the registration number is unavailable and that a survey for the parts, necessary to effect immediate shipment to fill a shortage of essential items for an overseas theater, has been made on Army stocks under War Department Circular No. 209, dated September 13, 1943.

Issued this 12th day of April 1944.

(c) Sale by a service and delivery wholesaler. A sale by a service and delivery wholesaler is a sale of fresh fish or seafood to a retailer or purveyor of meals, which fish or seafood is delivered by means other than a common carrier from the seller's established place of doing business to the individual retail store or established place of doing business of the purveyor of meals.

3. Section 13 (c) is amended to read as follows:

(c) Every person making a sale of any fresh fish or seafood subject to this regulation shall furnish to the purchaser at the time of delivery a written statement setting forth the date; the name and address of the buyer and seller; the species sold; a notation that the fish or seafood is fresh; the quantity, sizes, grades and styles of dressing of fresh fish and seafood, and the price charged therefor, including a separate statement of the container cost, if any, as provided in section 19, and transportation cost, if any, as provided in section 7. If the statement furnished a purchaser at the time of delivery does not identify the size, grade and style of dressing, the maximum price which may be charged for the fresh fish and seafood involved in the sale is the maximum price for the lowest priced size, grade and style of dressing of the species of fresh fish and seafood sold. If the seller fails to note on the statement that the fish or seafood is fresh, and if a price is listed in Maximum Price Regulation No. 364 for the species in the particular style of dressing or processing sold, the maximum price which may be charged for the fish or seafood involved in the sale is the lower of the prices listed in Maximum Price Regulation No. 364 and this Maximum Price Regulation No. 418: Provided, That this paragraph shall not apply to any sales made at prices listed in Table A in section 20.

PART 1404—RATIONING OF FOOTWEAR

MEN'S RUBBER BOOTS AND RUBBER WORK SHOES

A rationale accompanying this amendment, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Ration Order 6A is amended in the following respects:

1. Section 2.17 is added to read as follows:

SEC. 2.17 Manufacturers may apply to National Office for release of certain rubber footwear. (a) Any manufacturer having rubber footwear of a kind described in paragraph (b) of this section which cannot reasonably be sold for certificates may be authorized by the National Office of the Office of Price Administration to transfer it as non-rationed in accordance with the provisions of this section.

(b) The only kinds of rubber footwear to which this section applies are:

(1) Culls (rubber footwear having manufacturing defects which require repair to make the rubber footwear salable as waterproof footwear or which prevent the sale of the rubber footwear as "seconds" or "factory rejects").

(2) Discontinued styles (rubber footwear remaining in the manufacturer's stock since April 1, 1942, of styles which the War Production Board has prohibited to be manufactured for civilian use).

(3) Government rejects of special styles (rubber footwear manufactured as government order items according to special specifications, not suitable for ordinary civilian use and rejected by the United States Government).

(4) Government rejects of large sizes (rubber footwear of size 13 and larger, manufactured as government order items and rejected by the United States Government).

(c) Application shall be made in writing to the Rubber Footwear Branch, Miscellaneous Products Rationing Division, Office of Price Administration, Washington 25, D. C. The application need not be made on any prescribed form but must include three copies of a list of the rubber footwear proposed to be transferred as non-rationed, stating the following detailed information:

(1) With respect to culls, the type, quantity, and the nature of the defects.

(2) With respect to discontinued styles, the type, style, quantity, sizes, and a statement that they have remained in the manufacturer's stock since April 1, 1942.

(3) With respect to government rejects of special styles, the type, style, quantity, and a statement that they were manufactured as government order items according to special specifications and rejected by the United States Government, and the reasons they are not suitable for ordinary civilian use.

(4) With respect to government rejects of large sizes, the type, quantity, sizes, and a statement that they were manufactured as government order items and rejected by the United States Government.

(d) Only one application may be made for the release of discontinued styles described in paragraph (b) (2) of this section.

(e) The National Office, if it approves the application in whole or in part, shall indicate its approval in writing and shall attach thereto a copy of the list of rubber footwear submitted by the manufacturer on which it shall indicate the specific rubber footwear authorized to be transferred as non-rationed. The National Office shall issue to the applicant official Non-Rationed Stickers (OPA Form R–123 with the words "Non-Rationed Rubber Footwear" and the type number printed or stamped thereon) equal to the number of pairs of rubber footwear permitted to be transferred as non-rationed. The National Office (or the manufacturer if required by the National Office) shall write or print on each sticker the registration number of the manufacturing establishment to which it is issued.

(f) Before any of such rubber footwear may be transferred or offered for sale as non-rationed, the manufacturer shall attach to one boot of each pair an official non-rationed sticker supplied by the National Office. Such sticker may be affixed only to rubber footwear specifically released by the National Office and only to rubber footwear of the same type as that designated on the sticker.

(g) Rubber footwear to which official stickers have been affixed in accordance with this section may be transferred as non-rationed by and to any person at any time thereafter.

(h) The manufacturer shall attach to his inventory form (OPA Form R–601A) the written approval of the National Office together with the list of rubber footwear authorized to be transferred as non-rationed. This shall be in lieu of any reporting requirement of section 2.2 (c).

2. Section 3.8 (d) is added to read as follows:

(d) Certificates may not be given, demanded or received for non-rationed rubber footwear nor may it be exchanged for rationed rubber footwear or a certificate pursuant to section 1.13 or section 3.7.

This amendment shall become effective April 15, 1944.

PART 1418—TERRITORIES AND POSSESSIONS

LUGGAGE IN TERRITORY OF HAWAII

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Maximum Price Regulation No. 373 is amended in the following respect:

Section 64 is added to read as follows:

SEC. 64. Ceiling prices for sales of imported luggage at wholesale and retail— (a) Scope of this section. This section applies to sales at wholesale and sales at retail of all leather and non-leather luggage which has been imported into the Territory of Hawaii. "Luggage" means any container commonly used for the transportation of personal effects on a journey; for example, furlough bags, zipper bags, utility kits, utility bags and cases, travel cases, buddy kits, overnight cases, travel packs, duffel bags, weekend cases, Pullman cases, men's wardrobes, foot lockers, suitcases and trunks. In addition, the term "luggage" includes physician's bags, sample cases, sample trunks, brief cases and school bags. Furthermore, the term "luggage" as used in this section includes only new luggage; used or reconditioned luggage is not covered by this section.

(b) Wholesaler's ceiling prices. If you are a wholesaler, you calculate your ceiling prices for luggage in the following manner:

(1) For out of stock sales: First, multiply your manufacturer's or original importer's selling price by 1.25. Then to this amount add your landing costs. The resulting price is your ceiling price.

(2) For sales on a drop shipment basis: Multiply your manufacturer's or original importer's selling price by 1.17. The resulting price is your ceiling price.

(3) For sales of luggage purchased from a local wholesaler: If you purchased a luggage item from another local wholesaler whose ceiling price is established under subparagraphs (1) and (2) above, you must secure a written record of your supplier's ceiling price. Your ceiling price shall be your supplier's ceiling price.

(c) Retailer's ceiling prices. If you are a retailer, you calculate your ceiling prices in the following manner:

(1) For sales of articles purchased directly from your mainland manufacturer or original importer: First: multiply your manufacturer's or original importer's selling price by 1.87. To this amount add your landing cost and the Federal excise tax, and adjust to the nearest 5¢. The resulting price is your ceiling price, inclusive of Federal excise tax.

(2) For sales of articles purchased directly from mainland wholesalers: First, multiply your wholesaler's selling price by 1.58. To this amount add your landing cost and the Federal excise tax and adjust to the nearest 5¢. The resulting price is your ceiling price, inclusive of Federal excise tax.

(3) For sales of articles purchased from local wholesalers out of locally warehoused stock: First, multiply the wholesaler's selling price, less the landing cost, by 1.50. To this amount add the landing cost and the Federal excise tax, and adjust to the nearest 5¢. The resulting price is your ceiling price, inclusive of Federal excise tax.

(4) For sales of articles purchased from local wholesalers on a drop shipment basis: First, multiply your manufacturer's or original importer's selling price by 1.87. To this amount add your landing cost and the Federal excise tax, and adjust to the nearest 5¢. The resulting price is your ceiling price, inclusive of Federal excise tax.

(d) Inability to determine ceiling prices. If you are unable to determine your ceiling price of any luggage item, you shall apply to the Office of Price Administration for the establishment of a ceiling price.

(e) Landing cost—(1) Landing cost for articles imported from the mainland. Landing cost, in the case of articles imported from the mainland, shall be the total of the following amounts:

(i) An amount equal to the transportation charges, if any, actually incurred by the purchaser for transportation from the mainland point at which the purchaser received delivery to the mainland port of shipment (including Federal transportation tax and terminal charges) not in excess of public (common or contract) carrier rates.

(ii) An amount equal to mainland storage charges and insurance in connection therewith actually incurred by the purchaser. The charges for storage and insurance in connection therewith in excess of three months shall not be included.

(iii) An amount equal to cartage charges actually incurred by the purchaser for cartage from warehouse to dock in port of shipment, not in excess of public (common or contract) carrier rates.

(iv) An amount equal to charges for ocean freight, War Risk and Marine insurance actually incurred by the purchaser, and there may be included in this amount Territorial tolls and tonnage tax as shown on the bill of lading. However, the amount by which any cost of War Risk insurance exceeds the rates charged by the War Shipping Administration shall not be included, but the type of coverage is at the discretion of the buyer and seller.

(v) An amount equal to cartage charges in the port of entry in the Territory of Hawaii from dock to the establishment of the purchaser, computed at a rate not in excess of $1.20 per ton weight or measurement; Provided, That the commodity is moved from a dock at the purchaser's expense.

(2) Landing cost in cases of interisland shipments. In cases where the article has been shipped from one island to another island in the Territory of Hawaii, the following additional charges may be added to those set forth in subparagraph (1), above:

(i) An amount equal to the actual transportation cost to be computed in accordance with the applicable provisions of divisions (iii), (iv) and (v), above.

(f) Posting and marking of prices— (1) Posting. On and after the effective date of this section, any person who sells or offers to sell any luggage item at retail shall post in a conspicuous place in a manner plainly visible to and understandable by the purchasing public in a department or portion of his premises

Whenever the word "stove" is used in this order, without referring to any particular type, all eight types are being referred to.

2. Section 1.3 (a) is amended by substituting for the last sentence the following: "'Persons' who sell stoves replenish their stocks by giving up to the persons from whom they acquire stoves, certificates which they get from their customers or from their boards."

3. Section 3.5 (a) (1) is amended to read as follows:

(1) In computing registered inventory, cooking stoves using coal and gas, or oil and gas, are treated as gas cooking stoves. Combination heating and cooking stoves are treated as gas cooking stoves. Conversion burners may not be included in registered inventory.

The allowable inventory will cover each type of stove transferred in either year except that combination stoves will be included in the allowable inventory for gas cooking stoves.

(2) Business started after January 1, 1943. If a business was started on or after January 1, 1943 (but before July 1, 1943), and stocks of stoves were kept, the establishment is entitled to an allowable inventory covering each type of stove which was transferred except that combination stoves will be included in the allowable inventory for gas cooking stoves.

(4) Application under section 3.8 where particular type inventory not allowed. If a dealer or distributor is not entitled to any allowable inventory for a particular type or types of stove, he may apply for relief under section 3.8.

7. Section 6.2 (a) is amended to read as follows:

(a) Stoves covered by this order may be transferred and "acquired" only if the transferee gives up to the seller or transferor "certificates" for the number and "type" of stoves transferred. (If the stove to be transferred to a "consumer" is a "combination stove," only a combination stove designed to use the fuel for heating specified on the certificate may be transferred to him.) However, if the stove is transferred to any "person" other than a consumer, the transferee may give up a combination stove certificate for a "gas cooking stove" or a gas cooking stove certificate for a combination stove. The certificates must be given up at the time stated in the next section. They must be endorsed on the back by the person to whom issued and by each person who later uses them to acquire stoves, or by someone authorized to sign for him.

8. Section 13.1 (a) (17) is amended by renumbering (vii) as (viii) and by inserting a new subdivision (vii) as follows:

TABLE F—MAXIMUM PRICES FOR THE ISLAND OF LANAI

(a) This table shall apply to the Island of Lanai only.

(b) The specific dollars and cents ceiling prices listed in Table A for the Island of Oahu shall apply to the Island of Lanai. To these prices may be added the differentials permitted by paragraph (d) below.

(c) In all cases where a specific dollar and cent ceiling price is not provided in Table A, the maximum price shall be computed by means of the "net cost" as defined in paragraph (e) of this section 41, and the appropriate division factor or multiplication factor named in Table A. No transportation costs from the Islands of Oahu or Maui to the Island of Lanai shall be included in "net cost". To the prices thus computed may be added the differentials permitted by paragraph (d) below.

(d) All retail grocery stores on the Island of Lanai may add 2% to the maximum retail sales prices listed or computed in accordance with this Table. This addition must be made as a separate computation at the time of payment. Prior to the addition of the 2% differential, stores shall obtain and prominently display the poster issued by the Office of Price Administration stating the right of the store to this differential.

This amendment shall become effective as of March 15, 1944.

[Rev. RO 11, Administrative Exception Order 4]

UNITED STATES STEEL CORPORATION OF DELAWARE

AUTHORIZATION OF APPLICATION FOR REGISTRATION

Administrative Exception Order No. 4 under Revised Ration Order 11.[1] Fuel oil rationing regulations.

The United States Steel Corporation of Delaware on behalf of five of its affiliated companies, namely, Carnegie-Illinois Steel Corporation, National Tube Company, American Steel and Wire Company, American Bridge Company, and Oliver Iron Mining Company, has filed an application for an Administrative Exception Order, under General Ration Order 1, permitting them to register as primary suppliers under Revised Ration Order 11 and to operate thereafter as primary suppliers subject to all the provisions of Revised Ration Order 11 affecting or regulating primary suppliers. None of these companies meets the requirements for registration as a primary supplier set forth in Revised Ration Order 11.

[1] 9 F.R. 3247.

The following appears from the application: That the five named companies are consuming fuel oil at an aggregate annual rate of 467,073,000 gallons, based on current operating schedules. Each of these companies uses quantities in excess of 1,000,000 gallons annually; each operates four or more plants in which such fuel oil is used; and each purchases fuel oil through a central purchasing office. The large quantities of fuel oil required by the named companies compels them to obtain the product from many suppliers in order to assure an adequate and regular supply. Most of the suppliers are primary suppliers as defined in Revised Ration Order 11. These companies receive their fuel oil supply generally in tank car lots, and since their storage facilities are inadequate for their current fuel oil requirements, shipments are numerous. One plant receives an average of twenty tank cars per day. Fuel oil ration banking is carried on by each of these companies from a central office and ration checks for fuel oil are sent from there to suppliers after the invoices have been received and verified.

In view of the requirements of Revised Ration Order 11, that ration payment must be made at the time of or within 15 days after the fuel oil transfer (or within 15 days in advance), invoices received at the central offices of these companies in the ordinary course of business must, in order to comply with that order, be segregated from thousands of other documents for items purchased, verification expedited, and ration checks issued. It is claimed that despite all efforts on the part of these companies, compliance with these time limitations is extremely difficult and unreasonably burdensome in many instances because of the time interval between the date of shipment and the date the invoice is received at the central office. In support of this claim the application points out that when the supplier and place of delivery are located at points distant from the central office the difficulty of meeting the fifteen day requirement is increased. In addition, diversions of shipments from the plant for which they were originally destined to other units where supplies are dangerously low, or such diversions after shipment on order of the supplier or PAW, make verification of invoices within the 15 day period more difficult.

The granting of such an exception order will not constitute an exception to or waiver of or variance of any provisions setting forth standards of eligibility or need for fuel oil. Nor will the effectiveness or policy of Revised Ration Order 11 be defeated or impaired by permitting the above named companies and all companies similarly situated to register as primary suppliers (in the manner set forth in this exception order) and to operate thereafter as primary suppliers under the ration order.

It is therefore ordered:

(a) The five affiliates of the United States Steel Corporation of Delaware, namely, Carnegie-Illinois Steel Corporation, National Tube Company, American Steel and Wire Company, American Bridge Company and Oliver Iron Mining Company, may apply in the manner provided in this exception order, to the Office of Price Administration, Control and Audit Section, Fuel Oil Rationing Branch, Washington (25), D. C., for registration as "primary suppliers." Application shall be made by each on Form OPA R-1116 (Revised) in triplicate.

(b) The Control and Audit Section will assign to each of the above-mentioned companies a primary supplier registration number, and will return the original application to the applicant and a duplicate to the Board having jurisdiction.

(c) Upon receipt of the original application with the primary supplier registration number thereon, registration of the applicant as a primary supplier shall be deemed effected, and the applicant shall thereafter in all respects comply with the applicable provisions of Revised Ration Order 11, and amendments thereto.

This order shall become effective April 12, 1944.

[Order L-317, Direction 1]

INVENTORY AND EXCESSIVE ORDERING

The following direction is issued pursuant to Order L-317.

(a) Purpose. In view of the critical shortage of new fibre shipping containers, this direction is issued to explain applicable inventory restrictions and to prohibit the placing of excessive or duplicatory purchase orders.

(b) Inventory restrictions. Order L-317 prohibits the acceptance of more new fibre shipping containers than the "maximum permitted inventories" described in paragraphs (o), (p) and (q). This provision does not supersede § 944.14 of Priorities Regulation 1, which prevents the delivery or acceptance of material "in excess of the practicable minimum working inventory reasonably necessary to meet deliveries of the products of the person accepting delivery, on the basis of his current method and rate of operation." The most restrictive of these two provisions apply. Therefore a person is limited in his purchases of new fibre shipping containers to his "practicable minimum working inventory" under Priorities Regulation 1, or his permitted inventory under Order L-317, whichever is less.

(c) Restrictions against placing excessive orders. All persons are prohibited not only from accepting more new fibre shipping containers than their maximum permitted inventory, they are prohibited from placing orders for more of these containers than they would be entitled to receive within the inventory restrictions described in paragraph (b) of this direction. This does not mean that orders calling for delivery of containers in installments cannot be placed if all installments could be accepted within inventory limitations at the times specified in the purchase order. It does mean that a person violates this direction if he places orders for more containers than he reasonably anticipates that he will be entitled to receive at the time delivery is called for by his purchase orders. This is true even if he intends to cancel or reduce some of his orders before delivery is received. (As to rated orders this is the rule already in effect under paragraph (c) (3) of Priorities Regulation 3).

(d) Cancellation of excessive orders. All persons shall immediately cancel or postpone all outstanding orders for new fibre shipping containers in excess of the quantity they are permitted to order under paragraph (c) of this direction.

PART 3281—PULP AND PAPER

[General Limitation Order L–83, as Amended Apr. 13, 1944]

PAPER MILL MACHINERY

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply of paper mill machinery for defense for private account and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

§ 3281.81 General Limitation Order L–83—(a) Purpose of this order. This order restricts delivery of new, used and reconditioned paper mill machinery.

(b) Definitions. For the purpose of this order "paper mill machinery" means all new, used and reconditioned machinery and equipment used in the production and processing of pulp, paper and paperboard, including containerboard and converted paper products. It includes parts for repair and maintenance, but does not include the following: Container machinery as defined in General Limitation Order L–332 or Graphic Arts machinery as defined in General Limitation Order L–226.

It must be noted that deliveries of parts for paper mill machinery are also subject to any applicable provisions of other limitation orders.

(c) Restrictions on acceptance of orders and production and delivery of paper mill machinery. No person shall purchase, lease, rent, or accept delivery of any paper mill machinery or parts without first obtaining approval and an assigned rating on Form WPB–1319 (formerly PD–556) or Form GA–1456. Form WPB–1319 is to be filed in triplicate with the Paper Division, War Production Board, Washington 25, D. C., in accordance with the instructions for the form, except that any application for the purchase of paper mill machinery or parts having a sales value less than $2,500.00 shall be filed in duplicate with the nearest Field Office of the War Production Board. For applications involving construction under Order L-41, approval and an assigned rating on GA-1456 must be obtained by filing Form WPB–617 (formerly PD–300) in accordance with WPB–617 instructions.

(d) Items excluded from the provisions of this order. The prohibitions of paragraph (c) shall not restrict any delivery (1) to fill any order or group of orders of less than $2,000.00 placed with one or more suppliers within any four weeks' period, for parts intended for use in the repair or maintenance of any single existing machine, or a single machine delivered under the terms of this order, or (2) to fill any order of $2,000 or more for repair or maintenance parts when and only when there has been an actual breakdown or suspension of operations because of damage, wear and tear, destruction or failure of parts or the like, and the essential repair or maintenance parts are not otherwise available.

(e) Applicability of regulations. This order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to all applicable regulations of the War Production Board, as amended from time to time.

(f) Appeals. Any appeal from the provisions of this order shall be made by filing a letter in triplicate, referring to the particular provisions appealed from and stating fully the grounds for appeal.

(g) Records. All persons affected by this order shall keep for at least two years records concerning inventory, production, purchases and sales, and shall make reports on the same if required.

(h) Communications. All reports required to be filed hereunder and all communications concerning this order or any schedule issued supplementary hereto shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to the War Production Board, Paper Division, Washington 25, D. C., Ref.: L–83.

(i) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

Issued this 13th day of April 1944.

PART 3285—LUMBER AND LUMBER PRODUCTS

[Order L–335, as Amended Apr. 13, 1944]

LUMBER CONSUMERS' REQUIREMENTS

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply of lumber for defense, for private account and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

§ 3285.121 Order L–335—(a) What this order does. This order requires large consumers of lumber to file application with the War Production Board stating their requirements for the second and third quarters of 1944 and prohibits them from receiving lumber after April 25, 1944, unless they file their applications. These applications will be used by the War Production Board as a basis for authorizing the applicants to receive lumber, during part of the second and all of the third quarters, under procedures which will replace existing procedures under other orders. These procedures will be described in a later revision of this order.

(b) Definitions. For the purposes of this order:

(1) "Lumber" means any sawed or hewed railway cross ties and switch ties, and any sawed lumber of any species, size or grade including round edge, rough, dressed on one or more sides or edges, dressed and matched, shiplapped, worked to pattern, or grooved for splines, except:

(i) Dogwood, rattan, and aircraft grade of sitka spruce;

(ii) Shingles, lath, and slabs;

(iii) Edging, trim, and off-fall less than three inches wide or less than four feet long, unless produced for the purpose of evading this order;

(iv) Hardwood flooring;

(v) Items produced from lumber but not classified in the trade as "lumber" such as box shook, last blocks, and mill work;

(vi) Used lumber.

(2) "Class I consumer" means any person, or any part of a person's operation (such as a plant, branch, or department) as to which a separate lumber inventory is regularly maintained, which either received more than 50,000 board feet of lumber during the last quarter of 1943 or expects that he will need to receive more than 50,000 board feet of lumber during either the second or third quarters of 1944, for all purposes, except: (i) operations for which producers have been assigned serial numbers under Order P–56 (regarding mines and smelters); (ii) operations directly incident to the discovery, development, or depletion of a petroleum pool as authorized by Petroleum Administrative Order 11; (iii) resale by a sawmill or distributor; (iv) use outside the 48 states and the District of Columbia; and (v) construction jobs which have been expressly authorized by the War Production Board or by any other Federal agency whose authorization makes it unnecessary to get permission from the War Production Board for construction. This exception does not include those construction jobs which do not require the permission of the War Production Board or any Federal agency under Order L–41. A person in determining whether he is a Class I Consumer does not include, nor does he report on form WPB 3640, lumber used for construction work done for other persons. Construction means putting up or altering any sort of structure including a building, road, bridge, dam, sewer, or similar jobs, or the installation of equipment or fixtures.

If a person has two or more branches, plants, departments, or other divisions which regularly maintain separate lumber inventories and none of which comes within the above definition, then neither the person nor any of its divisions is a "Class I Consumer". Thus, if a company has two plants maintaining separate lumber inventories each of which consumed less than 50,000 board feet of lumber in the last quarter of 1943 and expects to consume less than 50,000 in each the second or third quarter of 1944 then neither of the plants nor the company is a "Class I Consumer". If either plant consumed over 50,000 board feet of lumber during the last quarter of 1943 or expects to consume more than 50,000 board feet of lumber during either the second or third quarter of 1944, such plant would be treated as a separate "Class I Consumer" for all purposes under this order. Inventories may not be split for the purpose of evading this order.

(3) "Sawmill" means:

(i) Any mill or plant, stationary or portable, which produces any lumber; and,

(ii) Any concentration yard or plant other than a mill if the yard or plant is located in a producing area and processes by drying, sawing, edging, planing, or some other comparable method, 25 percent or more of the total volume of logs and lumber which it receives.

(iii) The term "sawmill" does not include any establishment known in the trade as a distribution yard engaged in either retail or wholesale business, even though such a yard may process more than 25 percent of the volume of lumber it receives for the servicing of special orders from customers.

(4) "Sawmill stock" means any lumber in the possession of a "sawmill."

(5) "Distributor" means any person who buys lumber from a "sawmill" or from another distributor for resale either at wholesale or retail.

(6) "Distributor stock" means any lumber which a distributor has in his possession for resale, or for his own use.

(7) "Person" means any individual, partnership, association, business trust, corporation, governmental corporation or agency, or any organized group of persons, whether incorporated or not.

(c) Acceptance of lumber in second quarter without filing application forbidden. No "Class I consumer" may receive any lumber from any source after April 25, 1944 unless on or before April 25, he has filed with the War Production Board form WPB–3640. This means that if a "Class I consumer" does not file application he is forbidden to receive any lumber even though he has a preference rating for it or has been authorized to receive lumber under another order, regulation, or certificate of the War Production Board. The only exceptions are:

(1) A "Class I consumer" may receive the amount of lumber necessary for a construction job which has been authorized in writing by the War Production Board or by any other Federal agency whose authorization makes it unnecessary to get permission for construction from the War Production Board. He may not, under this exception, receive lumber for those construction jobs which do not require the permission of the War Production Board, or any other Federal agency under Order L–41.

(2) A "Class I consumer" who is also in the mining or smelting business may receive lumber for an operation which has been assigned a serial number under Order P–56.

(3) A "Class I consumer" who is also in the petroleum industry may receive lumber for operations directly incident to the discovery, development, or depletion of a petroleum pool as authorized by Petroleum Administrative Order 11.

(4) A "Class I consumer" who also has a sawmill or a distribution yard may receive lumber for resale.

(5) A "Class I consumer" may receive lumber if authorized in writing by the War Production Board and if the written authorization expressly refers to this order and grants an exception from it.

(d) Receipt of lumber by Class I consumers who have filed applications. Until otherwise notified by the War Production Board either through an amendment of this order or by action on his application, a "Class I consumer" who has filed his application may receive lumber to the extent he is authorized by other applicable orders and regulations of the War Production Board, and he may procure lumber under the procedures provided in such orders for delivery at any time in the future until otherwise provided.

(e) Receipts from own sawmill stock or distribution stock included. Under the definitions provided for in this order a person may find that his operations make him both a "sawmill" and a "Class I consumer" or both a "distributor" and a "Class I consumer", or he may be all three. Any person who finds that he is a "Class I consumer" as well as a "distributor" or a "sawmill" must file an application for permission to receive lumber for that part of his operation which makes him a "Class I consumer." For example, if a person has his own sawmill or distribution yard and also maintains his own cut-up plant, box factory or other plant where fabricated products are made from lumber or he uses lumber for purposes other than resale, he must apply for permission to use his "sawmill stock" or "distribution stock" in another piece of machinery, department, or plant which turns out products other than lumber, such as fabricated products or parts for fabricated products either for his own use or resale. The term "fabricated products" includes hardwood flooring but does not include softwood flooring which is included in the definition of lumber.

(f) Existing lumber orders and procedures. This order for the present in no way affects the manner in which lumber is controlled under other lumber orders and particularly orders L–218, L–290, M–361, and M–364. In other words, except for "Class I consumers" all transactions in lumber will continue to be handled as if this order did not exist. Even "Class I consumers" can make purchases and arrange for delivery of lumber in compliance with other applicable orders provided their applications on Form WPB–3640 are filed with the War Production Board by April 25, 1944. Before the end of the second quarter this order will be amended and new procedures will be established under which all consumers will be authorized to receive lumber.

(g) Restrictions on delivery. No person shall sell, ship, or deliver, or cause to be sold, shipped or delivered, any lumber which he knows or has reason to believe will be used in violation of the provisions of this order, or any other order or regulation of the War Production Board.

(h) Reports. Any person shall execute and file with the War Production Board such other reports and questionnaires as the War Production Board may, from time to time, require, subject to the approval of the Bureau of the Budget pursuant to the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

(i) Appeals. Any appeal from the provisions of this order shall be made by mailing a letter to the War Production Board referring to the particular provision appealed from and stating fully the grounds of the appeal.

(j) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States, is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(k) Application and communications. Form WPB–3640 for use in filing applications under this order may be obtained at any War Production Board District Office. All communications, unless otherwise directed, must be addressed as follows: Lumber and Lumber Products Division, War Production Board, Washington 25, D. C., Ref.: L–335.

Issued this 13th day of April 1944.

[Order L–335, Interpretation 1]

LUMBER CONSUMERS REQUIREMENTS

The following official interpretation in question and answer form is issued with respect to § 3285.121, Order L–335:

1. Q. What is the purpose of the order?—A. To present a picture of the operations and requirements of "Class I consumers" of lumber which, together with data showing requirements for other claimants, will be used as a basis for authorizing applicants to receive delivery of lumber under procedures which will replace existing ones. The revised procedures will be described in a later revision of Order L–335.

2. Q. Does Order L–335 take the place of existing lumber orders such as L–218, L–290, M–361, and M–364?—A. This order, for the present, does not affect the manner in which lumber is controlled under other lumber orders (see paragraphs (d) and (f) of the order). Neither does Order L–335 affect in any way the operation of preference ratings.

3. Q. Is there any relation between Order L–335 and other lumber control orders?—A. Yes. A Class I consumer under L–335 cannot receive lumber under other lumber orders unless he has filed form WPB 3640 by April 25, 1944.

The definitions in Order L–335 of lumber and of producers differ somewhat from those given in other lumber orders. The definitions in other lumber orders under which receivers are now getting lumber, such as M–361, still remain applicable.

4. Q. Does paragraph (c) of the order (which forbids the receipt of lumber by a Class I consumer who has not filed form WPB 3640 by April 25) apply to lumber consumers who are not Class I consumers?—A. No, because there is no reporting requirement for such consumers.

5. Q. What lumber used on construction jobs should be reported on form WPB 3640?—A. Lumber for all construction jobs and maintenance repair work allowed under Order L–41 without express approval of the War Production Board or any other Federal agency, as provided in paragraphs (c) and (d) of that order. Paragraph (c) refers to exemptions permitted on the basis of the value of construction for which written approval by War Production Board is not required. Paragraph (d) refers to exemptions permitted on the basis of the kind of construction, with certain value limitations, for which written War Production Board approval is not required.

6. Q. What is meant by the term "expressly" authorized by the War Production Board or any other Federal agency as used in paragraph (b) (2) (v) of the order?—A. This means construction which has been authorized on one of the following forms under Order L–41. Forms GA–1456, WPB 2896, and WPB 2774 are now used to authorize construction under that order. In addition there are various other orders and authorizations which are not generally used today, but construction which has heretofore been authorized under them is still proceeding. These orders and authorizations are: CMPL–224; CMPL–127; GA–235; GA–236; PD–443; PD–654; orders in the P–19 series; orders in the P–55 series; orders in the P–14 series; P–41; P–110; PD–8, PD–9A; and WPB–542.

7. Q. A contractor is using lumber on a construction job for which he has received an express authorization under Order L–41. Should he consider lumber used on such projects in determining if he is a Class I consumer?—A. No. This is exempted under paragraph (b) (2) (v) of the Order L–335.

8. Q. A contractor is using lumber for a construction job for which he has received express authorization under Order L–41 and also is a manufacturer of millwork or other fabricated products used on this and other projects. Should he file under the provisions of Order L–335?—A. He should not report construction lumber for expressly authorized projects, but should report lumber to be consumed by him in the manufacture of millwork and other fabricated products, even though some of the millwork is used on the expressly authorized project.

9. Q. A person is using 50,000 feet of lumber per calendar quarter, manufacturing prefabricated houses. Should he consider himself a Class I consumer?—A. Yes. See answer to question 19 below.

10. Q. A person has received War Production Board authorization for certain construction under Order U–1 after filing form WPB 2774. Should the lumber for this project be reported under Order L–335?—A. No. See paragraph (b) (2) (v). However, construction done under Order U–1 and exempted under paragraph (c) (11) of Order L–41 should be reported under Order L–335 if the person doing the construction work is a "Class I consumer".

11. Q. A company has nine plants. Six of these plants maintain their individual inventories of lumber; the other three are served from a common inventory. How should the company report its lumber requirements?—A. It should make separate reports for each of the six plants having separate inventories if they are "Class I consumers" and one report covering the other three plants served by common inventory if the three combined constitute a "Class I consumer".

12. Q. A company has three plants each maintaining separate lumber inventories. No individual plants will require 50,000 feet of lumber per calendar quarter, but the combined requirements will exceed 50,000 feet. Should this company report its combined requirements?—A. No. See paragraph (b) (2) of the order as amended April 6, 1944 and paragraph (2) of Instructions, form WPB 3640.

13. Q. A plant stores lumber in three different places but all this lumber is used for maintenance and repair, crating or dunnage of the plant products. Should the plant file separate applications for each inventory maintained?—A. No. The plant should file only one report to include all lumber in inventory and complete plant requirements for lumber. See last sentence paragraph (2) of Instructions, form WPB 3640.

14. Q. A county buys lumber for highways and for maintenance of buildings. How should the county report?—A. A county should report on the basis of inventory units the same as an industrial company. If one inventory serves all county uses, file one report. If separate inventories and inventory records are maintained for separate departments, file separate reports for each department qualifying as a Class I consumer. The same will be true for any city, state, or governmental institution.

15. Q. A millwork plant or other fabricator does custom work for others who supply the lumber for fabrication. Should this fabricator include the lumber used for such custom fabricating in his report on form WPB 3640?—A. No. The person who holds title to the lumber and who supplies it to the mill for custom fabrication should report this lumber if he is a Class I consumer.

16. Q. A box plant operator in Indiana buys lumber in the South and stores it in the South. He also keeps a lumber inventory in his box plant in Indiana. How should he report on form WPB 3640?—A. He should report the inventory at his box plant and the quantity stored elsewhere for use in his box plant. These should be combined in one report.

17. Q. A "Class I consumer" uses lumber imported from Canada. Should such imported lumber be reported on form WPB 3640?—A. Yes. The intent of the order is to determine total lumber requirements of "Class I consumers" for the purposes listed in the order.

18. Q. A consumer uses hemlock lumber only. Since hemlock is not shown as one of the species on form WPB 3640, and since there is no space for reporting "all other softwoods" in column (e), should a person using over 50,000 feet of hemlock file on form WPB 3640?—A. Yes. He should file the information called for under item 10 in columns (f), (g), (h), and (i).

19. Q. How is a person to determine whether the item he uses is "lumber" controlled by the order or a lumber product which is not controlled by the order? Is Dimension stock lumber or a lumber product?—A. The purpose of Order L–335 is to get from large lumber users a picture of their consumption of lumber. Generally somewhere in the various processes by which a log is converted into a finished product the wood passes through the lumber stage. After the wood has reached the lumber stage and before it has been converted into an item which takes it out of the classification of lumber is the point at which it is to be used. The next step (the point at which the lumber is converted into a finished product or a part of a product) is the consumption in which the War Production Board is interested. It is the required receipts of lumber for this consumption that the Class I consumer reports on form WPB 3640. Normally there should be no difficulty in identifying the point at which lumber is consumed. For instance, lumber is consumed when a board is nailed into the framing of a house; a plank or board is cut into molding strips; a piece of softwood matched flooring is cut and nailed into either a house or an object such as a crate or a fence; a timber cut to specification is incorporated into a bridge or building. Also, lumber is consumed when cut to specification or otherwise processed for a particular use in a way which destroys its general usefulness. Generally, dimension stock is not lumber but dimension lumber is lumber. Dimension stock is considered an unfinished wooden item cut to specifications (usually less than 4 feet long and less than 3 inches square in cross sectional area) which can be converted into a finished product by some further operation. For instance, a manufacturer of furniture might purchase dimension stock measuring 3 x 3 x 18 inches for use in manufacturing legs for chairs. This dimension stock being unfinished has not reached its final fabrication stage but it is not lumber because its size limits its usefulness to a very narrow field. On the other hand, in the trade, dimension lumber is usually more than 4 feet long and although cut to specification its use is not limited and therefore it is still lumber. For instance, if a log has been cut to a particular specification for a particular use such as a 2 x 6 x 16 its general usefulness may not necessarily be destroyed. This lumber until incorporated into a structure can still be used in a different structure; it can be cut into smaller boards; it can be cut up for shipping and dunnage material; it can be cut into dimension stock or into boxing and crating material. Likewise, a cross arm blank, which is normally more than 6 feet long, when further processed is used to support wires on a telephone pole is considered lumber in the blank form. If, however, the cross arm blank has been roofed and holes have been bored in it the general utility has been destroyed and it is no longer lumber. In other words dimension lumber is lumber until it has been cut or used in such a way as to destroy its general usefulness.

20. Q. In referring to the above question and answer who reports the consumption of lumber?—A. The person who receives the lumber and converts it into an item which changes its classification from lumber into a lumber product is the person who reports on form WPB 3640.

21. Q. Should the use of poles, piling, and other material used in the round, or split or hewn from logs or bolts, be reported on form WPB 3640?—A. With the exception of hewed railway cross ties and switch ties, these items are not classed as lumber and should not be reported.

22. Q. Do staves, heads, and hoops used in cooperage come under Order L–335?—A. Staves and hoops are not considered lumber products and should not be reported on form WPB 3640 by either the user or the manufacturer. Heading is a fabricated product and should not be reported by the user. If heading is manufactured from heading bolts, it should not be reported by the manufacturer. But if heading is manufactured from lumber according to accepted definitions of lumber, the manufacturer should report such lumber on form WPB 3640 if he is a Class I consumer. Tobacco hogshead staves made from lumber should be reported by the stave manufacturer.

23. Q. Who should report the lumber used in the manufacture of matches?—A. This lumber should be reported by the person who buys match plank and who cuts it into match blocks. This interpretation is in accordance with the general principles of the answer to Question 19.

24. Q. I operate a sawmill and I also operate a box factory. In my box factory I use lumber produced in my sawmill and I use lumber that I get from other suppliers. Under paragraph (e) of the order is it necessary for me to file two application forms WPB 3640, one showing receipts from my sawmill and the other showing my receipts from other suppliers? Under paragraph (e) is it necessary for me to apply in any other way for permission to receive lumber from my sawmill than on form WPB 3640?—A. The answers to both questions is No. Receipts of lumber for your box factory regardless of the source should be consolidated and reported on one application form WPB 3640. This does not mean that you may not be required to get permission under some other order to transfer lumber from your "sawmill stock" to your fabricating plant (see orders L–290, M–361, and M–364).

25. Q. Should a manufacturer who makes small dimension stock direct from bolts or billets six feet or less in length report on form WPB 3640?—A. No. A manufacturer who makes small dimension stock from bolts or billets six feet in length or less should not report his wood requirements. However, if the small dimension stock is made from lumber see question and answer 19.

26. Q. Instruction 12 on form WPB 3640 asks applicants not to combine certain items listed. Item 24 is dimension stock. Should a manufacturer of dimension stock for a specific purpose such as furniture stock or farm implement stock indicate the special type of stock he is producing or simply include all his production under the general term "dimension stock"?—A. If the applicant can report the special purpose for which dimension stock is cut, he should do so.

27. Q. Should a furniture manufacturer who buys plywood panels report the lumber used as core stock for these panels?—A. No. Plywood panels are considered a fabricated product. The manufacturer of the panel should report the lumber used as core stock in manufacturing the panels.

28. Q. Is molding a fabricated product or lumber?—A. A fabricated product.

29. Q. Who should report lumber which has been treated with creosote or other preservative or fire retardant?—A. Treated lumber should be included in the report of the person using such lumber and should not be reported by a plant which merely treats the lumber. If any other processing, other than treating, is performed see question and answer 19.

30. Q. In reporting the dollar value of shipment, in sections I and II of form WPB 3640, should the F. O. B. plant price or delivered price be reported?—A. Report either one; whichever one can most conveniently be taken from your records.

31. Q. What should be reported as "Fabricated Wood Products" in section II of form WPB 3640?—A. Report sales of all products made entirely of lumber. For products made of both lumber and metal or other material, the dividing line must be arbitrary. If in doubt, apply the following rule: Products made of lumber (as reported in section III) and of other materials shall be considered as "Fabricated Wood Products" if such lumber constitutes by either weight or volume 50 percent or more of the total weight or volume of materials in the finished product. Report the value of the finished product, not merely the value of the lumber contained in it.

32. Q. Where should lumber used for operating supplies, be reported in section IV, form WPB 3640?—A. In column (d), with lumber for maintenance and repair. See paragraph 20 of the instructions to form WPB 3640.

Issued this 13th day of April 1944.

[Conservation Order M–361, Interpretation 2]

The following official interpretation in question and answer form is issued with respect to § 3285.101 Conservation Order M–361:

1. Q. What are the principal changes between the old and the amended M–361 and M–364 orders?—A. The principal changes are as follows:

(a) All edgings, trim and off-fall less than three inches wide or less than four feet long and all slabs which were, prior to the amendment of these orders, restricted lumber are no longer restricted and may be dealt with freely. Railway switch ties, mine ties, and used lumber are also free from control so far as these orders are concerned.

(b) In M–364 pecan and all birch except white birch produced in the New England States are now included in the species of hardwood which are now controlled under the order.

(c) "Producer" as now defined under the orders includes any sawmill which currently produces 5,000 board feet of lumber per day of any species of lumber, or any sawmill which produced 5,000 board feet of lumber per day during the period from June 3 to December 3, 1943. In addition to sawmills any concentration yard or plant located in an area which produces restricted lumber is a "producer" if the yard or plant processes 25 percent or more of the lumber it receives and disposes of as lumber. Drying is now included as one of the activities classified as processing.

(d) Under the old orders sawmills located in areas not serviced by retail lumber yards were permitted to make retail sales without obtaining permission from the War Production Board. Under the orders as they are now written permission must be obtained from the War Production Board. Permission can be obtained for quarterly periods.

(e) The term "War Agency" has been defined in the order to denote what agencies may use the special certification provided for those agencies.

(f) Certificates to be used on purchases where the Central Procurement Agency has issued a purchase allocation have been revised. These certificates must now show the OPA Purchase Allocation Number. Certificates required to get lumber for use on War Agency contracts and purchase orders are also revised. These certificates must now show the particular contract or purchase order numbers, the name of the War Agency which issued the contract or purchase order, and the agency, contractor, or sub-contractor who will use the lumber.

(g) Direction 2 to Orders M-361 and M-364 has been revoked. The procedures provided for in those directions have been incorporated into the orders (see paragraphs (c) (5), (d) (3), and (e) (3).

(h) The orders have been rewritten and clarified to make them easier to interpret and to avoid misunderstandings which have arisen in the past. The term "sawmill stock" is used for the purpose of identifying the lumber belonging to a producer which cannot be moved without some kind of permission under paragraph (c) of the order, and paragraph (e) has been added to explain in detail the use of Form WPB 2720.

2. Q. How do the amendments to Order M-361 and M-364 affect certificates which have been issued under paragraphs (b) (1) and (b) (2) of the orders prior to their amendment?—A. After March 27, no lumber can be shipped on certificates based on paragraphs (b) (1) and (b) (2) of the old orders and new certificates as required by paragraphs (c) (1) and (c) (2) of the amended orders will have to be obtained from the purchaser or user. In order not to cause any delay in the shipment of lumber the information required on the certificates may be telegraphed to the producer," and this is sufficient authority for him to deliver the lumber. To keep a proper record, the purchaser must either sign his file copy of the telegram by a duly authorized official or promptly confirm the wire with a regular written certification.

3. Q. Except for Direction 2, are all other directions to Orders M-361 and M-364 still in effect?—A. All directions except Direction 2 to Orders M-361 and M-364 are still in effect. The references in the directions to the particular paragraphs of the orders are inaccurate, but amended versions of these directions are now being issued. For instance, the first clause of Direction 1 to Order M-361 refers to paragraph (d) of the order. The direction should refer to paragraph (g) instead of (d).

4. Q. Under the definitions of restricted southern yellow pine lumber and restricted hardwood lumber is lumber worked to standard patterns such as flooring, car-siding, or beaded ceiling considered restricted lumber?—A. Yes. Lumber worked to any pattern for which standard dimensions are given in any lumber grading rule book is considered lumber under the orders the same as boards, dimensions, planks, and timbers. A producer may manufacture these patterns without prior permission of the War Production Board, but must get permission to make delivery as provided for in paragraph (c) of the orders.

5. Q. Under the definitions of restricted southern yellow pine lumber and restricted hardwood lumber is lumber worked to special patterns, such as interior trim, cut stock for sash and doors, box shook, or special patterns of siding made from restricted lumber considered restricted lumber?—A. No. Lumber worked to any SPECIAL pattern or to any item other than standard sizes, and patterns is considered a fabricated product under these orders. A producer cannot use his sawmill stock to manufacture special patterns or other fabricated products without first obtaining permission to do so under paragraph (c) of the orders. After permission has been granted by the War Production Board for a producer to use his sawmill stock for these purposes, no further permission is required from the War Production Board for the producer to sell and deliver the special items. The procedure that must be followed in obtaining permission to use sawmill stock for these purposes is set forth in paragraph (c) (4) of the orders.

6. Q. Under the definitions of restricted southern yellow pine lumber and hardwood lumber is molding, including stock and special patterns, considered restricted lumber?—A. No. All molding including stock and special patterns are regarded as fabricated products and permission to use "sawmill stock" for the manufacture of these items must be had as in the case of lumber worked to special pattern.

7. Q. Under the definitions of restricted southern yellow pine lumber and restricted hardwood lumber, are blanks cut to size for the manufacture of wooden products (dimension stock and squares) for such items as handles, dowels, or other wood-turning uses, considered restricted lumber?—A. No. Blanks cut to size for wooden products, including dimension stock and squares are not restricted lumber but are fabricated products. Permission for a producer to use his sawmill stock must be obtained in the same way as in the case of lumber worked to special patterns. Slabs and off-fall of sizes excepted under the terms of paragraph (b) (1) may be used to make these items without permission of the War Production Board but such slabs and off-fall are not to be produced for the purpose of evading the orders.

8. Q. Under the definitions of restricted southern yellow pine lumber and restricted hardwood lumber are hewn wooden items including firewood and posts considered restricted lumber?—A. No. Hewn wooden items are not lumber and their manufacture or delivery is not restricted by these orders unless they are made from restricted lumber.

9. Q. Are such items as sawdust, shavings, chips, and ground wood products considered lumber?—A. No. Sawdust, shavings, chips, etc., are not lumber and may be sold or delivered without regard to these orders. If any of these items are made from restricted lumber permission to use the lumber for that purpose must be obtained from the War Production Board.

10. Q. Are poles and piling considered restricted lumber? A. If the poles and pilings are made from logs which have not been sawed lengthwise and are in their natural round shape they are not considered sawed lumber and may be sold or delivered without regard to the orders.

11. Q. Under the definitions of restricted southern yellow pine lumber and restricted hardwood lumber is hardwood flooring considered restricted lumber?—A. Yes. Under Order M-364 hardwood flooring is restricted lumber. Hardwood flooring in the hands of a producer is considered sawmill stock and can only be sold, shipped, and delivered, or used by the producer only after permission to do so has been obtained under paragraph (c) of the orders.

12. Q. A sawmill cuts an average of 500 feet of southern yellow pine and 300 feet of oak per day. It also cuts 4500 feet of gum lumber. Is the output of this mill controlled under the orders?—A. Yes, since it produces an average of more than 5,000 feet of all species of lumber per day. The southern yellow pine and oak are restricted species and therefore can only be delivered after permission has been obtained from the War Production Board under paragraph (c) of the orders. The gum lumber is not restricted and may be sold without authorization.

13. Q. How can a sawmill which produces as little as 500 board feet of lumber per day of the restricted species sell this small amount of lumber under the restrictions of the orders?—A. Any sawmill which produces very small quantities of restricted lumber and has difficulty in locating consumers who either have permission to use certificates on their orders or have Form 2720 approvals can sell this small output of lumber to another producer. Under paragraph (c) (4) of the orders you will note that sawmill stock can be exchanged between producers freely without prior authorization. Of course this means that it can only be sold to another producer whose output is controlled under the order and it cannot be sold to a sawmill or concentration yard whose stock is not controlled. Application might also be made to the War Production Board for authority to sell this amount of lumber at retail and/or essential uses in the local area. This application would be made on Form 2720 under paragraph (e) (4) of the orders.

14. Q. What is meant by "produces * * * over 5,000 feet, board measure, of any one or more species of lumber * * * per average day of eight hours of continuous operation?"—A. There are two tests that must be used in determining whether you are a "producer". (1) If you produced 5,000 board feet of lumber a day during the period from June 3, 1943 to December 3, 1943 you are a "producer" or (2) if you "currently" produce over 5,000 feet of lumber per day you are a "producer". To determine a sawmill's current production on an average eight-hour day it is necessary to take the total production of the mill including all sizes and grades of all species of lumber which the mill cuts for a given period. The number of days which the mill operated during that period should then be determined. If the mill ran more or less than eight hours in any day in the period take the total number of hours that the mill operated in the given period and divide by 8 to get the number of eight-hour days of continuous operation and then divide the total quantity of lumber produced by the number of eight-hour days of continuous operation and you will have the average daily production.

15. Q What is meant by "produces currently?"—A. "Currently" means the most recent period of operation of a mill for which production figures are available. However, this period must be long enough (not less than 64 hours of operation) to exclude temporary fluctuation in production caused by weather, break-downs, or other short-term factors affecting production. Do not compute the number of hours spent in falling timbers, logging, and skidding. Only the hours spent in milling operation are to be used in computing production.

16. Q. What is meant by "an area where restricted * * * lumber is produced?"—A. Concentration yards and plants engaged in drying, sawing, edging, planing, and other forms of processing lumber generally serve the needs of several sawmills and are located in an area where timber is felled and logs are cut into lumber. This area is the production area or the area where the lumber is produced. The function of concentration yards and plants engaged in processing lumber are distinguished from the distribution yards which generally are located near the ultimate consumer of the lumber.

17. Q. A concentration yard located in a producing area receives lumber from mills producing less than 5,000 feet per day, and processes 25 percent or more of this lumber before selling it. The concentration yard handles only 4,000 feet per day. Is it a producer?—A. Yes. The exemption for sawmills producing less than 5,000 feet per day applies only to sawmills and not to concentration yards. If a yard is both a mill and a concentration yard located in a producing area and it processes more than 25 percent of the lumber it receives it is a producer.

18. Q. Suppose a sawmill produces an average of 2,000 feet per day and buys from other sawmills in the area an average of 1,000 feet of restricted lumber per day, what part of its lumber would be restricted?—A. You will note that this mill processes more than 25% of the lumber it handles and since it buys restricted lumber from other sawmills it is also a concentration yard so all of the lumber it handles of the restricted species would be restricted lumber.

19. Q. If a plant processes logs or lumber to standard lumber specifications for other persons, but does not buy or sell, or ever takes title to the logs or lumber which it processes, what is the status of this plant under the orders?—A. Any plant located in a producing area which processes logs or lumber for other persons is a producer and all lumber passing through that mill becomes restricted lumber. If the lumber which this mill processes belongs to a producer it may be returned to the producer since lumber can be exchanged freely between producers under paragraph (c) (4) of the orders. A retail yard located in a producing area may take lumber it has been authorized to receive to a mill and have it processed and get it back without further authorization from the War Production Board However, if the retail yard has not received a prior authorization to receive the lumber (since it may have come from a mill whose output is not restricted) and it takes the lumber to a mill who is a producer it cannot get the lumber back from that mill without a prior authorization from the War Production Board even though it retains title to the lumber. For example: a mill engaged in custom milling may not receive restricted species of lumber from a sawmill cutting less than 5,000 feet per day, process the lumber, and deliver it to a distributor or user without first securing permission under paragraph (c) to make delivery, even though the distributor or user may have previously purchased the lumber from a small sawmill and may hold title to the lumber before the processor received it.

20. Q. Is a plant, or yard located in a producing area, a "producer" if it buys rough green lumber of the restricted species from sawmills, dries it, sorts and grades it, and then sells the lumber in the rough without planing or otherwise working it?—A. Yes. A plant or yard located in a producing area which handles any amount of restricted lumber and dries 25 percent or more of the lumber it receives and sells or otherwise disposes of lumber without fabricating it into other products is a producer. Drying means air drying or kiln drying, either partial or complete.

21. Q. Before the orders were recently amended a sawmill located in an area not serviced by retail yards was permitted to make sales for local needs without obtaining permission from the War Production Board. Under the amended orders has there been any change?—A. Yes. If a sawmill or other producer, whether in an area served by retail yards or not, has been supplying local retail needs, the producer may apply on Form WPB 2720 for permission to sell a certain quantity of lumber at retail. The application should be made out from the standpoint of retail sales only, supplying information on past and future requirements for such sales, and indicating ratings and intended uses of lumber for these sales. The producer will be given authorization for such sales just as though he were a retail yard serving the same demands in the same area, and he may transfer lumber from his sawmill stock for such sales up to the amount authorized. See paragraph (c) (4) of the orders.

22. Q. Under what circumstances may the provisions of paragraph (c) (1) be used?—A. Paragraph (c) (1) may be used to obtain deliveries of lumber for projects requiring lumber for which the Central Procuring Agency has issued a purchase allocation.

23. Q. If a purchase allocation has been issued to a producer and a copy has been sent to the receiver of the lumber is a certification required?—A. No. The certification provided for in paragraph (d) (1) which is required by paragraph (c) (1) of the order can only be used by a supplier other than a producer who is getting lumber from a producer for delivery to someone else on a CPA allocation. In this case there is no supplier other than the producer and the lumber may be delivered on the basis of the purchase allocation issued to the producer.

24. Q. If the purchase allocation has been issued to a supplier who is not a producer and a copy of the purchase allocation has been sent to the ultimate receiver of the lumber is a certification required?—A. If the supplier who may be either a wholesaler, retailer, or an agent intends to use the purchase allocation to obtain lumber from a producer for delivery to someone other than himself he must use the certification prescribed in paragraph (d) (1) of the order. If the supplier is going to deliver the lumber from his own inventory no certification is required but the supplier cannot use a certaification to get lumber to replace lumber in his inventory.

25. Q. If the purchase allocation was issued to a retailer and the retailer issued a certification to a supplier who is not a producer can the supplier extend or issue a new certification on the basis of the certification which he received from the retailer?—A. No. The supplier may ship lumber to the retailer on the basis of the certification which he has received from the retailer but he may not extend that certification for the purpose of replacing lumber in his inventory. The supplier cannot originate a new certificate as he was not the person who received the purchase allocation. If the supplier does not wish to deplete his inventory he should have the retailer address his purchase order to a producer and affix the (d) (1) certification to that purchase order.

26. Q. Under what circumstances may the provisions of paragraph (c) (2) be used?—A. The provisions of paragraph (c) (2) should be used only for deliveries of lumber which will be used for the purposes listed in that paragraph on particular war agency contracts or purchase orders. Any "war agency" named in paragraph (b) (4) may obtain lumber for its own use under these provisions. Any contractor or sub-contractor of such an agency who has a contract, subcontract or purchase order entered into or issued by a "war agency", and who needs lumber for any of the purposes listed in the paragraph in order to fulfill his contract or purchase order, may obtain the lumber needed under the provisions of the paragraph.

In obtaining lumber under paragraph (c) (2), the certification provided in paragraph (d) (2) must be used.

No contractor or subcontractor may use the "war agency" certification to obtain lumber for replacement in inventory of lumber used on "war agency" orders or contracts, or for use on anticipated orders or contracts. No contractor shall use this certification to obtain more lumber than is actually required for use on the "war agency" contracts or orders.

No person other than a "war agency" or a contractor or subcontractor of a "war agency" may originate a "war agency" certification as provided under paragraph (c) (2). A lumber dealer, wholesaler, and agent may obtain lumber under the provisions of paragraph (c) (2) and use the certificate provided for in paragraph (d) (2) if he has first received a certified order from a "war agency", or a contractor or subcontractor of a "war agency." Furthermore, all of the lumber received by a dealer on any order on which he placed the certification indicated in paragraph (d) (2) must be delivered only to the "war agency" or contractor indicated in such certification. If for any reason any lumber delivered on this "war agency" certification cannot be used in accordance with the purpose stated in the certification, the person who has received the lumber must apply on Form WPB 2720 for permission to use the lumber for any other purpose.

27. Q. Is the Federal Housing Administration a "war agency" in contracting for war housing? What is meant by "war agency"?—A. No. Federal Housing Administration is not a "war agency." Only those agencies specifically listed in paragraph (b) (4) are war agencies and lumber may be secured on a "war agency" certification provided for in paragraph (d) (2) only for contracts and purchase orders of those listed agencies and agencies buying lumber for Lend-Lease requirements. It should be noted that the definition of "war agency" does not include all of the agencies named in paragraph (b) (1) and (b) (2) of § 944.1 of Priorities Regulation 1.

28. Q. Are the agencies specifically named in paragraph (b) (4) of the orders the only agencies that can use the certification provided for such agencies?—A. No. Although other agencies of the government not specifically mentioned in paragraph (b) (4) are not for all purposes war agencies. Some may be war agencies for the purpose of "placing orders for material or equipment to be delivered to or for the account of" any country other than the United States under the Act of March 11, 1941, entitled "An Act to promote the defense of the United States" (Lend-Lease Act). For instance when the Department of Agriculture places an order for lumber to ship food to Russia under the Lend-Lease Act it would be a "war agency" for that purpose, but if it placed an order for lumber for shipping a commodity which was to be used by the United States and not for lend-lease purposes it would not be a "war agency."

29. Q. In the certificate indicated in paragraph (d) (2) of the orders, what is meant by "prime contract (or purchase order) number"?—A. "Prime contract (or purchase order) number" means the contract or purchase order number issued by a war agency to identify the contract between the war agency and the contractor. If the lumber is required by a subcontractor, he should ascertain the correct number of the original or prime contract or order issued to his prime contractor, and should enter that number. If lumber is ordered on this certification for more than one prime contract or purchase order, the numbers of all the contracts or orders on which the lumber will be used must be inserted or attached.

30. Q. What should be inserted in the space "_____"?—A. Give in the space for "War Agency" the name of the war agency who entered into the contract, or issued the purchase order, indicated by number in the space above.

31. Q. What should be inserted in the space "_____

(War Agency, Contractor, or Subcon-

_____"?—A. Give in this space the name of the war agency, contractor, or subcontractor who is placing an order for lumber, and who will receive and use the lumber for the prime contract or order indicated in the certification.

32. Q. What is the procedure for making application to get restricted lumber under these orders?—A. Where a person is not authorized to use one of the forms of certifications provided for in the orders or in directions issued pursuant to the orders and he wants to obtain lumber from a producer he should use form WPB 2720 to obtain authority and if the application on this form is approved delivery may be made under paragraph (c) (5) of the order. The procedure in using this form is set forth in paragraph (c) of the order.

33. Q. Must a person who needs restricted lumber always have placed an order for the lumber before he makes an application?—A. Yes. Any person making application on form WPB 2720 must first get in touch with a supplier and find out whether the supplier can fill the order if and when delivery is authorized. It is desirable but not necessary for the person to place an order with the supplier and have it accepted before filing application on form WPB 2720. The order may be placed with any supplier who is either a producer, a wholesaler or an agent. The name and address of the supplier who has accepted the order, whether he is a producer or a wholesaler, must be indicated on the form in the space provided for a "producer".

34. Q. May a purchaser of restricted lumber make application for more than one order on the same WPB 2720 form?—A. Yes, provided that the same supplier will deliver all of the lumber applied for. If deliveries are to be made by more than one supplier, separate applications must be made for each supplier.

35. Q. Who should make the application required on form WPB 2720?—A. The person who needs the lumber should in every instance make out the application on form WPB 2720. Intervening sellers such as wholesalers or other lumber dealers who buy lumber for direct delivery to other persons and not for resale from their yards should not make the application. Lumber dealers who need lumber for resale or inventory should also apply on form WPB 2720. Intervening persons such as wholesalers and lumber dealers may assist a person needing the lumber in making out his form and sending it to the War Production Board for approval.

36. Q. Should preference ratings be applied or extended for deliveries of restricted lumber under these orders?—A. Yes. Preference ratings should be applied or extended for restricted lumber just as for any other material.

37. Q. What effect do preference ratings have on orders which carry a certification or which are authorized on form WPB 2720?—A. Preference ratings have the same effect on these orders that they would have on any other orders on which ratings are used.

It should be noted that no order for restricted lumber may be delivered by producer prescribed in Direction 2 to Orders M–361 and M–364 if the certificate was placed on the purchase order prior to the revocation of either one of those directions?—A. Yes. Direction 2 has been incorporated into Orders M–361 and M–364 and the certificate now prescribed in the orders is the same as the one prescribed in what was formerly Direction 2. Orders placed after the date of the revocation of the direction should bear certificates prescribed in the orders and should not refer to the direction.

these orders?—A. Where a person is not authorized to use one of the forms of certifications provided for in the orders or in directions issued pursuant to the orders and he wants to obtain lumber from a producer he should use form WPB 2720 to obtain authority and if the application on this form is approved delivery may be made under paragraph (c) (5) of the order. The procedure in using this form is set forth in paragraph (e) of the order.

33. Q. Must a person who needs restricted lumber always have placed an order for the lumber before he makes an application?—A. Yes. Any person making application on form WPB 2720 must first get in touch with a supplier and find out whether the supplier can fill the order if and when delivery is authorized. It is desirable but not necessary for the person to place an order with the supplier and have it accepted before filing application on form WPB 2720. The order may be placed with any supplier who is either a producer, a wholesaler or an agent. The name and address of the supplier who has accepted the order, whether he is a producer or a wholesaler, must be indicated on the form in the space provided for a "producer".

34. Q. May a purchaser of restricted lumber make application for more than one order on the same WPB 2720 form?—A. Yes, provided that the same supplier will deliver all of the lumber applied for. If deliveries are to be made by more than one supplier, separate applications must be made for each supplier.

35. Q. Who should make the application required on form WPB 2720?—A. The person who needs the lumber should in every instance make out the application on form WPB 2720. Intervening sellers such as wholesalers or other lumber dealers who buy lumber for direct delivery to other persons and not for resale from their yards should not make the application. Lumber dealers who need lumber for resale or inventory should also apply on form WPB 2720. Intervening persons such as wholesalers and lumber dealers may assist a person needing the lumber in making out his form and sending it to the War Production Board for approval.

36. Q. Should preference ratings be applied or extended for deliveries of restricted lumber under these orders?—A. Yes. Preference ratings should be applied or extended for restricted lumber just as for any other material.

37. Q. What effect do preference ratings have on orders which carry a certification or which are authorized on form WPB 2720?—A. Preference ratings have the same effect on these orders that they would have on any other orders on which ratings are used.

It should be noted that no order for restricted lumber may be delivered by producers unless delivery of the order has been permitted under the provisions of paragraph (c). However, a producer may receive more orders which he is permitted to deliver than he can fill. In that case, he shall deliver the orders he received in accordance with the preference ratings applied or extended on them. Therefore, a preference rating may be necessary to get delivery of an order, even though delivery of the order is permitted under paragraph (c).

Preference ratings may also be necessary to secure acceptance of orders by suppliers before permission for delivery can be applied for on form WPB 2720.

It should be noted that no restricted deliveries may be made solely on the basis of a preference rating, however high the rating may be. All such deliveries require specific permission under paragraph (c) in addition to a rating.

38. Q. Can a lumber producer ship lumber on the purchase order bearing a certificate prescribed in Direction 2 to Orders M-361 and M-364 if the certificate was placed on the purchase order prior to the revocation of either one of those directions?—A. Yes. Direction 2 has been incorporated into Orders M-361 and M-364 and the certificate now prescribed in the orders is the same as the one prescribed in what was formerly Direction 2. Orders placed after the date of the revocation of the direction should bear certificates prescribed in the orders and should not refer to the direction.

PART 1418—TERRITORIES AND POSSESSIONS

MEATS, POULTRY AND CERTAIN DAIRY PRODUCTS IN TERRITORY OF HAWAII

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Maximum Price Regulation No. 373 is amended in the following respects:

1. Section 19a is amended in the following respects:

a. The caption to section 19a is amended to read as follows:

SEC. 19a. Sales at retail of Island meats, poultry, and certain dairy products.

b. Paragraph (d) is revoked.

c. Paragraph (h) is amended to read as follows:

(h) The maximum prices of wholesale cuts of Island meats sold by retailers shall be the same as those prescribed for wholesalers in section 19 of this regulation. It is the purposes of this provision to enable the retailer to compute his maximum prices on those carcasses or portions of carcasses from which are derived the retail cuts.

d. Tables A through J inclusive are revoked, and Tables K, L, M, N, O, P, Q, and R are redesignated A, B, C, D, E, F, G, and H, respectively.

2. Section 19b is added to read as follows:

SEC. 19b. Ceiling prices for sales at retail of mainland meats, meat products, poultry, eggs and certain dairy products—(a) What is covered by this section. Ceiling prices for sales at retail of all mainland meats, meat products, poultry, eggs and certain dairy products are fixed in paragraph (h). The only mainland beef, veal, pork, lamb and mutton cuts and variety meats which you may sell or offer to sell at retail are those described in paragraph (e). Certain additional charges are permitted in paragraph (f) to cover transportation differentials existing in certain localities of the outer Islands. These localities are:

(1) "Zone 2 on the Island of Hawaii", which comprises the districts of North Hilo, Hamakua and Kau, as defined by section 7620 of Revised Laws of Hawaii, 1935.

(2) "Zone 3 on the Island of Hawaii", which comprises the districts of North Kahala, South Kahala, North Kona and South Kona, as defined by section 7620 of Revised Laws of Hawaii, 1935.

(3) "Zone 2 on the island of Maui", which comprises the districts of Hana and that portion of the district of Makawao lying south of the south boundary of ahupuaa Kamaole, as defined by section 7620 of Revised Laws of Hawaii, 1935.

(b) What beef, veal, pork, lamb and mutton cuts or variety meats or edible by-products you may sell. On and after effective date of this section, the only beef, veal, pork, lamb, and mutton items you may sell are:

(1) Those cuts—fresh, frozen, cured or smoked—which are described and given dollar-and-cents ceiling prices under this section.

(2) Those variety meats and edible by-products which are described and given dollar-and-cents ceiling prices under this section.

(3) Fresh and smoked sausage and ready-to-eat items which are given dollar-and-cents ceiling prices or margins under this section.

(c) Sales to eating places. Your ceiling prices for sales to hotels, restaurants, institutions and other eating places selling or furnishing meals are ceiling prices fixed by section 19 of this regulation (Maximum Slaughterers' and Wholesalers' Prices for Mainland Meat Products and Certain Mainland Dairy Products, and Maximum Prices for Island Meats, Hogs, Rabbits, Poultry and Eggs Sold by Slaughterers, Wholesalers and Producers). Nevertheless, you may during any month use the ceiling prices fixed by this section in selling to eating places if 80% or more of your total dollar sales of the items covered by this section during the previous calendar month were retail sales to consumers; that is, persons who buy these items to be eaten by themselves or their families off your premises.

(d) Grades. Mainland beef, veal, lamb and mutton must be graded as required under Maximum Price Regulation No. 169 (Beef and Veal Carcasses and Wholesale Cuts), Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 280 (Lamb and Mutton Carcasses and Cuts at Wholesale and Retail) and Office of Economic Stabilization Regulation No. 1 (Grading and Grade Labeling of Meats).

Choice	or	AA
Good	or	A
Commercial	or	B

Under the requirements of Office of Economic Stabilization Regulation No. 1, grade marks placed on mainland beef, veal, lamb and mutton carcasses and wholesale cuts in conformance with that regulation may not be removed before selling.

Mainland poultry must be classified by grades as set forth in Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 269 (Poultry). The grades are:

(e) Description of the mainland retail beef, veal, pork, lamb and mutton cuts you may make. This paragraph describes the different retail cuts of beef, veal, pork, lamb and mutton which you may sell and how they are to be cut. If you have on hand a carcass, side, quarter or combination cut of mainland beef, veal, pork, lamb or mutton you must first cut it into the standard wholesale cuts set forth in section 19 of this regulation (Maximum Slaughterers' and Wholesalers' Prices for Mainland Meat Products and Certain Mainland Dairy Products, and Maximum Prices for Island Meats, Hogs, Rabbits, Poultry and Eggs Sold by Slaughterers, Wholesalers and Producers), before you make the retail cuts.

(b) Meltons. The maximum price per yard for manipulated all wool meltons, 31–34 ozs., shall be the aggregate of (1) the actual cost per yard of raw materials, but in no case higher than $0.975, and (2) $0.875 per yard.

[Paragraph (b) amended by Am. 11, 8 F.R. 4733, effective 4–15–43]

(c) Comparable fabrics. (1) Except as provided in paragraph (i) of this § 1410.102, the maximum price for a woolen or worsted apparel fabric comparable to a fabric sold by the manufacturer during the applicable base period shall be the maximum price for such fabric determined in accordance with paragraph (a) of this § 1410.102, increased or decreased by the difference in the cost of raw materials used therein: Provided, That raw material costs for both the comparable fabric and the fabric to which it is compared shall be calculated at the highest cost which the manufacturer would have incurred for such raw material if purchased from his customary source of supply for delivery during March 1942.

(2) One fabric shall be deemed "comparable" to another fabric if the first has the same weave as the second, contains substantially the same total number of ends and picks per finished inch, substantially the same yarn sizes, weight per yard, width and finish, and belongs to the same classification,[4] but is manufactured from different blends of raw material: Provided, That one fabric shall not be deemed "comparable" to another fabric if the first differs from the second in respect to any one or more of the following elements of construction in excess of the amount of variance allowed:

Elements of construction:	Amount of variance allowed, percent
The sum of ends and picks per finished inch	10
Weight per finished yard	10
Yarn sizes	10
Finished width	4

[Paragraph (c) amended by Am. 4, 7 F.R. 6973, effective 9–8–42]

(d) New woolen or worsted apparel fabrics. (1) The maximum price for a woolen or worsted apparel fabric for which a maximum price cannot be determined pursuant to paragraphs (a), (b), (c) or (i) of this § 1410.102 shall be computed by multiplying the sum of (i) the cost of the raw materials used in the fabric and (ii) the manufacturing cost thereof, by the 1941 ratio of the manufacturer's weighted average selling price to his weighted average manufacturing cost of all woolen or worsted apparel fabrics, but excluding, in computing such ratio, pre-shrunk fabrics sold to retail stores in lengths of 30 yards or less at a price higher than the manufacturer's prevailing price for sales of such fabrics to jobbers or cutters.

(2) For the purposes of this paragraph (d):

(i) The cost of raw materials and the manufacturing cost shall not exceed such costs, determined in accordance with the customary accounting practice of the manufacturer, which the manufacturer would have incurred if the raw materials had been purchased from his customary source of supply for delivery during March 1942 and the fabric manufactured during such month;

(ii) The weighted average selling price shall be determined by dividing the total amount received by the manufacturer during 1941 from the sale of woolen and worsted apparel fabrics by the total number of yards thereof sold during 1941, excluding, in making such determination, the amount received from and the yardage of pre-shrunk fabrics sold to retail stores in lengths of 30 yards or less at a price higher than the manufacturer's prevailing price for sales of such fabrics to jobbers or cutters;

(iii) The weighted average manufacturing cost shall be determined by dividing the total manufacturing costs, including the cost of raw materials, of all woolen or worsted apparel fabrics manufactured during 1941 by the total number of yards thereof manufactured during 1941, excluding, in making such determination, the manufacturing costs and the yardage of pre-shrunk fabrics sold to retail stores in lengths of 30 yards or less at a price higher than the manufacturer's prevailing price for sales of such fabrics to jobbers or cutters.

[Paragraph (d) amended by Am. 4, 7 F.R. 6973, effective 9–8–42 and Am. 12, 8 F.R. 8505, effective 6–23–43]

(e) Premiums permitted in certain cases. Any manufacturer of woolen or worsted apparel fabrics who, during the period between January 1, 1940 and June 22, 1942, neither produced nor sold any blended fabric composed of mixtures of wool and other fibers, shall be permitted to increase his maximum prices for such fabric, determined in accordance with paragraphs (c) and (d) of this section, by an amount equal to 10% of the cost of the raw materials from which such fabric is manufactured: Provided, That such amount may be added only (1) where at least 25% by weight of the new or comparable fabric is composed of fibers other than wool, (2) on sales or contracts of sale entered into prior to January 3, 1943 and (3) if it is separately shown on an invoice or similar document delivered to the purchaser.

(f) Customary discounts, trade practices, and transportation costs. (1) Every manufacturer of woolen or worsted apparel fabrics shall continue his customary terms of sale, allowances, discounts and other price differentials to different purchasers and different classes of purchasers: Provided, That in no case need the terms of sale be more favorable to the purchaser than a discount of 1% for payment within ten days of the date of invoice, the gross amount payable within sixty days of such date.

[Subparagraph (1) amended by Am. 4, 7 F.R. 6973, effective 9–8–42]

(2) No manufacturer shall require any purchaser, and no purchaser shall be permitted, to pay a larger proportion of transportation costs incurred in the delivery of woolen or worsted apparel fabrics, than the manufacturer required purchasers of the same class to pay during the applicable base period on sales of woolen or worsted apparel fabrics of the same classification.

[4] As set forth in § 1410.102 (a).

(3) Every manufacturer making sales or deliveries of woolen or worsted apparel fabrics shall adjust his maximum prices to the closest 2½ cents per yard, except in the case of a fabric for which the maximum price calculated under the other provisions of this § 1410.102 is less than $1.00 per yard, in which case he shall adjust his maximum price to the closest ½ cent per yard. Such adjustments shall be made after all other calculations required by this § 1410.102 have been made.

[Subparagraph (3) amended by Am. 4, 7 F.R. 6973, effective 9-8-42; Am. 5, 7 F.R. 7454, effective 9-25-42; and Am. 15, effective 4-19-44]

(g) Invoice requirements. On and after June 22, 1942, every manufacturer making sales of woolen or worsted apparel fabrics shall, with respect to each such sale, deliver to the purchaser an invoice or similar document setting forth, in addition to the terms thereof: (1) the selling price, and (2) the maximum price determined in accordance with this section.

(h) Decorations. In any case where a manufacturer adds decorations to a fabric the maximum price for which is determined pursuant to paragraphs (a), (c), (d) or (i) of this § 1410.102, the maximum price for such fabric shall be increased or decreased by the difference between the actual cost of the decorations added and the cost of the yarn replaced: Provided, That in computing the maximum price for a comparable, new or similar fabric pursuant to paragraphs (c), (d) or (i) of this § 1410.102, respectively, the cost of the decorations added to such fabric shall not be included in the cost of the raw materials used therein: Provided further, That in the case of sales of woolen or worsted apparel fabrics to which decorations have been added, the invoice or similar document required by paragraph (g) of this § 1410.102 shall also set forth a statement of the amount by which the maximum price for the fabric was increased or decreased by the addition of the decorations.

(i) Similar fabrics. (1) The maximum price for a woolen or worsted apparel fabric similar to a fabric sold by the manufacturer during the applicable base period shall be the maximum price for such fabric determined in accordance with paragraph (a) of this § 1410.102, increased or decreased by (i) the difference in the cost of the raw materials used therein and (ii) by the difference in the manufacturing cost thereof: Provided, That the raw material and manufacturing costs for both the fabric priced under this paragraph (i) and the fabric to which it is similar shall be calculated at the highest costs which the manufacturer would have incurred if the OPA [illegible] factured during such month: Provided further, That in any case in which the maximum price for a fabric which was not sold by the manufacturer during a base period can be determined pursuant to either this paragraph (i) or paragraph (c) of this § 1410.102, the maximum price therefor shall be determined in accordance with that paragraph which results in the lower maximum price.

(2) One fabric shall be deemed "similar" to another fabric if the first is used for the same purpose as, and is regarded as a satisfactory substitute for, the second, affords fairly equivalent serviceability, has approximately the same "handle," finish and appearance, and belongs to the same classification: [illegible] Provided, That one fabric in which the blend contains other than woolen fibers shall not be deemed "similar" to a fabric in which the blend is made entirely of woolen fibers: Provided further, That one fabric shall not be deemed "similar" to another fabric if the first differs from the second in respect to any one or more of the following elements of construction in excess of the amount of variance allowed:

Elements of construction:	Amount of variance allowed, percent
Ends per finished inch	17⅓
Picks per finished inch	17⅓
Weight per finished yard	12
Yarn sizes	17⅓
Finished width	4
Cost of raw materials used in the blend	20

[Paragraphs (h) and (i) added by Am. 4, 7 F.R. 6973, effective 9-8-42]

§ 1410.102a Maximum prices for manufacturer's special sales to retail stores. The term "special sales to retail stores" means sales of pre-shrunk woolen or worsted apparel fabrics, ready for the needle, in lengths of 30 yards or less, to retail stores.

(a) The maximum price for a manufacturer's special sales to retail stores shall be the sum of:

(1) The manufacturer's maximum price for sales of the particular fabric to jobbers or cutters, determined pursuant to § 1410.102; plus

The percentage figure representing the amount by which the manufacturer's average selling price for special sales to retail stores exceeded his average selling price for other sales during the calendar year 1941 shall be determined with reference only to those woolen or worsted apparel fabrics of which the manufacturer, during that period, made special sales to retail stores as well as sales to jobbers or cutters, and shall be computed in the following manner:

STEP 1: Segregate from total 1941 sales of woolen and worsted apparel fabrics, all sales of those styles of fabrics with respect to which special sales to retail stores as well as sales to jobbers or cutters were made during the calendar year 1941.

STEP 2: Determine the total amount received for each individual style of fabric from special sales to retail stores during the calendar year 1941 and divide by the number of yards of such style sold in special sales to retail stores during that period.

STEP 3: Add together the results obtained by applying Step 2 to each individual style and divide by the total number of individual styles sold.

STEP 4: Determine the total amount received for each individual fabric from sales other than special sales to retail stores during the calendar year 1941 and divide by the total number of yards of such style sold in sales other than special sales to retail stores during that period.

STEP 5: Add together the results obtained by applying Step 4 to each individual style and divide by the total number of individual styles sold.

STEP 6: Subtract the result obtained in Step 5 from the result obtained in Step 3.

STEP 7: Divide the result obtained in Step 6 by the result obtained in Step 5.

[Paragraph (a) amended by Am. 13, 8 F.R. 9569, effective 7-10-43]

(b) Customary discounts, trade practices, and transportation costs. Every manufacturer making special sales to retail stores shall continue his customary terms of sale, allowances, discounts, and other price differentials to different purchasers and different classes of purchasers: Provided, That in no case need the terms of sale be more favorable to the purchaser than a discount of 1% for payment within ten days of the date of invoice, the gross amount payable within 60 days of such date.

(c) Invoice requirements. Every manufacturer making special sales to retail stores shall, with respect to each such sale, deliver to the purchaser an invoice or similar document setting forth, in addition to the terms thereof: (1) the selling price, and (2) the maximum price for such sale determined in accordance with this section.

§ 1410.103 Maximum prices for woolen and worsted apparel fabrics sold by jobbers—(a) Piece lots, less than piece lots and cut lengths. (1) Except as provided by paragraphs (b), (d), (f), (h) and (i) of this § 1410.103 and subparagraph (2) of this paragraph (a), the maximum price for a sale or delivery of a woolen or worsted apparel fabric by a jobber in piece lots, less than piece lots and cut lengths shall be the quotient of the sum

(3) Every manufacturer making sales or deliveries of woolen or worsted apparel fabrics shall adjust his maximum prices to the closest 2½ cents per yard, except in the case of a fabric for which the maximum price calculated under the other provisions of this § 1410.102 is less than $1.00 per yard, in which case he shall adjust his maximum price to the closest ½ cent per yard. Such adjustments shall be made after all other calculations required by this § 1410.102 have been made.

[Subparagraph (3) amended by Am. 4, 7 F.R. 6973, effective 9-8-42; Am. 5, 7 F.R. 7454, effective 9-26-42; and Am. 15, effective 4-19-44]

(g) Invoice requirements. On and after June 22, 1942, every manufacturer making sales of woolen or worsted apparel fabrics shall, with respect to each such sale, deliver to the purchaser an invoice or similar document setting forth, in addition to the terms thereof: (1) the selling price, and (2) the maximum price determined in accordance with this section.

(h) Decorations. In any case where a manufacturer adds decorations to a fabric the maximum price for which is determined pursuant to paragraphs (a), (c), (d) or (i) of this § 1410.102, the maximum price for such fabric shall be increased or decreased by the difference between the actual cost of the decorations added and the cost of the yarn replaced: Provided, That in computing the maximum price for a comparable, new or similar fabric pursuant to paragraphs (c), (d) or (i) of this § 1410.102, respectively, the cost of the decorations added to such fabric shall not be included in the cost of the raw materials used therein: Provided further, That in the case of sales of woolen or worsted apparel fabrics to which decorations have been added, the invoice or similar document required by paragraph (g) of this § 1410.102 shall also set forth a statement of the amount by which the maximum price for the fabric was increased or decreased by the addition of the decorations.

(i) Similar fabrics. (1) The maximum price for a woolen or worsted apparel fabric similar to a fabric sold by the manufacturer during the applicable base period shall be the maximum price for such fabric determined in accordance with paragraph (a) of this § 1410.102, increased or decreased by (i) the difference in the cost of the raw materials used therein and (ii) by the difference in the manufacturing cost thereof: Provided, That the raw material and manufacturing costs for both the fabric priced under this paragraph (i) and the fabric to which it is similar shall be calculated at the highest costs which the manufacturer would have incurred if the raw material had been purchased from his customary source of supply for delivery during March 1942, and the fabrics manufactured during such month: Provided further, That in any case in which the maximum price for a fabric which was not sold by the manufacturer during a base period can be determined pursuant to either this paragraph (i) or paragraph (c) of this § 1410.102, the maximum price therefor shall be determined in accordance with that paragraph which results in the lower maximum price.

(2) One fabric shall be deemed "similar" to another fabric if the first is used for the same purpose as, and is regarded as a satisfactory substitute for, the second, affords fairly equivalent serviceability, has approximately the same "handle," finish and appearance, and belongs to the same classification:[1] Provided, That one fabric in which the blend contains other than woolen fibers shall not be deemed "similar" to a fabric in which the blend is made entirely of woolen fibers: Provided further, That one fabric shall not be deemed "similar" to another fabric if the first differs from the second in respect to any one or more of the following elements of construction in excess of the amount of variance allowed:

Elements of construction:	Amount of variance allowed, percent

[Paragraphs (h) and (i) added by Am. 4, 7 F.R. 6973, effective 9-8-42]

§ 1410.102a Maximum prices for manufacturer's special sales to retail stores. The term "special sales to retail stores" means sales of pre-shrunk woolen or worsted apparel fabrics, ready for the needle, in lengths of 30 yards or less, to retail stores.

(a) The maximum price for a manufacturer's special sales to retail stores shall be the sum of:

(1) The manufacturer's maximum price for sales of the particular fabric to jobbers or cutters, determined pursuant to § 1410.102; plus

(2) The amount resulting from multiplying the maximum price for sales of the fabric to jobbers or cutters by the percentage figure representing the amount by which the manufacturer's average selling price for special sales to retail stores exceeded his average selling price for other sales during the calendar year 1941: Provided, That in no event shall the manufacturer's maximum price for special sales to retail stores exceed his maximum price for sales of the fabric to jobbers or cutters, determined pursuant to § 1410.102, divided by the division factor .85.

The percentage figure representing the amount by which the manufacturer's average selling price for special sales to retail stores exceeded his average selling price for other sales during the calendar year 1941 shall be determined with reference only to those woolen or worsted apparel fabrics of which the manufacturer, during that period, made special sales to retail stores as well as sales to jobbers or cutters, and shall be computed in the following manner:

STEP 1: Segregate from total 1941 sales of woolen and worsted apparel fabrics, all sales of those styles of fabrics with respect to which special sales to retail stores as well as sales to jobbers or cutters were made during the calendar year 1941.

STEP 2: Determine the total amount received for each individual style of fabric from special sales to retail stores during the calendar year 1941 and divide by the number of yards of such style sold in special sales to retail stores during that period.

STEP 3: Add together the results obtained by applying Step 2 to each individual style and divide by the total number of individual styles sold.

STEP 4: Determine the total amount received for each individual fabric from sales other than special sales to retail stores during the calendar year 1941 and divide by the total number of yards of such style sold in sales other than special sales to retail stores during that period.

STEP 5: Add together the results obtained by applying Step 4 to each individual style and divide by the total number of individual styles sold.

STEP 6: Subtract the result obtained in Step 5 from the result obtained in Step 3.

STEP 7: Divide the result obtained in Step 6 by the result obtained in Step 5.

[Paragraph (a) amended by Am. 13, 8 F.R. 9569, effective 7-10-43]

(b) Customary discounts, trade practices, and transportation costs. Every manufacturer making special sales to retail stores shall continue his customary terms of sale, allowances, discounts, and other price differentials to different purchasers and different classes of purchasers: Provided, That in no case need the terms of sale be more favorable to the purchaser than a discount of 1% for payment within ten days of the date of invoice, the gross amount payable within 60 days of such date.

(c) Invoice requirements. Every manufacturer making special sales to retail stores shall, with respect to each such sale, deliver to the purchaser an invoice or similar document setting forth, in addition to the terms thereof: (1) the selling price, and (2) the maximum price for such sale determined in accordance with this section.

[§ 1410.102a added by Am. 12, 8 F.R. 6505, effective 6-23-43]

§ 1410.103 Maximum prices for woolen and worsted apparel fabrics sold by jobbers—(a) Piece lots, less than piece lots and cut lengths. (1) Except as provided by paragraphs (b), (d), (f), (h) and (i) of this § 1410.103 and subparagraph (2) of this paragraph (a), the maximum price for a sale or delivery of a woolen or worsted apparel fabric by a jobber in piece lots, less than piece lots and cut lengths shall be the quotient of the sum of the fabric manufacturer's net invoice price (whether or not the purchaser has taken advantage of any term discounts offered, but in no case higher than the fabric manufacturer's maximum price), and the allowable infreight charges, divided by the applicable division factor set forth below. The allowable infreight charges are, in the case of a shipment direct to the jobber from the fabric manufacturer, the amount actually paid by the jobber for the transportation of the fabric from the fabric manufacturer's shipping point to the jobber's place of business or, in any other case, the freight charges actually paid by the purchaser from the fabric manufacturer for the transportation of the fabric from the fabric manufacturer's shipping point to such purchaser's place of business, plus the freight charges actually paid by the jobber for the transportation of the fabric from his supplier's shipping point to his place of business. The applicable division factors are:

(i) Men's wear fabrics sold in piece lots, 0.90.

(ii) Women's wear fabrics sold in piece lots, 0.875.

(iii) Men's and women's wear fabrics sold in less than piece lots to all persons except as set forth in subdivisions (iv), (v) and (vi) below, 0.85.

(iv) Men's and women's wear fabrics sold in less than piece lots to retail stores and to special order departments of manufacturers of apparel, 0.80.

(v) Men's and women's wear fabrics sold in less than piece lots to custom or merchant tailors, 0.60.

(vi) Men's and women's wear fabrics sold in cut lengths of 11 yards or less to custom or merchant tailors, and to special order departments of manufacturers of apparel and retail establishments, 0.56.

(vii) Necktie interlining fabrics sold in piece lots, less than piece lots and cut lengths, 0.80.

(2) Sales of sponged or shrunk full-pieces purchased by jobbers from manufacturers of apparel. The maximum price for a sale by a jobber of a full-piece purchased from a manufacturer of apparel who has sponged or shrunk the fabric shall be the price determined under subparagraph (1), above, plus the amount paid to the apparel manufacturer as the cost of sponging or shrinking the fabric but not to exceed the amount permitted by paragraph (e) (1) of this section. The maximum price per yard determined in the above manner, after adjustment in accordance with paragraph (f) (2) of this section, shall be multiplied by the original mill yardage of the piece to determine the permissible charge for the full-piece.

The invoice or similar document delivered by the jobber to the purchaser shall state, in addition to the information required by paragraph (g) of § 1410.103, the original mill yardage and the yardage after shrinking or sponging for each full-piece and the amount added for sponging or shrinking.

In order to be considered a "full-piece" for the purpose of this subparagraph (2), the fabric must have the original mill ends and mill marks or punches thereon at the time of delivery by the jobber.

[Paragraph (a) amended by Am. 15, effective 4-19-44]

(b) Mill ends, etc. (1) The maximum price for sales and deliveries of mill ends, close outs, seconds and irregular pieces by jobbers shall be the manufacturer's maximum price therefor, determined in accordance with Maximum Price Regulation No. 163;

(2) The maximum price for sales and deliveries of mill ends, close outs, seconds and irregular pieces by secondary jobbers shall be the quotient of the sum of (i) his supplier's net invoice price, whether or not the secondary jobber has taken advantage of any term discounts offered and (ii) the freight charges actually paid by the secondary jobber for the transportation of the fabric from his supplier's shipping point to his place of business, divided by the applicable division factor set forth below:

(a) Men's and women's wear fabrics sold in less than piece lots to manufacturers of apparel, $0.85.

(b) Men's and women's wear fabrics sold in less than piece lots to retail stores and to special order departments of manufacturers of apparel, $0.80.

(c) Men's and women's wear fabrics sold in less than piece lots to custom or merchant tailors, $0.60.

(d) Men's and women's wear fabrics sold in cut lengths of 11 yards or less to custom or merchant tailors, and to special order departments of manufacturers of apparel and retail establishments, $0.56.

(c) Sales by secondary jobbers. Except as provided in paragraph (b) of this section, the maximum price for sales and deliveries of a woolen or worsted apparel fabric by a secondary jobber shall be the quotient of the sum of (1) the manufacturer's net invoice price, whether or not the purchaser from the manufacturer has taken advantage of any term discount offered, but in no case higher than the manufacturer's maximum price determined in accordance with § 1410.102, (2) the freight charges actually paid by the purchaser from the manufacturer for the transportation of the fabric from the manufacturer's shipping point to such purchaser's place of business and (3) the freight charges actually paid by the secondary jobber for the transportation of the fabric from his supplier's shipping point to his place of business, divided by the applicable division factor set forth below:

(i) Men's and women's wear fabrics sold in less than piece lots to manufacturers of apparel, $0.78.

(ii) Men's and women's wear fabrics sold in less than piece lots to retail stores and to special order departments of manufacturers of apparel, $0.74.

(iii) Men's and women's wear fabrics sold in less than piece lots to custom or merchant tailors, $0.57.

(iv) Men's and women's wear fabrics sold in cut lengths of 11 yards or less to custom or merchant tailors, and to special order departments or manufacturers of apparel and retail establishments, $0.53.

In cases of sales and deliveries covered by subdivisions (ii), (iii) and (iv) where a secondary jobber has several styles of a woolen or worsted apparel fabric in the same range, and the differential between the manufacturer's net invoice prices of all the styles in the range does not exceed $0.25 per yard, the manufacturer's net invoice price per yard for all the styles may be determined by taking the average of the manufacturer's net invoice prices per yard of all the styles in the range.

(d) Optional maximum price for jobbers and secondary jobbers. In cases where a jobber or a secondary jobber sold or delivered the same fabric during the period between December 1, 1940 and November 30, 1941, such jobber or secondary jobber may, at his option, use as the maximum price for such fabric the highest price at which it was sold or delivered during said period: Provided, That such optional maximum price shall not exceed the quotient of the sum of (1) the manufacturer's maximum price for the fabric determined in accordance with § 1410.102 and (2) the freight charges which would be paid for the transportation thereof to the seller's place of business, divided by the applicable division factor provided for by paragraphs (a) or (c) of this section, as the case may be.

(e) Sales of fabrics by manufacturers of apparel—(1) Maximum prices for sales by manufacturers of apparel. The maximum price for a sale or delivery of a woolen or worsted apparel fabric by a manufacturer of apparel shall be the sum of the following:

(i) The actual price paid for the fabric by him, but not to exceed his supplier's maximum price;

(ii) Freight charges actually paid for transporting the fabric from his supplier's shipping point to his place of business; and

(iii) In the case of sales of full-pieces which have been sponged or shrunk by the manufacturer of apparel, the actual cost of sponging or shrinking, subject to the limitations stated below: Provided, That the invoice or similar document delivered to the purchaser shall state, in addition to the information required by paragraph (e) (3) of this section, the original mill yardage and the yardage after sponging or shrinking for each full-piece and the amount added for shrinking or sponging.

In the case of sales of full-pieces which have been sponged or shrunk by the manufacturer of apparel the "actual price paid for the fabric" means the amount actually paid to his supplier for the full-piece based upon the original mill yardage.

The "actual cost of sponging or shrinking" means the amount actually paid to the sponger or shrinker for such service (including examination, inspection and measuring if done as a part of the sponging or shrinking operation), after deducting all discounts and rebates, but in no event to exceed 4¢ per yard for steam sponging or shrinking or 7¢ per yard for cold water sponging or shrinking. If the manufacturer of apparel sponges or shrinks the fabric himself, the "actual cost of sponging or shrinking" shall be 4¢ per yard for steam sponging or shrinking and 7¢ per yard for cold water sponging or shrinking. For the purpose of this subparagraph the process of decating, when not performed as part of the cold water sponging or shrinking process, shall be considered steam sponging or shrinking. These maximum charges of 4¢ and 7¢ shall cover all processes and services performed in connection with the sponging or shrinking process and in no event may more than one such charge be added.

In order to be considered a "full-piece", the fabric must have the original mill ends and the mill marks or punches thereon at the time of delivery by the apparel manufacturer.

[Subparagraph (1) amended by Am. 15, effective 4-19-44]

(2) Optional maximum price for sales in cut-lengths of 11 yards or less to retail stores or custom tailors. In the case of sales of fabrics in cut-lengths of 11 yards or less by a manufacturer of apparel to retail stores or custom tailors, the maximum price, at the option of the seller, shall be the quotient of the sum of (i) the fabric manufacturer's net invoice price, whether or not advantage has been taken of any term discounts offered, and (ii) the freight charges actually paid for transporting the fabric from the manufacturer's shipping point to the apparel manufacturer's place of business, divided by .80.

Whereas, by Food Directive No. 2, the Secretary of Agriculture authorized me to exercise these powers through such agencies and officers of the Department of the Interior or of the office established by Executive Order No. 9204 of July 21, 1942, as I may designate; and

Whereas, it is deemed imperative to effectuate a program designed to facilitate the production of an adequate supply of canned salmon in the Puget Sound Area, State of Washington, with a minimum utilization of critical material, manpower and shipping facilities; and

Whereas, representatives of practically the entire salmon canning industry in the Puget Sound Area, State of Washington, have indicated their willingness to join in such cooperative agreements as may be practicable and feasible in order to pool their operating facilities, and allocate available manpower on an equitable basis in an industry concentration program designed to minimize factors that tend to affect production adversely; and Corner braces—1" x #11 ga. band or equivalent. End scissor braces—1" x #12 ga. bands. Spring fabric: Standard 2" x 4" link, # 14 ga. wire or an equivalent fabric, attached to frame by helicals. Finish: Oil base enamel.

(2) New manufacturers, different models and new classes of purchasers. Maximum prices for manufacturers who were not in the business of manufacturing and selling new metal cots and double deck beds during March 1942 shall be established by paragraph (f) of this order. Maximum prices for models not covered by paragraph (1) above and maximum prices for sales or deliveries by manufacturers of any new metal cot or double deck bed to classes of purchasers to whom they did not make sales during March 1942 shall also be established by paragraph (f) of this order.

(e) Maximum prices for sales by jobbers. Subparagraph (1) below sets maximum prices for wholesalers and jobbers who sold the same manufacturer's new metal cots and double deck beds in March 1942. Subparagraph (2) sets the maximum prices for sales by wholesalers and jobbers who cannot determine maximum prices under subparagraph (1) below.

(1) If you are a wholesaler or jobber who sells a new metal cot or double deck bed made by a manufacturer whose new metal cot or double deck bed you sold during March 1942, you determine your maximum price as follows:

First you calculate the dollars and cents difference between your selling price in March 1942 for the most comparable metal cot or double deck bed made by the same manufacturer and the manufacturer's regularly quoted f. o. b. factory l. c. l. price to retailers for that article in March 1942. You then add this dollars and cents difference to the manufacturer's f. o. b. factory l. c. l. maximum price set by this order for the article you are pricing. The resulting sum is your maximum price for sales to the same class of customer and on the same terms and conditions of sale as in the case of the March 1942 sale which you used in making your calculation. For sales to other classes of customers or on other terms and conditions, you must adjust this maximum price by making the same discounts, allowances or other price differentials which you made in March 1942. The "most comparable" new metal cot means the new metal cot for which the manufacturer's regularly quoted f. o. b. factory l. c. l. price to retailers in March 1942 is nearest in amount to the manufacturer's f. o. b. factory l. c. l. maximum price to retailers established under this order for the new metal cot you are pricing. The "most comparable" new metal double deck bed means the new metal double deck bed for which the manufacturer's regularly quoted f. o. b. factory l. c. l. price to retailers in March 1942 is nearest in amount to the manufacturer's f. o. b. factory l. c. l. maximum price to retailers established under this order for the new metal double deck bed you are pricing.

(2) If you are a jobber and cannot determine your maximum price under subparagraph (1) above, you shall determine your maximum price for a new metal cot or double deck bed by adding to the manufacturer's f. o. b. factory l. c. l. maximum price set by this order, the freight cost actually incurred by you for shipment of the article from the manufacturer's factory to the point of delivery to your customer; but the freight cost which you may add shall not exceed the freight charges for direct shipment of the new metal cot or double deck bed from the manufacturer's factory to the point of delivery to you customer by the least expensive readily available public carrier.

(f) Maximum prices which cannot be established under another paragraph of this order (such as other models and other classes of purchasers). The maximum price for any sale or delivery of a new metal cot or metal double deck bed which cannot be determined under any other paragraph of this order shall be a price fixed by order of the Price Administrator, in line with the level of maximum prices established by this order. No person may sell, offer to sell or deliver an article for which a maximum price must be established under this paragraph until a price has been specifically authorized by order of the Office of Price Administration. If in violation of the preceding sentence, a sale, offer to sell, or delivery of an article is made before the issuance of an order by the Price Administrator specifically authorizing a maximum price for the article, the maximum price applicable to the sale, offer to sell or delivery shall be such maximum price as the Price Administrator may establish for the article by subsequent order. An application by a manufacturer for the establishment of a maximum price under this paragraph shall be made to the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., and shall contain the following information:

1. Identifying number or trade name of article to be priced.

2. The reasons why the article to be priced cannot be priced under any other paragraph of this order.

3. Detailed specifications and an illustration of the article to be priced.

4. An itemized breakdown of the manufacturer's current unit direct cost of the article to be priced, showing separately according to his own system of accounts or regularly prepared operating statements all major component unit direct cost factors. For the purpose of this order, unit direct costs include direct labor and direct material costs but do not include factory burden (sometimes called factory overhead or indirect manufacturing expenses), packaging and crating costs, royalties and patterns, tool and dye cost and items of administrative, general and selling expenses. Also, state the number of units of production upon which the unit direct costs were based.

5. An itemized breakdown of the manufacturer's current unit direct cost (as described in (4) above) of the basic model in paragraph (d) of this order which is most nearly comparable to the article being priced.

6. Price lists in effect during March 1942 showing:

The article most nearly comparable to the article being priced, with illustrations;

The article most nearly comparable to the basic model mentioned in (4), with illustrations;

All price differentials covering variations in these constructions.

If the manufacturer was not making and selling new metal cots and double deck beds in March 1942, send the first price list which was in effect after March 1942, together with illustrations.

7. A statement of the manufacturer's customary discounts, allowances and other price differentials to different classes of purchasers in effect for sales of new metal cots and double deck beds during March 1942, or if the manufacturer was not making and selling new metal cots and double deck beds during March 1942, the same information for the first period after March 1942 during which the manufacturer was engaged in this business.

8. Requested maximum price of the article to be priced and reasons.

(g) Sales slips, receipts, and invoices. After the effective date of this order, every seller (other than at retail) making a sale of a new metal cot or double deck bed covered by this order shall furnish the purchaser with a sales slip, receipt, invoice or other similar written evidence of purchase showing the type of article (metal rollaway cot, tubular end folding cot, etc.), the size of the article and the manufacturer's or seller's item number, date of sale, price charged for the article, nature and amount of any additional charges, and the name and address of the purchaser. This sales slip, receipt or invoice or other written evidence of purchase shall be kept by the purchaser and a carbon copy of it kept by the seller for inspection by the Office of Price Administration.

(h) This Order No. 1470 may be revoked or amended by the Price Administrator at any time.

This order shall become effective on the 12th day of April 1944.

NOTE: The reporting and record-keeping provisions in this order have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

Issued this 11th day of April 1944.

JAMES F. BROWNLEE,
Acting Administrator.

By virtue of authority vested in me as Chairman of the War Manpower Commission by Executive Order No. 9301 (8 F.R. 1625), establishing a minimum wartime workweek of 48 hours, and pursuant to the provisions of § 903.2 of War Manpower Commission Regulation No. 3 (8 F.R. 7225), I hereby designate the cotton textile industry as an activity subject to the provisions of Executive Order No. 9301.

1. For the purposes of this designation the cotton textile industry includes the manufacturing or processing of the following products containing more than 50 per cent by weight of cotton or cotton waste or a combination of the two:

(a) Woven fabrics over 12 inches in width, whether gray, original mill or regular finish, bleached, dyed or printed, and the following cotton products: bedsheets, pillow cases, blankets (but only if containing less than 25 per cent wool), towels, diapers, face cloths and table "linens;" and

(b) Yarns, whether gray, bleached, colored, mercerized, glazed, polished, single, plied, or cabled, including threads, twines and cordage (e. g., tying, sail, seine, etc., twine, rope, sash cord, etc.) and including any of the foregoing which may be spun on speeder, ring, mule or converted twister spindles.

2. For the purposes of this designation a worker shall be deemed engaged in the cotton textile industry if

(a) He is employed at a mill in which any portion of the industry is carried on, and

(b) He devotes more than half of his time while so employed to work (including maintenance, service, production, clerical, or administrative work) in connection with the cotton textile industry.

3. The effective date of this designation is May 14, 1944.

(a) Extend to a minimum wartime workweek of 48 hours, the workweek of any such worker whose workweek can be so extended without involving the release of any worker;

(b) If extension of the workweek of any such workers to a minimum wartime workweek of 48 hours would involve the release of any workers, submit to the Area Manpower Director the number and occupational classification of the workers whose release would be involved, together with proposed schedules for their release, and thereafter extend such workweek when and as directed in schedules authorized by the War Manpower Commission;

(c) File an application for a minimum wartime workweek of less than 48 hours for those workers engaged in the cotton textile industry in employment in which the employer claims that a workweek of 48 hours would be impracticable in view of the nature of the operations, would not contribute to the reduction of labor requirements, or would conflict with any Federal, State or local law or regulation limiting hours of work.

DETERMINATION AS TO OWNERSHIP

Notice of determination by War Shipping Administrator pursuant to section 3 (b) of the Act approved March 24, 1943 (Public Law 17—78th Congress).

Whereas on May 5, 1942, title to the vessel Jennie and Lucia (235811) (including all spare parts, appurtenances and equipment) was requisitioned pursuant to section 902 of the Merchant Marine Act, 1936, as amended; and

Whereas section 3 (b) of the Act approved March 24, 1943 (Public Law 17—78th Congress), provides in part as follows:

(b) The Administrator, War Shipping Administration, may determine at any time prior to the payment in full or deposit in full with the Treasurer of the United States, or the payment or deposit of 75 per centum, or just compensation therefor, that the ownership of any vessel (the title to which has been requisitioned pursuant to section 902 of the Merchant Marine Act, 1936, as amended, or the Act of June 6, 1941 (Public Law 101, Seventy-Seventh Congress), is not required by the United States, and after such determination has been made and notice thereof has been published in the FEDERAL REGISTER, the use rather than the title to such vessel shall be deemed to have been requisitioned for all purposes as of the date of the original taking: Provided, however, That no such determination shall be made with respect to any vessel after the date of delivery of such vessel pursuant to title requisition except with the consent of the owner. * * *.

Whereas no portion of just compensation for the said vessel has been paid or deposited with the Treasurer of the United States; and

Whereas the ownership of the said vessel, spare parts, appurtenances and equipment is not required by the United States; and

Now therefore, I Emory S. Land, Administrator, War Shipping Administration, acting pursuant to the above-quoted provisions of law do hereby determine that the ownership of said vessel, spare parts, appurtenances and equipment is not required by the United States, and that, from and after the date of publication hereof in the FEDERAL REGISTER, the use rather than title thereto shall be deemed to have been requisitioned, for all purposes, as of the date of the original taking.

Any direction which may hereafter be issued by the Solid Fuels Administration for War requiring the shipment of solid fuels to any person or group of persons does not authorize you to divert such solid fuels from shipments required by your contracts with the War Department, Navy Department or other agency of the Federal Government, unless such direction specifically permits or requires such diversions.

MINIMUM SALE QUANTITIES AND PRODUCTION RUNS

The following interpretation is issued with respect to Priorities Regulation 1:

(a) Applicable provisions of the regulations. Section 944.14 of Priorities Regulation No. 1 forbids the making or acceptance of a delivery which will give the customer more than the "practicable minimum working inventory reasonably necessary" for him to make his own deliveries. A similar provision in paragraph (b) (2) of Priorities Regulation No. 3 says that a customer who is applying a rating for which no specific quantities have been authorized may use it only to get the "minimum required amounts".

(b) Factors to be considered in determining how much can be ordered and delivered. In determining a customer's minimum inventory "reasonably necessary" under Priorities Regulation No. 1 or his "minimum required amounts" under Priorities Regulation No. 3, it is proper in some cases to consider not only the immediate needs of the customer's plant but also whether the amount which he orders will be a minimum production run for his supplier. The customer may order and receive (and the supplier may deliver) the customer's requirements for a longer period in advance than he actually needs at the time of delivery if, but only if, it is not practicable for him to get the item from any supplier in the smaller quantities which he presently needs. The supplier may reject his customer's order if it is less than the minimum which he regularly sells, as explained in Interpretation 3 of Priorities Regulation No. 1. This means that if he regularly sells not less than a certain minimum production run, he does not have to accept orders which either total less than the run or which call for individual deliveries of less than the run.

(c) Relief in exceptional cases. If the conditions stated in paragraph (b) above cannot be satisfied but the customer wants to order or accept delivery of more than his actual needs at the time of delivery, he should apply to the Redistribution Division of the War Production Board for permission, stating the facts and why it is not practicable to satisfy the conditions of paragraph (b).

(d) Special provisions for controlled materials and Class A products. This interpretation does not apply to deliveries of controlled materials under the Controlled Materials Plan. Rules regarding deliveries of controlled materials are given in CMP Regulation No. 2, and additional rules for Class A products are explained in Interpretation 9 to CMP Regulation No. 1.

(e) Specific limits on ratings may not be exceeded. This interpretation does not apply to the use of a rating where a specific quantity is stated in the instrument assigning the rating. If a person is assigned a rating for a specific amount of material, he may not use it to get more. If he finds that he can only get the material in larger quantities, he should apply for a modification of the rating.

(f) No effect on contractual rights. The times and amounts in which deliveries are to be made are to be determined by agreement between the supplier and the customer. Nothing in this interpretation relieves a supplier from fulfilling a contract to make deliveries at specified times in specified amounts. For example, if a customer has agreed to buy and a supplier has agreed to furnish 100 units a month for six months, this interpretation does not obligate the buyer to accept 800 units delivered during the first month, although it permits him to do so under the conditions described in paragraph (b).

PART 3284—BUILDING MATERIALS

[General Limitation Order L-78, as Amended Apr. 14, 1944]

FLUORESCENT LIGHTING FIXTURES

Section 3284.36 General Limitation Order L-78 is hereby amended to read as follows:

§ 3284.36 General Limitation Order L-78—(a) Purpose of this order. This order places certain limitations on the manufacture and assembly of fluorescent lighting fixtures. It also restricts the sale and delivery of new fixtures and parts.

Restrictions on Manufacture and Assembly

(b) Rectified fluorescent lighting fixtures. No person may manufacture or assemble a rectified fluorescent lighting fixture.

(c) Parts for rectified fluorescent lighting fixtures. No person may manufacture or assemble any part for a rectified fluorescent lighting fixture except for purposes of maintenance or repair.

(d) Use of non-ferrous metal. No person may incorporate any non-ferrous metal in any fluorescent lighting fixture or part except as permitted by Orders M-1-i (aluminum), M-6-b (nickel), M-9-c (copper), M-11-b (zinc), M-18-b (chrome), M-43 (tin), M-65 (cadmium) and any other applicable orders of the War Production Board.

(e) Prohibited uses of metal in hot cathode fixtures. Unless specific written authorization is granted by the War Production Board, after application as required in paragraph (j), no person may incorporate any metal in a fluorescent lighting fixture designed for:

(1) One tube of any wattage, unless the fixture is an industrial portable or an industrial attachable model;

(2) A continuous row of single tubes of any wattage;

(3) Two tubes rated 30 watts per tube or less, unless the fixture is an industrial portable or an industrial attachable model;

(4) Three or more tubes rated 30 watts per tube or less;

(5) Five or more rows of tubes of any wattage in either an individual fixture or in a continuous row section.

Restrictions on Sale and Delivery

(f) Preference ratings. No person may sell or deliver any new fluorescent lighting fixture or part except on an order or contract bearing a preference rating. (An order or contract bearing a rating lower than AA-3 must be regarded as an unrated order or contract, if the supplier knows or has reason to believe that the rating is a blanket MRO rating. The term "blanket MRO rating" is defined in Priorities Regulation 3.)

(g) Exceptions to paragraph (f). There are five exceptions to the rule stated in the preceding paragraph. No preference rating is necessary for:

(1) The delivery of a fixture or part to an established laboratory for testing purposes only;

(2) The delivery of a fixture or part to a potential customer for demonstration but not for stock;

(3) The sale or delivery of a part to be used solely for maintenance or repair of an existing fixture;

(4) The sale and delivery of a fixture or part to a manufacturer or wholesaler on a special sale under Priorities Regulation 13; or

(5) The delivery (for inventory purposes only) of a fixture or part from one branch, division or section of a single enterprise to another branch, division or section of the same or any other enterprise under common ownership or control.

(h) Release of fixtures held in inventory. Upon specific authorization of the War Production Board, after application as required in paragraph (j), a manufacturer, assembler, wholesaler or retailer may sell or deliver from his inventory on unrated orders any completely assembled fluorescent lighting fixture which was manufactured before June 2, 1942, and which was reported to the War Production Board on Forms PD-499 or WPB-1066. This reporting requirement has been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

Definitions

(i) Meaning of terms used in this order. For the purpose of this order:

(1) The term "fluorescent lighting fixture" includes hot cathode, cold cathode, and rectified equipment designed or constructed for the purpose of illumination. In addition to its ordinary meaning, the term also includes Cooper-Hewitt and 3000 watt mercury vapor equipment. The term "fluorescent lighting fixture" does not include:

(i) Tubes or bulbs covered by Order L-28, or replaceable fluorescent starters;

(ii) Incandescent lighting fixtures, as defined in Order L-212 (that definition of "incandescent lighting fixtures" includes fixtures designed for use with 250 watt and 400 watt mercury vapor tubes);

(iii) Any portable or attachable lamp or fixture designed to be plugged into an electric outlet, other than "industrial portable" or "industrial attachable" fluorescent lighting fixtures, as defined in this order;

(2) An "industrial portable" fluorescent lighting fixture is one which is designed for use in the operation of some piece of factory equipment (such as an industrial machine or tool) or in the assembly, inspection or servicing of a product, but which is not permanently attached to the equipment or the product. Such fixtures are designed to be plugged into an electric outlet and are usually equipped with either a handle, a hook, or a base fitted with free rolling casters.

(3) An "industrial attachable" fluorescent lighting fixture is one which is designed to be used with some piece of factory equipment (such as an industrial machine, tool, or assembly bench) and is so constructed that it may be permanently affixed by screws to the equipment or to an adjoining wall. Such fixtures are designed to be plugged into an electric outlet.

(4) A "continuous row" of tubes consists of two or more placed end to end.

(5) A "new" fluorescent lighting fixture or part is one which has never been used by an ultimate consumer.

Miscellaneous Provisions

(j) Requests for authorizations. Requests for specific authorization under paragraphs (e) and (h) shall be made by letter, in duplicate, giving the following information:

(1) Where authorization is requested under the provisions of paragraph (e), the letter shall state the government contract number and item number (if any), the name and address of the project where the lighting fixtures will be used, the preference rating used on the contract or order, a full description of the fixtures, and an explanation as to why permitted types cannot be used.

(2) Where a request is made under the provisions of paragraph (h) to sell fixtures (on unrated orders) which have been held in inventory, the letter shall state whether the fixtures are industrial or non-industrial types, the quantity of each type of fixture, the number of tubes per fixture, the wattage per tube and the voltage and frequency (cycles) on which the fixtures are designed to operate.

(n) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(o) Effective date. This amended order shall become effective on April 21, 1944, and until that date Order L-78, as amended April 3, 1944, remains in effect.

Issued this 14th day of April 1944.

PART 3286—MISCELLANEOUS MINERALS

[Conservation Order M-50, as Amended Apr. 14, 1944]

JEWEL BEARINGS

Whereas, national defense requirements have created a shortage of jewel bearings (as hereafter defined) for the combined needs of defense and private account, and the supply of jewel bearings now is and will be insufficient for defense and essential civilian requirements, unless the supply of jewel bearings and jewel bearing material (as hereinafter defined) is conserved and their use in certain products manufactured for civilian use is curtailed; and it is necessary in the public interest to promote the defense of the United States, to conserve the supply and direct the distribution and use thereof.

Now, therefore, it is hereby ordered, that:

§ 3286.6 Conservation Order M-50—(a) Definitions. For the purpose of this order:

(1) "Jewel bearing material" means any natural sapphire or ruby of industrial quality, any synthetic sapphire, ruby, or spinel, or any other material of similar chemical composition and physical properties. Natural spinel is not included.

(2) "Jewel bearing" means any jewel bearing material which has been processed in any manner for use where friction occurs, including vees, rings, cups, endstones, pallet stones, and roller pins. Watt-hour meter cups are not included.

(3) "Substitute jewel bearing" means a metal, agate, garnet, glass, or other bearing designed to replace or to substitute for a large ring bearing or a vee bearing of sapphire, ruby, or synthetic spinel.

(4) "Large ring bearing" means any jewel bearing through which a hole has been pierced from one parallel face to the other which has the following dimensions:

Outside diameter greater than	0.050 inch (1.270 mm.)
Thickness greater than	0.012 inch (.305 mm.)
Hole diameter greater than	0.006 inch (.152 mm.)

(5) "Vee bearing" means any jewel bearing which has a conically shaped cavity in one of the parallel faces.

(6) "Supplier" means any person who has engaged in the importation or processing of jewel bearings, substitute jewel bearings, or jewel bearing material, since January 14, 1942.

(7) "Consumer" means any person who uses jewel bearings in the manufacture of any article. A person is not a consumer who uses jewel bearings only in the repair of watches and instruments.

(8) "Processing" means manufacturing, fabricating, polishing, or modifying in any manner jewel bearing material.

(9) "Blank" means preparage, rondel, cylinder, or prism made from jewel bearing material for the purpose of fabrication of a jewel bearing but which has not been drilled or formed.

(10) "Use" of a jewel bearing means to mount the jewel bearing in a screw or other setting, or to incorporate physically the mounted or unmounted bearing in a device where its normal bearing surface may be subjected to friction from a moving part or object.

(11) "Semi-fabricated jewel bearing" means any jewel bearing processed beyond the blank stage but on which additional processing is necessary before it is ready to be used by a consumer.

(12) "'Finished bearing" means any jewel bearing which has been processed to a point where it can immediately be used by a consumer.

(13) [Deleted Dec. 24, 1943]

(b) Restrictions on delivery, processing, use, and sale. (1) On and after December 24, 1943 each supplier shall set aside his entire stock, receipts, and production of finished jewel bearings, jewel bearing material, other than natural sapphire or natural ruby; semi-fabricated jewel bearings, and blanks as a reserve for the fulfillment of present and future defense orders, and such other orders and uses as may be authorized from time to time by the War Production Board.

(2) No supplier shall make deliveries or withdrawals from such reserve either to his customers or for purposes of his own use, except as authorized by the War Production Board. The War Production Board will from time to time allocate the supply of finished jewel bearings, of semi-fabricated jewel bearings, of blanks, and of jewel bearing material, other than natural sapphire or natural ruby; and may specifically direct the manner and quantities in which deliveries to or by particular persons or for particular uses shall be made or withheld. It may also direct, limit, or prohibit processing of jewel bearing material blanks and semi-fabricated jewel bearings. It may also direct, limit, or prohibit deliveries, withdrawals from inventories, and particular uses of jewel bearings in the hands of consumers. Such allocations and directions will be made to insure the satisfaction of the defense requirements of the United States, both direct and indirect, and they may be made, in the discretion of the War Production Board, without regard to any preference ratings assigned to particular contracts or purchase orders.

(3) Unless specifically directed or authorized by the War Production Board, no person shall sell or deliver to any person for any purpose vee bearings or large ring bearings of sapphire or ruby, except:

(i) That any person may sell such bearings to the person from whom he originally acquired them; and

(ii) That a wholesaler or distributor (but not a supplier) may sell or deliver large ring bearings to persons who will use such large ring bearings solely in the repair of watches or instruments.

(c) [Deleted Dec. 24, 1943]

(d) General exception. The prohibitions and restrictions contained in this order shall not apply to any jewel bearing which on or after November 2, 1942, without violating any order of the War Production Board, had been physically incorporated in a device in which, without further assemblage, its normal bearing surface was subjected to friction from a moving part or object.

(e) Appeals. Any appeal from the provisions of this order shall be made by filing a letter in triplicate, referring to the particular provisions appealed from, and stating fully the grounds of the appeal.

(f) Reports—(1) Suppliers. Each supplier shall file with the War Production Board, Reference: M–50, Form WPB–482 (formerly PD–235) on or before the dates therein prescribed; provided, that a person who is not engaged in the processing of jewel bearings or jewel bearing material, and who imports jewel bearings only for use in the repair of watches, shall not be required to file Form WPB–482, but within 15 days after receipt by him of each imported shipment, he shall file with the War Production Board, Reference: M–50, a written report giving the quantity, type, diameter, thickness, and hole size of each item received in such shipment, and he shall not sell or deliver any of such imported jewel bearings until he has received the written authorization of the War Production Board.

(2) Consumers. (i) Each consumer who uses 10,000 or more jewel bearings or substitute jewel bearings, or both kinds of bearings, per quarter shall file monthly with the War Production Board, Reference: M–50, Form WPB–465 (formerly PD–236) on or before the dates therein prescribed; (ii) each consumer who uses less than 10,000 and more than 500 bearings, jewel, substitute, or both kinds, per quarter shall file quarterly with the War Production Board, Reference: M–50, Form WPB–465 on or before the dates therein prescribed; (iii) each consumer who uses 500 or less bearings, jewel, substitute, or both kinds, per quarter need not file with the War Production Board any reports on Form WPB–465.

(3) Producers of jewel bearing material. Any person producing or offering for sale jewel bearing material other than natural sapphire or natural ruby shall file with the War Production Board, Reference: M–50, Form WPB–675 (formerly PD–338) on or before the dates therein prescribed.

(4) Specific exemptions. The War Production Board may from time to time issue a written exemption to any supplier or consumer, or to any producer of jewel bearing material, in cases where production and requirement records together with other circumstances show such uniformity of production or requirements as to indicate that the filing of such reports no longer need be required.

(5) Federal Reports Act of 1942. The reporting requirements of this order have received the approval of the Bureau of the Budget pursuant to the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

(g) Miscellaneous provisions—(1) Applicability of priorities regulations. This order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to all applicable provisions of the priorities regulations of the War Production Board, as amended from time to time.

(2) Communications to War Production Board. All reports required to be filed hereunder, and all communications concerning this order, shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to: War Production Board, Miscellaneous Minerals Division, Washington 25, D. C., Ref.: M–50.

(3) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

PART 3291—CONSUMERS DURABLE GOODS

[Limitation Order L–275]

ALARM CLOCKS

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply of alarm clocks and materials and facilities for producing them; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense.

§ 3291.205 Limitation Order L–275—(a) What this order does. This order governs the manufacture and distribution of new alarm clocks.

(b) Definitions. For the purposes of this order: "Manufacturer" means any person who produces or assembles, or who produced or assembled during the period 1936 to 1941, inclusive, any new alarm clocks, either spring driven or electrically operated.

(c) Who may produce alarm clocks; how many may be made. (1) After May 10, 1944, no manufacturer may produce, assemble, or deliver any new alarm clocks, either spring driven or electrically operated, except according to quarterly quotas authorized in writing by the War Production Board pursuant to an application on Form WPB–3719 (formerly PD–880), which each manufacturer must file with the War Production Board on or before the 10th day of May, and thereafter on or before the 15th day of June, September, December, and March, showing his proposed production and delivery for the next quarter.

(2) The War Production Board will assign production quotas to meet approved requirements. Total production which would exceed such requirements will not be authorized. No person will be authorized to produce alarm clocks if that production would interfere with his other war production. Production will be authorized so as to avoid increased labor requirements in labor shortage areas. The War Production Board will give notice to each manufacturer of the total and individual authorizations.

(3) In order to secure proper distribution of the supply of alarm clocks authorized to be produced under this order, the War Production Board may require manufacturers, as a condition to the right to produce alarm clocks, to sell specified quantities of those produced to other manufacturers who are presently found to be in a position to facilitate the distribution of these alarm clocks. In general, the number of alarm clocks required to be sold to such other manufacturers will be in relation to their volume of production in the period 1936 to 1941, inclusive. Manufacturers authorized to distribute alarm clocks under this paragraph may be required to distribute them in a manner required by the War Production Board.

(4) Alarm clocks may be delivered without regard to preference ratings. No person shall apply or extend any rating to get any alarm clocks and no person selling alarm clocks shall require a rating as a condition of sale. Any rating purporting to be applied or extended to delivery of alarm clocks shall be void and no person shall give any effect to it in filling an order.

(d) What type of alarm clocks may be made. Only alarm clocks authorized in writing by the War Production Board as to type of movement and style of case may be manufactured. In general, no manufacturer will be authorized to produce more than one type of spring wound, and one type of electrically operated, alarm clock. Approval of models will be based largely on economy of production and a minimum use of critical materials.

(e) Reports. The reporting and application requirements of this order have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget pursuant to the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

(f) Applicability of other orders and regulations. This order and all transactions affected by this order are subject to the applicable regulations of the War Production Board. If any other order of the War Production Board limits the use of any material in the production of alarm clocks to a greater extent than does this order, the other order shall govern unless it states otherwise.

(g) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order or who in connection with this order wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States, is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(h) Appeals. Any appeal from the provisions of this order shall be made by filing a letter in triplicate, referring to the particular provision appealed from and stating fully the grounds of the appeal.

(i) Communications. All reports required to be filed hereunder, and all communications concerning this order shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to the War Production Board, Consumers Durable Goods Division, Washington 25, D. C., Ref: L–275.

Issued this 14th day of April 1944.

[General Allocation Order M–300, Schedule 12]

ISOPROPYL ALCOHOL

§ 3293.1012 Schedule 12 to General Allocation Order M–300—(a) Definition. "Isopropyl alcohol" means isopropyl alcohol, dimethyl carbinol, pseudopropyl alcohol, pseudo propanol, isopropanol, secondary propanol, or secondary propyl alcohol of any grade and from whatever source derived.

(b) General provisions. Isopropyl alcohol is subject to allocation under General Allocation Order M–300 as an Appendix A material. The initial allocation date is July 1, 1942, the date when isopropyl alcohol was first put under allocation by Order M–168 (revoked). Delivery and use by producers and distributors prior to May 1, 1944, will be authorized on the basis of applications filed in accordance with the requirements of Order M–168 (revoked). Delivery, acceptance of delivery and use by any person after May 1, 1944 will be authorized on the basis of applications filed in accordance with the requirements of this order: Provided, That any authorization or direction which has been issued by the War Production Board pursuant to Order M–168 shall remain effective in accordance with its terms unless specifically revoked or modified. The allocation period is the calendar month. The small order exemption is 270 gallons per person per month.

(c) Suppliers' applications on Form WPB–2946. (1) Each supplier seeking authorization to use or deliver isopropyl alcohol shall file application on Form WPB–2946 (formerly PD–601). The filing date is the 20th day of the month preceding the month in which delivery or use is proposed.

(2) Form WPB–2946 should be completely filled in. The unit of measure is gallons. Grade should be specified as 91%, 95% or 99%. List on the form the name of each customer ordering more than the quantity permitted by the small order exemption. Include an item for "small orders" without specifying the names of individual customers and specify the aggregate quantity requested to fill such orders.

(3) Normally the War Production Board will issue its authorizations and directions for delivery by returning Form WPB–2946 to the supplier, showing the amounts which may be delivered to each customer and the aggregate amount which may be delivered to fulfill small orders.

(d) Customers' applications on Form WPB–2945. (1) Each person seeking authorization to use or accept delivery of isopropyl alcohol shall file application on Form WPB–2945 (formerly PD–600). The filing date is the 15th day of the month preceding the month in which acceptance of delivery or use is proposed. Form WPB–2945 should be completely filled in. The unit of measure is gallons. Grade should be specified as 91%, 95% or 99%. Three copies (one certified) should be sent to the War Production Board, Chemicals Bureau, Washington 25, D. C., Ref: M–300–12, one copy (reverse side blank) should be sent to the supplier and one copy should be retained.

(2) Normally the War Production Board will issue its authorizations for acceptance of delivery or use by returning Form WPB–2945, showing the amount of isopropyl alcohol which may be accepted or used during the month.

(e) Communications to War Production Board. All reports required to be filed hereunder and all communications concerning this schedule shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to the War Production Board, Chemicals Bureau, Washington 25, D. C., Ref.: M–300, Schedule 12.

NOTE: Forms WPB–2945 and 2946, and the instructions in this schedule and the appendices of Order M–300 for applications for isopropyl alcohol have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with Federal Reports Act of 1942.

Issued this 14th day of April 1944.

Appendix A—Tables of maximum prices for original equipment tires and tubes.

SECTION 1. Prohibition against dealing in original equipment tires and tubes at prices above the maximum. On and after the effective date of this regulation, regardless of any contract or other obligation, no person shall sell or deliver original equipment tires or tubes and no person shall buy or receive original equipment tires or tubes in the course of trade or business, at prices higher than the maximum prices, and no person shall agree, offer, solicit, or attempt to do any of the foregoing. Lower prices may, of course, be charged.

SEC. 2. Maximum prices. (a) The maximum delivered prices for sales of original equipment tires and tubes shall be the prices set forth in Appendix A, except as otherwise provided in the succeeding paragraphs of this section.

(b) The maximum prices set forth in Appendix A shall not apply:

(1) To sales by a seller of a particular type and size of natural rubber original equipment tire or tube to a particular buyer, if that seller sold that item to that buyer at a price at least 5 percent less than the price set forth in Appendix A for that size and type of natural rubber tire or tube during January 1944 (or if no sale was made during January 1944 to that buyer, on the most recent date on which such a sale was made between April 27, 1942, and January 1, 1944). If a tire and a tube are sold as an assembly, the comparison to be made under this subparagraph shall be between the assembly prices.

(2) To sales by a seller of a particular type and size of synthetic rubber original equipment tire or tube to a particular buyer, if sales by that seller to that buyer of the natural rubber tire or tube of the same size and type fall within subparagraph (1) above.

(3) To sales by a seller of a particular type and size of natural or synthetic rubber original equipment tire or tube to a particular buyer, if that seller made no sales of that item of natural rubber original equipment to that buyer during the period April 27, 1942, to January 31, 1944.

(4) To sales of original equipment tires or tubes of sizes and types not specifically listed in Appendix A.

(5) To sales by any seller of truck and bus tires, sizes 8.25 inch cross-section and larger, until and unless approved by the Office of Price Administration.

(c) In all cases listed in paragraph (b), the maximum price shall be a price, consistent with general industry practices and consistent with the level of maximum prices set by this regulation, authorized upon specific application to the Office of Price Administration. In each case coming under paragraph (b), the seller must file with the Office of Price Administration the report required by section 3 and have his maximum price approved by the Office of Price Administration before receiving payment for the original equipment tires or tubes.

(d) Differential for tires of rayon construction. (1) On sales of synthetic rubber tires of rayon construction, a seller may add to the maximum prices otherwise fixed by this section, an amount not exceeding the amount by which the factory costs of the tire in rayon construction exceed the factory costs of the same tire in cotton construction.

(2) In all cases covered by this paragraph (d), the seller must file a report with the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., containing the following information:

(i) A description of the tire, including type, brand name, size, number of plies, and construction.

(ii) A detailed statement of the factory costs of the tire in rayon construction and of the same tire in cotton construction. Factory costs shall be figured as of the same date for both types of construction.

(iii) The amount proposed to be added to the maximum price otherwise fixed by this section.

(3) The seller may not receive payment of the amount which may be added under this paragraph (d) until it has been approved by the Office of Price Administration. The proposed addition, however, shall be deemed to be approved unless, within 20 days after mailing of the report (or within 20 days after the mailing of all additional information which may have been requested), the Office of Price Administration notifies the seller that his proposed addition has been disapproved or that action thereon has been deferred pending receipt of further information.

(4) The Office of Price Administration may approve or disapprove and may at any time after approval correct additions proposed or established under this paragraph.

SEC. 3. Reports under section 2 (b). (a) In the case of all sales subject to paragraph (b) of section 2, before receiving payment for the original equipment tires or tubes, the seller must file with the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., a report containing the following information:

(1) A description of the tire or tube for which a maximum price is sought, including the type, brand name, size, number of plies, and construction. If, however, between April 27, 1942, and January 31, 1944, the seller sold all or a group of sizes or types of original equipment natural rubber tires or tubes to a particular buyer at assembly prices which represented a uniform percentage discount from the assembly prices set forth in Appendix A, he may in his report describe the group or groups of tires and tubes for which reports are required and need not list each tire or tube separately.

(2) The name and address of the equipment vehicle manufacturer to whom such original equipment tires and tubes are to be sold.

(3) The specific subparagraph of section 2 (b) under which the report is filed.

(4) If the report is filed under subparagraph (1), (2), or (5) of section 2 (b), the price previously charged on sales, if any, to the particular buyer for the natural rubber tire or tube. In addition, if the report is under subparagraph (5), the prices previously charged on sales, if any, to the particular buyer for sizes 7.50 inch cross-section or smaller. These prices may be stated either as specific dollar-and-cent amounts or as percentages of the prices set forth in Appendix A.

(5) The proposed maximum price, and a description of the pricing method used in calculating such price. The proposed price may be stated either as a specific dollar-and-cent amount or as a percentage of the prices set forth in Appendix A.

(6) The reasons why the seller believes that such price is consistent with general industry practices and consistent with the level of maximum prices set by this regulation.

(b) No seller required to report a maximum price under this section may accept payment for the original equipment tires or tubes (unless specifically authorized to do so by the Office of Price Administration) until the proposed maximum price is approved by the Office of Price Administration. The proposed maximum price, however, shall be deemed to be approved unless, within 20 days after mailing of the report (or within 20 days after the mailing of all additional information which may have been requested), the Office of Price Administration notifies the seller that his proposed maximum price has been disapproved or that action thereon has been deferred pending receipt of further information.

(c) The Office of Price Administration may approve or disapprove, and may at any time after approval, correct maximum prices proposed or established under this section so as to bring them into proper relationship with the level of maximum prices otherwise established by this regulation.

SEC. 4. Adjustable pricing. Any person may agree to sell at a price which can be increased up to the maximum price in effect at the time of delivery; but no person may, unless authorized by the Office of Price Administration, deliver or agree to deliver at prices to be adjusted upward in accordance with action taken by the Office of Price Administration after delivery. Such authorization may be given when a request for a change in the applicable maximum price is pending, but only if the authorization is necessary to promote distribution or production and if it will not interfere with the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended. The authorization may be given by the Administrator or by an official of the Office of Price Administration to whom the authority to grant such authorization has been delegated. The authorization will be given by order.

SEC. 5. Records. Every person making sales or purchases of original equipment tires or tubes subject to this regulation shall keep for inspection by the Office of Price Administration for so long as the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, remains in effect, accurate records of each such sale or purchase, showing the date, the name and address of the buyer and seller, the price paid or received, the quantity of each type, size, and brand name of tires or tubes sold or purchased, and whether made of natural or synthetic rubber.

SEC. 6. Licensing. The provisions of Licensing Order No. 1,[1] licensing all persons who make sales under price control, are applicable to all sellers subject to this regulation. A seller's license may be suspended for violations of the license or of one or more maximum price regulations. A person whose license is suspended may not, during the period of suspension, make any sale for which his license has been suspended.

SEC. 7. Evasion. The price limitations set forth in this regulation shall not be evaded whether by direct or indirect methods, in connection with an offer, solicitation, agreement, sale, delivery, purchase of or relating to original equipment tires or tubes, alone or in conjunction with any other commodity or by way of commission, service, transportation, or other charge, or discount, premium or other privilege, or by tying-agreement or other trade understanding, or otherwise.

SEC. 8. Enforcement. Persons violating any provisions of this regulation are subject to the criminal penalties, civil enforcement actions, license suspension proceedings and suits for treble damages provided for by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended.

SEC. 9. Definitions. (a) When used in this regulation the term:

(1) "Person" includes an individual, corporation, partnership, association, or any other organized group of persons or legal successor or representative of any of the foregoing, and includes the United States or its agencies, other governments their political subdivisions and their agencies.

(2) "Original equipment tires and tubes" means new rubber tires and tubes sold for the original equipment of automobiles, trucks, busses, trailers, off-the-road equipment, farm implements, tractors, industrial equipment and motorcycles, but does not include tires or tubes sold directly to any agency of the United States Government.

(3) "Rubber" means substitute rubber and all forms and types of rubber, including scrap, synthetic, balata, and reclaimed rubber.

(4) "Synthetic rubber original equipment tires or tubes" means original equipment tires or tubes which contain any synthetic rubber and which are marked with the symbols designated by the War Production Board, Office of Rubber Director, to identify them as containing synthetic rubber.

(b) Unless the context otherwise requires, the definitions set forth in section 302 of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, shall apply to other terms used herein.

SEC. 10. Petitions for amendment. Any person seeking a modification of any provision of this regulation may file a petition for amendment in accordance with the provisions of Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1.[2]

SEC. 11. Applications for adjustment. Any person who has entered into or proposes to enter into a Government contract or a subcontract under any such contract, who believes that a maximum price established by this regulation impedes or threatens to impede production of a commodity or supply of a service which is essential to the war program and which is, or will be, the subject of such contract or subcontract, may file an application for adjustment of that maximum price in accordance with the provisions of Procedural Regulation No. 6,[3] issued by the Office of Price Administration.

SEC. 12. Geographical applicability. This regulation shall be effective in the District of Columbia and the 48 states of the United States.

PART 1356—COOKERS AND HEATERS

[MPR 527]

USED DOMESTIC GAS COOKING RANGES

In the judgment of the Price Administrator, the maximum prices established by this regulation are and will be generaly fair and equitable and will effectuate the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, and Executive Orders Numbers 9250 and 9328. Insofar as this regulation uses specifications and standards which were not, prior to such use, in general use in the trade or industry affected, or insofar as their use was not lawfully required by another Government agency, the Administrator has determined, with respect to such standardization, that no practicable alternative exists for securing effective price control with respect to the commodities subject to this regulation. A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this regulation has been issued simultaneously herewith and has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

SECTION 1. What articles are covered by this regulation. This regulation covers sales and purchases of used domestic gas cooking ranges. A used range is one which has been in the possession of an ultimate consumer. For the purpose of this regulation, a domestic gas cooking range (hereafter referred to as a "range") is an integral unit with cooking top and oven, which is commonly used in homes for preparing food with the use of natural, manufactured, or liquefied petroleum gas fuel; and which falls within any of the following classifications customarily recognized by the trade:

(a) Cooker. A cooker is a range having the oven under the cooking top, and having no storage compartment or top work surface.

(b) Console or cabinet. A console or cabinet is a range having the oven on the side of and usually extending above the level of the cooking top, and having leg supports which are more than four inches high. For the purpose of this regulation, this classification includes any range other than a cooker or bungalow range having legs more than four inches high.

(c) Table top. A table top is a range with full porcelain enamel finish, having a flat top, concealed manifold, oven, broiler, and either storage compartment or additional cooking facilities.

(d) Refrigerator model. A refrigerator model is a range designed for installation on top of a kitchen cabinet or apartment-size refrigerator, having the oven elevated above or on the side of the cooking top and having no storage compartment.

(e) Bungalow range. A bungalow range is a range which has a built-in coal and wood or oil burning unit alongside the gas unit, the gas-fired oven of which does not utilize any of the heat produced in the coal and wood or oil unit.

SEC. 2. What transactions are covered by this regulation. This regulation covers all sales and purchases of used domestic gas cooking ranges by any person to any other person, including sales by a consumer who is selling his own range, and sales by dealers and auctioneers.

Regardless of any contract or other obligation, no person shall sell or deliver a used domestic gas cooking range to any other person, and, in the course of trade or business, no person shall buy or accept delivery of a used range, at prices higher than the maximum prices fixed by this regulation, and no person shall agree, offer, or attempt to do any of these things. Prices lower than the maximum prices may be charged and paid.

SEC. 3. What persons are covered by this regulation. This regulation applies to all persons. The word "person" includes: an individual, corporation, or any other organized group; their legal successors or representatives; the United States, or any government, or any political sub-division or agency of the foregoing.

SEC. 4. Relation between this regulation and other regulations. (a) On and after the effective date of this regulation, the provisions of the General Maximum Price Regulation[1] shall not apply to sales and deliveries for which maximum prices are established by this regulation. However, the registration provision of § 1499.15 of the General Maximum Price Regulation shall apply to every person selling any range covered by this regulation at retail.

(b) The provisions of Maximum Price Regulation No. 429[2] (Certain Used Consumer Durable Goods) apply to sales and deliveries of all gas cooking stoves which are not covered by this regulation.

(c) The maximum price at which a person may sell any used range for export is established by the Second Revised Maximum Export Price Regulation.[3]

SEC. 5. What prices are established by this regulation. This regulation divides all ranges, accessories and extra equipment into two major groups based upon condition and serviceability, and establishes different dollars-and-cents maximum prices for each group. These groups are designated "Reconditioned" and "As-is".

(a) Reconditioned ranges. As used below in Appendix A and Appendix B, a used range is reconditioned if it meets the following specifications:

(1) All parts must be in proper working condition.

(2) All porcelain enamel surfaces must be reasonably free from chips, dents, or other damage.

(3) All rust must be removed and a rust resistant finish applied.

(4) The entire range must be cleaned and checked throughout. All gas valves must be properly lubricated; all gas leaks must be repaired; all essential parts which are defective or missing must be replaced; insulation must be intact or replaced where necessary; and oven doors and racks must be free from warping or sagging.

(5) Where additions to the price are made for accessories and extra equipment, in accordance with Appendix B, such accessories and extra equipment must be in proper working condition; otherwise no charge may be added.

(6) The entire range, including accessories and extra equipment for which a charge is made, must be guaranteed for a period of 90 days for proper working condition and against defective parts. In the case of consumer to consumer sales, this requirement may be satisfied by giving a written agreement to pay for all repairs needed to fulfill the guarantee.

(b) "As-is" ranges. As used below in Appendix A and Appendix B an "as-is" used range is one which does not meet the specifications for a reconditioned range; but, when sold to a consumer, it must be equipped with all parts necessary for preparing food and must have top burners and oven burner in safe working condition. Where additions to the price are made for accessories and extra equipment installed on "as-is" used range in accordance with Appendix B, such accessories and extra equipment must be in proper working condition or repairable.

SEC. 6. Maximum prices for sales of used domestic gas cooking ranges by all persons—(a) Prices set forth in Appendix A. The maximum prices for sales of used ranges are set forth below in Appendix A.

(b) Prices set forth in Appendix B. The maximum prices which may be added to the prices set forth in Appendix A, for the addition of accessories and extra equipment, are set forth below in Appendix B.

(c) Sales in the western states. An amount equal to 10% of the prices set forth in Appendix A and Appendix B may be added to those prices for sales in the following states: Arizona, New Mexico, California, Washington, Oregon, Idaho, Nevada, Utah, Colorado, Wyoming, and Montana.

(d) Prices for special used ranges. A special used range is one of 1940 or later year model meeting the specifications for a reconditioned range, which, when new, sold at retail for more than $175.00, and which is equipped with a retained heat oven or a built-in deep well cooker. Notwithstanding the prices in Appendix A and Appendix B, the maximum price for a special used range is 75% of the price of the range when new.

(e) Prices for consumer to consumer sales of certain late model used ranges. Notwithstanding the prices in Appendix A and Appendix B, the maximum price for the sale by a consumer to another consumer of his own range which meets the specifications for a reconditioned range, and which he purchased new not more than two years previously at a price higher than $150.00, shall be 75% of the original purchase-price actually paid: Provided, That the seller has a receipted purchase invoice showing that he paid more than $150.00 for the range.

(f) Prices for all other used ranges. The maximum price for the sale of a used domestic gas cooking range which cannot be priced by reference to this section, Appendix A and Appendix B, shall be the price, in line with the prices established in this regulation, specifically approved in writing by the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C.

SEC. 7. Maximum prices for delivery, connection, credit, and other services. Any charge which is not quoted and billed separately or which otherwise does not conform to this section shall, for the purpose of this regulation, be considered to be part of the price charged for the article sold.

(a) Delivery and connection. No charge for delivery may be added to the maximum prices for sales to a consumer established in this regulation. The maximum price which may be added by the seller of the range as a separate charge for installation, and gas line, flue, and water line connection services and materials, is as follows:

(1) For a cooker, or refrigerator model range	$3.50
(2) For a console, cabinet, or table top range	5.50
(3) For a bungalow range (gas line and flue only)	7.00
(4) For a bungalow range (gas line, flue and water line)	8.50

Any connection charge must be separately quoted and billed. No seller may require as a condition of sale that he perform the connection service. If more than six feet of gas piping is required, an additional amount may be charged for the extra material at prevailing ceiling prices.

(b) Credit charges. Credit charges for the extension of credit may be added to the retail ceiling prices established by this regulation only to the extent permitted by this section.

(1) Sellers who in March 1942 collected a separately stated additional charge for the extension of credit on sales of used ranges or similar types of articles, may collect a charge for the extension of credit on sales under this regulation, not exceeding such charge in March 1942 on a similar sale on similar terms to the same class of purchaser. Sellers who did not so state and collect an additional charge, may collect a charge for the extension of credit only on installment-plan sales; and the charge shall not exceed the separately stated additional charge collected for the extension of credit on a similar sale on similar terms to the same class of purchaser in March 1942 by the seller's closest competitor who made such a separately stated charge.

An installment-plan sale as used in the above paragraph means a sale where the unpaid balance is to be paid in installments over a period of either (i) six weeks or more from the date of sale in the case of weekly installments, or (ii) eight weeks or more in the case of other than weekly installments.

(2) All charges for the extension of credit shall be quoted and stated separately.

(3) No seller may require as a condition of sale, that the purchaser must buy on credit.

(c) Other services. Charges for other services may be added to the maximum prices set forth in this regulation, only if: (1) the seller, during March 1942, made a separate charge for those services, the amount of which was separately quoted and billed to the purchaser, (2) the amount charged for those services is not in excess of the charge in effect during March 1942 upon sales of used ranges, and (3) such charges are quoted and billed separately. No seller may require the acceptance of any services as a condition of sale.

SEC. 8. Taxes. Any tax upon or incident to the sale of a used range, imposed by any statute or ordinance, may be added to the maximum prices established by this regulation, provided that it is quoted and billed separately.

SEC. 9. Tagging. No person shall sell or offer to sell a used domestic gas cooking range to a consumer in the course of trade or business unless a tag is attached to the range, which states whether the range is offered for sale "as-is" or "reconditioned," the type of range as shown in Appendix A of this regulation, the delivered maximum price established by this regulation and the delivered selling price. The tag must not be removed before delivery to the purchaser. A tag in the following form is satisfactory:

Type of range: (Cook, table top, etc.).
OPA ceiling price delivered:
Selling price delivered:
Installation charge:
Do Not Detach

SEC. 10. Posting of ceiling prices. Every person who, in the course of trade or business, sells any used domestic gas cooking range covered by this regulation to consumers, must post a copy of both Appendix A and Appendix B to this regulation, or a sign setting forth the ceiling prices for sales to consumers, at a place in the business establishment where used ranges are offered for sale, so as to be permanently and clearly visible to all customers for used ranges. If a seller installs and connects ranges, he must also post the maximum prices established by this regulation for those services. Copies of Appendix A and Appendix B and a schedule of installation and connection charges, suitable for posting, are available from the nearest office of the Office of Price Administration.

SEC. 11. Sales slips, receipts, and invoices. Every person selling a used domestic gas cooking range in the course of trade or business shall furnish the purchaser with a sales slip, receipt, or invoice, or other writing, giving the names and addresses of both the seller and purchaser and the date of the sale; stating that the range sold is "reconditioned", unless it is sold "as-is"; the class in which the range belongs as set forth in this regulation; the price charged; the extra equipment included in the price of the range; and the nature and amount of any other charges. A copy of such sales slip, receipt, invoice, or other writing shall be retained by the seller for inspection by the Office of Price Administration. Any charge which is not quoted and billed separately shall, for the purposes of this regulation, be considered to be part of the price charged for the article sold.

SEC. 12. Prohibited practices. (a) Any practice or device which has the effect of getting a higher than maximum price without actually raising the dollars and cents price, is as much a violation of this regulation as an outright over-ceiling price. This applies to devices making use of commissions, services, transportation, arrangements, tying agreements, tying requirements, trade understandings, and the like.

(b) The following practices are expressly forbidden:

(1) Selling or offering to sell a used domestic gas cooking range only on the condition that the buyer agree to pay for repairs, parts, installation, or other services.

(2) Representing a range as part of one's own household effects for purposes of section 6 (e), when it is not in fact part of the seller's household effects.

SEC. 13. Enforcement. Persons violating any provision of this regulation are subject to the criminal penalties, civil enforcement actions, license suspension proceedings, and suits for treble damages provided for by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended.

SEC. 14. Licensing. The provisions of Licensing Order No. 1,[4] licensing all persons who make sales under price control, are applicable to all sellers subject to this regulation. A seller's license may be suspended for violations of the license or of one or more price schedules or regulations. A person whose license is suspended may not, during the period of suspension make any sale for which his license has been suspended.

SEC. 15. Petitions for amendment. Persons seeking any modification of this regulation or an exception not provided for herein, may file petitions for amendment in accordance with the provisions of Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1, issued by the Office of Price Administration.

SEC. 16. Geographical applicability. The provisions of this Maximum Price Regulation apply to the forty-eight states, and the District of Columbia.

NOTE: The reporting and record-keeping requirements of this regulation have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

This regulation shall become effective April 19, 1944.

JAMES F. BROWNLEE,
Acting Administrator.

"Automatic oven time control" means an electrical device which automatically ignites and extinguishes the oven burner at predetermined times.

"High broiler" means "waist-high" broiler. It differs from the conventional broiler (which is below the oven and uses the oven burner for broiling) in that the high broiler is alongside the oven and uses a separate gas burner. An additional charge for a high broiler may be made only on a table top range.

"Automatic oven burner lighter" means an attachment which automatically ignites the oven burner when the oven valve is turned to "on" position, so that a match or taper is not needed.

"Kitchen heater" means a built-in gas-fired space heating unit located alongside the oven chamber of the range.

A seller's license may be suspended for violations of the license or of one or more applicable price schedules or regulations. A person whose license is suspended may not, during the period of suspension, make any sale for which his license has been suspended.

(b) Registration of certain sellers of second-hand machines or parts. Every person engaged in the business of selling second-hand machines or parts, either on his own behalf or on behalf of another, must register with the Office of Price Administration in accordance with the provisions of Licensing Order No. 3.

(4) Item 8. Give full details on type of equipment or machine and work for which it is adapted.

(5) Item 13. Give present condition of machine in detail. The term "rebuilt and guaranteed" is defined in the regulation which covers the machine or part. Under "Other" describe by terms defined as follows:

"Unused" means a machine or part which has been transferred for use but which has never been used. Such a machine or part may be priced as new.

"Serviceable" means that the machine or part is ready for service requiring no maintenance work or repairs before installing.

"Repairable" means that the machine or part can be made ready for service by normal maintenance or minor repairs.

"Poor" means that the machine or part requires major repairs or complete rebuilding before it would be ready for service.

Machines and parts which can not qualify as "rebuilt and guaranteed" under the applicable regulation are priced as "as is" machines or parts.

(6) Item 15. If it is necessary to rebuild the machine or part, check approximate time required after receipt of order.

(7) Item 17. If the machine or part is not sold but "other disposition" is made, state in item 17 what the disposition was.

PART 1401—SYNTHETIC TEXTILE PRODUCTS

[2d Rev. MPR 339,[1] Amdt. 1]

WOMEN'S RAYON HOSIERY

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Second Revised Maximum Price Regulation 339 is amended in the following respects:

1. In paragraph (a) of section 1, the word "finished" is deleted from the first sentence of the second unnumbered paragraph.

2. Section 1 (b) is amended to read as follows:

(b) Full fashioned women's rayon hosiery in the greige. The ceiling prices for any sale of full fashioned women's rayon hosiery in the greige are fixed at $1.25 per dozen less than the manufacturers' ceiling prices set forth in Appendix B for first quality finished full fashioned unbranded hosiery.

3. Section 2 (a) (1) is amended to read as follows:

(1) "Chain stores"—(i) Who are "chain stores." Certain sellers at retail are classified as "chain stores." As used in this regulation a chain store means a group of five or more commonly owned or controlled retail stores which, as a group, had in any calendar year since 1938 an "average percentage of initial markup" of 34% or less on women's full length hosiery. To determine this markup the chain must:

(a) Compute the total of the initial retail prices at which all purchases of this hosiery were marked during a given year.

(b) Compute the total of all invoice charges on purchases of the hosiery during the same year (figured after all discount deductions and including all transportation costs).

(c) Subtract the total secured in (b) from the total secured in (a) and

(d) Divide the remainder by the total obtained in (a).

(ii) Exceptions for certain sales. Any group of stores classified under this section as "chain stores" may file an application for permission to sell and deliver at the ceiling prices specified in column (g) of Table 1, Appendix B, such full fashioned women's rayon hosiery as it purchases at the ceiling prices specified in column (d) of Table 1, Appendix B, from establishments making sales at wholesale if it can establish that more than 50% (in dozens) of all the women's full-fashioned full length hosiery which was delivered to it during each of the years 1941, 1942 and 1943 (or during each of the years 1941, 1942 and 1943 in which it has been engaged in the business of selling women's full fashioned full length hosiery) was purchased by it from establishments making sales at wholesale. and 1943 in which it was in the business of selling women's full fashioned, full length hosiery);

(e) The number of dozens of pairs of women's full fashioned full length hosiery, as specified in subdivision (d), which were delivered to it by establishments making sales at wholesale and the number of dozens of pairs which were delivered to it by manufacturers during each of the years 1941, 1942 and 1943 (or during each of the years 1941, 1942 and 1943 in which it was in the business of selling women's full fashioned full length hosiery);

(f) The names and addresses of each establishment making sales at wholesale which delivered women's full fashioned full length hosiery to applicant during each of the years 1941, 1942 and 1943 (or during each of the years 1941, 1942 and 1943 in which it was in the business of selling women's full fashioned full length hosiery) and the number of dozens of pairs delivered to applicant by each such establishment during each of those years.

No sales or deliveries may be made by "chain stores" at the ceiling prices specified in column (g) of Table 1 until specific authorization is granted in writing by the Office of Price Administration pursuant to this subdivision.

(c) Limitation on amount of hosiery to be sold at "branded" ceiling prices. (1) No manufacturer shall deliver "branded" rayon hosiery in any calendar quarter-year at prices above those specified for unbranded hosiery in Appendix B to a greater percentage of his total deliveries in dozens of pairs than his "branded percentage". A manufacturer's "total deliveries" for the purpose of this computation shall consist of only his deliveries of first quality finished full fashioned women's rayon hosiery (excluding irregulars, seconds and thirds) and his deliveries of full fashioned women's rayon hosiery in the greige of all grades. However, a manufacturer may add to the number of dozens of hosiery which he is permitted to deliver at "branded" ceilings in any calendar quarter-year the number of dozens by which he has fallen short of delivering his "branded percentage" in any previous calendar quarter or quarters of the same calendar year.

For example: A manufacturer has a "branded percentage" of 80. In the first calendar quarter, his total deliveries of full fashioned women's rayon hosiery (including only hosiery in the greige and first quality finished hosiery) is 50,000 dozen. With a "branded percentage" of 80, he would be permitted to deliver up to 40,000 dozens at "branded" ceilings in this quarter. Actually, however, he delivers only 38,000 dozen (2,000 less than his limit). In the second quarter, this manufacturer arranges for delivery of 40,000 dozens (including only hosiery in the greige and first quality finished hosiery). Since his "branded percentage" is 80, he would normally be entitled to deliver 32,000 dozens at "branded" ceilings. However, he may add to this amount of "branded" hosiery the 2,000 dozens by which he has fallen short in the previous calendar quarter. [The previous quarter must have been in the same calendar year.] Accordingly, out of the 40,000 dozen which he delivers in this quarter year, he may deliver 34,000 dozens (32,000 + 2,000) at "branded" ceilings.

(2) A manufacturer's "branded percentage" is the percentage that his deliveries in 1941 of women's "branded" full length full fashioned hosiery of all fibres bore to his total deliveries in 1941 of both women's first quality finished full fashioned full length hosiery of all fibres and of women's full fashioned full length hosiery of all fibres and grades in the greige. The ceiling price for all sales in excess of the "branded percentage" is the ceiling price for unbranded hosiery.

(3) On or before April 20, 1944, and on or before the 20th day of each July, October, January and April thereafter, every manufacturer who has delivered branded women's rayon hosiery in the previous calendar quarter year shall file with the Consumer Goods Price Division, Office of Price Administration, Washington 25, D. C., a signed statement showing for the previous calendar quarter year each of the following:

(i) His total volume delivered (by dozens of pairs) of first quality finished full fashioned women's rayon hosiery;
